Mr. President, I have heard a lot this year about how we can get some money from non-residents of Boston, but so far we don't seem successful in such a plan to help the taxpayers of Boston. Perhaps this suggestion is not constitutional, but if the Corporation Counsel rules that it is, that the city has a right to assess an occupational tax on non-residents, such a tax should produce considerable revenue for the city. I certainly hope it is possible to do so.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

"RELIEF" DECLINING.

Two-thirds of the nation's relief expenditures in recent years has been centered in ten industrial states, the "Year Book's" section on Financing Relief and Recovery points out. Half the Federal Work Relief Funds and two-thirds of all available funds have been expended in the fifty largest cities, including about 25 per cent of the population. Industrial urban population is more vulnerable to unemployment. In addition, living costs are higher, requiring greater relief allotments, and the cost of giving employment to a city group is higher than in rural areas.

SQUARE DEAL IN ASSESSMENTS FOR TAXATION.

Many cities are finding it greatly to their advantage to have their tax valuations periodically overhauled. The first criterion of any assessment is equity. For every citizen who wants through "pull" or however else to get off easy, there are twenty, nay a hundred who want a fair and square deal for all.

The appraisal of city real estate is a highly technical affair.

Few things are more important than the equalization of assessments. Particularly in cities that are cramped by an inflexible debt or tax limit, an honest, full value assessment may be a great boon. Without the slightest raise in the tax rate a substantially greater tax yield may be had.

STATE VALUATIONS IN 1937.

Total assessed value of real estate on January 1, 1937, in the thirty-nine cities and 316 towns of Massachusetts, $5,742,161,541 ($18,194,654 less than on January 1, 1936), of which 65.62 per cent applied to buildings and 34.38 per cent to land; of personalty, $525,039,493; aggregate valuation, $6,267,201,034 (2.74 per cent decrease from 1936), on which the total tax was $222,184,422. To raise this amount of taxes on the property assessed at a uniform rate throughout the State would have required a tax rate of $35.45+ on $1,000 valuation. Boston's valuation, $1,590,544,700, equal to 25.38 per cent of total valuation in the State.

NO. 23

RESOURCES OF AMERICA WILL EVER BE USED TO GREAT AND GOOD ENDS UNDER THE GUIDANCE OF OUR NATIONAL IDEALS WHICH HAVE FOR THEIR OBJECTIVE THE TRUE WELFARE OF MANKIND, MAYOR TOBIN TELLS GRADUATING CLASS DURING COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES AT CALVIN COOLIDGE MEMORIAL COLLEGE, PORTIA LAW SCHOOL AND COOLIDGE LAW SCHOOL—THESE IDEALS ALSO ENVISION THE MAINTENANCE OF DEMOCRATIC INSTITUTIONS, STRONG IN THEIR PROVED WORTH, DEFIANT OF ALL EVIL AND HUMBLE IN THE SIGHT OF GOD.

Upon June 5 Mayor Tobin delivered the following address on "Our Day and Age," at the commencement exercises of the Calvin Coolidge Memorial College, Portia Law School and Coolidge Law School, at Ford Hall:

Mr. President, Distinguished Guests, Members, Parents and Friends of the Graduating Classes of Coolidge Memorial College and Portia Law School.

From earliest time experience has taught, and the makers of proverbs have affirmed, that "Of a good beginning cometh a good end." In the happy circumstances of this commencement, I see no reason to doubt the assurance so given.

Through earnest years you have labored, in the varied courses of study offered by this worthy institution, under the guidance of teachers as able as they are devoted. You have enjoyed privileges of learning far beyond the advantage granted to most young men and women, and your good use of the opportunity is well attested by your presence here tonight as successful candidates for the degrees of honor and scholarship now to be awarded.

It gives me delight to look into your faces at such a time of victory, and an eager desire to sustain your faith in greater triumphs yet to come.

The time is not one for easy faith or jaunty hope that your good beginning can come to a good end without great effort. Morning and night comes the news of awful destruction in Europe. Our ears are filled with that sad sound, our hearts are often heavy with regret for the suffering now spread among millions of our fellowmen, the aged in their last distress, the young, like yourselves, at the very moment when life should have held out to them many of its richest and happiest blessings.

Contempt at Christian Ways.

To make matters more difficult, the material destruction abroad is being wrought under conditions of peril to moral and spiritual values which we hold most dear. Strident voices have hurled contempt at Christian ways of mercy, toleration and forbearance on the part of nation to nation and man to man.

As a natural further attack, all the essential principles of Democracy are assailed — the concept of equal justice to all men in the sight of human law, as in the law established by their common Father, regardless of race, creed or color. That noble ideal is rejected by new-made dictators who have cast it aside, in order that they themselves may wield all power, and deny to the people any real control of their own government.

This process of defiance and destruction has already gone far. The situation is not without risk that the United States may be left standing as the sole great Democracy on the face of the earth — the only nation having not only the will, but also the power, to defend Democratic ideals and institutions of government.

In this work of defence you have a part to play. I know that you will play it well. I cannot say, and I do not wish to promise, that you can fulfill your future duty as citizens without being prepared to bear burdens of sacrifice. The enemies of Democracy — and I speak of their young generation — are offering up their lives every hour. Their course may seem to us mad, but still it must be recognized as an immense expression of youthful courage, and of willingness to make complete sacrifice at the call of their national leaders, right or wrong.

Willingness to Serve.

Among the young men of America a like willingness to serve will be needed, if ever the United States should determine that the vital interests of this nation are directly threatened, and that the time has come for every American to act in a cause that is certainly right — the defence of our country and the preservation of its future against every aggressor.

I know that American youth will be ready to answer that call if it comes — as, please God, it may not. If it should come, there is little which I can say tonight that will make your fight easier. But I do wish to give you assurance that the battle will be worth fighting — that the future before you can come to a good end from your present beginning, because the country which you love, and which loves you, is sure to find its way to new mastery of the evils which threaten it, and to new and prosperous use of the vast resources which America holds, in greater extent and variety, than any other single country on earth.

ADDRESS OF MAYOR MAURICE J. TOBIN.

You know what swift progress the United States achieved in the conquest of every difficulty which it faced in the past. The time is almost incredibly short since Boston was only a small town uneasily perched on the edge of a wilderness. You know the pages of American history, and I will not weary you with long review of your studies. But I have in mind a single episode which indicates, in a graphic way, how far and how fast we have traveled.

It is only a hundred years ago this very week (June 2, 1840) that the City of Boston saw for the first time a ship that had been driven across the Atlantic by steam. Vast was the rejoicing when it came — a little steamer of only a few hundred tons. The vessel, named the "Unicorn," was destined for service in the St. Lawrence river, but it came as the herald of the first regular ship of the Cunard Line. Late in the evening of July 18, 1840, the "Britannia" steamed into the harbor of Boston. Again there was vast rejoicing here, but there was muttering and much jealousy in the port of New York, because the capital of Massachusetts had been chosen as the western terminus of this first great steamship line, and not Manhattan.

I speak of the centennial of the "Britannia's" coming, because that ship stands as an excellent symbol of an age that has gone by. It was Europe, not America, that conquered the North Atlantic by steam. The conquest was, in its time, of great advantage to Boston, and to the whole nation. But the achievement was not without disadvantages, from the American standpoint. In 1840 the young United States led the world with its sailing ships. From Boston and from New York our flag was carried to every country and continent. A far-flung system of trade was built up on an American pattern, which was the work of American courage, skill and enterprise, exclusively. And then, after the coming of steam power, American leadership was lost, on the shipping lanes of the world. By the end of the 19th century, only a small fraction of America's exports were carried in American vessels.

American Economic Plan.

Having spoken of the "Britannia's" coming, a century ago, as symbol of an age that is passed, let me hasten on now to a recent event which happened only twenty-two years ago. I refer to the operation of the steamship "Leviathan," which came into American hands after the first World War. Some of you may remember, from days of childhood, the pride often expressed in this ship — in its time the largest afloat — when owned and managed by a company formed in the United States.

But, after all, the "Leviathan" was not "made in America." It was, in fact, a German ship, transferred to American registry as a prize of war. It was not designed by American shipwrights, nor had it been built in response to any consciously felt need of America, or as part of an American economic plan. And the operation, in a commercial way, did not prove very successful.

As such, the "Leviathan" was a symbol of a day that has passed. Another age is near at hand. Another ship is expected at Boston within a few days, the 34,000-ton ship, "America," the largest ever built in this country. Its visit to Boston comes as part of its trial voyaging, before the ship enters into active merchant service.

This is the ship, American-built, which stands as the natural symbol of the new age now at hand, the new period when America will find and determine her own ways of action, and will execute her plans by her own means, exclusively. It is this new period in which you will lead your lives. I wish I could make it all clear to you, but no man can foretell the future. The only course open to statesmen and scholars is to mark well the past, and from it learn lessons which will guide them in time to come. In preparing to talk with you on this important occasion, I have gone carefully over a series of past events, which may help you to understand the "day and age" upon which we are now entered.

Let me retrace those steps with you. The march will not be long. It can be quickly made, even though it covers much ground. Let me begin with the beginning of the American Republic, and recall the progress which followed.

After the Revolution, and for more than one hundred years until the outbreak of the first World War, the United States enjoyed material opportunities greater than any people had ever known before in all the history of civilization.

Think what our advantages were! Westward from the Atlantic Ocean there lay spread before us a vast continent full of rich new resources — lumber without limit, millions of fertile acres waiting to produce wheat and corn, copper mines, gold mines — an abundance of nearly every commodity needed to support human life, develop industry and achieve wealth.

And this land of treasure, this huge storehouse of food and fortune, was given into our hands at a peculiarly favorable time. As the United States began its youth, applied science likewise stood on the threshold of a great century of rich development. The miracles of modern mechanical invention were close at hand. Farm machinery was on the way — machines that would give one man the power to till more soil in a single year than a hundred men could plow and reap in ten years of manual labor. Steam and electricity were about to give America such powers of rapid achievement as the ancient world never so much as imagined. The vast material resources were there, and also the engines to develop them swiftly. And I challenge any scholar to say when in all the history of mankind a people ever enjoyed such a combination of blessings.

The Pharaohs wrested wealth from old Egypt, but at the price of millions of human lives held in the bondage of slavery, knowing naught but toil from childhood until the moment when other slaves carried them to their quick dug graves. The Caesars conquered new lands, and achieved mighty works; but what Rome took, Rome could not keep, because the land which she mastered was occupied from the beginning by other people of the white race, who, in the fullness of time, were certain to reassert their native rights of possession.

Call of Opportunity.

The American continent, on the other hand, was for those to keep who developed it. Where a sparse population of Red men had wandered in ignorance, now the white pioneers built with knowledge.

Millions in the Old World heard the call of opportunity ringing loud and clear in the New World, and from every nation of Europe men came to take their willing part in the new land's development — a permanent part, and therefore a good title to lasting possession. The newcomers earned their share in America's birthright. They bought it by their honest toil. They consecrated it by their love and their loyalty.

One necessary resource, and only one, young America lacked. Like all other new lands, this nation had no large store of accumulated capital, no stock of financial credit sufficiently great to meet, by itself alone, the demand of new investment and the needs of new enterprise reaching out from the Atlantic all the way to the shores of the Pacific.

Railroads were needed to span the continent and bring the wheat of the Western farms, the livestock of the prairies, safely to market in the Eastern cities. Steel rail must be laid in lines of thousand miles long, and motive power and freight cars must be provided. Steel mills and locomotive works must be built, to make the necessary equipment. Coal mines must be dug to keep the engines in fuel after the railroads were running.

All this required a great outlay of money. Every dollar was needed, which Americans themselves could invest, and also much more. For the necessary reservoir of capital, the New World looked to the Old World. European investors were urged to come forward and supply the ready money which America required, over and beyond this country's own financial resources.

During the 19th century, in addition to the huge investment contributed by the American people, capitalists in England and France bought the bonds of American railroads, steel mills, mines and other industries, to a total amount of four and a half billions of dollars.

In our present time, when America talks of a billion dollars at breakfast, two billions at lunch, and three at dinner, I doubt if you can appreciate how truly immense the European investment was, as money was measured a generation ago. Both in gold value and in absolute buying power, four and a half billions of dollars in the 19th century was comparable to at least nine or ten billions now.

And the years of the past century, when America owed Europe money, were happy years, in the matter of payment. When the directors of American railroads and industries had to meet the interest and other charges due on their bonds held in Europe, usually they found the way easy. In every good year, America had bumper crops of wheat and cotton, far beyond our own people's needs, and the surplus production of American farms, and also of American copper mines, was readily sold in Europe. The textile mills in England, France and Germany were eager to buy the South's cotton and the industrial workers of many European countries were glad to be fed by golden grain from the American West. Likewise, the demand for our copper was strong.

And so, when American industries needed a large sum of pounds Sterling each year, to pay the annual charges on their debts to Europe, the exchange was promptly forthcoming. A host of European buyers needed American dollars to pay for their purchases of American wheat, cotton, copper and other raw materials and commodities.

And so, in every normal year before the first World War, the international exchanges worked smoothly and well, to the advantage of both sides. By the year 1900 American citizens had begun to make investments abroad on their own account. But before the World War the net balance which railroads and industries in this country owed to investors in Europe was three billion dollars as a principal sum. And this obligation, as I have said, was regularly and readily sustained, because it was comfortably offset by the foreign demand for surplus goods which we had to sell, and indeed needed to sell, abroad.

Then in the middle of the quiet summer of 1914 there came the shock and crash of war in Europe. Immediately the English and French had vast need of American goods and munitions, and in order to pay for them the European holders sold their American stocks and bonds. In two years a century of European investment was wiped out. And when those credits had been consumed, still the demand went on and on. Soon, private investors in the United States began to lend money to the Allies to pay for the munitions of war which they bought here in huge quantities.

Then in 1917 the United States itself took up the cudgels of war, and straightway the Government made loans to France and England on a scale greater than any ever known in the history of finance. America's war loans to Europe have been estimated at a total of $10,304,000,000.

Obviously, at the end of the war, the financial mastery of the world had passed from London to New York. The only question was, What should we do with our capital power?

In plain fact, we still needed to sell our goods abroad. In an average year, our surplus wheat, available for export, was not so large as it had been before the war, but the American cotton crop still far exceeded the domestic demand. It had been the American custom to sell as much as 50 to 60 per cent of the South's annual yield of cotton to other parts of the world, mainly Europe.

Moreover, with the farms of the United States still producing more than was needed for consumption at home, likewise our industries wished more than ever to sell abroad—especially American made automobiles, typewriters and business machines, and other lines of manufacture in which American methods of mass production had provided a vast annual output with extraordinary efficiency and economy. But with Europe already heavily in our debt, how were our sales to continue? At first no answer was found; and the period of post-war depression began. Matters ran on with little improvement until 1924, when American leaders of finance became convinced that something drastic must be done.

They undertook to rebuild the only system of American participation in world trade with which they had ever been familiar. Since Europe needed dollars with which to buy American goods, it was determined to lend them those dollars, and let them buy here once more. Under the Dawes plan, American private investors lent several billions of dollars to Germany. The capital was used there to construct new municipal buildings, develop model housing projects, large electrical power plants, and many other great industrial works. But the dollar credits themselves were passed over to England and France as payments on the Reparations account, and were then used by the Allies to cover the payments which, for several years, England and France made on their war debts to the United States.

Atlantic Trade.

In this way the 19th century system of trade across the Atlantic began to operate once more. You know how it flourished. How for a few years after 1924, a boom went on in this country, which rose to dizzy heights. A "New Era" had come, men said, when all commodity and stock prices had reached a higher level, from which they would never descend.

And then, surprisingly soon, came the turn. The pace of American lending to Europe began to slacken. In the single year 1928, more than a billion dollars had been lent to Germany. But in 1929 the amount was cut in half. And then the American loans dried up. In 1930 only $280,000,000 was lent. The merry-go-round of paper credits, from New York to Berlin and back again, via London and Paris, came to a stop; and the moment that music ceased the depression was on in good earnest. The German banks suspended payment, and England went off the gold standard. Throughout America unemployment ran rife, and in the closing years of President Hoover's administration the people's want of work became greater by far than any American had ever imagined was possible.

We thought it couldn't happen here, but it did. The first American effort to rebuild a prosperous system of world trade for the United States had failed. The Dawes plan, and the private loans, had staved off the depression, which otherwise would have begun in 1924, only to build up a new and worse time of reckoning, during the years from 1929 to 1933. We had sought, in effect, to lift ourselves by our boot straps, establishing European credits on paper for which no adequate basis existed in solid fact. The effort was doomed to failure, because it was an attempt to create, once more, a system of trade, built on the 19th century model, but incapable of permanent operation, after the conditions which made it successful had been swept away by the first World War.

In other words, a close examination of history shows that America's course in world affairs has been marked by two stages, which are very fairly represented by the two symbols offered at the outset of my remarks.

In world affairs during the 19th century the United States took a successful part, well suited to the conditions at that time. But, unquestionably, the system of trade and finance as a whole lay under Europe's control. The center of gravity was firmly lodged in the Old World and around that fixed point the trade and financial affairs both of North and South America largely revolved. That is the period symbolized by the arrival of the pioneer steamship, the "Britannia," in Boston 100 years ago next July. An age then begun which, as I have said, made Europe, not America, dominant on the shipping lanes of the Atlantic.

As a striking example of that condition, let me remind you that thirty years ago a citizen of the United States who wished to visit Argentina or Brazil went there by way of London or Liverpool. There was not a single fast express service running direct from the United States to those major countries of South America.

Then came the great changes wrought by the first World War. The United States suddenly found herself the greatest financial power on earth, but the country had no clear idea what to do with her strength. A truly American model and plan had not yet been thought out by our people. That was the time typified by the "Leviathan," a mammoth ship which the war gave into our hands, but which we did not know very well what to do with after we had it. The American flag had been raised at the masthead, but the ship in fact was foreign-built, an integral part of an economic plan not our own. Today a new age has begun. We have entered upon the period symbolized by the great ship "America," soon expected in Boston. That ship is truly American made, the largest ever constructed here. As such it typifies the leadership—growing ever more strong—which the United States will take in the future. We shall develop a plan of world trade and relations built to an American design, and inspired by a clear vision of American interests. The opportunities of constructive action which await us throughout the Western Hemisphere are indeed great. In all our regret for the tragedy now being enacted in Europe we cannot fail to recognize that the outcome does not diminish but vastly increases the significance of the moral and material power still vested in the United States.

Today, as in Longfellow's time, and with still more intensity, there rises the prayer:

"Sail on, O Ship of State!
Sail on, O Union strong and great!
Humanity with all its fears,
With all the hopes of future years
Is hanging breathless on thy fate!"

The exact course to be steered by the good ship "America" is not yet decided. Only one thing is known, it will be a course of advance. It cannot be otherwise. The vast resources of this nation will be used to great and good ends, under the guidance of national ideals which always have been, and will always remain, ideals of unflinching devotion to the true welfare of mankind, to just dealing among nations as between individuals, to the maintenance of democratic institutions strong in their proved worth, defiant of all evil, and humble in the sight of God.

The graduates who achieve commencement tonight enter into the life of the community at a stirring time, full of great opportunity. The City of Boston is glad to have among its citizens young men and women so well trained at the beginning. They will achieve, each one of them, a good end, accordingly as they help the American ship of state move onward now to the port of its noble bright destiny.

MAYOR TOBIN WELCOMES AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF BANKING FOR SESSIONS OF FORTIETH ANNIVERSARY — EXTENDS COURTESIES OF CITY TO DELEGATES AND GUESTS AND CALLS ATTENTION TO FINANCIAL PROBLEMS COUNTRY HAS FACED IN COURSE OF DEVELOPMENT OF BANKING SYSTEM TO ITS PRESENT STATE OF PERFECTION — ALSO DISCUSSES PROBLEMS OF TODAY AND HIGH-MINDED MANNER IN WHICH THEY ARE BEING MET.

The following is the address by the Mayor, Hon. Maurice J. Tobin, at the convention of the American Institute of Banking, celebrating their fortieth anniversary, June 4, at Tremont Temple:

Ladies and Gentlemen.

We of Boston proudly point back to the nineteenth century when our State street produced financiers that were the most powerful single agency in the development of the West and in the commercial markets of the world.

As Mayor of a city with such a "Banking" background, I am proud to welcome you to Boston on your fortieth anniversary. My earnest hope is, and I will lend every effort by extending every courtesy within my power to you gentlemen this week, that you may see your way clear to return to Boston at much shorter intervals than twenty years. I know that the genial Boston bankers by their kindness and hospitality, this week, will aid me in bringing about such a conviction on your part.

The "American Institute of Banking Convention" that met in Boston twenty years ago was confronted with problems, as we look back, much simpler than the ones that you gentlemen are faced with today. They did not have the problem of scarcity because numerous were the sources of demand on capital. They had only to distinguish between the sound and the unsound. The United States, in those days, still had many frontiers, population was still being increased by immigration, industry was still in the throes of expansion. The automobile had yet to become the necessity that it has grown to be today. Accompanying the growth of the automobile was a large expansion in steel, oil, rubber, glass and many other allied industries; the building of highways was no small item. Yes, a progressive expansion was calling forth the investment of billions.

These are not the conditions surrounding your problems today. There are no such factors and circumstances that give promise for a large economic expansion. The airplane industry and the progressive merchandising methods of the automobile industry stand alone in our present economic expansion and present only a slight resemblance to our growth in former periods of expansion.

In the light of such economic changes your major problem will pertain to the declining capital accumulation; together with the lessening of the sources of demand for capital investment, and the prevention of further private investment weakness.

The banking industry, by fostering an educational organization such as this, which prepares its younger executives and employees for the day when they will take over the more important positions, is working toward the constructive solution of our banking problems. Such an organization will cultivate and encourage men of the caliber that are needed so badly today and so aptly described in the poem of the late John G. Holland, entitled "Wanted."

"God give us men! A time like this demands

Strong minds, great hearts, true faith and ready hands.

Men whom the lust of office does not kill;

Men whom the spoils of office cannot buy;

Men who possess opinions and a will;

Men who have honor—men who will not lie.

Men who can stand before a demagogue, And damn his treacherous flatteries without winking!

Tall men, sun-crowned, who live above the fog,

In public duty and in private thinking; For while the rabble, with their thumb-worn creeds,

Their large professions and their little deeds,

Mingle in selfish strife, lo! Freedom weeps,

Wrong rules the land and waiting Justice sleeps."

So without extending further the five-minute limit allotted to me, I will close by extending a hearty welcome to our great City of Boston, and please do not wait twenty years before you return again.

That said order be further amended by adding thereto Patrick Farretta, $106. That the amount $106 be, and the same hereby is, awarded to Patrick Farretta for the damages sustained by the making of the said improvement.

ADDITIONAL SOCIAL WORKERS.

Permission has been given for the appointment of twenty additional permanent-intermittent female social workers from the existing list. These workers are very sorely needed because of many factors; first, the termination of W. P. A. employment is beginning to affect the number of our Dependent Aid recipients, and, second, much more social detail is now required by the State and Federal governments in the two categories, Aid to Dependent Children and Old Age Assistance.

The right and easement is taken to lay and maintain sewerage works in the following described lands, exclusive of any interest in trees, buildings or other structures standing thereon reserving to the owners thereof the right to use the lands for any purpose except such as may injure or obstruct said works, and except for placing or maintaining any structure on said lands not authorized in writing by the Mayor of said city; trees, buildings or other structures standing upon or affixed to the land in which an easement is hereby taken are to be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said taking for the purpose of constructing said sewerage works. "PORT OF BOSTON DAY" PROCLAMATION.

Whereas, The future of the City of Boston is vitally dependent on the development of the Port of Boston, inasmuch as an increase in trade passing through the Port brings with it resultant benefits to the industry, commerce and finance of the community; and

Whereas, It is important to our citizens and the maritime interests of this city and abroad to have brought to their attention the many splendid features and natural advantages enjoyed by the Port of Boston, including as it does thirty thousand acres of sheltered harbor and thirty miles of berthing space; and

Whereas, It is most desirable that our citizens realize that the Port of Boston is the nearest large port on the Atlantic seaboard to Europe with adequate facilities for wharfage and handling cargoes of ocean-going vessels; and

Whereas, The employment and welfare of so many people in this community are so closely related to and dependent upon the volume of business which passes out of and into the Port of Boston; and

Whereas, It is important that the attention of the citizens of our community be directed to the efforts that are being made to make the Port of Boston an even greater port and to protect the rights of the Port of Boston against any other port; and

Whereas, For over three centuries the Port of Boston has been the center of the maritime commerce of New England, which commerce was highly instrumental in developing the New England of today; now, therefore,

I, Maurice J. Tobin, as Mayor of the City of Boston, hereby proclaim the day of Sunday, June 9, to be "Port of Boston Day" throughout the City of Boston, and urge its citizens to take part in the different programs and activities sponsored by maritime and business organizations; to increase in every way possible their knowledge of the Port of Boston, its progress and aims, and to cooperate in the fullest to make this day an outstanding event in the life of our Port.

MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

BOSTON TRAFFIC COMMISSION MAKING TRAFFIC SURVEY.

Traffic Commissioner William P. Hickey, on June 4, announced that on Wednesday, June 5, 1940, the Boston Traffic Commission will make a traffic survey, using a unique method to determine the destinations of vehicles entering Boston from the Northern Artery via Craigie Bridge at Charles River Dam. White blank cards will be attached to the right door handle of one thousand vehicles at Craigie Bridge.

Commissioner Hickey requests that the drivers of vehicles to which tags have been attached cooperate by leaving the tags on for one half hour so that checkers stationed on routes leading from the traffic circle at Craigie Bridge can count them.

The Traffic Commission believes that the check will adduce factual data which will be of great value to Mayor Maurice J. Tobin's Conference on Traffic in connection with its plans for a proposed central artery through downtown Boston.

SCHEDULE OF COMPENSATION FOR CUSTODIANS OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS

A communication was received from a Committee appointed by the School Committee, consisting of the Business Manager and the Schoolhouse Custodian, under date of May 20 1940, recommending the passage of an accompanying order amending Section 12 of the Schedule of Compensation for Custodians of School Buildings for Regular Day School Service—School Document No. 9, 1930—increasing the salary of the Custodian of the Administration Building by the sum of nine dollars ($9.00) per week, to take effect May 8, 1940, and to continue until otherwise ordered, this additional compensation being for the purpose of providing an increase at the rate of five dollars ($5.00) per week for one of the assistants to the custodian and an increase in compensation at the rate of one dollar ($1.00) per week for each of the four scrub women now employed by the custodian.

THE TEACHERS COLLEGE

Chairman: At the request of a member of the Boston Federation of Teachers, the Committee has granted the opportunity to a representative of that organization to speak for a five-minute period on the subject, omission of the entering class at The Teachers College this year.

Miss Grace Lonergan, representing the Boston Federation of Teachers: The Boston Federation of Teachers asked for permission to make this final plea for Boston Teachers College, because we did not have an opportunity to be heard at the last hearing, as we did not know about the hearing.

We would just like to explain our position on it.

We feel it is very important that an entering class be admitted to Teachers College this year, because we are in favor of seeing educational opportunities extended rather than curtailed, and the only practical step you can take in that direction this year is to maintain the college as it is and admit an entering class.

We feel that the only way you can attain a city college is to build on what is there now, that is, not to lose anything that has been achieved in the past, but to build on it in the future.

Each entrance class that is cut off makes the task much more difficult.

What public support is there for that?

The first thing is the entire labor movement. Not only the A. F. of L., the C.I.O. and Labor's Non-Partisan League, but every labor union is strongly in favor of maintaining Teachers College and of building a city college.

Parents are in favor of it. What is more, from experience in my own community, taking the people of that community, I find that the small home owners who are disturbed about the rise in taxes, are nevertheless often more worried about their children's education. Once they understand the situation there will be no solid bloc in the Taxpayers Association for the abolition of Teachers College, because the small home owners are very anxious about their children's education and they have not the money to send their children to private colleges.

For instance, if they pay eight cents on a thousand dollars now for the support of schools, wouldn't it be worth while, if the College were extended, even if it cost them 50 cents, in order to have their children obtain an education.

Some people can educate one child in a private college, but they feel it is unjust to the other children. Lots of people bring that up.

I do not see that it is taking anything away from the private colleges, for if Teachers College were abolished many of these people could not afford to go to college at all.

What are some of the objections raised to Teachers College? The first one is that there are too many teachers. Are there too many teachers if you consider it from the point of view of the children's needs? The group of teachers in this room now are essential to the schools. They are a superior group of teachers and are much needed by the children. Occasionally there will be talk of trying to eliminate that group. If considered from the point of view of the children's needs, there are not too many teachers. At any rate, the solution would not be to stop training teachers because there are unemployed teachers, any more than it would be to stop training doctors because there are a good many doctors starving to death notwithstanding that there are people without medical aid. And there are still people without education.

One objection is the talk about a pay cut. From experience in other cities we have heard that always comes up when there is any discussion of cutting any public service, and that is just to remove the resistance which naturally would be shown to the loss of an important public service. Actually, if they resist such a loss they are less likely to get a pay cut because the economy groups will gauge their resistance by what happened in the case of Teachers College as well as any other public service.

Another thing which seems to me very important to our whole union is that at the present time the School Committee is really in a position of leadership in the city. People look more to the School Committee than to any other official or group of officials in the city. It is not a question of the School Committee's power, but it is the fact that they have tried to do something recently about every important problem that is facing us. They have taken some particular step toward such things as malnutrition, juvenile delinquency and the other important things that are coming up in the city today, and it seems that it is very important that the School Committee maintain that position of leadership in order to help the city out of its present difficulties.

I just want to repeat that we feel one of the most important questions right now is the maintenance of Teachers College, which is the center of our educational system, not only for its present need but for what can be done with it in the future.

Chairman: Thank you, Miss Lonergan.

Any questions? (No response.) Before we adjourn, I understand that we have a very delightful ceremony to be performed here this evening. The Chairman awaits with a great deal of expectancy the sizeable check we are to expect from the Elementary Teachers Organization.

GIFT OF BOSTON ELEMENTARY TEACHERS CLUB

Miss McHugh: Mr. Chairman, the elementary teachers are very happy to present this to you (presenting check) and we wish to thank the members of the Committee, Mr. Gould, Miss Cronin, Mr. Sullivan, Mr. Nagle, Mr. Ecker, Mr. Cooper, Mr. Johnson and everyone who co-operated to help make this a success.

I would like you to know that if all the schools had helped as generously as did the Administration Building, the check would be two or three times as large.

Chairman: Thank you, Miss McHugh. I want to express, for the whole Committee and for the Superintendent, our gratitude to the elementary teachers for their kind assistance in our efforts to provide for the under-nourished children in our schools.

We are deeply grateful to you for your co-operation and the co-operation of your group, and we thank the people who took part in that great demonstration.

Miss McHugh: We think much of the credit belongs to you people.

Mr. Lee: We have heard from Miss Lonergan in regard to Teachers College, expressing the constructive thought of a longer education for our students. We have heard from Miss McHugh that her group has rallied to meet the need of our youngsters, especially those who are less fortunate, in the basic matter of nourishment.

I think it is true that sometimes our taxpayers' groups come pretty close to killing the goose that lays the golden egg, by trying to curtail the schools.

I would like to mention what I brought up at our last public meeting relative to an increased expenditure in preparing youngsters for some of the skilled trades and professions. While certain of the taxpayers' groups object to our school costs, as a matter of fact we have been very liberal to industry and business in Boston. Only a few short years ago the apprentices who later were to staff our industries were largely trained at the expense of the employers. Now the School Department has taken over virtually the greatest part of the work of training apprentices and training men for the different trades and rather than give the School Department any special credit for it, the employers seem to call for economies in the school service.

Be that as it may, I think we should consider a substantial expenditure for more instruction next year in some of the trades, possibly building additions to the Trade School and Mechanic Arts High School, or a new plant.

In connection with the war in Europe we notice that the President has asked for a huge appropriation to build airplanes. Although most people do not know it, and many employers do not realize it, we have a course for airplane mechanics. Entirely apart from the war, the airplane industry is going to increase. I think it is absurd and it is a great disuse of the mobile forces of the school system, if we do not try to provide adequate facilities to meet the palpable need for airplane mechanics.

Along with that, the entire country is suffering from a shortage of tool makers who design the machines used in every branch of the manufacturing industry. It is idle for the President to talk about a huge defense fund if industry cannot get workers who are qualified to perform that task.

The youngster who graduates from Mechanic Arts High School has an exceedingly good training, but there is a waiting list there, and we are turning pupils away from trade schools notwithstanding that we are in the midst of a depression and we are not growing as fast and as flexibly as we should to meet the challenge of the depression.

I think both as a defense fund of the most sensible sort and as a subsequent peace fund, after the European war shall be over, we should make a very substantial increase in our work in these mechanical lines in which the country is running short at the present time.

I realize that the Committee does not go along with what seems to me to be the mechanics of a free market, and yet the Committee has gone along in that direction in other respects than fixing salaries. We are all glad that those in the co-operative course in one of our high schools have been employed by the market, that there has been a demand for them and that we have supplied the demand, and those youngsters are working.

We still go in for competitive bidding in the buying of our supplies.

Here is a case where I think there is going to be a strong market demand for workers of a skilled type in the specialized airplane industry, and I do not think the Committee has gone far enough to try to fit its students to meet those market demands.

As Miss Lonergan said, I think we must regard the school system as a system that is in a better position than any other group in our city to cope with our problems of unemployment, and we ought to throw the full force of our mobile units into getting further extensions of courses and further facilities for these pretty definite demands about which there can be very little question now.

I do not suppose the Committee can vote on a matter right off that involves so much as that, but I would like to have the Committee direct the Board of Superintendents to look over what we could do in the way of meeting those two specific demands.

So that my position will be clear, where I have called for economies of different sorts and now suggest a bigger expenditure, I look upon this expenditure as one that feeds into the economic salvation of the City, that feeds into our war on poverty. That kind of expenditure I favor 100 per cent.

The expenditures that I object to are those that have occasioned much discussion in the School Committee, because I feel it my duty to buy as much education as I can as cheaply as I can, according to what we can avail ourselves of on the market for a supply of qualified teachers. It seems to me in some cases the Committee has paid much more than it needs to pay to get the kind of educational service it wants, and it has had to sacrifice other school services in doing so.

I would like to have the Board of Superintendents at least show what we could do in the way of a mobile force to try and meet what appears to be a very definite market for more airplane mechanics and more tool makers and skilled machinists, before the final passage of the budget, including the probability that we will have to build an extension to Trade School, or a new plant for Mechanic Arts High School.

Superintendent: That is from September to December 31?

Mr. Lee: Yes.

Chairman: I would like to have a study of that made by the Board of Superintendents.

Superintendent: We have a committee at work on that now.

Chairman: I would like to have that report by the third of June.

Superintendent: It is not the particular problem that Mr. Lee raises. We were asked to make a general study of employment in the field of industry.

Mr. Lee: This particular market has arisen.

Mr. Norton: I wonder if we might include in that a further study of our employment city-wide in connection with the schools. It seems to me we might make a study of the practicability of assisting more of our graduates to get jobs and steering them into employment. I find in other cities they are making great efforts, through school leadership, first to train the child for a job that will be available when he finishes the course; second, to try to steer the child in these tempestuous times. We may be doing all that we should do, but I should like to have a study made of that.

Chairman: That could be included.

Mr. Lee: Mr. Gould has, verbally at least, recommended a considerable increase in the vocational guidance work and the counselling that goes on in the schools. I recommended this in connection with the budget, but the Committee did not think there was enough money to extend that service. The City will not have the help it needs until we have funds to carry that out.

However, we have set up a Bureau of Child Accounting which includes that vocational work and which will include other classes of school activities.

Chairman: I think Mr. Norton suggested a little further study and recommendations.

Mr. Norton: We should have someone here to keep us informed on Federal activities. It may be that in other cities of this country the WPA is financing vocational work of this character, and if they are doing it in other cities why shouldn't there be a similar project for Boston?

Chairman: That can be reported on.

Mr. Lee: I am all for that.

So that the Committee will have the matter in mind, we are also on the brink of carrying out a survey where we are contacting the youngster who has been out seven years, to find how he is distributed and discover how we may seek new lines of industry. I hope that study can incorporate the idea that the high school shall be held responsible for making a serious effort to place its students. We can assume a certain norm that the high school ought to be counted on to place, 80 per cent of its students or whatever we find is a norm, and leave that as the responsibility of the individual teachers, even if it involves the use of their vacation, to make an effort to bridge the gap between school and the world.

We are doing that in our trade schools and in co-operative courses, in the Boston Trade School, the Girls Trade School and the Clerical School. I do not see why those who wear the academic label should be exempt from making a similar effort in behalf of their students. If they were held up to that label their teaching would become better adapted to those more important problems having to do with keeping the world on its feet.

Mr. Norton: The most important problem of this school system is to attempt to do something for the army that has graduated and has never held a job. The problem of unemployment is world-wide. To say to a teacher, "You must find jobs for 80 per cent of your pupils" is unfair. The job ratio depends on the city, the time of the year, the particular jobs involved and 101 other obstacles. If our teachers were able to find jobs for 80 per cent of their pupils it would solve the problem of the world.

PLAN DEvised TO SOLVE BOSTON'S TRAFFIC CONGESTION PROBLEM --MAYOR TOBIN'S CONFERENCE MAKES REPORT AND RECOMMENDATIONS AFTER EXTENSIVE STUDIES--PROPOSE CENTRAL ARTERY ACROSS DOWNTOWN DISTRICT TO ALBANY STREET AND ON TO BLUE HILLS, WITH RELATED PROJECTS RADIATING TO EASE BURDENS ALONG OTHER HIGHWAYS-- COSTS ESTIMATED AS $19,000,000 TO BE SPREAD OVER A SIX-YEAR PERIOD AFTER LEGISLATIVE APPROVAL.

Mayor Tobin's Conference on Traffic has submitted a report to his Honor which has for its chief recommendation a traffic artery across the city, a Central Artery to carry through traffic and thus prevent congestion in the downtown areas. The conference advocates the expenditure for this purpose of $19,725,000 to be spread over a six-year period. The Central Artery will start from Charles River Dam by way of an elevated four-lane roadway. In addition to the Central Artery, in connection with the same operation, will be several other related projects, all having as their objective the solution of the traffic problems for the city. The report of the committee, as submitted, is as follows:

COMMITTEE ASSIGNMENT.

The Subcommittee on Projects was assigned the task of reporting a list of projects which it would recommend for inclusion in a first construction program.

In view of the fact that under instructions from the Mayor the Advisory Committee on Public Improvements was developing a Six-Year Capital Budget Program, the committee adopted a six-year program as the basis for its action. The projects herein reported represent those thoroughfare projects which the committee believes are essential and which it believes the city should complete within six years, beginning in 1941.

This program is based primarily upon the Whitten report. All the projects, with the exception of the Kenmore Square Bus-way, are projects included by Mr. Whitten as part of his total program. They are, in some respects, amended in details and also newly grouped to form the six-year program beginning in 1941.

LIST OF PROJECTS AND ORDER OF PROCEDURE.

The list of projects noted below is, in this report, considered as a whole. The Central Artery and the Blue Hills Radial are obviously the two principal projects in this list which should be completed at the earliest practicable moment. The Central Artery constituted the backbone of the Whitten report and was recognized by him as the most vital element in the program. It has been completed only in part. It is essential that it be completed as soon as possible. The other projects -- in some cases related improvements and in other cases additional improvements -- should be developed within the six-year period but so as not to delay the earliest possible completion of the Central Artery and the Blue Hills Radial.

Assuming the program gets under way with legislative approval during 1941, the earliest practicable date for the completion of the Central Artery and the Blue Hills Radial would appear to be the end of 1943.

In order to spread the expenditures as evenly as possible the other projects of substantial size are scheduled for construction in 1944, 1945 and 1946. Certain minor projects of relatively small cost which can be completed quickly are scheduled in 1941 in order that their traffic value may be secured and as their early construction will not delay progress on the Central Artery and Blue Hills Radial the bulk of the expenditures on which will fall in 1942 and 1943. Only the preliminary engineering work on these two projects can be accomplished in 1941 and the schedule of projects is prepared on this basis but with the assumption that a financial program will be provided adequate to complete all the projects herein suggested.

The above brief comments will provide some explanation of the complete schedule shown in the accompanying table.

DESCRIPTION OF PROJECTS.

(Central Artery.)

The Central Artery embraces land-takings and construction costs involved in the further development of the Central Artery as proposed in the Whitten report, part of which has already been accomplished. The present proposal involves some changes in detail but aims to secure within funds reasonably available the service which the Central Artery of the Whitten report aims to provide.

The principal service of the Central Artery is to provide new lanes of north and south bound traffic through the heart of the city. The main bottleneck of the city is at State street, where the long blocks from Atlantic avenue to Commercial street obstruct north and south bound traffic. Providing six new lanes of traffic across State street at this point was a fundamental element in the Whitten report as it is of this proposed six-year program.

PLAN TO SOLVE BOSTON'S TRAFFIC CONGESTION PROBLEM.

The portion of the Artery already accomplished includes the circle at Haymarket square and the widened Cross street from Haymarket square to Clinton street serving the portal of the East Boston Tunnel. One terminus of the Artery is the Charles River Dam. Nashua street from this point to the North Station at Causeway street formed this end of the Artery in the Whitten report. At the market district the Artery, as designed, by Mr. Whitten, crossed State street about 400 feet from Atlantic avenue and extended through Fort Hill square, across Summer street at High street, thence to the end of Albany street at Kneeland street. An elevated structure for through traffic was provided on the Central Artery from Albany street through Haymarket square to Portland street, near the end of Nashua street.

The cost of surface widenings from Fort Hill square to Kneeland street through the high value Summer street section makes this at present financially impracticable. An elevated motorway from Albany street to the Tunnel and beyond is, however, desirable at the earliest possible moment. The Central Artery as here proposed and described in the following paragraphs provides an alternative scheme to provide the essential service which the Central Artery aimed to provide not only to the immediate downtown area, but to the through traffic from Albany street on the south and from Charlestown and the Charles River Dam on the north.

Description of Route.

The Central Artery now proposed is as follows:

From the traffic circle at the Charles street end of the Dam, Leverett street and Merrimac street are widened to form a surface thoroughfare from the Dam to Haymarket square. At about 1,000 feet from Charles street in the vicinity of Cotting street, the inclines to the elevated roadway start, providing clearance under it for traffic at Causeway street, where a small circularization of surface traffic is provided. The elevated structure continues along Merrimac street and across the center of the circle at Haymarket square to a double set of ramps on Cross street between Haymarket square and Hanover street, Cross street necessarily being widened in this section to accommodate these ramps.

These ramps at Haymarket square afford service to and from the elevated structure for traffic in the North Station section and for Charlestown traffic, Haymarket square providing circularization for the traffic where this concentration at the ramps occurs.

At the entrance to the Tunnel, in order to obviate existing inevitable congestion due to conflict of traffic lanes, a circularization of traffic is accomplished by a widening of North Center street between Hanover street and North street to the southwest and the widening of Richmond street to the northeast. Southbound traffic on the surface of the thoroughfare will detour to the right by way of Hanover street, North Center street and North street and back to Cross street whether this traffic seeks to enter the Tunnel or seeks to continue to the south along the surface artery. Northbound traffic on Cross street will either go directly into the Tunnel at North street or, if it desires to go beyond, will detour by way of North street, Richmond street and Hanover street back to Cross street. This circularization of traffic will also prevent congestion that might otherwise be involved by traffic to and from the ramps to the elevated thoroughfare at this point.

This circularization accomplishes the essentials of Mr. Whitten's plan which involved a large circle at the entrance to the Tunnel which was not included in the original widening of Cross street. It is believed to be essential to provide maximum use of the Tunnel by eliminating traffic conflicts at this point.

From Clinton street the Central Artery is continued along Mercantile street and across State street with land-takings adequate to provide the surface artery and the elevated structure with again a double set of ramps between State street and India street. From India street property takings extend the surface and elevated artery through to Atlantic avenue at Broad street from which point the elevated structure continues along Atlantic avenue, without any widenings, to Kneeland street, at which point there will be a single pair of ramps permitting access to the elevated for northbound travel from Kneeland street and exit from the elevated structure for southbound travel to Kneeland street.

From this point the elevated structure crosses the Boston & Albany freight yards to Broadway at Albany street, where it crosses over Broadway coming down into Albany street between Broadway and Dover, Albany street being adequately widened at this point.

In order to prevent traffic congestion at State street and at India street, where access to and egress from the ramps occur, circularization of traffic is provided at these two points. At State street a flattened circle is provided by the use of State street and Commerce street and the elimination of most of the narrow block of buildings between these two streets. This provides an oval about 200 feet by 450 feet which should permit continuous flow of travel at this point.

At India street equivalent circularization is provided by making India street one way northwest and Broad street one way southeast between Custom House street and India square.

Southbound traffic leaving the elevated roadway will come down to the surface at India street, turn to the right on India street, to the left through Custom House street and Broad street either to Franklin street or beyond to Atlantic avenue.

Surface traffic from the general vicinity of the downtown area and Fort Hill square desiring to reach the elevated structure at India street will reach Broad street through widenings from Batterymarch street and Fort Hill square and circularize through India square to the ramp by which it reaches the elevated structure.

The general downtown area from High street to Water street, in which Franklin street is a more or less Central Artery, is thus provided an easy approach to and from the highway at India street. Similarly the area between Franklin street and Atlantic avenue is connected with the elevated roadway by High street and Purchase street, which as one-way streets carry the surface traffic of the Artery to Summer street and beyond.

Those in the downtown area from Water street to State street and the market, desiring to go south, are provided access to and from the elevated structure at State street. Those in the downtown area desiring to go north will find freer use of Washington street, and also the new surface roadway of the Central Artery from State street to the Tunnel entrance and beyond to Haymarket square. The double ramps on Cross street, mentioned above, provide connection between the elevated structure and surface traffic at Haymarket square and at Hanover street.

SUMMARY OF SERVICE RENDERED BY THE CENTRAL ARTERY.

An artery as above described provides an elevated highway from Albany street near Dover street to the Dam with opportunities of connection with the surface artery from both directions at two major points, one between Haymarket square and Hanover street and one between State street and India street. In addition, connection is made to the elevated on Atlantic avenue at Kneeland street to and from the north, and at Leverett street to and from the south.

The surface thoroughfare provides six additional lanes of vehicles north and south across State street in addition to the four lanes of vehicles at this point on the elevated structure.

Blue Hills Radial.

A necessary adjunct of the Central Artery is the so-called Blue Hills Radial which extends Blue Hill avenue as a 120-foot wide rapid transit thoroughfare from Seaver street to Albany street near Massachusetts avenue. Blue Hill avenue itself in this section is a narrow, winding, local business thoroughfare which it would be unduly expensive to widen.

The thoroughfare suggested is, as recommended by Mr. Whitten, extending more or less parallel to and to the east of the present Blue Hill avenue with an underpass under Washington street near Seaver street and under Dudley street and an overpass over Massachusetts avenue just before reaching Albany street.

The thoroughfare will be designed to prevent interruption by local street crossings by going under or over the main cross-arteries as just noted and preventing any direct crossing of the intermediate secondary streets.

With this extension of Blue Hill avenue to Albany street completed there will be direct access along Blue Hill avenue and Albany street to the end of the Central Artery and its overhead way to the Tunnel and beyond to the Charlestown bridges and the Dam. This will provide a direct route to the downtown area for traffic from the south, much of which now comes into town by way of Morton street, Jamaica way, Fenway and the Back Bay. In developing the program it will be desirable for the Blue Hills Radial to be completed as soon after the completion of the Central Artery project as possible in order to insure the fullest use of the Central Artery.

Dover Street.

Dover street from Tremont street to Albany street is relatively narrow and very congested, but is an important lead from Berkeley street to the Dover Street Bridge and South Boston. With the Central Artery completed it will acquire an additional usefulness as a means of detouring from the South End and Back Bay to Albany street and the Central Artery by which route traffic can avoid much of the difficult congestion in the retail trade section of the city.

The plan involves the widening of Dover street with a possible underpass under Shawmut avenue, Washington street and Harrison avenue.

This is scheduled for 1945 and 1946.

Rutherford Avenue.

The Charlestown Bridge and the Warren Bridge, which are now in each case one-way traffic routes connecting Boston with City square, Charlestown, constitute an important link with northbound traffic. From City square traffic goes northeasterly along Chelsea street or northwesterly along Rutherford avenue, in the latter case reaching Sullivan square, from which several main traffic routes radiate. Rutherford avenue is, therefore, an important link in the main traffic route to and from the north.

As recommended in the Whitten report it is proposed to widen Rutherford avenue to a width of 125 feet, with a small circular traffic connection at the Prison to connect with Prison Point Bridge.

It is planned to undertake the Rutherford avenue project immediately upon completion of the Central Artery and Blue Hills Radial, it being scheduled for 1944 and 1945.

Porter Street.

Porter street at the entrance to the East Boston Tunnel in East Boston has been widened to 100 feet from Central square to Chelsea street to take care of the tunnel traffic. The Whitten report recommended carrying this widened Porter street to the Airport. At present there seems no immediate need to widen Porter street from Chelsea street to the Airport, but it is proposed in this program to extend it and to repave it so as to give direct connection from the tunnel entrance to the Airport. This is a relatively small item which is scheduled for 1941.

Traffic Circle at Brookline Avenue and Fenway.

This is one of the most congested crossings in the city and the construction of a large circle at this point has been recommended for some time. Construction of this circle, which involves practically no land-taking, is included in the program. It is one of the minor items scheduled to be accomplished in 1941.

Dorchester Avenue Widening.

Dorchester avenue, between Broadway and Old Colony avenue, is obstructed by the unused entrance to the subway and is inadequate to take the combined traffic of both Dorchester avenue and Old Colony avenue.

It is proposed, as in the Whitten report, to remove the entrance to the subway which is no longer needed and widen the avenue to a total width of 120 feet. In addition, the corner of Macallen street, where outbound travel turns into Dorchester avenue, needs to be eased with a small angle taking at the corner. Similarly the angle at Dover street will be eased to facilitate traffic at that point. The taking at the corner of Macallen street is proposed to be done as one of the first items in 1941, while the remainder of this project is scheduled for 1944.

Kenmore Square Bus-way.

Kenmore square carries one of the heaviest accumulations of traffic in the city. It is considerably impeded by the present bus stops and turns on Commonwealth avenue and Beacon street. A scheme has been proposed that will permit the buses to stop in the central planted space with a new stairway down to the pedestrian tunnel entrance to the subway.

This is felt to be important and is included in the program as one of the minor items to be accomplished in 1941.

Embankment Road Extension.

One of the difficult traffic points is at the corner of Beacon street and Embankment road where the narrowness of Embankment road and the sharpness of the sidewalk curb at the corner make the traffic turns difficult and cause substantial backing up of traffic during traffic peaks. The principal trouble is the peak load traffic on Beacon street between Embankment road and Clarendon street and the administration of the left-hand turn from Beacon street to Clarendon street.

It is proposed to extend a double driveway adequate to take two lanes of vehicles in each direction from Embankment road parallel to Back street, between it and the main broad granolithic walk, connecting to Berkeley street and Clarendon street. This will mean both driveways as far as Berkeley street and one driveway from Berkeley street to Clarendon street.

Berkeley street between Beacon street and Back street will be widened, but no widening appears necessary at Clarendon street. This is an important but not an expensive improvement which it is planned to accomplish in 1941.

American Legion Highway Extension.

American Legion Highway extends from Blue Hill avenue at Franklin Park to Cummins Highway. The Whitten report contemplated the extension of this parkway to Washington street at West Roxbury Parkway. This extension, in this or some equivalent route, is included as an important item in the full development of the usefulness of the Central Artery. Washington street is wide from West Roxbury Parkway to the south. At Cummins Highway in Roslindale Center there is considerable congestion. Traffic can now reach downtown Boston from Washington street by way of the West Roxbury Parkway, Centre street and Jamaica way. Much of this traffic can advantageously be re-routed via American Legion Highway and Blue Hills Radial to the Central Artery if Washington street and the end of American Legion Highway at Cummins Highway are connected by an adequate roadway.

Much of the difficulty in Boston traffic at present is the mingling of traffic from both the south and the west in the Back Bay, traffic being thence forced through the retail trade district or over Beacon Hill to get to the downtown area. The development of the projects included in this program will offer to all traffic from the south a convenient route directly to the downtown area over the Blue Hills Radial and the Central Artery. This should provide substantial relief to traffic congestion in the Back Bay and the retail trade area. This extension of the American Legion Highway to Washington street is an element in providing this relief and is scheduled for 1945 and 1946.

Gerry's Landing Bridge.

One of the projects in the Whitten report which will be valuable in facilitating traffic to and from Boston and which will also tend to overcome elements of congestion at Harvard square and elsewhere in Cambridge, is a bridge across the Charles river at Gerry's Landing. The bridge is partly in Boston and is looked upon as a Boston project although having a very special significance to Cambridge. It is felt that this improvement should be accomplished within the first six-year program and it is scheduled for 1944-1945.

SUMMARY.

The accompanying table shows the expenditures involved each year if the projects are completed as scheduled. In 1941 five minor projects are scheduled to be completed while the essential engineering work is accomplished in laying out the Central Artery and the Blue Hills Radial, with a total estimated expenditure of $665,000.

The heaviest expenditures come in 1942 and 1943 during which it is proposed to complete the Central Artery and the Blue Hills Radial. This means an expenditure of $7,700,000 in 1942 and $6,400,000 in 1943.

The other projects are scheduled to be completed in the three following years at about a uniform rate of expenditure of $1,630,000 in 1944, $1,300,000 in 1945 and $1,900,000 in 1946.

It should be borne in mind that this is an expenditure program and not a financing program. If these projects are financed by bond issues of twenty years or longer the annual expenditure required over such a period will be on an average something over $1,000,000 a year. In this connection it may be remembered that the Whitten report recorded average expenditures for thoroughfare improvements in the preceding decade from 1920 to 1930 of about $4,500,000 a year and it is clearly a fact that since 1930, when the Whitten report was published, there have been expended on thoroughfare improvements within the city limits a total of some $30,000,000, of which $20,000,000 was, of course, involved in the construction of the East Boston Tunnel and the Cross street and Haymarket square widenings.

The present program involves an average expenditure of a little over $3,000,000 a year for the six years of the program. It is, therefore, less than what Boston has actually spent during the past twenty years.

AMERICA NEEDS SHIPS TO CARRY HER OWN TRADE WITHOUT RELIANCE ON VESSELS IN POSSESSION OF OTHER NATIONS MANY OF WHICH ARE BEING DESTROYED IN EUROPEAN CONFLICT, MAYOR TOBIN TELLS VAST GATHERING AT COMMONWEALTH PIER, SUNDAY, DURING OBSERVANCE OF MARITIME DAY—POINTS TO DIRE NEED FOR BOTTOMS IN WHICH TO CARRY TRADE TO AND FROM UNITED STATES IN COMMERCE WITH OTHER LANDS — PRAISES WASHINGTON ADMINISTRATION FOR PROVISIONS IN BUILDING PASSENGER AND CARGO SHIPS AS WELL AS NAVAL VESSELS.

The following is the address by his Honor, Mayor Maurice J. Tobin, during the Boston Harbor celebration of National Maritime Day, at Commonwealth Pier, South Boston, on Sunday, June 9:

As Mayor of the City of Boston I give hearty welcome to every man, woman and child in this great throng. You are in the right place at the right time. Here, on the waterfront, you look through Boston's window upon the life and trade of all the world.

The ship-channels of this wide harbor are life-lines of New England's prosperity — an essential part of the transportation system upon which the welfare of our whole nation depends.

Boston, for instance, is the principal center of America's wool trade, and an important part of the clothing worn by the American people comes over the ocean from Australian ranches by sea-roads more than 12,000 miles long.

GOODS IMPORTED.

All the tin consumed in the United States must be imported. And you know how important tin is today in the canning and distribution of the people's food.

Again, all of the rubber used in this country comes from over-seas—every pound of all the millions of tons used by our automobiles. The whole daily life of America rolls on rubber, one may very well say, and to a great extent our national economy is dependent on rubber. Most of the rubber used in the United States comes from the Dutch East Indies. The chemists have invented a substitute, but surely they would need several years to accomplish mass production of the new material.

Meanwhile, America has commodities to sell abroad. Of all the cotton annually grown in the South, only half is needed here at home. The other half must be sold abroad. In the Southern States, cotton is a primary source of wealth; and unless her cotton can be sold at a good price throughout the world, the South is left without adequate means to buy industrial goods in the North.

America also has lubricants and kerosene to sell abroad—automobiles and farm machinery.

To maintain these life-lines of export and import America has enjoyed freedom of the seas for twenty-five years more than a century. Never since the War of 1812 has any Power, or combination of Powers, dared challenge the movement of American ships during peace time in any part of the world.

TRADE ROUTES THREATENED.

But now, with the shock and crash of the most destructive war in all the history of war-scarred Europe, a threat and a risk are raised up which we cannot lightly ignore. It seems only too possible that the great police power which has kept trade-routes open and safe in all quarters of the globe will be broken down—the domestic source of its strength so wounded and weakened that the whole far-flung system of defence will break and fall away. Aggressive "have-not" nations eagerly wait for such a breach, to rush in and gain mastery, if they can, of the consumable wealth of half the world.

At such a time the United States cannot afford to rely on the strength and resources of others. Hundreds of foreign merchant ships have already been ruthlessly sunk. America needs ships to carry her own trade, without reliance on ships owned abroad—too many of those now still in existence may yet be sunk.

And I am happy to say that the United States has not been slow to recognize the nation's present need. Only this week the country launched the first new battleship which our Navy has seen since 1921; but American rebuilding of a great merchant marine began four years ago. Under the Merchant Marine Act of 1936, the Administration at Washington has made wise provision for the building of passenger and cargo ships of many types, and for suitable subsidy to operate the new vessels with full success after they have been built.

An outstanding example of the country's achievement under this program the people of Boston can see with their own eyes, not next year or in 1942, but right now. On Tuesday of this present week the "America" is expected in our port—a ship of 35,000 tons, the largest ever built in the United States.

As such, the new flagship of our merchant fleet is well named. This vessel typifies the leadership—growing ever more strong—which the United States will take in the future. We shall develop a plan of world trade and relations built to an American design, and inspired by a clear vision of American interests. The opportunities of constructive action which await us throughout the Western Hemisphere are indeed great. In all our regret for the tragedy now being enacted in Europe we cannot fail to recognize that the outcome does not diminish but vastly increases the significance of the moral and material power still vested in the United States.

Today, as in Longfellow's time, and with still more intensity, there rises the prayer:

"Sail on, O Ship of State!

Sail on, O Union strong and great!

Humanity with all its fears,

With all the hopes of future years,

Is hanging breathless on thy fate!"

MUSIC APPRECIATION WEEK.

The Mayor has issued the following Proclamation:

Whereas, The world's greatest conductors, America's greatest symphony orchestras and America's foremost manufacturers of musical instruments have arranged to produce without profit or royalties a series of twelve recorded symphonic masterpieces for educational purposes: and

Whereas, The National Committee for Music Appreciation, representing two thousand of America's most distinguished civic, educational and cultural leaders, has indorsed this movement as one of the most practical and progressive steps ever taken in the history of music education; and

Whereas, America's greatest newspapers have given unstintingly of their editorial support; and

Whereas, The Boston Committee for Music Appreciation, a chapter of the National Committee, of which Mrs. Lewis A. Armistead, C. C. Birchard, James A. Ecker, Reginald C. Foster, John P. Marshall, Edward F. Messinger, Joseph Wagner are members of the Executive Committee, has arranged to begin public distribution of these symphonic masterpieces on Monday, June 10, from distribution headquarters, at 31 Tremont street and 889 Boylston street, and 150 Federal street; therefore,

I, Maurice J. Tobin, Mayor of the City of Boston, do hereby declare and proclaim the week beginning Sunday, June 9, to be Music Appreciation Week in Boston, and I urge the fullest co-operation of our churches, our schools, our clubs, social, business and fraternal organizations of every kind and description to the end that this great movement, so unselfishly carried forward, may achieve the fullest possible expression in bringing the joy and comfort and inspiration of great music into the hearts and homes of the people of our community.

Signed by me this seventh day of June, 1940.

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

I. CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGN.

With the cooperation of the Boston Fire Department, the Boston Junior Association of Commerce is conducting a Clean-up, Fix-up and Paint-up Campaign which will begin on Monday, April 29, and run through Saturday, May 4, 1940.

In connection with this campaign, forms are being issued to the department today, one hundred to each company. Junior Fire Fighters' membership cards are also being sent to the department houses.

Children will call at the various houses of the department for the forms, on the back page of which they will write a composition stating what they have done to aid in the Clean-up Campaign. These pages will then be returned to the local fire stations.

Children who return the composition sheet containing the signature of a parent or guardian will be given Junior Fire Fighters' membership cards signed by the officer in charge of the company to which the report sheet is returned.

Progress of the campaign will be reported daily at 5.30 p. m., through radio Station WBZ, and also in the Boston newspapers.

If additional forms or cards are required, company commanders can obtain them by calling Headquarters.

Company commanders shall return all compositions to Headquarters on or before Tuesday, May 7, 1940.

I. AMERICAN RED CROSS WAR RELIEF FUND.

The following letter which has been received from his Honor, Mayor Maurice J. Tobin, is hereby published for the information of the department:

May 20, 1940.

To All City Employees.

The Metropolitan Chapter of the American Red Cross is endeavoring to raise $10,000,000 for the relief of war-stricken countries in Europe.

Perusal of the daily papers is sufficient to inform all of us of the terrible havoc and destruction caused by modern warfare.

It is a condition, I pray, will never come to this country.

The generosity of the American people towards those in other lands who have been visited with great misfortune is traditional. The generosity of the city employees in these emergencies is well known.

Fire Commissioner Reilly has been designated by me as chairman of the City Employee Division.

May I ask all employees to contribute, as generously as their means permit, for this humane purpose under the auspices of the Red Cross.

Whatever your contribution may be, you may rest assured it will bring joy and happiness to some one who finds life at this hour at its darkest stage.

Sincerely,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Subscription blanks are being issued to the department today, one to each company. Company commanders shall fill in on the blank the names, addresses and amounts given by members who contribute, and return to Headquarters.

Miss Geraldine A. Skelley has been assigned by the Fire Commissioner to accept contributions and give receipts therefor. Delivery of money at Headquarters should be made on any week day between the hours of 9 and 11 a. m.

Final returns should be made on or before Tuesday, May 28, 1940.

carried a gas mask attempted to don it on the cellar stairs. While doing this, Hoseman Howard either missed his footing or was overcome by smoke and heat and fell from the stairs to the cellar floor, being stunned by the fall and unable to help himself Capt. William M. Phelan of Ladder Company 31, who was on the first floor, heard Hoseman Howard's cry for assistance. He immediately groped his way down the cellar stairs through smoke and heat and found Hoseman Howard in a semi-conscious condition about five feet from the fire. He carried Howard up the cellar stairs, through the first floor and thence to the street, where Hoseman Howard was revived.

Because of the great personal risk to which Captain Phelan exposed himself in performing this rescue work, due to the presence of smoke, heat, illuminating and carbon dioxide gases from ruptured pipes in the building, the Fire Commissioner is pleased to commend him highly and the case is referred to the Board of Merit for further consideration.

Ladderman Archibald W. McInnes of Ladder Company 28 is hereby commended for responding to and working at fire, Box 385, three alarms, on May 11, 1940, while off duty.

Hoseman Joseph B. Dougan of Engine Company 14 is hereby commended for volunteering and donating blood in transfusion to Ladderman Lawrence J. Buchanan of Ladder Company 26, at the Boston City Hospital, on May 13, 1940.

Engineer William H. Tobin of the Motor Squad is hereby commended for responding to and working at fire, Box 1526, May 16, 1940, while off duty.

Hoseman Arthur J. Reardon of Engine Company 21 and Ladderman Francis E. Sullivan of Ladder Company 4 are hereby commended for volunteering and donating blood in transfusion to a brother of Ladderman Edward E. Hall of Ladder Company 7, at the Deaconess Hospital, on May 17, 1940.

Ladderman Moses J. Kinsella of Ladder Company 7 is hereby commended for extinguishing a fire in the cellar at 12 Victoria street, Dorchester, May 23, 1940, while off duty.

TO PROTECT MINORS.

Buffalo is considering an ordinance, similar to the one in effect in New York City, for the protection of minors in theaters. It permits children, unaccompanied by adults, only in theaters licensed as to adequate sanitary and safety provisions, sets aside a certain section for them and requires the presence of a licensed matron.

CIRCULAR LETTER NO. 9.

CITY OF BOSTON,
MAYOR'S OFFICE, June 4, 1940.

To All Department Heads.

GENTLEMEN,—You are hereby directed to grant leave of absence, without loss of pay, to employees in your department who are delegates or alternates of the United Spanish War Veterans to attend the State Convention to be held on June 28, 29 and 30, 1940, at Northampton, Mass.

And also on August 16 and 17, 1940, to attend the National Convention to be held at Detroit, Mich.

Respectfully,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

BUDGETARY CONTROL.

Prior to installing the present system of budgetary control, effective as of January 1, 1939, the city of Newark had no centralized accounting control over its budget commitments. The city's general ledger contained accounts for the various budget appropriations, and reflected disbursements out of the appropriations. However, commitments for work and material were not recorded in the city's accounts until after bills submitted by the vendors had been approved for payment by the Board of Commissioners. Consequently, financial reports could only show the amount of appropriated moneys that had not been disbursed out of any account. No recognition could be given in these reports to the unpaid purchase commitments, since the amount was not known. The American City.

TAUNTON'S ASPHALT PLANT.

One of the functions of a city public works or street department is to operate as effectively as possible in the construction and maintenance of its streets and sidewalks and to produce the necessary materials for paving at the lowest possible cost. In some cities this is effected by the purchase of all paving materials in either the raw or the mixed stage. Taunton has used a city-owned 100-ton asphalt plant for street paving and maintenance and for sidewalk construction for ten years. Located in the city yard with the equipment repair shop and garage, the plant is housed in a 60 by 90 foot building with a 30 by 100 foot wing, which was formerly used as a foundry. The American City.

WATER-SUPPLY DEVELOPMENT IN THE UNITED STATES.

In 1652 Boston introduced the first American public water supply. The first mechanical pumps were used in 1761 at Bethlehem, Pa., where Hans Christiansen, an American pioneer water-supply engineer, made his pumps work "after severe struggles." In 1850 there were only 100 water plants in the United States, and as late as 1875 only 243. In 1933 there were more than 11,000 public water supplies, some serving more than one community.

CINCINNATI'S NEW SPORTS FIELD.

Cincinnati's outstanding recreational event of the past year has been the opening of its 200-acre Airport Sports Field—an instantaneous success. Although far from completion and lacking in many necessary facilities, it is already paying its own way. American City Magazine.

GIFT OF NORTH END LAND FOR PLAYGROUND.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 6, 1940.
To the Honorable the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I am herewith transmitting a letter from George Holden Tinkham offering, as agent for the heirs of Joshua Bennett together with a deed of said heirs, the gift of a parcel of land belonging to said heirs and situated on Charter street and Vernon place in the North End district of Boston, for playground purposes for children.

It is apparent that this parcel of land, situated as it is in a highly congested tenement district, would make an ideal location for a playground for children, and I therefore recommend that the City Council accept the gift of this parcel of land and place the same in the care, custody and control of the Park Department for playground purposes.

Respectfully yours,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Law Department, May 6, 1940.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—Honorable George Holden Tinkham as agent for the heirs of Joshua Bennett, in a letter addressed to you under date of October 6, 1939, expressed the desire of the said heirs to give to the City of Boston a certain parcel of land situated at No. 23 Charter street and No. 1-12 Vernon place, containing about 9,916 square feet of land, for the purpose of providing a playground for children.

In a letter addressed to William P. Long, Chairman, Park Commissioners, dated October 23, 1939, you stated:

"I have accepted in behalf of the city the offer of the heirs of Joshua Bennett extended by Agent George Holden Tinkham, the property at Charter street and Vernon place."

A deed of this property has been delivered to the Law Department by George Holden Tinkham. In order that the expressed wishes of yourself and of George Holden Tinkham, and the heirs of Joshua Bennett may be accomplished, I inclose herewith the following papers to be transmitted to the City Council by you, if the same meet with your approval:

1. Order—Acceptance by the City of Boston of the gift of the heirs of Joshua Bennett and transfer of the land so given to the care, custody and control of the Park Department for playground purposes.

2. Deed: Gift of the heirs of Joshua Bennett to the City of Boston of the parcel of land situated at No. 23 Charter street and No. 1-12 Vernon place. This deed should accompany the foregoing order to the City Council.

3. Letter: Offer of George Holden Tinkham as agent for the heirs of Joshua Bennett, dated October 6, 1939, of the said parcel of land No. 23 Charter street and No. 1-12 Vernon place. This letter should accompany the foregoing order and deed to the City Council.

Very truly yours,
W. J. DOYLE,
Acting Corporation Counsel.

Whereas, George Holden Tinkham of Boston, Mass.; Annie E. Holden of Concord, Mass.; Madeleine T. Miller of Chicago, Ill.; Gwendolyn M. H. Conant of Brookline, Mass.; Gladys E. H. Hosmer of Concord, Mass.; Natalie H. L. Willis of New York, New York; Rebecca W. Cramer of Cramerton, North Carolina; the heirs of Joshua Bennett, late of Boston, desire to grant as a gift to the City of Boston a certain parcel of land situated at No. 23 Charter street and No. 1 to 12 Vernon place in Boston Proper, and containing about 9,992 square feet of land and more fully bounded and described in a deed accompanying this order.

SALE OF LAND TO MASSACHUSETTS GENERAL HOSPITAL.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, June 3, 1940.
To the Honorable the City Council.

Gentlemen,—On February 5 of this year I presented to your Honorable Body an order whereby the City of Boston might sell a certain parcel of land owned by it and situated on the westerly side of North Grove street, Boston Proper, to the Massachusetts General Hospital for hospital purposes and the said hospital as consideration therefor agreed to pay a certain sum of money and to convey to the City of Boston certain parcels of land situated on the northerly side of Cambridge street, to be utilized as a driveway and rear entrance to the Suffolk County Jail. This order contained an express reservation whereby the City of Boston was to be permitted to maintain, use and occupy the building known as the "Morgue" until September 30, 1942.

Dr. William J. Brickley, Medical Examiner for the Northern District, Suffolk County, has requested that the said "Morgue" building be exempted from the proposed sale to the Massachusetts General Hospital at this time. The Massachusetts General Hospital has agreed to the exemption of the "Morgue" from the proposed sale and I have acceded to the request of Doctor Brickley.

I therefore request the withdrawal of the order presented to your Honorable Body on February 5, 1940, and to substitute in its place the order inclosed herewith whereby the City of Boston may sell at private sale to the Massachusetts General Hospital a certain parcel of land situated on the northwesterly side of North Grove street, containing 17,572 square feet, for the sum of $49,647 and the conveyance by said hospital to the City of Boston of certain parcels of land situated on the northerly side of Cambridge street, containing 1,023 square feet.

The sale of this city-owned land will in great measure help the Massachusetts General Hospital in carrying on its hospital work and the conveyance of the said hospital land to the city will provide an adequate driveway and rear entrance to the Suffolk County Jail.

I therefore recommend the passage of the inclosed order.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Secretary, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—I return herewith order of the City Council, dated April 22, 1940, as follows:

"Ordered, That the Transit Commission determine the advisability of erecting a subway station at Arundel and Aberdeen streets, at Beacon street, as a W. P. A. project."

The necessity for a station at this point was given due consideration when the Boylston Street Subway was extended to Audubon Circle. The distance between Kenmore and Audubon Stations is only three thousand feet, therefore, it was determined inadvisable to erect another station in the locality proposed.

Action by the Legislature would be necessary to provide funds to finance such a project.

Very truly yours,
T. F. SULLIVAN, Chairman.

There have come to my attention certain newspaper statements relating to a notice issued by me on May 20, 1940, to employees of this department.

In view of these statements, I submit the following information for use by you, as you may see fit.

Shortly prior to May 20, 1940, I received information from which it appeared that certain field workers had accepted, from persons supervised, transportation and lunches, in the course of their duties in the field.

Upon inquiring into the situation, and after consultation with a member of the Law Department, I deemed it advisable, in order that there might be no doubt as to my position with reference to such action on the part of the field workers, and as a matter of office discipline, to prepare and issue a general notice, a copy of which is attached.

Yours respectfully,

EMPLOYMENT OF CITIZENS AT SUFFOLK DOWNS TRACK.

The following was received:

State Racing Commission,
1 Beacon Street, Boston,
May 27, 1940.

Mr. W. J. Doyle,
City Clerk.

Dear Sir,—The commission has requested me to acknowledge receipt of the resolution by the City Council of May 20, 1940, regarding the employment of persons from outside of Massachusetts at the Suffolk Downs track.

At the present time the commission is checking this list of employees and when it has been completed they will advise the Council of their findings.

You may assure the members of the Council that the commission will see that chapter 128A, section 10, requiring that 85 per cent of the persons employed by a licensee of this commission shall be citizens of this Commonwealth, is complied with.

Very truly yours,
STATE RACING COMMISSION,
LAWRENCE J. LANE, Secretary.

Placed on file.

Coun. COFFEY and others spoke, but, on motion of Coun. TAYLOR, the remarks were stricken from the record.

Coun. COFFEY doubted the vote, and asked for the yeas and nays. The motion to strike from the record was carried, yeas 18, nays 1.

Yeas—Coun. Carey, Chase, Englert, Fish, Galvin, Goode, Gottlieb, Hurley, Hutchinson, Kelly, Langan, Lyons, Russo, Shattuck, M. H. Sullivan, Taylor, Ward, Wickes—18.

Nays—Coun. Coffey—1.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a statement. (No objection.) During the time when the budget was under consideration Mr. Loeffler was invited to attend a meeting that was arranged for Mr. Loeffler to attend. I heard about the meeting, at which I was not supposed to be present, and I walked into the room and objected very strenuously to Loeffler being present there. At the time it appeared to me that Loeffler was just about running the meeting. He was going to consolidate departments, was talking about firing some help outright, and was planning to have a 3 per cent cut in the pay of city and county employees. I came to the floor of the Council the following Monday and attacked Loeffler, but it seems that it did not get me much here on the floor. The following week another meeting was called, held in a room here next to the President's room, that I did not know until then even existed, a meeting which one of the clerks told me was going on. I was not invited into that committee meeting either, but I went there, and that is the time when I made the remark about the committee being a lot of chumps to listen to Loeffler's suggestions. I went on to say that he came from another city, Cambridge, where the tax rate had gone up $7 a thousand, and that he was a $6,500 a year man, who was paid that amount for trying to get these reductions made in the appropriations of the City of Boston. The following Monday I went to the Mayor's office, and Councilor Taylor went into a huddle with the Mayor, who was instructing him as to the action he should take in the Council that afternoon, when Coffey was to attack Loeffler, and to look out for Coffey. I happened to be in there and heard what was going on between the councilor and the Mayor. So it is no surprise to me today to have the councilor get up and defend the Mayor. In fact, I have been given to understand that he was the Mayor's man here. Of course, he is getting jobs and others are not getting good jobs. So good luck to him!

Coun. LINEHAN—Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a statement. (No objection.) Of course, you noticed a few moments ago, when the roll call was had on taking the remarks from the record, you probably noticed that my colleague from Ward 6 (Coun. Scannell) did not vote. And this is why. Several weeks ago I mentioned the fact that, as it seemed to me, this is certainly one place where free speech should be allowed, that when any member gets up, representing his district, his constituency, and makes a speech on the floor of this Council, the only fitting, proper and good procedure is to allow that speech to appear in our records. When a man gets up here under such circumstances, speaking for the people he represents, certainly his remarks should not be kept from the record. And so I feel that the action taken earlier in the meeting was not proper. I have the greatest respect and admiration for the Mayor of Boston, who is doing a good, honest job. I do not have to speak for him, he can speak for himself. But if this sort of thing is to be allowed, if men get up here and speak on matters that concern their constituencies or themselves as representatives of a district of this city, what they say should be allowed to appear in our record. I am at all times willing to speak for people who cannot speak for themselves at the time when certain remarks may be made on the floor of this Council. It may well be at any time that we do not agree with the remarks that are made here. That is a matter for individual judgment at any time. But when a man gets up here in open chamber and makes a speech for the record, it should certainly not be stricken from the record, even if other members may not like what has been said. Free speech should certainly prevail in such a body as this, and I, as a member of the Council, will never vote to strike anything from the record when any member of the Council makes a statement.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a statement. (No objection.) There are several ways in which a member of the Council can receive publicity. One is to advocate something that is for the benefit of the people, something that will aid and assist those who need something. Another way is to support something that will aid the city itself. But there is another way, and that is by assailing a man's character here, in such a way that he cannot defend himself at the time, and to try to hamstring him in the public eye. That, in my opinion, is the cheapest way to get publicity, and that way is illustrated by the accusations that were made here against the Mayor. The member from East Boston has accused me of being in a huddle with the Mayor. The obvious answer to that is that if that were so, the gentleman would not be in a position to know what was said. And as a matter of fact, what he has said here in that respect is an untruth. The policy of the member this year, since coming into the Council, has been to accuse and detract from the reputation of decent and honest men and I, for one, will insist when such attacks are made as the attack that has been made earlier in our meeting, to insist that they shall not go into our record. That does not mean, of course, that if a man has anything to say honestly in this Council it shall not be made a matter of record. None of the members of this Body in such a case would wish to have honest remarks excluded; but it does mean that when members go beyond the bounds of decency they cannot object to having their remarks not made a part of the records of this Body.

Coun. HUTCHINSON—Mr. President, I agree with Councilor Taylor. Members of the Council are supposed to conduct themselves under the rules of the Council, and when they get out of order and make remarks that they should not make about other people, remarks that should not be included in the record, I certainly cannot keep still in my seat.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

Chairman WARD—Gentlemen, we had better be getting along with the regular order of business. Motions, orders and resolutions.

FINANCE COMMISSION REPORT RE LAUNDRY SERVICE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Finance Commission, May 22, 1940.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Honorable Sir,—The cost of laundering service for various departments of the City of Boston is in excess of $150,000 per year—how greatly in excess it is impossible to state. A small portion of the service is let out on order or contract to private firms at an annual total cost of approximately $18,500. The larger portion is performed in plants built by the city and operated by city employees.

In these municipally-owned and operated plants the cost accounting is not sufficiently reliable to warrant any statement as to approximate annual cost. Nevertheless, the labor costs of the Boston City Hospital for its main laundry alone totaled $85,488, plus the cost of meals served to over seventy-five employees. This figure alone is indicative of the fact that the city as a whole spends an annual sum for laundering service in excess of $150,000.

The Finance Commission has received complaints that even the annual sum of $18,500, which is spent for service rendered by private firms, is too much to pay for what the city is receiving for its money. Investigation has shown that these complaints are well founded.

In 1939 eleven different departments of the city paid several private concerns the sum of $18,461.50. The Fire Department paid $2,890.12 and the Overseers of Public Welfare $2,284 on contracts awarded as a result of advertising. But nine departments paid $13,287.38 on unadvertised contracts. As a result, the Police Department—one of the latter—paid 5 cents apiece for laundering sheets against 3 cents paid by the Fire Department, 5 cents for pillow cases as against 1 1/2 cents, and so forth.

Furthermore, the Health Department paid $4,631.38 in 1939. This year the Health Department was prepared to sign an unadvertised contract for laundering service amounting to about $4,200, when, at the suggestion of the Finance Commission, the contract was advertised and, as a result, a price of $3,174.60 was offered by the lowest bidder in competition. By the simple expedient, therefore, of securing competition, a reduction of 24 per cent in price for this small contract was obtained.

The Police Department, the Public Buildings Department, the School Committee, and the Suffolk County Court House, each of which paid in 1939 over $1,500 for laundering service without competition, could save money for the city by following the example of the Health Department.

Nevertheless, it is obvious that the chief problem lies elsewhere. There are altogether seven different establishments furnishing laundering service which are maintained and operated by funds furnished by the City of Boston. In addition, there is an eighth which, though maintained, has been operated only spasmodically for several years. Three of the seven are operated by the City Hospital, and one each by the Long Island Hospital, Deer Island and the Suffolk County Jail. The Park Department maintains and operates one at Dover street, and one which it does not now operate at the North End Bath.

In 1932 the Hospital Department began the construction of a new laundry. The building had cost $266,632.05 upon completion in 1934. New equipment purchased for use in the building has cost $131,811.16, making a total expenditure for building and equipment of $400,000.

This building is five stories in height, including basement floor, and is situated on the Roxbury Canal, across Albany street from the hospital, and in the rear of the structure housing the ambulances. It is substantial and only six years old.

When the plans for the new laundry were drawn, the intention of the hospital authorities and the architect was to produce a building which would be capable of providing a much greater laundering service than the needs of the hospital proper required. For instance, the architect visualized the giving of laundering service in that building to the Main Hospital, the Sanatorium at Mattapan, the Haymarket Square Relief Station and the East Boston Relief Station. On the other hand, some hospital officials—the superintendent who was in charge at the time has died—maintained that it was originally intended to render service to other departments as well as to take care of the hospital laundry.

Nevertheless, neither scheme has ever been tried. The laundering service of the South Department is still being done in the South Department. The Sanatorium maintains a substantial laundry at the institution at Mattapan. Both the Fire Department and the Police Department are contracting for their own laundering service, and the Park Department is still conducting a substantial laundering business in the Dover street plant.

In fact, the Hospital Trustees are having great difficulty in getting adequate service from this large plant for the needs of their Main Department alone. A survey made in 1939 by an expert employed by the Hospital Trustees contained sharp criticism of cost, management and output. The following is quoted from this report: "The quality of finished work is very poor; the amount of work produced per hour is too small (even for a municipal laundry); and the labor cost per unit is too large." Specific criticism is further made of the inadequacy of supervision, the character and attitude of laundry employees, of cost accounting methods, and of linen control.

Furthermore, the expert had the following to say in regard to the laundry in the South Department, which was operated at a cost for labor and materials in 1939 of $16,068.32: "The operating efficiency is poorer than in the main laundry, largely because the employees have to perform all kinds of work interchangeably. Such an arrangement is never conducive to efficiency. The work done there could and should be performed in the main laundry, but not until the latter is running efficiently."

On the other hand, the Park Department is faced with an entirely different situation. In the Dover street plant the department launders about 2,500,000 towels and about 20,000 bathing suits a year. The expenditure in 1939 was $33,371. But the plant is antiquated, the machines are in need of repair, and during heat waves it is necessary to run far into the night to take care of the demand of the beaches. The Park Department is performing efficiently in spite of these difficulties, but is facing in the immediate future the probability of substantial capital expenses in the Dover street plant.

Another expert survey made for the Mayor's Survey Committee in May, 1940, is concerned with the mechanical equipment in the various plants. This survey recommends that certain machines now located in the little-used North End Bath House plant, and other machines now in the main laundry at the hospital, be distributed to the Boston Sanatorium, the Long Island Hospital, Deer Island and the Jail; that more up-to-date equipment be installed in the main laundry of the hospital in its place; and that the work done at the South Department and Dover street be transferred to this main laundry. This survey gives a net cost for the changes recommended of $114,000, and a net saving consequent thereon of $47,000 per year.

It is clear that whether these recommendations be accepted or not, the city must look forward to having to purchase new laundering machinery quite soon. The question is whether to purchase it for the Dover street laundry, and perpetuate the present situation, or attempt to reorganize and consolidate the laundering service, purchasing the new machinery made necessary thereby.

A factor of major importance in the decision is the capacity of the main laundry of the hospital. It was constructed, as has been previously set forth, at a cost of $400,000, to perform a much larger service than the needs of the Hospital Department require. Though not now used for the purpose for which it was built, the expert for the Hospital Trustees and the expert for the Survey Committee have reported there is no question that it could be so used. It seems clear that this failure is due to the inability or unwillingness of the executives of the hospital to put it to its intended use.

The transactions of a laundering business, though important, are quite foreign to the main purposes of a hospital. So long as the executive staff of a hospital is dominated by professional men, there is likely to be an over-emphasis on the dangers of mixing hospital laundry with that of other departments. Qualified experts who have studied this feature speak convincingly of simple methods of eliminating danger.

The Finance Commission is convinced that the laundering service for the city, with proper precautions, can and should be performed in one central laundering plant. The Survey Committee's expert has prepared plans looking to that end. However, in view of the proven inability of the Hospital Department to manage that service satisfactorily, the commission believes management should be transferred to more practical and efficient administrators. The Park Department, having carried on a substantial laundering service satisfactorily for many years, seems to be the logical department to take over the hospital laundering plant.

For this reason, the Finance Commission recommends that the management and control of this $400,000 plant be given to the Park Department; that the Dover street laundry be closed; that the North End Park Department plant be dismantled; that the necessary changes and replacements of machinery and personnel be made and purchased; and that the work of the entire City Hospital—with due regard for the South Department work—of the Park, Police and Fire Departments and such other departments as let out their work on contracts or orders be consolidated under the control of the Park Department in the present City Hospital plant.

Respectfully submitted,

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON FINANCE.

Coun. SHATTUCK, for the Committee on Finance, submitted the following:

1. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred May 20) that right to borrow money for bridges, reconstruction and repair of, as approved September 29, 1938, be limited to $145,000 and that authorization to borrow in excess of said amount for said purposes be rescinded—recommending that same ought to pass.

The report was accepted, and the question came on the passage of the order.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, this is the reduction of a loan order in which the P. W. A. participated in the work. The work has been completed and the money has been received from the Federal Government. That makes it possible to reduce the original loan order by $120,000, which is the purpose of the present order reported by the Committee on Finance.

The order was passed, yeas 22.

SPEED LIMIT, EAST BOSTON.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Traffic Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to establish a speed limit of twenty miles an hour in East Boston during the racing period.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, the reason why I have put this order in is that last Thursday, during the holiday, after the races, there was traffic congestion from about quarter past six to quarter past nine, on Chelsea street and in the Day square section, it being a long time before the streets coming from the race track were finally clear. For several years there has been a traffic jam there under those circumstances, taking sometimes three hours to clear up. I have introduced orders about it, and it is about time that there was a speed limit of twenty miles an hour placed on vehicular traffic in the East Boston district, so as to prevent that sort of thing in travel coming from Suffolk Downs. Conditions are such that if anybody is injured there is a wait of three or four hours before they can get to the hospital.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, if there is such a traffic jam as you say, how can it be relieved by having cars go not more than twenty miles an hour.

Coun. COFFEY—Naturally, when the cars get out on the road they get as high a rate of speed as they can, and they block the mouth of the tunnel.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

INVESTIGATION RE SLAUGHTER HOUSE PERMIT, EAST BOSTON.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Bar Association be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to investigate certain attorneys involved in the granting of a permit for a slaughter house on Lewis street, East Boston.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, now the gentlemen who want to defend the Mayor can defend him. In view of the letter that has been received from Watts, it would seem that an investigation should be made in the department, and I certainly feel that there should be an investigation of attorneys involved in the granting of a permit for a slaughter house on Lewis street, East Boston. It has been rumored that a couple of thousand dollars in graft was paid, handled by these attorneys, and I was given to understand that my piece was waiting in the Mayor's office. I am asking the Bar Association, through this order, to investigate the matter. There is a man by the name of Greenberg, who had conducted a poultry place in East Boston for fifty years, and who wanted to conduct this place over there, but he was turned down and a man by the name of Ferman, who comes from Canton and has places, I understand, in Vermont and New Hampshire, was given the preference, apparently on account of the way in which the matter was handled by his lawyer, Charles Hilly. The permit was granted two weeks ago last Friday, May 17, to this Ferman, coming, as I say, from Canton. I saw Doctor Mallowney about it, and I asked him how the permit was granted, when it says right here, in chapter 111, section 151, of the General Laws:

"No person shall occupy or use a building for carrying on the business of slaughtering cattle, sheep or other animals, or for a melting or rendering establishment, or for other noxious or offensive trade and occupation, or permit or allow said trade or occupation to be carried on upon premises owned or occupied by him, without first obtaining the written consent and permission of the Mayor and City Council."

Everybody knows that nothing of the sort ever came in here. Therefore, I went and saw Doctor Mallowney, and asked him how this permit came to be granted. He said that Charles Hilly was the attorney, and that he presented it to him, and that is the reason why he granted it. It appeared, upon looking into the matter, that these people had been doing business on Commercial street and that their license was revoked in September, 1939, because of unsanitary condition of the premises, on complaint of the neighbors. But Doctor Mallowney granted the application against the application of Greenberg, who had carried on a good, respectable slaughtering house business there in East Boston for all these years. So I asked Doctor Mallowney about how it was, and he said that Charles Hilly was the attorney and to see him. I asked him how much he got for it, and he said nothing. Now, I say that over $2,000 was paid for getting that permit, and that it was granted to these people against a man who had for fifty years conducted a good, decent slaughter house business in East Boston, and who wanted permission to continue. It appeared upon looking into the matter that this Ferman had been doing business as A. B. Read & Co., on Commercial street, and that his license was revoked in September, 1939, because of unsanitary condition of the premises on complaint of the neighbors. It seems that Greenberg also got an attorney and paid him $25, but because he could not raise enough money he had to give up. He had a local judge intercede for him. But Greenberg is now on relief, in Winthrop. Hilly called my home and told me to get in touch with Judge Burke. Joe Carroll, who used to be connected with the United States District Court, before I saw Doctor Mallowney, tried to find out when Mallowney was coming back from Washington, and after he got back I got in touch with him. There was another man over there, Matthew Rachier, who twenty years previously had a slaughter house, who also filed an application for this slaughter house. But, of course, he was out of it, also. Now, I want to know why a Canton man should get this permit, as against these men from the district. As I say, Greenberg had conducted a slaughter house in my district for over fifty years, and had conducted a good, clean, decent place. But he was turned down, as well as Matty Rachier, who, as I say, had been in the slaughter house business twenty years previously and has recently been operating a garage. There are a number of things here that should be looked into, and that is why I wished to have the Bar Association investigate the matter.

Coun. GALVIN—Mr. President, I would be the first man to support a man representing his district who gets up on the floor of this Council and makes a statement that he feels is in the interest of his constituents. But when people are attacked because they have employed a lawyer to represent their interests before any tribunal, I must object. I myself have had occasion to engage a lawyer to go before the Boston Licensing Board to present facts pertaining to matters in which a member of my family was interested. That, it seems to me, is perfectly legitimate. I paid that lawyer, and I believe that a lawyer has a perfect right to represent a client, whether before the Street Commission, the Health Commission, before the courts of our county, or anywhere else. I believe, therefore, that this is a matter that should be referred to the Executive Committee for further debate.

The matter was referred to the Executive Committee.

BEANO GAMES IN EAST BOSTON.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor request the City Censor Spencer to allow the two Beanos now operating in East Boston to continue to operate after June 15, 1940.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, the reason why I file this order in regard to Beano is that there are only two Beano games now being operated in East Boston, both under the most highly respectable auspices, church and otherwise. Nobody can claim that there is anything crooked about those games, and I do not believe, if you consulted the three men who have made this report, that they would have anything to say against the Beano games being operated in my ward.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, I would like to amend the order by including in it the following organizations in my ward—the Redberry Council, Knights of Columbus, Old Dorchester Post, American Legion, and Ensign O'Connell Post, and their auxiliaries.

Chairman WARD—The Chair will rule that that is a separate order in itself, and will suggest that the councilor put in a separate order later on. The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

SIDEWALK CONSTRUCTION.

Coun. CAREY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along South Huntington avenue, in front of Nos. 367, 369, 371, Ward 10; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

BILL RE OBSCENE LITERATURE.

Coun. CAREY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to draft a bill for presentation to the next Legislature, amending section 28, chapter 272, of the General Laws, and which will prohibit the publishing, sale, importation or distribution of any book, pamphlet, ballad, printed paper or other thing containing obscene, indecent or impure language either in whole or in part.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, this is an order that is introduced for the protection of the morals of the youth. I believe today it is incumbent on everyone who has the privilege of serving the public to make a point of learning about cases where people are being brought in contact with obscene, indecent and impure literature, and to do all we can to prohibit publishing, sale, importation or distribution, in the form of a book, ballad, pamphlet, or printed paper of any sort. Such literature should not be allowed on the shelves of our bookstores or in our libraries, where it can be purchased by young people of an impressionable age, who do not appreciate or realize the danger of the destructive consequences that will come, physically or morally, through such publication and distribution. I have had occasion during the last ten days to inquire of the Police Commissioner, for example, in regard to writings of Bertram Russell, of great detriment to the public, and which I had hoped might be removed from public sale and distribution. I am happy to say that the commissioner is in full accord with my position in the matter, and has written me a letter to that effect, under date of May 29. He says:

"Let me say that I do not disagree with your conclusion and analysis of the book itself. However, I must call your attention to many practical and legal considerations which are outstanding in my mind and which ought to be given careful consideration before any criminal action be ordered by me with respect to the sale of the book."

But he is entirely in sympathy with my position if action can legally be taken. I read an article by a journalistic observer awhile ago, calling attention to some of the so-called "best sellers," most of them containing matter that would be detrimental to the morals of youth. I sincerely trust that such a bill as I have suggested may be prepared by the Law Department and presented to the Legislature, so that it may be acted upon by the next Legislature, looking to prohibition of the publishing, sale and importation or distribution of any book, pamphlet, ballad, printed matter or other thing containing obscene, indecent or impure language either in whole or in part. Certainly some such action should be taken, for the protection of the morals of the youth.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, I believe the order which has been introduced by the gentleman is one that deserves favorable action on the part of this Council. I believe it expresses the feeling of every member of the Body. We all know that anything that tends to give these false and immoral ideas to the youth of our country contaminates the very roots of society. Certainly such infection should not be allowed in our schools, and to allow it is highly immoral, highly undemocratic, and endangers not only the youth of the nation but the nation itself. Certainly such practices as Bertram Russell has suggested in his classrooms, while it may be permitted in the German schools or in nations engaged in the present European war, must be condemned by all Americans as immoral and subversive of decency in human relations, in line with the godless and immoral teachings of Hitlerism and of Soviet Russia. Bertram Russell is teaching the abnormal sexual doctrines now prevalent in Russia and among the present ruling class of Germany and I suggest, therefore, that there be an investigation of such activities in Massachusetts, with a hope that that investigation will get around to the Massachusetts college where Bertram Russell is about to teach. Certainly something should be done here to stop the encouragement of Russian abnormalities. The teachings of Bertram Russell and others of his kind are a definite threat to the American nation and to the morals of our American youth. I want, therefore, to commend the gentleman from Ward 10 for the order he has introduced, and I certainly trust that it will be passed.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

ABATEMENT OF TAXES OF EASTERN RACING ASSOCIATION.

Coun. TAYLOR offered the following:

Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to fully defend the interests of the city in regard to the application for abatement of taxes by the Eastern Racing Association, and that, in the event the Board of Tax Appeals renders a decision against the City of Boston, he appeal the decision and prosecute the case in the courts of the Commonwealth.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, during the last two weeks there has been a hearing before the Board of Tax Appeals on the petition of the Eastern Racing Association for abatement of taxes on their big plant in East Boston. It was rather surprising to read in the newspapers that gentlemen who spent immense sums for the erection of their buildings now claim that they are not worth the amount that they cost, and that their taxes should be abated. That is particularly surprising in view of the fact that this monopolistic concern, a concern which has a monopoly of horse racing in Massachusetts, and which is really taking money from poor people and thereby injuring the merchants of the community, in spite of the large profits that they are receiving, wish to take from the city money which is rightfully due in the way of taxes to run our community. I know that our Law Department will put up a good fight to retain the full assessment which has been made on these people, and I am not at all pessimistic as to the outcome when the fight is made. These people have obtained a huge return on their investment for years, and now do not wish to pay to the city the taxes which they should properly pay. I know that the Corporation Counsel will fight to the bitter end for the interest of the City of Boston, to compel these people who derive their money from those on the whole who can least afford to pay, to give a fair return to the citizens of our city, in the way of taxes for what they receive.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

STATEMENT BY COUNCILOR COFFEY.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a statement.

Coun. LYONS—Mr. President, I object.

Chairman WARD—What is the ground of the gentleman's objection?

Coun. LYONS—I don't know that I would object, Mr. President, but I would like to know on what the gentleman proposes to speak.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, I simply ask unanimous consent to make a statement.

Chairman WARD—Does the gentleman insist on his objection?

Coun. LYONS—I withdraw it, Mr. President.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, when I was seventeen years of age I left the East Boston High School to join the army, to fight for that flag, and I was for some time in France fighting for the flag. If I remember my teachings in school correctly, we are supposed to have free speech in this country, which is guaranteed to us under the Bill of Rights, and also by statutes passed by the Legislature. I personally was a member of the Legislature when one of those laws was passed. One of the things for which I was fighting, when I entered the army, was for liberty and for free speech, to which I feel that an American citizen is entitled on any matter, when he thinks he is right. I made a speech this afternoon which was stricken from the record. I am sick and tired of hearing about the good things that our Mayor has done. When you are telling about the good things he has done, let me say a word. I have kept quiet until now. Last year, in my contest for membership in the City Council, I was supposedly opposed by the leaders. Two years before I had withdrawn from the contest, giving way to Irwin. Last year, when I was a candidate, the Mayor said, "Get out and lick Coffey," and at the last minute a lady was put up against me in East Boston, one who happened to be a fellow member in the Legislature. Her father had been in public life in this city, and she was put up with the idea of licking Coffey, a veteran of the World War and the father of a family, and who at the time had a sick wife. But the idea was to lick Coffey, and in that effort Susie Donovan was used, being substituted for Irwin, in an effort to defeat me. The Mayor was not satisfied with me, and Coffey had to go. Well, the election was held, and I won, and then, of course, they had to have a recount. In fact, they had two recounts in the Election Department, something never heard of before. Dever said, "You cannot hold a second recount," and Secretary Cook said that it was illegal. But they held it. And who was responsible? Well, we all know that officials cannot act in this city without the Mayor's consent. They cannot do anything until they get the Mayor's say-so. But they had the recount, the matter having been taken to court. I was in no position to carry on a fight at the time. My good wife died, and everything was in bad shape as far as I was concerned. But a good friend gave me the money, and I went to court. I would have been defeated, although honestly elected by 216 votes, as was brought out in the press. But there was an attempt to steal the election from me. With a proper count the result would have been 216 instead of 13 votes. So they tried to steal the election from Coffey, because they couldn't do business with me. They are not handling me. They have a good deal to answer for. And you members have a lot to answer for, if you don't protest on behalf of your district against some of the things that are going on. What I am saying now I say for the record. If the Mayor was honest and really spoke in favor last year of horse racing on the ground that it would also help the old age, he should not have vetoed the three dog tracks, which would have meant that old age assistance would have received much more money.

FENCE, JOHN WINTHROP PLAYGROUND.

Coun. HUTCHINSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to extend the fence at the John Winthrop Playground on Danube street so that it will be 8 or 10 feet high for a distance of about thirty feet to prevent handballs from going over the present fence and hitting adjoining houses.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

TRAFFIC SIGNS FOR PROTECTION OF BLIND.

Coun. SCANNELL and LINEHAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Traffic Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to erect signs in the vicinity of G, H and Fourth streets notifying autoists of their nearness to the Institute for the Blind.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

CHARLESTOWN BUS AND CAR SERVICE.

Coun. GALVIN offered the following:

Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston Elevated be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to rescind the order calling for the curtailment of bus and car service in the Charlestown area.

Coun. GALVIN—Mr. President, I was reading the Sunday papers yesterday afternoon and noticed a report from the Elevated officials that they were going to curtail the bus and car service along Main street, Charlestown, during the rush hours. I am, therefore, through this order, asking the trustees of the Elevated to rescind that order for curtailment, because, even if they do not take in a ten-cent fare in Charlestown in all cases, the Elevated is in duty bound to give to Charlestown service. For years we in that section have suffered because of the destruction of property in our town because of the Elevated structure passing through it, a structure that has completely ruined much of the district. Now, after destroying the property as they have over there, they are trying to still further milk the cow. In fact, they are trying to get every drop of blood out of the cow, simply leaving the carcass behind. At the present time, the Boston Elevated have petitioned the Street Commissioners of the City of Boston to put in tracks in Sullivan square for the purpose of giving better service to the people of Medford and other sections beyond Charlestown, in spite of the destruction they have already caused to property of the taxpayers of Boston in the Charlestown district. They are doing that, while they are taking these steps that will compel citizens of Charlestown to walk into Boston during the rush hours. I myself am tempted to get a bus permit, which I think would be a profitable plan, to run through that district, because of the fact that they are taking action to further injure the people of Charlestown, while adding to the facilities of those who live beyond, in other communities. So I believe if private bus lines were run, they would make money and that the Elevated would suffer considerable loss, following its efforts to reduce the service given to the Charlestown area.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

HEALTH CENTER, DORCHESTER DISTRICT.

Coun. GOTTLIEB, KELLY, FISH, WICKES and HUTCHINSON offered the following:

Whereas, The trustees of the George Robert White Fund are authorized to build health centers for the care and treatment of the poor of Boston; and

Whereas, The population of the Dorchester district of the City of Boston is in excess of 250,000; and

Whereas, The sick and poor residents of the Dorchester section of Boston are in urgent need of additional health clinics; and

Whereas, The Dorchester district of Boston is not receiving the benefits provided under the provisions of the will of George Robert White; therefore be it

Resolved, That the trustees of the George Robert White Fund be notified that the Boston City Council strongly urges the erection of a White Fund unit to be centrally located in the Dorchester district of Boston.

Coun. GOTTLIEB—Mr. President, this resolution, offered by councilors from the different Dorchester wards along with myself, is substantially based on certain assurances and promises that I made to the voters and residents of my district, one of the most important of which, made to the people of Ward 14 at that time, was that I would do everything within my power to obtain a health center or a White Fund unit for the people of that district. The reason for that promise was because I realized that we have there a district containing 70,000 people badly in need of health facilities. I realize how difficult it is for mothers with sick children to bring those children into the Boston City Hospital, that it requires considerable effort and delay, as well as the expense for care that it involves in taking those sick children to the Boston City Hospital. Therefore, not long ago I filed an order in the City Council requesting the trustees of the White Fund to erect a White Fund unit in Ward 14. Similar orders have been filed by my colleagues representing the other wards of the district, the reason in each case being the lack of health facilities in their district, similar to the lack in my own. We certainly feel that, with the White Fund available, such a health unit should certainly be erected in some central part of the Dorchester district. Certainly the money from that fund could be no better spent by the trustees than for such a purpose, which would be so vitally connected with the welfare of our people. I say, therefore, that a district that has approximately one third of the entire number of citizens of the entire city should certainly receive more recognition than it is receiving today. I trust, therefore, that this Honorable Body will pass this resolution, and that the trustees of the George Robert White Fund will see fit to establish a White Fund unit in some central part of the Dorchester district of Boston.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, I am not going to elaborate on what Councilor Gottlieb has said, except to say that I would like to see a copy of this resolution in the hands of the George Robert White Fund commissioners at their meeting today.

The resolution was passed under suspension of the rule.

INCREASE OF BUS FARES.

Coun. CHASE and RUSSO offered the following:

Whereas, The Boston Elevated Trustees have recently increased the bus fares from five cents to ten cents on four intown bus lines which cover a distance of slightly more than one mile; and

Whereas, The Boston City Council in meeting assembled is of the opinion that this fare increase is unwarranted and not for the best interests of the Boston public; therefore, be it

Ordered, That the State Department of Public Utilities be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to issue orders to the trustees of the Boston Elevated to restore the five-cent fares on all intown bus lines that were recently increased to ten cents.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, I move a suspension of the rule and the passage of the order.

Coun. RUSSO—Mr. President, it seems to me this is one of those things upon which action should be immediately taken. These bus lines in Boston on which the fares have recently been increased from five to ten cents, are bus lines used by citizens of Boston, especially the poorer people, in going to and from work and the increase means that in many cases these persons will have to walk to work and back again, because of the fact that they are perhaps working for minimum wages. I say there is no bus in the City of Boston that should charge more than a five-cent fare and I therefore hope that the order will pass.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, Councilor Russo and myself have introduced this order because we believe that this recent increase in the fares is unwise, unfair and in conflict with the best interests of the citizens of Boston generally. How can the trustees of the Elevated justify such an increase, particularly when you consider that patrons of the road at the present time can ride from Arlington Heights to any section of Boston for a ten-cent fare? There are thousands of people in my district and throughout Boston, particularly in the downtown areas, who use these bus lines in going to and from their work and who are subjected to a great hardship by this increase in the fares. The distance carried in the buses in practically no case exceeds a mile, and how can the trustees, from a humane or any standpoint, justify the increase? I hope that the Council will pass the order.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, I think that the order which has been offered is worthy of serious consideration, at any rate. I certainly feel that a comparison of the fares now charged shows in many cases an injustice to riders on the cars. If I want to ride from Copley square to Park street—which I never do, because I prefer to walk—I have to pay ten cents. That is practically true on most of the lines throughout the city, that to ride a short distance you pay ten cents. On the other hand, you can ride from Arlington Heights to Milton for ten cents, while going from Arlington Heights to Harvard square, a much shorter distance, you also pay ten cents. It seems to me that the road might well charge on the short rides five cents and on the longer rides ten cents. People in the summertime especially want to take short rides, and if they have to pay ten cents for those short rides in many cases they will feel obliged to walk. I think, therefore that the road might well charge people going from Arlington to Harvard square five cents, and ten cents beyond also, that on some of the very long rides they might well charge fifteen cents. A short ride in many cases is not worth more than five cents.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, it is very apparent to me that the Board of Trustees established these fares to cover up their past inefficiency, and, actuated by that motive, they are now attempting to increase the fares paid on the short hauls in the intown areas. It is extremely unfair, and I am sure that an investigation by the Department of Public Utilities of the fares of the Boston Elevated would show that there has been inefficiency in the past, to which the mounting deficit now attests. This increase of these bus fares is simply another attempt to place an additional burden on the poor people of Boston, in the effort by the trustees to conceal their past inefficiency.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

APPEARANCE OF HEALTH COMMISSIONER BEFORE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

Coun. CHASE offered the following:

Ordered, That Health Commissioner Watts be requested to appear before the City Council during its executive session this afternoon to answer questions in connection with the operation and administration of his department.

Referred to Executive Committee.

SUPERVISION OF BEANO GAMES.

Coun. CHASE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Police Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to notify all police officers covering Beano games between today and the date set by his Honor the Mayor as the final date for expiration of all Beano licenses, to be on the alert and report the number of people attending the various games, the amount of money taken in, and any violation of the law that may take place.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, the reason why I have introduced this order is because I have had occasion to check up on various reports filed with the City Censor. It may be very enlightening to the members of the Body to know, in connection with certain games in Boston, that the operators of one game in particular in the past two months have never reported more than fifty-two people in attendance, and have never reported more than $38.20 total gross income, and that after they have deducted $25 for expenses and a few other amounts, charity has received but $7.40. The amount in another case is $13.20, in another $10, another $9.80, and in another $9.40. Quite a number of people who attend these games have contended that there were apparently more than several hundred people at every game, but apparently the operators of the game did not wish to report any such numbers, so that a proper amount might be given to charity, carrying out the purpose of the General Laws. I also had occasion, Mr. President, to check on another game which apparently is one of the largest games in Boston. As I understand it, 1,200 to 1,500 attend it, at a charge of a dollar each, and each player played twenty-odd games, as a special proposition, and after the twentieth game, each player having paid so much for a card, the promoters took in anywhere from $3,000 to $4,000 on such a night. But they reported that no more than 209 attended at any one of these sessions, and also reported that they never took in more than $193. The expense was $105, and charity got anywhere from $60 to $85 or $88. Now, we are all reasonable men here. We all know that you cannot beat figures. If 1,500 people attended such a game, they paid $1,500, and if they then started playing individual games that would materially increase the income. You can appreciate the fact that something should be done to these Beano operators, especially when they are going to play wide open. Of course June 15 is now approaching and between now and then police officers covering the Beano games should be on the alert and report the number of people attending, the amount taken in, and any violation of the law that may take place. Certainly something should be done about this.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, perhaps I do not have a suspicious mind in regard to people throughout the City of Boston, especially members of the Police Department, whom I have always felt performed their duties. I certainly feel that they have kept a close guard on Beano. But there is one question I would like to ask him, whether any of these Beanos he refers to are Beanos of the Redberry Council, the Old Dorchester Post, the American Legion, the Ensign O'Connell Post, and auxiliaries? I have an order that I propose to put in before I am through. But I don't think the gentleman has courage enough. He is yellow. He has been asked to mention any one of the Beanos that were violating the law. He seems to know so much about this matter, that I suppose he knows which ones they are, but, apparently, he will not mention them.

Coun. GOTTLIEB—Mr. President, if the activities of the councilor from Ward 4 (Coun. Chase) were instrumental in the closing down of illegal Beanos in his district or any other part of the City of Boston, I think the councilor from the Back Bay should be commended for those activities where they have resulted in closing down violators of the rules regulating the conduct and operation of Beano games. But I am interested in this matter Mr. President, because as he has made this issue I wish to ask the councilor from the Back Bay, through you, whether or not the figures he has presented to the Council were received by him from the Licensing Bureau of the City of Boston?

Chairman WARD—The Chair will remind the councilors to abide by the rules and to refrain from personalities. Does the gentleman wish to answer?

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, I shall be pleased to answer Councilor Gottlieb's question. I have here reports of four different Beanos. Two of them happen to be in my ward, and two happen to be in Roxbury. The reports filed in the Mayor's office, Licensing Department, show the total number of people attending the games and the total receipts and charges.

Coun. GOTTLIEB—Mr. President, I have a very definite reason for asking, through the Chair, whether that information was received through the Licensing Bureau. My reason is this. At the last regular meeting of the City Council, Councilor Chase again attempted to get a Beano motion off the table, a motion that had been tabled for many weeks, and at that time he stated, as he has stated many times in the past, that he was unable to obtain from the Licensing Bureau of the City of Boston information in regard to the profits of Beano games, that such information was not available to him, which I felt was an injustice to the gentleman from the Back Bay or any member of this Council. I felt that he was entitled to receive that information. With that feeling I now would ask that the City Council be required to furnish the information. I am curious to know whether the councilor from the Back Bay made a genuine effort to receive the information, and whether the information was actually withheld from him.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, in view of some of the things that have been said in the course of the debate at other meetings, I now wish to call the attention of the Council to Rule 20 of our rules:

"Every member when about to speak shall arise, address the Chair, and wait until he is recognized, and, in speaking, shall refrain from mentioning any other member by name, shall confine himself to the question, and avoid personalities. Any member who, in debate or otherwise, indulges in personalities or makes charges reflecting upon the character of another member, shall make an apology in open session at the meeting at which the offense is committed or at the next regular meeting, and, failing to do so, shall be named by the President or held in contempt and suspended from further participation in debate until said apology is made."

I think we should either follow that rule or rescind it.

Coun. GOTTLIEB—Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. I don't know whether the statement just made by the councilor from the Back Bay applied to the remarks I have just made in this Council, whether I have violated in any statement I have made any of the provisions of that rule.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, I rose to address the Chair and to make the statement which I have just made before the gentleman had spoken at all, and my remarks had no reference to what he said.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, apparently, therefore, the purpose of the gentleman from Ward 5 (Coun. Shattuck) was to call attention to some utterances of mine. I would like to know, through the Chair, if that is so?

Chairman WARD—The Chair heard nothing derogatory.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, I would like to ask the councilor from Dorchester—

Chairman WARD—There is an order before the Body.

Coun. CHASE—Well, Mr. President, the gentleman asked me to answer in regard to certain things, and I am here to do so.

Chairman WARD—The question is on suspension of the rule and passage of the order.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a statement.

Chairman WARD—The Chair objects, and the question is on suspension of the rule and passage of the order.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, may I ask the councilor from Dorchester—

Chairman WARD—The gentleman is out of order.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, I am always out of order when—

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, I rise to a point of order that the gentleman is out of order.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

OPERATION OF CERTAIN BEANO GAMES.

Coun. FISH offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to approve licenses for the operation of Beano games after June 15th by Redberry Council, K. of C., Old Dorchester Post, American Legion, and Ensign O'Connell Post, and their auxiliaries.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, since this is a Beano order, possibly the councilor from the Back Bay (Coun. Chase) will have an opportunity to speak again. There is not much for me to say, inasmuch as the order has been issued for closing Beano on June 15. But there is only one reason why Beano should be stopped, and that is because the organizations that were running the games are cheating, are dishonest. This is about the fifth time that I have stood up here in defense of these organizations, and nobody, no matter who he is, is going to say in my presence that these organizations to which I have referred in my order are dishonest. That is why I believe they should be given an opportunity to continue their Beano games.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, the gentleman from Dorchester has accused me in this Body of being yellow. Well, I have never told the members of the Body what I have gone through in the last few months because of the action I have attempted to have taken in regard to Beano games. I think it is about time that any member of the Council should apologize for accusing me of being yellow. My wife has answered telephone calls from people who have told her at my house that if she did not use her influence with me I would be bodily harmed if I did not stop my opposition to Beano operations in Boston. I have received intimidating letters from people telling me the fate I would meet politically if I did not quit on Beano. Did I quit? The fact that I did not is sufficient proof that I have continued to carry on my fight. There is no reason why I should be afraid of anyone. Of course, the racketeers can try to frighten me, and certain members of the Body have thrown things in my face, have made ambiguous statements, trying to frighten me because of my position on Beano games, without success. I trust that the gentleman from Dorchester will apologize for his statement.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, I am not referring in this Body to anything that goes on behind the front door or the four walls of my own house. I have my own family affairs, which I am not bringing into this City Council. If the gentleman dislikes the word "yellow," I will admit that it is not the best word in the dictionary, but I still claim that he did not have courage enough to come out and mention those whom he thought would be offended by such publicity in this Body in the last three months, apparently basing his position merely on rumors.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, I believe if the gentleman from Dorchester was to interview the Police Commissioner, that gentleman could enlighten him in regard to certain things. Furthermore, I believe the gentleman could be enlightened if he would ask a few people who have attended Beano games, and if he got their reaction to what took place at those games. I believe if he did that, he would have a change of heart. Among all the men in the Council, the gentleman from Dorchester has seen fit to attack me. I have not accused him of anything. I know men who have served in this Body in prior years who have been hurt publicly by charges that have been made in the Body, those charges having been made against men simply because they got up here and stated what they, as honest men, believed were facts. But irrespective of that fact, an attempt was made to slaughter their characters, to put a black mark against them in the public mind. That has been done in this Body. And many men have kept quiet, perfectly innocent men, not because of any fear of what somebody might have on them, but because of things that would be repeated in political gatherings or elsewhere, statements that were just "bunk," trying to frighten men into submission.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to speak. I promise to be brief. (No objection.) In answer to the councilor from Ward 4 (Coun. Chase), I will say that I did request the Police Commissioner three months ago to furnish information to me, which he has as yet not done. It is too bad that the councilor from Ward 4 takes this so much at heart that he calls any order that may be introduced by another member "bunk." I don't think anybody in this room will believe that such an order as I have just put in here can be classed as "bunk," an order referring to high class military and social organizations. Surely the organizations to which I have referred in my order cannot be characterized as organizations that would have anything to do with anything that can be called "bunk." I don't believe it is necessary for me or anybody else to get up here to defend them. I ask that the councilor from Ward 4 go over every word that I have uttered here up to the present time, and I challenge him to find anything in what I have said that furnishes reason to defend my statements.

Coun. CHASE—Apparently the councilor from Dorchester does not realize how these games are operated.

Coun. FISH—I think I ought to know something about it.

Coun. CHASE—These organizations, as a rule, are not operating the games themselves. The games are usually run by professional operators, who get the organizations to allow them to permit the use of their names. But the professionals conduct the games and, irrespective of how much money is taken in, the charitable or patriotic organizations do not receive what they should.

Coun. GALVIN—Mr. President, has the gentleman any list of names including Bunker Hill Council, Knights of Columbus, or any other organization in Charlestown who operate through anyone other than the organization itself?

Coun. CHASE—No.

On motion of Coun. HURLEY, the main question was ordered, and the order was passed under suspension of the rule.

PROPOSED ELECTION OF ASSISTANT CITY MESSENGER.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, I now move that we take No. 3 from the table.

No. 3 was as follows:

3. Motion to proceed to the election of a First Assistant City Messenger.

The motion to take from the table was put, and, the Chair being in doubt, a rising vote was ordered. The motion to take from the table was lost, yeas 8, nays 13.

ROTARY TRAFFIC SYSTEM, KANE SQUARE.

Coun. KELLY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install a rotary traffic system at Kane square, Ward 15, Dorchester.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

BONDS OF EAST BOSTON TRAFFIC TUNNEL.

Coun. KELLY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to confer with persons, firms or corporations holding bonds on the East Boston Traffic Tunnel, asking that they reduce their rate of interest in order to make it possible to cut the deficit in the operating expenses of said Traffic Tunnel for the taxpayers of Boston.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

REPAINTING WARD 17 CROSSWALKS.

Coun. WICKES offered the following:

Ordered, That the Traffic Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repaint all crosswalks in the Ward 17 section of Dorchester.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

HYDE PARK ATHLETIC FIELD.

Coun. GOODE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commissioner be

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RECREATION CENTER, WARD 19.

Coun. LANGAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the trustees of the George Robert White Fund be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to consider the advisability of erecting a health recreation center in the Ward 19 district of Boston.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

CHANGING NAME OF WESTBOURNE ROAD.

Coun. LANGAN offered the following:

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SIDEWALKS, MALCOLM ROAD, WARD 19.

Coun. LANGAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install sidewalk along Malcolm road, Ward 19, under the W. P. A. plan of construction.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

MATRONS FOR WILLIAM CARTER PLAYGROUND.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to provide matrons for the William Carter Playground, Ward 9.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

TIME OFF FOR HOSPITAL EMPLOYEES.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN, M. H. SULLIVAN and HURLEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston City Hospital be instructed by his Honor the Mayor to immediately enforce a recent order of the Boston City Council whereby consideration should be given to employees of the City Hospital just the same as it is given to employees of other departments of the city in the matter of being allowed time off, with pay, on Saturdays, or on warm days when a skeleton force is authorized.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, we all know this is one of the city departments where the employees are underpaid. It has been the practice of the trustees and the superintendent in past years on these orders, after they are issued from the Mayor's office, for the superintendent to issue them the following day when it was too late for the employees to have an hour or two off a day. I think this is one way in which we can repay the employees of the City Hospital who are underpaid, and give them a little consideration that the other city departments are having. This order was introduced a couple of weeks ago, that all the departments should allow a skeleton force on Saturdays and also whenever the weather is too warm. All the city departments except the City Hospital enjoyed this privilege last Saturday, and I hope that the Mayor will instruct the various department heads and the hospital to allow those employees who are able to have this time off. I hope the order passes.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

APPOINTMENT OF ADDITIONAL POLICE OFFICERS.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Police Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to appoint thirty new officers to the force prior to the expiration of the present list.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

REQUESTED RESCISSION OF ELEVATED FARE INCREASES.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to rescind all fare increases put into effect as of November 1, 1939, and to re-establish all five-cent fares in effect before that date.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, in October last I took the floor in the Boston City Council and protested the rise in rates on the Boston Elevated at that time. As of November 1, 1939, the Boston Elevated Trustees voted to increase fares on seventy-one lines in greater Boston. They stated at that time it would result in a greater revenue on the lines throughout the city. Boston's payment on the deficit for the year April 1, 1938, to March 31, 1939, was, according to the figures given me by the City Auditor, $2,005,000. The amount demanded and approved by the Governor's Council ending March 31, 1940, was $1,940,000. The decrease in Boston's payment for the past year, 1940, as compared with the fiscal year April 1, 1938, to March 31, 1939, resulted in a decrease of $65,000. The increased rates have been in effect since November 1st of last year until March 31, on which date this figure was computed. Despite the increase in the fare rates Boston's payment of deficit is only $65,000 less for last year. The Boston Elevated were collecting the increased rates during the winter months when many citizens did not have their cars upon the road and when the deficit should have shown a greater reduction. In fact, for five months only $65,000 was saved, being the decrease in the deficit over one year on the basis of figures would amount to $156,000. $156,000 amounts to ten cents on the tax rate, or 50 cents on the owner of a $5,000 home. I do not think there is an owner of a $5,000 home in Boston who is not paying more than 50 cents to the Boston Elevated as the result of the increased fares that went into effect as of November 1, 1939. I took the floor of the Council on that day and I gave figures that closely approximated these, and said they wouldn't save over one dollar on it. My figures were contested at that time, and after the order passed requesting the Boston Elevated Trustees to rescind the order then. On the basis of the present figures, there is no justification for the maintenance or continuance of the increase in fares put into effect on November 1st of last year. They militate strongly against the welfare of the poor of Boston. They militate against the best interests of the taxpayers.

The small home owner is paying more than 50 cents a year on increased rates on the Boston Elevated. I feel in justice to the commuters and W. P. A. workers who have to get to the local welfare office or unit in justice to the taxpayer who is paying more than he ever did as the result of increased fares, the trustees should immediately rescind their action of last year and place the fares on the same basis they were prior to November 1, 1939.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

STATE HOME GUARD.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN offered the following:

Whereas, The President of the United States has recently requested Congress for authority to summon the National Guard to active service in the event of necessity; and

Whereas, This action will leave local City and State Governments without adequate defense in the event of Fifth Column activities; therefore, be it

Resolved, That his Excellency the Governor be requested to at once re-establish the State Home Guard and thereby assure the safety of all persons and property in the Commonwealth in the event of subversive activities.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, about a week ago I forwarded a communication to his Excellency requesting the establishing immediately of the Massachusetts State Home Guard. I note by the newspapers this action has been favorably taken in sixteen states of the Union. I have a letter from the Massachusetts State Home Guard Associates composed of thirty-five units throughout the state with a membership in greater Boston of 2,700 members. They approved of this action, and I had sixty-two letters from Boston, Metropolitan Boston, as well as outside, approving this action. I know it may seem a little hysterical possibly to ask the re-establishment of such institutions, but I feel confident that had Downing Street and Paris and had the other nations of Europe taken action a year ago for the maintenance of their home guard, certainly the Fifth Column would not have made such a rapid rise in those foreign countries. I believe we should take every possible precaution, in view of the recent action of the President in requesting Congress for authority to summon the National Guard from the various Commonwealths in the event of need and possibly leave our local civic and state units without proper protection. I feel certain this Body should pass this resolution, and I feel confident the Governor will act promptly upon it.

Coun. GOTTLIEB—I ask, through you, Mr. President, if the councilor will state just what the State Home Guard is?

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—It was an organization, a volunteer organization, a state militia, composed of elderly people during the World War, who wished to contribute their services for the maintenance of home defence. It was active during the Boston police strike. It had no reference to the strike-breaking group at that time, however.

The resolution was passed under suspension of the rule.

EXTENSION OF BURIALS IN VETERANS' GRAVES.

Coun. ENGLERT, for the Committee on Soldiers' Relief, submitted the following:

1. Report on order (referred May 20) for extension of burials in veterans' graves—recommending passage of accompanying new draft, viz.:

Ordered, That the original order by Councilor Donoghue, passed on May 10, 1920, authorizing the Board of Cemetery Trustees to set aside a suitable lot, now known as World War Veterans' Lot in Mount Hope Cemetery, to be used for the burial of residents of Boston who were veterans of the World War, be amended to include the burial of the body of a widow, father, mother or dependent child under eighteen years of age in the same grave with the veteran and in the above order of priority, unless the veteran shall, previous to his demise, specify in writing his preference. In the event that the wife pre-deceases the veteran permission may be given to bury the body of the wife in the same grave with the veteran after his death and burial in the World War Veterans' Lot at Mount Hope Cemetery.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

RESURFACING OF HAVERFORD STREET.

Coun. ENGLERT offered the following:

Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface with smooth pavement Haverford street, Ward 11, from Montebello road to Boylston street, under the W. P. A. plan of construction.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

FREDERICK W. MEALY SQUARE.

Coun. LINEHAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the space at the junction of H and East Sixth streets, South Boston, be named Frederick W. Mealy square, in honor of said Mealy, late veteran of the World War, and that suitable signs be erected to designate same.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

DORSET STREET IMPROVEMENTS.

Coun. LINEHAN offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface Dorset street, Ward 7, and install artificial stone sidewalks thereon, as a W. P. A. project.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PROTECTION AT CLAYTON L. HAVEY BEACH.

Coun. LYONS offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to confer with the Metropolitan District Commission with a view to providing adequate protection for the bathers at Clayton L. Havey Beach in West Roxbury.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

OPPOSITION TO W. P. A. REDUCTION.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN offered the following:
Whereas, The most recent curtailment of the W. P. A. rolls has brought considerable hardships to those unfortunate persons dismissed from their employment; and

Whereas, The public welfare rolls of almost every city and town are already taxed to the limit; be it therefore,

Resolved, That the Massachusetts Delegation in Washington be requested to confer with the President at once for the purpose of causing the cancellation of the proposed plans to effect a further reduction in the W. P. A. rolls in Massachusetts, which, according to a recent announcement, is to be effected shortly.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, I am taking the floor now. I have listened all afternoon here. I just want to say these figures, however they may refer to the state, and however the W. P. A. reduction may be affected in some of the rural communities, certainly do not apply to Metropolitan Boston. We have no rise in employment during the summer months in view of the fact that Metropolitan Boston, Cambridge, Chelsea, Revere, have no farming population. Ours is an industrial center, and our opportunities for employment do not go up during the summer. I think in the event that there is a reduction in W. P. A. in Massachusetts, certainly it should not effect Greater Boston.

The resolution was passed under suspension of the rule.

CONFIRMATION OF APPOINTMENTS.

On motion of the Chairman, the Council took up Nos. 1 and 2 on the calendar, under unfinished business, viz.:

1. Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor May 20, 1940, of Harold Ober and Charles A. Wood, to be Constables authorized to serve civil process upon filing bonds.

2. Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor May 20, 1940, of Frank Sirk, to be a Weigher of Coal; and Edward F. Barry, John J. Grady, Wesley H. Frost, Windsor P. Butler, Ernest A. Lambert, Samuel Weitzman, Harold J. Ring, to be Weighers of Goods.

The question came on confirmation. Committee—Coun. Linehan and Goode; yeas 17, nays 3, and the appointments were confirmed.

STATEMENT BY COUNCILOR LINEHAN.

Coun. LINEHAN—I rise on a point of parliamentary inquiry. May I discuss a motion for reconsideration of a matter acted on earlier in the day?

Chairman WARD—Will the gentleman state the matter?

Coun. LINEHAN—in regard to the motion of the gentleman from Roxbury to take from the table No. 3 on the calendar?

Chairman WARD—No discussion is in order on that motion.

Coun. LINEHAN—I ask unanimous consent to make a statement.

Chairman WARD—Any objection? The Chair hears none.

Coun. LINEHAN—Mr. President, at the last meeting of this Council I took the floor of the chamber and also in the executive session, and spoke for something which I think is a worthwhile principle, that is, the promotion in the ranks of those who have worked for some time for the City of Boston. I told you people here that it seems to be a principle in private industry, and I hope it also goes along in the service of the city, that those people who have worked in the ranks for some time and have done good work will receive a promotion when it is justly due. Now I think we have a situation at the present time which calls for action today, not a year from today, and I say it calls for action today or in the near future due to the fact that at least two weeks ago everybody in the Council knew that I was going to take the floor today and move the election of the Assistant City Messenger. As that was moved by the gentleman from Roxbury, if his motion had carried, I was going to move to promote the other gentleman whom we spoke about in the executive session. Now, for the life of me I cannot understand why we should delay, as we are all unanimously in favor of the principle of promoting those who have done a good job. I have talked with several of the gentlemen who do not agree with me in regard to how we should fill the position, but not one has said the two gentlemen I have referred to did not deserve promotion. They all seemed to agree, "Well, perhaps they should be promoted, but let us wait." They do not seem to give me anything definite as to why the men should not be promoted. Now, two weeks ago it was brought up that we are elected to give our people work if possible. Frankly, I am always looking for work for my constituents. Unfortunately, like most of the others in the Council, I have not secured very much, and I do not expect to get an awful lot in the next year by the looks of things, but when I see two fellows whom, frankly, I never knew before I came into the Council—as a matter of fact, one of them happens to be Mr. McMahon, who does not live in my ward, who has worked in the City Council for ten years, and I understand he was elected to the position as Document Clerk January 6, 1930,—how long do they have to work to get an increase? I wouldn't say anything about it if it was not possible to give him an increase. If he had a position where it was not possible to be promoted, then he is probably lucky enough to have that particular job, but here he has served ten years. Let me ask any member of the Council if you got a job next year as an employee of this Council and served ten years, and then ten years after you have been serving an opening presents itself to which you might be promoted, don't you think it would be fair for you to get that promotion instead of some new man whom you have probably never met and regardless of whether you have met him,—say he is your best friend you want to give that job to, even if he is your best friend, that man does not deserve the job over some one who has served ten years in the Council as an employee and before that as a member of the City Council. Now, if the motion for reconsideration prevails and if the gentleman from Roxbury will again make his motion, if he is successful, I will move—

Chairman WARD—The Chair will state there is no motion before the meeting.

Coun. LINEHAN—I am talking with unanimous consent and telling something. I do not have to talk on a motion. I haven't made a motion yet. I am telling you what I might do, or will do. Now, if we elect the man who is Document Clerk I will then move to proceed to elect a man to fill his place. That is, a Second Assistant City Messenger, and for that position I personally am going to vote for Mr. Shillue, and I know many men in this chamber are going to do the same thing if we ever get down to the point where we can get an election on this. Personally, I think we will be able to elect him if we ever get the opportunity, and perhaps, like many others, if we persist we may succeed. Let us take the gentleman from the Back Bay, for instance. Whether you like him personally or not, at least he was voting for something which he thought was right, and he stuck to it, and has won out. Personally, I am going to interject the issue on this thing every week we come in before this Body until we at least have an election regardless of whether they get promoted or not. At least, I think it is a good idea to try and promote them, but if we do not do it, then at least let us put somebody in the job and not say we will put it off and fill the position with temporary employees. If they promote this man, if they want my two weeks' work they can have it. I will sacrifice them and promote the two men. Now, if we promote these men I personally will go along and vote with some of the other members of the Council, but allow that position to remain open which is at the bottom of the ladder, Second Assistant City Messenger, until probably all the councilors have received their two weeks, and then let us vote to fill that position. I hope in justice to the men who have worked here we will give reconsideration to this matter now, because the time might come when you are in the same position of working in private industry, like I talked to one of the men who worked in the city, not mentioning any names, and I found out he had several men go over his head due to certain political drag, men who have not worked in the same department as long as he has, and I asked him to give me a frank opinion, "What do you think of the fellow who went in over your head, what do you think of the fellow who put that man over your head after you had worked so long as you have?" and, frankly, he said, "I didn't like it." Then I said, "Do you think these two men are going to like it?" If they are human beings, of course they won't like it. I hope the members of this Council can see the justice of this principle and go along the line and grant reconsideration.

Chairman WARD—The reports of the Executive Committee.

Coun. LINEHAN—I now move reconsideration.

Chairman WARD—The motion is out of order.

MOTION TO TAKE UP NO. 3.

Coun. LINEHAN—I now move we reconsider the vote taken in regard to the motion made by the gentleman from Roxbury in regard to taking from the table item No. 3 on today's calendar.

Chairman WARD—The vote is not susceptible to reconsideration. The motion can be to take from the table.

Coun. LINEHAN—Mr. President, I now move to take from the table item No. 3 of today's calendar.

The question came on the motion to take No. 3 from the calendar.

Chairman WARD—No debate is in order until the motion is decided.

By a voice vote the motion was not carried. Coun. LINEHAN doubted the vote and asked for a roll call. The roll was called, and the motion was lost, yeas 8, nays 13:

Yeas—Coun. Carey, Chase, Coffey, Englert, Linehan, Shattuck, Taylor, Ward—8.

Nays—Coun. Fish, Galvin, Goode, Gottlieb, Hurley, Hutchinson, Kelly, Langan, Lyons, Russo, Scannell, D. F. Sullivan, M. H. Sullivan—13.

STATEMENT BY COUNCILOR CAREY.

Coun. CAREY—I ask unanimous consent to make a statement.

Chairman WARD—Any objection? The Chair hears none.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, I am speaking now because I feel the moment is opportune. I am not going to be very long, because it is twenty minutes past six, and we have been here, some of us, since two o'clock this afternoon; but I think if ever a thing was meritorious it is to fill the position, and to fill the position of Assistant City Messenger with a man who is acquainted with the duties of the office, and refraining from doing that, I think the City Council is making itself look ridiculous. We agree the position should be filled by some one qualified to fill it. It is certainly embarrassing to the members of this Body, to the Assistant Document Clerk and to Mr. Shillue who has been here over a period of years. I am out daily trying to find work, whether it be for one day, two days, two weeks or two months. I have people in my district whom I might bring in here, but I think that on an occasion like this we should be fair and we should put our own personalities in the background and give a job where a job is due, and give that job to the one who is rightfully entitled to it. As I said before, we have put ourselves on the spot in refusing to fill this job. We are in effect saying that there is no necessity for the job when we can bring in strangers who have never spent any time within the Council Chamber whatever and put them on a job paying $60 or $62 a week, and a job that requires certain experience. If we do not fill that job by raising up the two men connected with the Council, we are saying, "We will pay you $62 a week for nothing," because I don't care who comes in there, there is not a man, be it my own brother, who would come in there and perform the duties of that job and do it right, and we know it. I think if we want to show the people of our districts that we are honest and sincere and looking out for their protection, if we want to do the right thing down here, we positively should elevate to the job of Assistant City Messenger Mr. McMahon, and then, in turn, elevate Mr. Shillue, and do right by these two fellows who are well acquainted with the duties to which they would be elevated because of their experience and the time they have spent around the Council Chamber.

STATEMENT BY COUNCILOR GOTTLIEB

Coun. GOTTLIEB—I ask unanimous consent to make a statement.

Chairman WARD—Is there any objection? The Chair hears none.

Coun. GOTTLIEB—I realize that the councilors from Ward 10 and from South Boston, in discussing No. 3 on the calendar, under the rules of personal privilege, have every right to do so, but I still feel, nevertheless, that when No. 3 on the calendar is discussed it merely provides for the tabling or the non-tabling of that particular piece of business, and then they go on further and discuss personalities which have nothing to do with this particular piece of business, but they are acting improperly and they are embarrassing without any reason therefor those members of the Council who saw fit to vote in opposition to that which they ask. Now, other factors are involved so far as I am concerned. No one here has raised the question of whether or not there should be a reduction of salaries. No one here even has seen fit to consider these positions were created with high salaries during peak times, and now when the City of Boston is in very poor financial condition certain members of this Body want to create permanently positions for higher salaries. Now, I have no objections to promotions. If and when the time comes that the names are proposed of certain attaches of this Council for promotion to higher positions, I will be the first, if they merit it, to vote for promotion. I believe in seniority. I believe men who have been years in this Body should be promoted, but as I said before, there are other factors to consider. Everyone here knows the Boston City Council is operating without a sufficient stenographic service. No one here has raised that question, but yet on a job which pays in excess of $3,000 there is considerable agitation to fill it and fill it now. I say, before this is taken from the table this Council ought to meet in caucus and without the presence of the attaches of the Council, and go into ways and means of making this Council function more efficiently with the money at our disposal.

Coun. GALVIN—I ask unanimous consent to make a statement.

Chairman WARD—The Chair objects.

MOTION TO GO INTO EXECUTIVE SESSION.

Coun. RUSSO offered the following:

Ordered, That the City Council go back into executive session, relative to the passage of the order presented to the City Council by his Honor the Mayor for the acceptance of a gift of a parcel of land in Ward 3, for use as a playground.

Coun. RUSSO—The reason I present this order is that while in executive session a vote was taken whether to table the order or not; when the vote was taken the order to table was defeated and after some discussion a reconsideration was placed before us and before I knew it the meeting was adjourned. I feel at this time we should go back into executive session, although I am in agreement that we hold the executive session right here in the Council Chamber, in order to accept this proposal of land that is going to be donated or given to the City of Boston by Congressman Tinkham, or the heirs he represents, to the children of Ward 3, namely, the North End, for the purpose of having a playground. I say that now is the time to accept this land so it may give enough time to have a W. P. A. project there in order to see that that particular land is put into a playground immediately for the children of that district. I hope that order will pass.

Coun. CHASE—The Mayor's communication to the Council relative to the Council accepting this parcel of land was of such a nature that it convinced me beyond any doubt that the Mayor unquestionably is going to make a playground down there for Joe Russo. Now I know this: If some citizen, a well-meaning citizen in my district, was willing to give the children a parcel of land and the Mayor was willing to create a playground out of it for my district, I would expect the members of the Council to support me on it, and I know Joe believes every member will support him on it. It is quite an issue to Joe. He has a number of children in that district that are in dire need of playground facilities, and why delay on it? The sooner you accept it the sooner the Mayor and the Law Department can get the necessary machinery into operation for the W. P. A. to go in there and rip it down and create a playground. I think we ought to accept it right away. His Honor the Mayor wouldn't submit this unless he had the intention of making a playground there as soon as possible. I hope the councilors will support Joe on this matter.

Coun. HUTCHINSON—The order didn't tell us there were taxes for three years or more due on this property and that there was a tax title already on the property where the city could foreclose. Now, if we take the property now we are getting it under a provision that it has to be used for a playground. We have not been told by the Park Department or any engineers that it can be used for a playground. As a matter of fact, I think 9,000 square feet would be a pretty small playground, and if we are going to vote for it now without having these department heads before us to find out the true condition, I think we are voting without knowledge and just trying to rush it through.

Coun. SCANNELL—I move the previous question, and that we go into executive session.

On a voice vote the order was declared passed. Coun. RUSSO doubted the vote. The roll was called and the order was rejected, yeas 10, nays 11:

Yeas—Coun. Carey, Chase, Englert, Galvin, Hurley, Linehan, Russo, Scannell, Shattuck, M. H. Sullivan—10.

Nays—Coun. Coffey, Fish, Goode, Gottlieb, Hutchinson, Kelly, Langan, Lyons, D. F. Sullivan, Taylor, Ward—11.

Coun. RUSSO—I move reconsideration of the vote.

Reconsideration was lost.

WARD 8 IMPROVEMENTS.

Coun. HURLEY offered the following: Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to construct new sidewalks on Greenville street, Ward 8, from Winthrop street to Dudley street, under the W. P. A. plan of construction.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install artificial stone sidewalks on the following streets in Ward 8, as W. P. A. projects:

Marshfield street, Woodward avenue, Clarence street, Langdon street, Shirley street, Rockford street, Burrell street, Albion street.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface the following streets in Ward 8, under the W. P. A. plan of construction: Marshall street, Robey street.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

RETENTION OF DR. TIMOTHY LEARY.

Coun. HURLEY offered the following: Resolved, That we as members of the Boston City Council as County Commissioners recommend and advise the retention of Dr. Timothy Leary as Medical Examiner of the Southern District of Suffolk County, as we consider him head of his department.

Coun. HURLEY—Mr. President, is Doctor Leary, a man in the full bloom of health and with the knowledge of a lifetime of training, study and active duty to be dismissed from his life work through a technicality? Why should a service which is recognized by everyone as superb be terminated and the people of the City of Boston be denied the benefits of this knowledge and experience? The service of Dr. Timothy Leary to the County of Suffolk is possibly without parallel in the annals of the records of state, county and city governments. His ability is renowned and his advice and knowledge has been sought over the years, and his decisions have been accepted as the final authority. His record is without stain and his devotion to duty cannot be questioned. Yet ability, loyalty to duty, complete knowledge of his position, and other attributes too numerous to mention, are to be thrown to the wind because Doctor Leary is not recognized as the head of a department. Still, he has assumed and carried the full duties of his office without criticism of any kind. I would most vehemently say that a man of that caliber is certainly the head of his department and should be recognized and treated as such. He should not be retired while physically and mentally able to fully perform the duties of his office. I sincerely trust that the proposed retirement of Dr. Timothy Leary will be held up until an ordinance or statute has been instituted to confirm him as head of his department.

The resolution was passed under suspension of the rule.

APPOINTMENT OF TEMPORARY MATRONS.

Coun. TAYLOR and RUSSO offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to appoint temporary employees to fill the positions of regular matrons during their vacation periods.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

Coun. TAYLOR offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to appoint temporary matrons to take the place of and do the work of the matrons during their vacation periods.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

Coun. RUSSO—I ask unanimous consent to make a statement.

Chairman WARD—Councilor Hutchinson objects.

ROPING OFF STREET, JUNE 22.

Coun. LYONS and LANGAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the City Messenger be authorized to arrange for roping off Centre street, West Roxbury, on Saturday, June 22, on the occasion of the annual ten-mile road race to be held under the auspices of the Holy Name A. A., the expense of same to be charged to the City Council appropriation. Ropes, Flags and Stakes.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

OUTSTANDING TAXES ON JOSHUA BENNETT ESTATE LAND.

Coun. FISH offered the following:

Ordered, That the heirs of the Joshua Bennett Estate be requested to inform the City Council whether or not there are any outstanding unpaid taxes on the land proposed to be presented to the City of Boston, and whether or not they intend to pay the taxes before the gift is completed.

Coun. FISH—I sympathize with Councilor Russo, and I hope in the end that Congressman Tinkham, who is reputed to be a real wealthy man, will not try to give something to the city which practically already belongs to the city. If he is, as I said in executive session, such a big-hearted philanthropist, wanting to turn something over to the city, then I believe that he should pay the taxes on it and then I would be the first one to stand up and acclaim him.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

Coun. RUSSO—I ask unanimous consent to make a statement.

Chairman WARD—For what purpose, on this? Coun. RUSSO—The only reason I rise to take the floor is because there is something on my mind, that in case this individual who is willing to give this land to the City of Boston can call back his offer, the children of my district and not Joseph Russo would lose by it. I am not here fighting for my own purpose. I am fighting for the purpose of recreation for the children of my district, regardless of whether or not it is going to be a gift as some of the members may claim, I still maintain if the City of Boston is taking no action there in order to take that property over, we should accept that land as a gift. If anything should happen tomorrow, that that order should be called back, I shall hold the Council liable for depriving those persons of my district of a playground where they have none in that district to which they can go.

Coun. SCANNELL—I move that when we adjourn we adjourn for two weeks.

Coun. COFFEY—I hope we won't lose sight of the fact that Doctor Watts is coming in, and that matter is of sufficient importance for us to meet next week.

Coun. GOTTLIEB—I think the main reason we are here at this late hour today is because we just adjourned for a period of two weeks. If we adjourn for another two weeks, we will be equally as late, so I am opposed to the motion to adjourn for two weeks.

Coun. SCANNELL—I withdraw the motion.

Chairman WARD—The gentleman withdraws his motion.

Adjourned at 6.40 p. m., on motion of Coun. HUTCHINSON, to meet on Monday, June 10, 1940, at 2 p. m.

FLAG DAY PROCLAMATION.

The following proclamation has been issued by his Honor Maurice J. Tobin, Mayor:

A PROCLAMATION.

To the Citizens of Boston.

Whereas, In a great part of the world, individual liberty of every nature has been ruthlessly and cruelly stripped from the people, reducing them to the level of serfs of the state, the American people should give outward signs and manifestations of their deep appreciation and unbounded gratitude for the freedom guaranteed them by the Constitution of the United States; for the freedom of religion, of speech, of the press, of assembly and the right to own property, which liberties have been so zealously guarded and preserved throughout the years, by paying tribute to the Star-Spangled Banner, our Flag, emblematic of the rights and liberties of a free people in whose soil the seeds of tyranny, despotism and oppression cannot flourish; in whose free air Old Glory flies "O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave."

Whereas, With this end in view, the period June 8th to 14th has been designated as Flag Week by the United States Flag Association, headed by the President of the United States as Honorary President-General, during which time patriotic exercises and other appropriate functions are to be held in towns and cities throughout all the land; now, therefore,

I, Maurice J. Tobin, Mayor of Boston, do proclaim

FLAG DAY,

Friday, June 14, 1940,

and direct that during this day the Flag of the United States be displayed on all Municipal Buildings. Furthermore, I do invite the people of Boston to display the Stars and Stripes at their homes, places of business and other suitable locations as well as on their cars, and to hold patriotic exercises, plan Flag parades and do other suitable things as public expressions of our love of our Country, our allegiance to its Glorious Banner and our belief in the institutions of American Democracy.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the City of Boston to be affixed this third day of June, 1940.

MAURICE J. TOBIN.

STAR-SPANGLED BANNER WILL WAVE ABOVE PEOPLE OF UNITED STATES UNCONQUERED, FOREVER, MAYOR TOBIN TELLS VAST AUDIENCE ON BOSTON COMMON AND OVER RADIO DURING COMMEMORATION OF FLAG DAY ON JUNE 14 — CALLS FOR BUILDING OF POWERFUL FLEET FOR TWO OCEANS ALONG WITH AVIATION FLEET OF EQUAL STRENGTH MORE POWERFUL THAN ANY OTHER NATION CAN SUMMON IN ORDER TO INSURE FREEDOM AND LIBERTY WITHIN OUR BORDERS — NATION IS STRONGER THAN PERILS THAT BESET US, BECAUSE CITIZENS ARE UNITED IN DETERMINATION TO BE ETERNALLY FREE.

The following is the address of Mayor Maurice J. Tobin, over Radio Station WBZ-WBZA, from Boston Common, on Flag Day, June 14:

Mr. Chairman, the Lieutenant-Governor, Reverend Members of the Clergy, United States Attorney Brandon, and All My Fellow-Americans.

Six days ago, in the streets of Boston, I saw evidence of devotion stronger and more definite than any of its kind which I have seen for years. I refer to last Saturday when the Yankee Division held its reunion here, and I stood on the reviewing stand as that splendid company of veterans marched past City Hall.

It was thrilling to see those men now as happy together in middle age as they were in youth, as glad to march with the flag as they ever were.

But it was still more impressive to see and feel the spirit of the crowd along the route. There was no jingoism — no blustering cry — no noisy excitement. The bands made brisk martial music, but the people of Boston watched in silent respect.

In that silence, however, there moved a great power — a tide of feeling deep and strong. Every few moments it surged upward in visible action. You know the cause — at the head of each company of the National Guard, and before each veteran unit, color-bearers carried our flag.

Salute to Flag.

The instant the flag approached, every man on the sidewalks came to full salute. The gesture was eager and steady. It needed no word of command, but came straight from the heart of each individual spectator.

There was no slouching, no half-hearted action. At sight of the flag, faith stirred the soul of each watching American. The gleam of the Stars and Stripes brought into his eyes a bright light, a light of willing devotion. That was true of the crowd that saw the Yankee Division march in School street, and it was true wherever the veterans marched throughout Boston.

The flag receives the same response in all the land. The strength of America today is the same it has ever been. It is the strength of voluntary union — the mighty power of individual freemen willingly joined in a single nation for freedom — joined not at the sharp command of any ranting, quick-changing dictator, but by the changeless eternal desire of their own hearts and wills, devoted to freedom.

Emblem of Willing Union.

The strength of that voluntary union covers the continent. For 130,000,000 people, dwelling between Boston Harbor and the Golden Gate, 3,000 miles westward on the Pacific shore, the Stars and Stripes are the emblem of a willing union of minds, of hearts and strong right arms.

That is a power which can never be safely defied. It can be challenged, but it can't be beaten. This truth, however, depends upon one condition — that whenever and wherever a challenge to our freedom is raised, we shall take due note of the threat, and rise promptly to prepare ourselves against it.

Our colors have never been struck; but it is well to remember that the Stars and Stripes have in the past known times of great peril.

You recall the night when our National Anthem was born. In 1812 the dictator, Napoleon I, had been striving for mastery of all Europe and when at last he was put down the empire which defeated him thought the time had come for Britain to seek mastery of all the world, including the sea-borne trade of the young United States. To establish European mastery of the Atlantic, the enemy had invaded our coast, our very homes.

On the night of September 13, 1814, foreign ships of war were bombarding the city of Baltimore. Francis Scott Key, a devoted American, lay confined in one of the enemy ships, watching the battle. From the batteries on shore the enemy fire was hotly returned, and seemingly did great damage. "But then, in the dead of night, the guns stopped and there were no more explosions. But other and fearful sounds came over the waters of Baltimore Bay to the listening ears of Francis Scott Key.

The sound, as he later described it himself, was "the shrieks and groans of the dying and wounded. And alas! they were from the direction of the fort. What did it mean? For over an hour the pandemonium reigned. Suddenly it ceased — all was quiet, not a shot fired or sound heard, a deathlike stillness prevailed, as the darkness of night resumed its sway. The awful stillness and suspense were unbearable. . . ."

CITY OF BOSTON — BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

COMMISSIONER'S BULLETIN No. 49. (REVISED.)

June 6, 1940.

SUBJECT.—Rules and Regulations Governing the Taking Down of Buildings or Other Structures.

Consistent with the provisions of chapter 462, Acts of 1923, section 1, amending chapter 550, Acts of 1907, section 1, the following rules and regulations governing the taking down of buildings or other structures are hereby established to become effective June 24, 1940:

1. Insurance.—In all contracts negotiated by and involving City of Boston departments the following requirements shall be inserted in said contracts:

"Before commencing performance of this contract, the contractor shall provide by insurance for the payment of compensation and the furnishing of other benefits under chapter 152 of the General Laws (the Workmen's Compensation Law so called) to all persons to be employed under this contract and shall continue such insurance in full force and effect during the term of this contract. Failure to provide and continue in force such insurance as aforesaid shall be deemed a material breach of this contract and shall operate as an immediate termination hereof. The contractor shall, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, conform to the provisions of section 34A of chapter 149 of the General Laws, which section is incorporated herein by reference and made a part hereof."

Also it is understood that the contractor shall provide for public liability insurance, and sufficient proof of compliance with furnishing of stipulated insurances shall be furnished to every City of Boston department in the form of certificates, all as required.

2. Permits and Licenses.—All work of razing or taking down buildings or other structures shall be performed after receipt of Building Department permit and in accordance with requirements of Building Law and regulations established under the acts mentioned above, in cooperation with Building Department inspectors.

Necessary permits shall be those issued by the Building Department, Public Works Department (sidewalk, hydrant and street permits), and Health Department, all as applicable.

It shall be understood that the application for permit to raze, submitted to the Building Department, shall bear the signature of a licensed wrecker, and that permit card will not be issued until such signature is acquired, and it shall also be understood that for every structure razed the licensed wrecker whose signature appears on the application shall, throughout the length of the operation, supervise the work of razing or wrecking in accordance with these requirements. If the owner or contractor wishes to dispense with the services of the licensed wrecker whose name appears on the application, he may do so by recording in the Building Department prior to the change, on forms provided for this purpose, the name of the licensed wrecker who will continue the supervision of the operation, all in accordance with the requirements of chapter 8, Revised Ordinances of 1914.

3. Protection of Public.—(a) When directed by Building Department supervisors of construction, through the agency of building inspectors or otherwise, each licensed wrecker who is responsible for the work operation shall erect a properly constructed bridge and a brow and apron in location as directed by authorities mentioned above for the protection of pedestrians and vehicular traffic.

(b) Also on each work operation the licensed wrecker shall be obliged to furnish the services of a uniformed Boston police officer or a special police officer unless this requirement is waived by the Building Commissioner.

(c) As required by Building and Health Departments of the City of Boston and as directed by proper authorities employed in said departments, practical methods to eliminate the hazard and nuisance of dust must be effected.

That the hazard and nuisance of fire and dust may be coped with, it shall be understood that the licensed wrecker, if so ordered by the Building Commissioner, shall have available sufficient length of fire hose to extend from fire hydrant located in sidewalk and serviced from City of Boston mains to the most remote section of the premises on which structure is being razed, by dimension between fire hydrant and such remote section. For the purpose of this requirement the licensed wrecker shall obtain a permit from the Public Works Department, City of Boston, for the use of hydrant and water from same.

(d) Upon completion of razing operations the licensed wrecker shall be obliged to construct a substantial fence at least three rails high with suitable anchorage and posts inclosing that portion of lot or basement and cellar areas not protected by adjacent buildings or other structures.

4. Termination of Services.—The licensed wrecker in charge of work operations shall be held accountable for the permanent termination of services, such as gas, electric, telephone, water, and sewer services, and must make all arrangements whereby same may be accomplished.

5. Precautionary Measures.—Each licensed wrecker shall be held responsible for the safety of all persons employed on his project and shall cause to be erected by a licensed builder or shorer proper shoring of any weakened portion of the structure or building, such as floors, walls, chimneys, trusses, etc., and he shall be obliged to have installed necessary shoring to protect walls of adjoining buildings which are dependent upon the structure being razed for their stability, and to this extent will be required to leave in place shorings and bracings required by the Building Department. Also, if conditions warrant, the licensed wrecker shall not proceed with the work until sufficient ties, either temporary or permanent, are installed to protect adjoining structures, all as directed by the Building Department. Also it shall be understood that in no instance will the licensed wrecker permit the loading of floors beyond their designed capacity.

Where existing chimneys service both the building or buildings to be razed and buildings adjoining they shall not be disturbed, or when a chimney is so constructed as to afford stability to a wall of an adjoining building, whether it services same or not, it shall not be disturbed unless so ordered by the Building Commissioner.

6. Extent of Work.—(a) When a building or structure is to be so razed that no portion of same shall be left standing above the level of the surrounding grades or ground level it shall be understood to include the taking down of all materials, including interior masonry walls, masonry piers, masonry and frame partitions, to the cellar or basement grade excepting the exterior foundation walls below the surrounding grade or ground level. Such exterior walls shall remain.

(b) When buildings or other structures are only partially razed the licensed wrecker shall be responsible for the removal of all materials of any description, excepting undisturbed materials, and he shall also be responsible for the installation of proper ties, anchorage, etc., to cause the undisturbed portion of the structure to be left in stable condition satisfactory to Building Department authorities.

(c) In all razing operations all materials of every description, including rubbish and debris, shall be completely removed from the premises, and the basement and cellar areas and all other portions of building shall be left broom clean.

(d) Whenever a building or structure is to be removed in whole or in part the licensed wrecker will, before disturbing any supporting or structural member, remove all interior finish, lath, plaster and wall surfaces, and structural member coverings, to make accessible to view for authorized members of the Building Department all parts of the structure. Materials referred to shall be removed from the building before actual razing of the structure or portions of building is started.

JAMES H. MOONEY,
Building Commissioner.

ADDRESS OF MAYOR TOBIN.

FLAG STILL THERE.

Those were the hours when Francis Scott Key waited to see what the dawn would bring forth. Had the defenders on shore been defeated? Had the colors of freedom been struck? At last the glow of sunrise illumined the mist. The darkness of doubt gave way to radiance. "Our Flag was still there!" The Flag of Freedom, the Flag of Willing Union, floated victorious on the morning breeze.

Immediately Francis Scott Key wrote from his joyful heart the words that have become our National Anthem. As his son has explained, "a new life sprang into every fiber, and his pent-up emotion burst forth with an inspiration in a song of praise, victory and thanksgiving as he exclaimed:

"Tis the Star-Spangled Banner, Oh, long may it wave, O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave."

Today dark forces again are spread through the world which challenge the message of that flag, and offer peril to the ideals of America and to our whole way of life. We are stronger than that peril. We are more powerful in our willing union than all the lands of the dictators. We need only to marshal our forces, bring our powers on land, on sea and in air to full preparedness, and we shall turn back every challenge.

The Star-Spangled Banner will wave above us unconquered, forever! A guarantee that Old Glory will continue to wave o'er the land of the free and the home of the brave, requires an expenditure of but a quarter of what was spent to fight the World War. Such an appropriation would give to America a powerful Atlantic and Pacific fleet, tanks, trucks and guns more powerful than that of a combination of all other nations—an aviation fleet with more planes than are now owned by all powers beyond the borders of the United States. With this powerful arm of defence, 130,000,000 Americans can continue to say on every Flag Day, "The Star-Spangled Banner continues to wave o'er the land of the free and the home of the brave."

The Mayor has approved the following request of the trustees of the Public Library:

LIBRARY DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, March 5, 1940.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—The trustees of the Public Library respectfully request permission to purchase from the Pratt Paper Company, of 136 Federal street, Boston, without public advertising or competitive bidding, nineteen reams and seventy-three sheets of "Resistall" catalogue card stock, at 57 cents a pound, for $1,167.83 and fourteen tons and five hundred eighty-one pounds of antique paper book stock, at 6.25 cents a pound, for $1,786.31, at a total cost of $2,954.14.

The above prices represent those in effect in September, 1939. At that time, in recognition that the outbreak of war would be likely to result in increased prices and that during the last war it became increasingly difficult to obtain many materials, particularly card catalogue stock, of the required quality and at reasonable prices, the Library requested an agreement with the Pratt Paper Company to supply its 1940 needs of both of these materials at prices no greater than those then prevailing.

The price for the paper in question subsequently advanced a cent a pound shortly after the agreement had been made. Thus a saving of approximately $300 has been effected by acting under this agreement. In the case of the card catalogue stock there has occurred no change in price, although it is indicated that such may come at any time and that it will likely be an increase ranging up to as much as three to five cents per pound. This "Resistall" card catalogue stock is a proprietary material made by one concern in this country under German patents and the Pratt Paper Company is the sole distributor for this region.

Both of these materials are standardized materials used by the Library for many years and selected after careful investigation of their possessing the qualifications required for the particular purposes for which they are used. The quantity to be purchased represents substantially a year's supply. The Pratt Paper Company has been the purveyor of these materials to the Library for a period of many years and has given entire satisfaction in supplying them.

It is believed to be in the interests of the city that the above purchases be effected at the prices indicated.

Respectfully,

THE TRUSTEES OF THE PUBLIC LIBRARY
OF THE CITY OF BOSTON,
by ROBERT H. LORD, President.

The Mayor has approved the following request of the Transit Commissioner:

TRANSIT DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, May 21, 1940.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,

DEAR SIR,—Under the provisions of chapter 366 of the Acts of 1933, Part II (Huntington Avenue Subway), section 3, reads as follows:

The railway was constructed and equipped by the Elevated under a contract made with this department.

There is no force of any kind available to do this work outside of the Elevated Railway Company's organization, therefore your approval is requested to award a contract, without inviting proposals by public advertisement, to the Boston Elevated Railway Company for equipping the premises in accordance with chapter 366 of the Acts of 1933 as amended.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

Monday, June 10, 1940.

Regular meeting of the City Council in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at two p. m., President GALVIN in the chair. Absent, Coun. Hurley.

The meeting was opened with the salute to the flag.

USE OF AIR RIFLES, SLING SHOTS, ETC.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, June 10, 1940.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a communication from the Acting Corporation Counsel in answer to your order of April 29, 1940, concerning a proposed ordinance prohibiting the use of air rifles, sling shots, darts and similar toys.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Law Department, June 10, 1940.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—This is in answer to the order of the City Council of April 29, 1940, which reads as follows:

"Ordered, That the Law Department be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to advise the City Council whether or not it is within the power of the City Council to adopt an ordinance prohibiting the sale and use of air rifles, sling shots, darts and other toys which might be deemed a menace to the safety of the men, women and children of Boston and if so to submit a draft of such an ordinance for the Council's consideration."

Section 21 of chapter 40 of the General Laws (Ter. Ed.) gives cities and towns the right to make ordinances "for directing and managing their prudential affairs, preserving peace and good order, and maintaining their internal police." The authority to adopt an ordinance prohibiting the sale and use of the articles referred to in the above order, if the same exists, would come from the phrase "maintaining their internal police." But an ordinance to be valid must also be "not repugnant to law"; and it has been held that where, by legislation, a subject matter has been fully dealt with, a by-law of a town or city dealing further and otherwise with that subject matter is "repugnant to law" within the meaning of this statute.

Section 130 of chapter 140 of the General Laws provides in part as follows:

"Whoever sells or furnishes to a minor under the age of fifteen or to an unnaturalized foreign-born person any firearm, air gun or other dangerous weapon or ammunition therefore, . . . shall . . . be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred nor more than five hundred dollars; . . ."
The Supreme Court has recognized "air guns" as including air rifles. See Pudlo vs. Dubiel, 273 Mass. 172.

It appears from the foregoing that, at least as to the sale of air rifles to minors under the age of fifteen, the Legislature has established the liability of persons within the Commonwealth. Further, this section includes air guns (or air rifles) in the class of firearms or other dangerous weapons.

The Legislature having dealt with the subject of air rifles it is my opinion that their action indicates that the city has no implied police power to prohibit absolutely their use.

The matter of "sling shots darts, and other toys which might be deemed to be a menace to the safety of the people" presents more difficulty. There are a great many toys and articles in common use by minors such as pocket knives or bows and arrows which if improperly or carelessly used may result in more or less serious injuries. Unless such articles are so inherently dangerous in themselves as to require the prohibition of any use of them I am of the opinion that there is no power in the City Council to prohibit their use on the theory that they may cause accidents if improperly used.

Furthermore, the passage of such an ordinance would, in my opinion, involve the exercise of legislative powers in excess of the powers conferred upon cities and towns by section 21 above quoted. The proposed ordinance goes beyond mere regulation of the internal affairs of the city and the rights and duties of its members and enters into the field of law making.

In view of the foregoing, it is my opinion that it is not within the power of the City Council to adopt such an ordinance.

Yours very truly,
W. J. DOYLE,
Acting Corporation Counsel.

STATEMENT BY COUNCILOR FISH.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a statement. (No objection.) Briefly, Mr. President, for the benefit of the misinformed press and the members of the City Council, I would like to say that the article which appeared in several of the papers during the past week in reference to a member of my family as a possible candidate, in whom I was interested greatly, for the position left vacant by the death of Bill Walsh,—I want to say now that the press was misinformed and that I have had no interest in that position whatsoever for any particular person, nor have I even expressed a desire at any time to have a man in temporarily for two weeks. I hope that will clear up the situation, which, if I may express my opinion, was probably brought on by somebody trying to force a little embarrassment on me. It may come out in the wash later on.

CITY COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

SETTLEMENT WITH ARTHUR F. CLARK.

Coun. TAYLOR offered the following:
Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to refuse to accept the proposed settlement with Arthur F. Clark.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, I was rather surprised to read in the Boston newspapers that one Arthur F. Clark hopes to compromise with the City of Boston in the payment of $108,000 due the Board of Trustees of the Public Library, by a settlement of $18,000. I don't know what magic there is in the name of Clark, but I know that in many other instances, where the name was different than Clark, the culprit who defrauded any estate of any money, particularly if a lawyer, would not only be disbarred but sent to jail. I don't think that this case ought to be an exception, particularly so when the City of Boston perhaps will lose $90,000.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, I would like to ask, through you, does the gentleman know or will he tell us what the nature of the claim is? I never happened to hear of it. I don't know what it is all about.

Coun. TAYLOR—I am informed, counselor, that Mr. Clark was an attorney who handled the property of an estate which left considerable money to the City of Boston.

Coun. SHATTUCK—That must be the Benton estate?

Coun. TAYLOR—I think so, and the money has not come into the hands of the city, but has come into his hands for his own personal use.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

ASSAULT ON BOY.

Coun. RUSSO offered the following:
Ordered, That the Police Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to immediately suspend from active police duty Officer Joseph Tully of Police Division 1, until such time as charges against him have been heard before the proper authority, in connection with his unwarranted and brutal assault upon a sixteen-year-old boy.

Ordered, That the Captain of Police Division 1 be requested, through his Honor the Mayor and the Police Commissioner, to immediately make available the names of the witnesses to the assault of Officer Tully of Police Division 1, upon sixteen-year-old Vincent DiBlasi.

Coun. RUSSO—Mr. President, on May 31 of this year, on or about five o'clock p. m., a boy by the name of Vincent DiBlasi, a sixteen-year-old boy, was in the vicinity of the market district in the North End, selling a few lemons which he had in a basket. This officer came and ordered the boy to go. The boy took up his basket, put it on his shoulder, and was going towards home. All of a sudden this officer gets hold of one of his arms and twists it behind his back, hurting the boy very badly. The boy shouted, "You are hurting me. Why don't you leave me alone?" and on doing so, the police officer continued all the harder, and the basket with the lemons fell on the ground. As he was going to pick up his basket and the lemons, the officer put both his hands around his neck, choking the boy, and in so doing made the boy fall on top of the basket, and while the officer was on top of this boy he immediately took out his stick and gave him two strikes on his head, which now has turned out to be a concussion of the brain. In the meantime, the boy was unconscious. He was taken to the police station. Upon arrival at the police station this officer, not being satisfied with what he had done to this boy, immediately gave him another punch, and another officer in the police station said to him, "Joe, you are losing your head." The boy was examined by some doctor in the police station, and was ordered to go home. The boy went home and upon his arrival at home he was immediately taken to the Massachusetts General Hospital where, after an examination, it was found there was a concussion of the brain. I say, Mr. President, if that is the type of police protection the City of Boston has, something is wrong. I say that that police officer is not entitled to be in that position, a man supposed to look after the safety of our property and the safety of our lives, who takes such unwarranted action against this boy who was merely selling a few lemons to help himself where he is one of seven children in a family and the father is on W. F. A. I say, Mr. President, that this officer should be immediately suspended from duty, and I also say that the captain of Police Station No. 1 has refused to give up the names and addresses of persons who went there voluntarily to give their names and addresses as witnesses to this assault. The police captain has refused to give these names out. I say, Mr. President, that such action is unwarranted against a young boy in that district, just merely because the boy was trying to help his family out, although I do realize that he had no right to do what he did. Nevertheless, Mr. President, I am a father of children and so are you, and we can readily appreciate the wrong done in the assault that this officer made upon that sixteen-year-old boy. Mind you, the only complaint that this officer made was the complaint of selling lemons. There was no need for that assault. Here is a boy with concussion of the brain, and the Lord only knows if he will be able to grow up with a sound body and mind. I therefore hope these orders will pass.

The orders were severally passed under suspension of the rule.

EMPLOYEES AT SUFFOLK DOWNS.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:
Ordered, That the Racing Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to force employees at Suffolk Downs to show a Massachusetts voting certificate.

Ordered, That the Racing Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to publish a list of names and addresses of those employed at Suffolk Downs.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, the Racing Commission sent a letter to this Body last week stating, in answer to a letter which the Council sent them, that they were investigating outsiders working at Suffolk Downs. Suffolk Downs has been opened about a month, and I wonder who the Racing Commission think they are kidding when they say they are investigating. They have a list of those employed at Suffolk Downs, and if I was not right in the statement I made on the floor of the Council three weeks ago, when I said that at least half of those employed at Suffolk Downs were from out of the state, the Racing Commission would have shoved that lie down my throat, but I say their silence proves that I was right. I want to know why Governor Saltonstall does not demand that the Racing Commission force the employees at Suffolk Downs to show a voting certificate? Why doesn't he ask the Racing Commission to make the list public so the unemployed can see the number of men who are holding down these jobs? Did any of the Racing Commission or did any of the officials of Suffolk Downs deny the statement I made three weeks ago on the floor of this Council, when I said that twenty-five men from Rhode Island, including the son of the Racing Commissioner down there, Judge Dooley, were working at Suffolk Downs? Did anybody at the track, any of the officials, when I made that serious statement, deny it? You bet they didn't answer any of those charges because they knew if they did I would have produced proof of it. But those millionaires who are running Suffolk Downs did make a statement that they were going to get Edward Bacigalupo and a few of his strong-arm henchmen to get Coffey. They also said they were going to knock me off politically, so I guess I have them a little bit worried when millionaires will go out of their way to make statements that they are going to get me both personally and politically. I give credit to the members here in the Council for allowing that order of mine to pass without any opposition. Of course, the filing of that order was just to see if Suffolk Downs was living up to the law that 85 per cent of the help must come from Massachusetts. Well, I can say here now that outside of the members of the Council here who allowed that order to pass, I did not get one bit of help from any politician in the entire state. I can go further and enlighten some of the members on something else regarding some of the outside politicians, but we still have six or seven weeks before the racing season is over, and I shall have something to say about racing every Monday on this floor. The Mayor cannot be very much interested in Boston men who are seeking jobs. He has not moved a hand to help me in my fight to drive outsiders out of these jobs at Suffolk Downs. Well, I will give you an example of some Boston men who went down South seeking employment at one of the southern race tracks. These men were called in in a group and asked where they came from, and as soon as they said any other place but the state in which the track was, they were told to stand to one side, and they thought they were going to be given some consideration. After being there for about an hour, they called in the local police and called in the state police. They had about ten trucks there and they herded them into these trucks and drove them over the state line, and said, "Stay out of this state, and if you come back here again you will be arrested for vagrancy and get thirty days in jail." In case the members want to check on that story, they can, through Officer Ben Goodman of the Riot Squad. His son was one of them. So far as giving work to local men here, we have heard a lot of talk about what they were going to do at Suffolk Downs for those who reside and vote in Suffolk County. They went on to say, first—the old catch,—how they were going to take care of old age security and how the old folks were going to benefit by the money that was derived from racing. Next, how they were going to hire local help in every case they could. Next, we were told about the work the business men were going to get. Well, there is a man named Kelly in Brighton. He used to get the van work at Suffolk Downs. He doesn't get it any more. I say the Governor not only stepped in and took the lion's share of jobs, but he saw that his pal, Elmer Gould of Framingham, gets the lion's share of the van work. Of course, Kelly has a vote in Suffolk County. Kelly was out working to see that the racing went over, thinking those who were for him were going to get some benefit. A Mr. Pond is in charge of the stables there. For the past four years a man named Culkeen has been getting work, a man who belongs here, but Culkeen hasn't got much of that work lately. The lion's share of the work is given to the Liberty Feed Company of New York. Here is a statement printed in one of the local papers which says, "Out-of-state track employees must register autos."

CITY COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

"A campaign to compel operators of out-of-state automobiles who are employed at the Suffolk Downs race track to register their cars immediately in this state was begun last Saturday by Inspector Edward G. O'Hara of the Registry of Motor Vehicles. O'Hara, who is in charge of the Revere-Chelsea district, said the drive was aimed principally at cars from Florida and such states as have no mutual agreement with this state.

"Persons from Florida who are working at the race track, he said, are not allowed a day's exemption from the law requiring them to register and insure their cars, and to obtain a Massachusetts operator's license. O'Hara estimated there were 200 out-of-state automobiles in and around the race track."

Of course, I thought when I got that list, when the list went over one hundred, it was a lot of out-of-state cars, but according to the registrar there are over two hundred that park around the track every day of the week. Now, something should be done about this. The Governor has not taken means to do anything. The Mayor has not interfered himself in any way. As I said on the floor last week, the Mayor spoke in favor of horse and dog racing over the radio the year before last. He cannot deny that. Then he turned around last year and vetoed three dog tracks that were passed by this Council. He is not consistent. His argument on the radio was he wanted to take care of the old folks and wanted to make sure they got their old age assistance that came from horse and dog racing. Then, if he was consistent, why didn't he O. K. the three dog tracks so the old folks could get that additional revenue that is supposed to come from horse and dog racing?

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

EAST BOSTON RELIEF STATION.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston City Hospital be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to open the East Boston Relief Station twenty-four hours a day.

Coun. COFFEY—Last Tuesday in East Boston a three-year-old boy was killed by an automobile. Last Friday, at five minutes of ten, a small boy was brought to the East Boston Relief Station by his father. The boy had a hemorrhage and was bleeding to death. The hospital was not open as, of course, the hours are from ten to six. The hospital refused to open the doors, and the father ran out and commandeered an automobile and took the child to a private doctor. As I have said here for the last three months, the Mayor promised the people of East Boston at a banquet with over 800 attending, that he was going to open the East Boston Relief Station, and I cannot see why he does not open it, especially during this racing season where we have had thousands and thousands of automobiles visiting East Boston daily. So I ask the Mayor to keep the word he gave to the people of East Boston and open that relief station.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

PERMIT FOR EAST BOSTON SLAUGHTER HOUSE.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Finance Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to investigate the issuing of a permit for a slaughter house at 11 Lewis street, East Boston.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, last week I filed an order asking the Bar Association to investigate three attorneys who are implicated in the issuing of this permit. Of course, the order was killed in Executive Committee. I am filing an order today asking that an investigation be made by the Finance Commission regarding the circumstances surrounding the issuing of this permit. Last week in Executive the members there decided to have Doctor Watts called before them today for questioning on some statement that he had issued to the press regarding, as he said, some of the members of his department who went out and had lunch or some such thing with somebody who was doing business with the public Health Department. Doctor Watts sent a letter here today stating that he is not coming here; that he has given an answer to the Mayor as to why he issued that statement about some of the members of his department going to lunch, and also regarding the issuing of this permit for the slaughter house. Now, of course, circumstances have not changed any today. Doctor Watts signed this permit for the slaughter house. Previously he turned down a permit that Mr. Greenberg had to reopen the same slaughter house. Mr. Greenberg is the man who had that permit for the past fifty years, and, incidentally, Mr. Greenberg is now on the welfare in Winthrop and, of course, he couldn't get up the $2,000 in graft that these lawyers demanded must be paid before this permit would be granted. Now, I have asked for this investigation and I ask it go further than that. I ask why the Mayor's office gave permission to grant that permit without first getting the approval of the Boston City Council. As I explained in Executive last week, according to our ordinances, that order should have come before the Boston City Council and met with the Council's approval before being sent along to the Mayor's office for his approval. But nothing of that sort was done. The permit was issued at the request of Doctor Mullowney—now retired. It was signed by Doctor Watts, and the reason I wanted Doctor Watts here was to find out why Doctor Watts signed that permit when only last September Doctor Watts and Doctor Mullowney took away a permit from this same man who easily got this permit at 11 Lewis street, under the name of A. B. Reed & Co. on Commercial street. I claim if he was an improper person then, he is now. If they were going to give a permit at all they should have given it to Greenberg, a man who had been doing business in East Boston for fifty years. They both had applications and were asked to pay $2,000 in graft. Neither one could afford it, so they are left, and so we have a man from Canton, who has a place in New Hampshire and one in Vermont, coming into East Boston to open that slaughter house, and I was informed that I was supposed to have been taken care of, that somebody collected Coffey's fee and if I went to the Mayor's office I probably would be taken care of and would be shut up. Well, I don't intend to be shut up until I find out how much in graft was paid to get this license. I will introduce this order every week for the next two years.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

ROPING OFF STREETS JUNE 17.

President GALVIN offered the following:
Ordered, That the City Messenger be instructed to do the necessary roping off of the streets of Charlestown in connection with the Bunker Hill Day parade on June 17, the expense of same to be charged to the City Council appropriation.

Coun. D. F. and M. H. SULLIVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to consider the advisability of closing all city departments on July 5 and 6, so that city employees might receive the same consideration as department store employees.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

LEASE OF COTTAGE PLACE SCHOOL TO LEGION POST.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN offered the following:
Ordered, That the School Committee be hereby authorized to lease, in the name and behalf of the city, to the Boston Police Post No. 251, American Legion, the Cottage Place School, Roxbury, for such term and upon such conditions as the School Committee may deem advisable.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

LETTER FROM CHARLES F. RITTENHOUSE.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, I ask permission to incorporate into the record this letter from Mr. Charles F. Rittenhouse of Charles F. Rittenhouse & Company, Accountants, 1 Federal street, Boston, dated May 29, 1940, relative to an address made by him before the Eastern Massachusetts Home Economics Association wherein he, according to press report, accused the City Council of not cooperating with Mayor Tobin, which statement he now denies. I quote, in part, from Mr. Rittenhouse's letter as follows:

"I talked from notes and hence am sorry that I cannot give you an exact transcript of my talk, but I have a definite recollection of the statements which I made and feel that I am able to paraphrase my remarks quite accurately."

Altogether too often the "buck" has been passed to the City Council by taxpayers' organizations and others, but in this case here the "buck," for the publication of this reported misstatement, is being passed by Mr. Rittenhouse to the press and I desire to say that I personally object to this passing of the "buck" to the press. I trust that in the future speechmakers will endeavor to be more careful in their unwarranted condemnation of the City Council.

President GALVIN—If there is no objection, the letter will be incorporated in the record.

The letter submitted is as follows:

Charles F. Rittenhouse & Company,
Certified Public Accountants,
One Federal Street,
Boston,

May 29, 1940.

Councilor William A. Carey, Boston City Council, City Hall, Boston, Mass.

Dear Mr. Carey,—At your request, and following the conference which I had with you yesterday, I am glad to write you for the purpose of giving you my version of the remarks which I made with reference to the Boston City Council in my talk at a recent meeting of the Eastern Massachusetts Home Economics Association, at which meeting I took the negative side in a debate on the sales tax.

I talked from notes and hence am sorry that I cannot give you an exact transcript of my talk, but I have a definite recollection of the statements which I made and feel that I am able to paraphrase my remarks quite accurately.

After reviewing the arguments in opposition to the sales tax, I stated that the alternative was a drastic reduction in city, state, and Federal expenditures. After discussing the possibilities which I felt existed for effecting substantial economies in the various branches of our government, I stated, with reference to the City of Boston, that I had a great deal of respect for Mayor Tobin, believed him to be honest and sincere, and felt that he was doing the best job which he could under difficult circumstances.

I mentioned the fact that I had come to know the Mayor through having served as the chairman of a volunteer advisory committee of accountants, which committee had made a survey of the business practices and procedure in various city departments (not that I had "worked with Mayor Tobin on the financial side," as reported in the press). I stated that there was general disappointment, however, due to the anticipated increase in the tax rate for this year of at least sixty cents, and I had no doubt that Mayor Tobin himself was disappointed that he could not instead be able to announce a reduction in the rate.

I further stated that a substantial part of the city and county budget was beyond the Mayor's control, and referred particularly to the budget of the School Department. Incidentally, my reference to the School Committee in this connection, while probably of no particular interest to the members of the Council, could not have reasonably been construed as an "attack" upon that body. I then mentioned the fact that the Mayor had referred back to the City Council the proposed budget with the hope that the Council would find it possible to make further cuts therein, as a result of which the budget was returned with reductions of about $55,000, the effect of which on the tax rate would be negligible.

This was my only reference to the City Council, and I fail to see how it could have been reported as it was in the press and how my remarks could have been interpreted as an "attack" upon the Council or as implying that the Council had failed to cooperate with the Mayor. As a matter of fact, at the time I had no knowledge as to whether or to what extent the Council had shown a cooperative spirit in its relations with the Mayor. Mayor Tobin was naturally disturbed at the press report of my talk, and in talking with him about it he told me that he was very sorry that the talk was reported as it was because he had always received very satisfactory cooperation from the Council.

I can well understand the feelings of the Council with reference to the press report of my talk, and I trust that this letter will make it clear that my remarks were not intended as an "attack" upon your body and could not be reasonably construed as such.

Respectfully yours,

C. F. RITTENHOUSE.

ACTION OF GERMAN CONSUL.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN offered the following: Whereas, The German Consul in Boston has recently manifested an absolute disregard for the rights conferred upon the press through the American Constitution; and

Whereas, That official, by undemocratic action, attempted to frustrate the efforts of the Boston

Traveler in its commendable condemnation of international indecencies; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Boston City Council, representing the home city of American Liberty, condemns the regrettable action of the Nazi Government representative, and requests the Secretary of State of the United States to effect the immediate recall of Dr. Herbert Scholz as a "persona non grata" in a city and a nation where Americans still cherish their constitutional freedom.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON ORDINANCES.

Coun. LYONS, for the Committee on Ordinances, submitted the following:

1. Report on ordinance (referred February 19) submitting proposed amendment to chapter 15 of Revised Ordinances of 1925, as follows:

Chapter 15 of the Revised Ordinances of 1925 is hereby amended by striking out section four and inserting in place thereof the following new section:

"Section 4. In case of a conflagration or extreme emergency involving a fire hazard, the officer or board having charge of the fire-fighting force shall have full authority to summon and keep on duty any or all of the members of the fire-fighting force while such conflagration or emergency continues,"—recommending passage of said amendment.

Report accepted; said ordinance passed.

SPEED LIMIT, GREATER BOSTON.

Coun. GOODE offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to confer with the Registrar of Motor Vehicles for the purpose of considering the advisability of maintaining a strict maximum thirty miles an hour speed law in Greater Boston.

Coun. GOODE—Mr. President, I am prompted to introduce this order after reading of an experiment that was tried in a nearby city. In that city two drivers were given permission to drive from one end of the town to the other. One was not supposed to go over thirty miles an hour, and the other was supposed to go as fast as he wanted to,—not to exceed fifty miles an hour. They both started and it was found that one reached the destination only a few seconds before the other. I feel that this order will be timely at this time, just prior to the closing of the schools for the summer, when hundreds of thousands of young children will be on the streets and going to and from their play. Certainly we should see that in the summer months, when the mortality and accident rate is the highest, the speed limits of the city are strictly maintained. I sincerely hope this order will receive consideration.

Coun. FISH—Speaking on that order, I think the order has a great deal of merit. I am glad that the councilor saw fit to introduce it. I can say that in the city of Worcester where the city limit is twenty-five miles an hour, they are proudly boasting of the fact that they have had but one fatal accident in ninety-seven days. Their goal, incidentally, was to see if they could outdo the city of Providence, which I think previous to that went for 120 days without having a fatal accident. Another angle of the slowing down of the speed in cities or congested areas is that I think in time it will greatly reflect in the insurance rates because of fewer fatalities. Possibly, within a few years the rates would be very much reduced.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

READVILLE LOCATION FOR PROPOSED STADIUM.

Coun. GOODE offered the following:

Ordered, That the trustees of the George White Fund consider the race track grounds in Readville as a location for Boston's proposed municipal stadium.

Coun. GOODE—Mr. President, at the present time the Trustees and Manager of the George Robert White Fund are receiving proposals from various interested groups as to what should be done with the money accumulated in the George Robert White Fund. Boston is known as the Hub of New England, and certainly we should have a municipal stadium here. In line with the Mayor's attempt to make Boston the center of activity, not only for New England but for the surrounding states and the entire nation as well, I feel that this work would be greatly assisted by a municipal stadium in this locality. In considering the location for a municipal stadium, I feel an outlying section which can be reached easily from all parts of the state and New England, New York and surrounding states, certainly should receive consideration. I am convinced, inasmuch as many of our owners and taxpayers now live in the outlying sections and are continually moving to these sections, that the future of Boston and the development of this district would be greatly assisted by the building of a municipal stadium in the district. Not only must we consider the land available for the building of a stadium, but a great deal of land must be available also for parking, and this land is available in this district. At the present time I understand that the defunct New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad has this land, and I feel that it would not be difficult to have them relinquish it. The maintenance of this stadium, if built in this district, would probably be under the Park Department, but I know that the W. P. A. and the Welfare would contribute a great deal to the help who would maintain it.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

FLAGPOLE, PEABODY SQUARE.

Coun. WICKES and Coun. FISH offered the following:

Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to erect a flagpole in Peabody square, Dorchester, to replace the one which was there for many years.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

TRAFFIC SIGNS, WARD 17.

Coun. WICKES offered the following:

Ordered, That the Traffic Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to erect "Stop" signs at Welles avenue and Washington street, Ward 17, in both directions.

Ordered, That the Traffic Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install automatic traffic lights at the junction of Gallivan Boulevard and Washington street, Ward 17.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

BEANO, WEST ROXBURY AND ROSLINDALE.

Coun. LYONS offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to grant licenses to the various Veterans' Posts in the West Roxbury and Roslindale districts to operate Beano games after June 15.

Coun. LYONS—Mr. President, for the past six months or so, we have had quite a dissertation on Beano, and in the various talks of various councilors they have been putting all sorts of organizations in the category of racketeers. Well, I am speaking today in behalf of my ward, which also borders Councilor Goode's and Councilor Langan's wards. The Fallon Post ever since Beano came into existence ran a Beano party at their Post headquarters. These men are high-type men, which all Legionnaires are. After the smoke cleared away, they had a meeting down there last week, and tried to put the blame on me for stopping Beano throughout Boston. Now I am here in defence of myself. All other councilors who see fit may put in a similar order asking the Mayor to amend his previous order banning all Beano, but letting the different organizations such as the Legionnaires of Boston, the ones who have been on the level all their lives, operate a Beano party once a week. I received a letter from the John T. Fallon Post of Roslindale, and I will read a part of it, or a few lines to you, from the letter.

"The small proceeds that we did get from our Beano parties, which were run on the level, were the sole means of keeping our Post going. The proceeds of our Beano parties were also the sole means of giving out relief not alone to the many veterans on our roster but also to the widows of our deceased veterans. Offhand, I would say for this past year we have taken care of over two hundred cases. We have also donated money to the various denominations of faith in Roslindale.

"Our Post always took great pride in the manner in which our Memorial Day and Armistice Day services were conducted, and I might inform you there was no better service conducted in the entire V. F. W. organization. The money spent in connection with these services was also derived from our Beano parties."

Now, the Irving W. Adams Post also ran their own Beano party, and they have their own workers there. I am now speaking in behalf of my own ward and the people who patronize those Beano parties in the ward. I hope that this order will pass, and that the Mayor will see fit to more or less rescind his previous order and let the legitimate Legionnaires operate where they are doing a world of good to the people of Boston, and also to the people in their own organization.

Coun. GOODE—I have received communications from organizations in my ward relative to the continuance of Beano, and I sincerely hope that his Honor the Mayor and those in the Licensing Department will see fit to issue Beano licenses to recognized fraternal and charitable organizations whose aim is to raise funds for charitable purposes by the conduct of their Beano parties.

Coun. FISH—I can hardly sit in my chair when I hear the word "Beano" mentioned. I have been getting these requests for a number of months. I think I have risen to my feet in defence of these organizations more than any other councilor, and it is gratifying today to see that two other councilors have risen to their feet in defence of legitimate games run by recognized organizations.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

ACCEPTANCE OF PORTER TERRACE.

Coun. LYONS offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to accept and lay out Porter terrace, Ward 20, as a public highway, under the W. P. A. plan of construction.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PAINTING OF WHITE LINE, CENTRE STREET.

Coun. LYONS offered the following:

Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to paint a white line along the middle of Centre street, Ward 20, from Belgrade avenue to Weld street.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SURVEY, WARD 20.

Coun. LYONS offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make a survey of the area bounded by Stimson, Grove and Centre streets, Ward 20, with a view to installing water and sewer pipes and also constructing roadways and sidewalks.

Coun. LYONS—Mr. President, two years ago I introduced a similar order out in Ward 20, relative to the construction of sewers and water pipes and sidewalks and streets in this particular section. Now we happen to be living in Boston, but this particular section out there is known as the Grove section of West Roxbury. There are approximately 125 families with no sewage facilities whatsoever. They have cesspools. They have installed in their own way water pipes that are exposed. They run through from foundation to foundation. Every year I get sixty to seventy calls from that vicinity about pipes that have been frozen, due to the weather and those poor people have to pay $5 or more to have a job done on their pipes, to thaw them out. They have no streets and no sidewalks, and the city claims that the property thirty years ago was given to the people out there simply for camp sites. Well, I figure that the City of Boston is liable to those people out there. Boston should protect those people. If they refused to pay their taxes, the city would take their property and their homes. Now I stated there are about 125 families. Each family has an average of four or five children. For the safety of those children today, I think it is up to the Health Department to step in and safeguard them. Last year I contacted the Health Department to go and look the situation over, and the Health Department went out and condemned the homes and told the people to vacate. Now there are some nice, desirable homes there. There is a home that cost $9,000 or $10,000 to build. The average home costs between $3,500 and $6,000 or $7,000. I figure the people should have some protection up there, and I want the Public Works Commissioner to go out with his engineer and see what he can do for those people. The city claims it is not liable because it is not going to accept the property. But there are citizens of Boston who have lived there for thirty or thirty-five years, and they deserve some consideration. I hope the Council passes this order.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

RESANDING SAVIN HILL BEACH.

Coun. HUTCHINSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to immediately arrange for the resanding of Savin Hill Beach, which has been provided for in a W. P. A. project.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

W. P. A. PROJECT FOR CHARTER STREET PLAYGROUND.

Coun. RUSSO offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to institute a W. P. A. project to place the land on Charter street, Ward 3, recently presented to the city, in proper condition for playground purposes.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ICE FOR DRINKING FOUNTAINS.

Coun. RUSSO offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commissioner and the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to arrange to have the water turned on at all drinking fountains in the city and that ice be provided for the proper cooling of the water.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

Coun. RUSSO spoke on the above two orders, as follows:

Coun. RUSSO—Mr. President, on my first order I wish at this time to thank the councilors for having passed the order accepting the land on Charter street that was given to the city by the heirs who are represented by Congressman Tinkham, for the purpose of having a playground for the children in my district. I do hope Commissioner Long will immediately take steps to put that land in A No. 1 condition so the children may be able to go and play and get enough exercise in that particular section. In regard to turning the water on in the fountains, I have had quite a few complaints from people in my district that the water has not been turned on, especially at the Revere Mall, so called, in the North End. I do hope that the City of Boston will provide ice for these fountains so that the people of Boston may enjoy themselves on these hot days that are about to come. I hope the orders will pass.

LIGHTING FACILITIES, DORCHESTER STREET.

Coun. LINEHAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make a study of the lighting facilities along Dorchester street, from Andrew square to Eighth street, Ward 7, with a view to installing a more adequate lighting system in this particular section.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

THE NEXT MEETING.

President GALVIN offered a motion that when the Council adjourn it be to meet two weeks from today.

Coun. COFFEY—I would like to talk on that motion. I think, Mr. President, it is about time that the Council realized that $43 a week is a pretty good salary, and I think that the least we should do is meet every week instead of postponing meetings from week to week. The Legislature, who get the same salary meet five days a week, every week, and in the off year get no salary. I hope the motion is defeated.

President GALVIN—The Chair advises Councilor Coffey that in the year 1775 the battle of Bunker Hill was fought, and I have in mind the fact that next Monday is the 17th of June. I believe it is a patriotic duty on our part to adjourn until the week after.

Coun. COFFEY—I still object to the postponement.

Coun. CAREY—I heartily agree with the councilor from Ward 1. The least we can do is come down here and meet every week, but due to the significance of June 17th, Bunker Hill Day, I feel that we should make an exception in that case and adjourn for two weeks.

Coun. COFFEY asked for a roll call. The roll was called, yeas 18, nays 1.

Yeas—Coun. Carey, Englert, Goode, Chase, Kelly, Lyons, Shattuck, Fish, Galvin, Gottlieb, Hutchinson, Langan, Linehan, Russo, Scannell, D. F. Sullivan, M. H. Sullivan, Wickes—18.

Nays—Coun. Coffey—1.

The motion to adjourn for two weeks was passed.

INCREASED BUS FARES.

Coun. CHASE offered the following:

Ordered, That the manager of the Boston Elevated Railway be invited, through his Honor the Mayor, to appear before the next Executive Session of the City Council for the purpose of explaining the reasons the trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway recently increased the bus fares from five to ten cents on four intown bus lines.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, last week the management of the Boston Elevated Railway Company put into effect an increase from five to ten cents on all bus fares on four intown bus lines. Now, Mr. President, as I said last week, these bus lines travel slightly over a distance of one mile. How in the world the trustees of the Boston Elevated ever arrived at the conclusion they did last week is beyond me or any other reasonable man of this Council. I cannot possibly conceive how the Elevated Trustees by any line of reasoning could increase those bus fares, especially when you consider that you can ride from Arlington Heights to Milton or any other section of Metropolitan Boston for a dime. I cannot conceive how the Elevated Trustees could dare make such a bold and ridiculous move, and I think, Mr. President, it is time that the proper officials should do something about it. I trust that if Mr. Dana appears before the Executive Session next week he will be able to give a logical reason why the Elevated Trustees jacked up those fares. Of course, they will come back with the answer, "Well, the Elevated is operating under a deficit, and we are endeavoring to cut down that deficit." But why shouldn't they adopt a plan which was suggested by the able councilor from Ward 5 last week? Why shouldn't they put in a zone rate and have people from suburban Boston pay their just and appropriate share of the cost of Elevated transportation? Why soak the residents of Boston? So, Mr. President, I know of a number of other councilors who plan to ask the manager of the Boston Elevated quite a few embarrassing questions if he has the courage to appear before this Council next week. I trust, Mr. President, that the Body will pass the order.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

REPAVING OF GARRISON STREET.

Coun. CHASE offered the following:
Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to reconstruct Garrison street, Ward 4, with a smooth type asphalt pavement, under the W. P. A. plan of construction.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

TRAFFIC LIGHTS, WARD 19.

Coun. LANGAN offered the following:
Ordered, That the Traffic Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install automatic signal lights at the junction of Moraine street and South Huntington avenue, Ward 19.

Ordered, That the Traffic Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install "Slow" signs on South street, Ward 19, from Archdale road to the junction of South and Washington streets.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

SURVEY OF WHITE CITY SECTION, WARD 19.

Coun. LANGAN offered the following:
Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make a survey of the White City section of Ward 19 with a view of accepting and laying out as many streets as possible in said section.

Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make a survey of the White City section of Ward 19 for the purpose of determining the condition of the streets in said section with a view to resurfacing as many of them as possible.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

Ordered, That the Park Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to put into proper condition the Healy Field and Carolina Avenue Playgrounds, Ward 19.

Report accepted; said order passed under suspension of the rule.

Coun. LYONS, for Coun. M. H. Sullivan, offered the following:

Whereas, As an editor of the Boston Post, his persuasive pen flowed on pages remarkable, both for their kindly tolerance, logical idealism and clearness of vision; and

Whereas, As a citizen, he was unceasingly animated by a keen desire and active effort for decency in the administration of government; therefore, be it

BUDGETARY CONTROL.

Prior to installing the present system of budgetary control, effective as of January 1, 1939, the city of Newark had no centralized accounting control over its budget commitments. The city's general ledger contained accounts for the various budget appropriations, and reflected disbursements out of the appropriations. However, commitments for work and material were not recorded in the city's accounts until after bills submitted by the vendors had been approved for payment by the Board of Commissioners. Consequently, financial reports could only show the amount of appropriated moneys that had not been disbursed out of any account. No recognition could be given in these reports to the unpaid purchase commitments, since the amount was not known. The American City.

TAUNTON'S ASPHALT PLANT.

One of the functions of a city public works or street department is to operate as effectively as possible in the construction and maintenance of its streets and sidewalks and to produce the necessary materials for paving at the lowest possible cost. In some cities this is effected by the purchase of all paving materials in either the raw or the mixed stage. Taunton has used a city-owned 100-ton asphalt plant for street paving and maintenance and for sidewalk construction for ten years. Located in the city yard with the equipment repair shop and garage, the plant is housed in a 60 by 90 foot building with a 30 by 100 foot wing, which was formerly used as a foundry. The American City.

PITTSBURGH'S TRAFFIC SAFETY RECORD.

Pittsburgh has been adjudged the safest city in the United States in 1932, and the second safest in 1933 and 1934 among cities with populations over 500,000. Registrations in the city increased 4.4 per cent, gasoline consumption 7.7 per cent. In 1935, despite a 2.4 per cent decrease in traffic volume, adult fatalities increased 30 per cent, total fatalities 24 per cent, as compared with 1934.

SQUARE DEAL IN ASSESSMENTS FOR TAXATION.

Many cities are finding it greatly to their advantage to have their tax valuations periodically overhauled. The first criterion of any assessment is equity. For every citizen who wants through "pull" or however else to get off easy, there are twenty, nay a hundred who want a fair and square deal for all.

The appraisal of city real estate is a highly technical affair.

Few things are more important than the equalization of assessments. Particularly in cities that are cramped by an inflexible debt or tax limit, an honest, full value assessment may be a great boon. Without the slightest raise in the tax rate a substantially greater tax yield may be had.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 489.

Capt. Lawrence H. Dunn, Lieut. James J. Crowley, Patrolmen George J. Smith, Aubrey B. Cayting, William F. Healey and James J. Kerrigan, all of Division 8 (Harbor Police), who performed especially meritorious service during the hurricane of September 21, 1938, in rescuing nine men who were in an exhausted condition clinging to the top of a dilapidated catwalk breakwater off Northern avenue, alongside the Boston Fish Pier, are especially commended by this order.

The Police Commissioner appreciates the extremely hazardous and perilous conditions which these officers encountered, without regard for their own safety, in order to accomplish these rescues.

Therefore, it is hereby ordered that each of the foregoing named officers be awarded a Department Medal of Honor.

Presentation of these Medals of Honor was made by the Superintendent of Police, in behalf of Police Commissioner Joseph F. Tilty, on the occasion of exercises held Sunday, June 9, 1940, at Commonwealth Pier, South Boston, in connection with Boston Harbor National Maritime Day.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

JOSEPH F. TILTY,
Police Commissioner.

General Order No. 490.

REORGANIZATION OF BOSTON POLICE DEPARTMENT EMERGENCY BATTALION.

The Emergency Battalion of the department has been reorganized and considerably increased in personnel for the purpose of coping with any emergency that might arise as a result of present war conditions, hurricanes, floods, or other catastrophes that may happen at any time.

Officers listed in the attached roster have been selected to comprise the new Emergency Battalion and are assigned as stated in the attached roster.

NOTE.—The Riot Gun Companies are so organized that the First Company is composed entirely of day men, the Second Company is composed of members of the Second Platoon, and the Third Company is composed of members of the Third Platoon of each division. This is done so that no matter what platoon is on the street there will be a full company available immediately in any emergency. This applies to lieutenants and sergeants who change about from month to month, or patrolmen who may be doing duty on the street at that time. In an emergency, the platoon that is doing duty is the platoon from which these men are to be drawn unless orders call for the whole battalion.

Three copies of this order are forwarded to all divisions and units, also three copies of the Emergency Battalion Roster; one copy of each or the files, one copy of each to be retained at the desk for ready reference, and one copy of each to be posted on the bulletin board for the direct notice of all officers.

No changes in the personnel of this battalion are to be made without the approval of the superintendent.

Superintendent's Order dated September 27, 1939, relating to this subject, is hereby rescinded, and copies of that order posted on the bulletin board and retained at the desk shall be immediately destroyed.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

JOSEPH F. TILTY,
Police Commissioner.

BOSTON TRAFFIC COMMISSION SURVEY.

Traffic Commissioner William P. Hickey said, on June 5, that the novel traffic survey conducted by employees of the Boston Traffic Commission to ascertain the destinations of cars entering Boston over the Northern Artery via Craigie Bridge was very successful.

Blank white tags were placed on the door handles of 163 trucks and 830 passenger cars—a total of 993 vehicles. 1,793 vehicles passed the checking point during the period of the survey, so that more than half of the total traffic was tagged for identification. It was expected the work would require three hours to complete, but the able assistance afforded by two Metropolitan District Commission police officers and the courteous and intelligent cooperation of the motorists enabled the checkers to complete the work in exactly one hour.

William Stanley Parker, Chairman of the City Planning Board, and Traffic Engineer Philip T. Desmond supervised the survey and stated that the results of the check furnished valuable statistical information which could be procured in no other known manner. The destinations of the vehicles tagged were observed by checkers stationed at three points—the traffic circle at Nashua street, the traffic circle at Cambridge and Charles streets and at Park square. 901 vehicles—91 per cent of the number tagged—were accounted for by these checkers.

The distribution of the tagged vehicles was as following:

57.5 per cent turned left into Leverett street and Nashua street. 5.4 per cent arrived in Cambridge street. 19.6 per cent turned into Embankment road from Charles street. 17.5 per cent passed through Park square.

CITY RECORD

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

VOL. 32.

SATURDAY, JUNE 29, 1940.

NO. 26

BOSTON'S TAX RATE FOR 1940 ANNOUNCED BY THE ASSESSORS AS $40.60 PER THOUSAND OF VALUATION — MAYOR TOBIN INFORMED RATE IS 90 CENTS LOWER THAN IN 1938 — JUMP DUE TO COST OF FEBRUARY SNOWSTORM AND DROP IN VALUATION OF PROPERTY OF $41,571,500 — BUT FOR DRASTIC ECONOMIES EFFECTED BY MAYOR, RATE WOULD HAVE BEEN CONSIDERABLY HIGHER — OTHER UNAVOIDABLE EXCESSIVE BURDENS, SUCH AS WELFARE REQUIREMENTS AND SHRINKAGE IN GAS TAX DISTRIBUTION, ALSO AFFECTED RATE.

Mayor Tobin was notified, on June 23, by the Board of Assessors that the tax rate for 1940 had been established at $40.60, an increase of 70 cents over the rate fixed in 1939. While regretting that the 1940 rate was higher than that of the previous year, the Mayor expressed satisfaction in that the rate declared by the assessors was 90 cents lower than that forecast early in the year by the financial officers of the city.

After examining the schedules presented by the assessors the Mayor stated that the total levy on the taxpayers for 1940 was $60,219,320.70, a reduction of $620,000 from the levy in 1939. The Mayor also stated that the total assessed valuation of the city for the current year was $1,483,234,500, a reduction of $41,571,500 from the valuation declared in the previous year. This total loss is distributed as follows:

Real Estate	$40,030,200
Personal Property	1,541,300
Total	$41,571,500

The assessed valuation for 1940 is the lowest total assessment to be made in the city since 1917 and represents a reduction of practically $500,000,000 from the peak valuation of the city declared in 1930.

Factors in Increase.

According to the Mayor the increase in the year's rate is directly attributable to the following factors:

1. 1940 snow-removal costs roughly $700,000 in excess of similar expenses in 1939.
2. Cash available from distribution by the Commonwealth of gasoline tax receipts $1,194,300 less than in 1939.
3. Borrowings for Public Welfare and other purposes, which serve to reduce the total tax levy, $2,235,000 less in 1940 than in the previous year.
4. Largest reduction in assessed valuations since 1934.

The Mayor stated that the full effect of the foregoing factors had been offset in part by the following favorable items:

1. An increase of approximately $1,500,000 in estimated departmental receipts. Due to improved procedure at the Public Welfare Department in billing the Commonwealth for reimbursement in welfare cases, in which part of the expense is shared by the state, increased returns of a sizable amount are anticipated. In addition, increased revenues are anticipated from the new license and fee schedule, since 1940 will be the first full year in which these increases will be effective.
2. Reductions totaling $822,000 in assessments levied on the city by the Commonwealth. These assessments include the State Tax, Elevated Deficit, and Metropolitan District Assessments.
3. A reduction of $230,000 in appropriations for redemption of debt and interest payments.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"
From Boston Centennial Poem by
NATHAN HASKEL DOLE.

RULES AND REGULATIONS GOVERNING THE TRANSPORTATION OF KEROSENE AND FUEL OIL THROUGH THE SUMNER VEHICULAR TUNNEL.

(a) No person shall transport these fluids through the tunnel except in a tank truck approved by the Department of Public Safety of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. A certificate denoting such approval shall be posted in a protected place near the driver's seat on the vehicle for which it was issued.

(b) Toll charges for vehicles transporting these fluids must be paid by presenting, to the tollman, tickets purchased at the Cashier's Office of the Administration Building, located at the Boston Plaza. No cash will be accepted as payment of toll charges for this type of vehicle.

(c) The driver of a vehicle transporting these fluids must carry a bill of lading or other shipping paper defining such fluids and giving the flash-point or flash-point range as determined by the Tagliabue or other standard type of open cup tester.

(d) Bills of lading or other shipping papers must be exhibited on demand to the employees of the Public Works Department at tunnel entrances. The department reserves the right to take a sample of the contents of a tank truck for examination and test.

Nothing in these regulations shall prevent any employee of the Public Works Department from refusing to admit a tank truck through the tunnel, if, in his opinion, such truck would cause undue delay to the tunnel patrons or constitute a hazard to life, limb or property.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land for sewerage works to be constructed as follows:

The right and easement is taken to lay and maintain sewerage works in the following described lands, exclusive of any interest in trees, buildings or other structures standing thereon, reserving to the owners thereof the right to use the lands for any purpose except such as may injure or obstruct said works, and except for placing or maintaining any structure on said lands not authorized in writing by the Mayor of said city; trees, buildings or other structures standing upon or affixed to the land in which an easement is hereby taken are to be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said taking for the purpose of constructing said sewerage works. Said lands are in that part of Boston formerly Dorchester, and are bounded as follows:

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being the private way known as Barna road, bounded:

Southwesterly by Galty road, sixty-five and 2-100 feet; northerly by the northerly line of Barna road, twenty-three and 92-100 feet on a curve of fifteen feet radius; northwesterly by the northwesterly line of said road, three hundred seventy and 18-100 feet; westerly by the westerly line of said road, twenty-four and 38-100 feet on a curve of fifteen feet radius; northeasterly by Range road, sixty-nine and 77-100 feet; southerly by the southerly line of Barna road, thirty and 32-100 feet on a curve of twenty feet radius; southeasterly by the southeasterly line of said road, three hundred seventy and 61-100 feet; and easterly by the easterly line of said road, twenty-three and 20-100 feet on a curve of fifteen feet radius, containing fourteen thousand three hundred and twenty-two square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Range road, bounded:

AIRPLANES OF PAN-AMERICAN AIRWAYS TO REFUEL AT BOSTON.

Arrangements have been made with Pan-American Airways by his Honor the Mayor to refuel their clipper ships carrying approximately sixty-four passengers, at that portion of Deer Island southeast of Shirley Gut. At mean low water there is a depth of 16 feet.

In order to anchor these ships it will be necessary to place two seaplane standard moorings which weigh approximately 4,200 pounds. These moorings are to be anchored in Shirley Gut northwest of the northern tip of Deer Island.

It is intended that there shall be three refuelings a week, the first one to be Wednesday, June 26.

Permission has been requested by Pan-American Airways of the C. A. A. to allow the landing and taking on of passengers. By using Shirley Gut the Airways save about 200 miles and can take a larger load, carrying approximately 1,200 pounds more.

This use of Boston Harbor by the Pan-American Airways during the summer months will undoubtedly result in more dependable non-stop service to Horta, Portugal, one of the few remaining non-belligerent countries in Europe. It is especially desirable, in view of the situation abroad, that this service be made more dependable and that every advantage be taken of increased carrying capacity of the clipper ships.

Also, on the return trip, when weather conditions are bad at New York, it will enable landings to be made here instead of having to proceed to Baltimore or points south.

The site chosen at Shirley Gut, near Deer Island, affords excellent shelter, anchorage and access to the deeper channels of the harbor. If the War Department plans for dredging from Shirley Gut to the Boston Airport are passed by Congress and approved by the President, direct connection from the transatlantic planes to the domestic planes operating from Boston Airport will be afforded at the Boston Airport.

The temporary location chosen at Shirley Gut, near Deer Island, is only fifteen minutes by automobile from the Boston Airport and twenty-five minutes from the center of the city.

PROCEEDINGS OF SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

June 3, 1940

A regular meeting of the School Committee of the City of Boston was held in the Administration Building 15 Beacon Street, at 7:20 o'clock P. M., the Chairman presiding.

Present: Messrs. Lee, McDevitt, Norton, Sullivan, and White.

APPROVAL OF MINUTES

The reading of the minutes of the previous meeting was omitted, the Committee approving them as printed.

APPROVAL OF STATE-AIDED CLASSES

Communications were received from Robert O. Small, Director, Division of Vocational Education, Department of Education, under date of Apr. 17, 1940, reporting that the establishment of certain departments in the Boston Evening Distributive Occupations School has been approved in accordance with plans set forth and submitted in memoranda on file in that office.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

The thirteen orders laid over at the meeting of May 20, 1940 (see pp. 63-73) making changes in and additions to the Authorized List of Text Books, were taken up and passed collectively and unanimously.

BUDGET AND ANNUAL APPROPRIATION FOR MAINTENANCE EXCLUSIVE OF "ALTERATIONS, REPAIRS, FURNITURE AND FIXTURES"

The Business Manager submitted, in compliance with the rules, the budget and proposed annual appropriation order, as follows:

To the School Committee of the City of Boston:

In compliance with the rules of the School Committee, I submit herewith budget and annual appropriation order for the fiscal year 1940 to provide for the maintenance of the Boston Public Schools covering the costs of administration, instruction, supervision of instruction, promotion of health, custodians' services, fuel and light, supplies, portable educational equipment (commercial machines, typewriters, duplicating machines, hand tools, etc.) and incidentals; and the cost of sundry other services and expenses, exclusive of "Alterations, repairs, furniture and fixtures."

Chapter 206 of the Special Acts of 1919 as amended allowed the School Committee a tax limit appropriating power, based on the average valuation for three years less abatements, controlling nine specific items. Chapter 206 also gave the Committee power to appropriate unexpended balances and estimated income (refer to budget for the year 1935 and budgets for years prior thereto).

Chapter 284 of the Acts of 1935 eliminated tax limit appropriations for the year 1935 only and allowed the School Committee to appropriate for that year $10.07 on each one thousand dollars of the Assessors' valuation of taxable property for the year 1935, and in addition thereto, the unexpended balances and the estimated income.

Chapter 224 of the Acts of 1936 eliminated tax limit appropriating power based on average valuation for three years for all items except the following:

(1) For the construction and furnishing of new school buildings, both temporary and permanent, including the taking of land therefor, and for schoolyards and the preparing of schoolyards for use, and for rent of hired school accommodations (50 cents per $1,000 on average valuation for three years less abatements).

(2) For the alteration and repair of school buildings and for furniture, fixtures and means of escape in case of fire, and for fire protection for existing buildings, and for improving existing schoolyards (85 cents per $1,000 on average valuation for three years less abatements).

For all other school purposes, except as indicated above, chapter 224 of the Acts of 1936 provides for the following appropriating power:

(1) The sum of $15,160,000.

(2) The unexpended appropriation balances.

(3) Estimated income for the year plus the excess of income for the year immediately preceding, if any.

The existing appropriating power is covered in sections 1, 2 and 3 of chapter 224 of the Acts of 1936. The final paragraph in section 2 of said chapter 224 reads as follows: "Nothing in this section shall prevent the mayor, on request of the School Committee, from recommending and the city council from passing additional appropriations for school purposes." Under the provisions of prior legislation going back over a long period of years, the School Committee was empowered to appeal directly to the Legislature for increased appropriating power.

DETAILED ESTIMATES

The detailed estimates show classification by the ranks and the salaries of all permanent and temporary personnel, separated for each school, department and activity. The vacancies reported by the Superintendent of Schools as at October 31, 1939, are shown separately. The allowance for supplies for each school, department or activity is recorded. The detailed estimates afford the opportunity of studying school costs in detail as there is presented a collection of facts properly organized for inspection and discussion.

REDUCTION OF EXPENSES AND AMOUNT RAISED BY TAXATION

The above table shows a decrease of $81,495.33 in the total appropriations for the year 1940 as compared with the total appropriations for the year 1939. Notwithstanding the cumulative cost of annual increments the appropriation item for "Salaries of Principals, Teachers, Members of the Supervising Staff and Others" for the year 1940 is $100,000 less than the expenditures for the year 1939 and approximately $211,000 less than the expenditures for the year 1938. These reductions are due mainly to a decline in school population, and as a consequence the non-replacement of many teachers who have resigned, retired or died. Many other economies have also been effected—four assistant superintendents are now employed where formerly six were employed; supervisory positions below the rank of director have not been filled in certain departments; the teaching load in the high schools has been increased; the kindergartens have been reorganized by advancing the entering age limit; the program for school centers has been curtailed; the playground program has been curtailed, but not in the congested districts where play space is not available; all economies consistent with efficiency have been made in appropriations for books, portable equipment and supplies. There have been increases in certain other

APPROPRIATION ORDERS

The estimated cost of maintenance of the Boston Public Schools for the fiscal year 1940 is $15,646,132.35, to provide for the cost of administration, instruction, supervision of instruction, promotion of health, services of custodians, fuel and light, books, supplies, portable educational equipment (commercial machines, typewriters, science apparatus, manual training tools, equipment for custodians, duplicating machines and other portable equipment) and incidentals; and the cost of sundry other services and expenses, exclusive of "Alterations and Repairs, Furniture and Fixtures," for which a separate budget is made. At the meeting of April 29 the School Committee, on the recommendation of the Business Manager, passed an appropriation "on account," totaling $6,539,000, as under the provisions of chapter 320 of the Acts of 1889 the School Committee, pending the adoption of its budget for the fiscal year, may make expenditures which shall not be in excess of one-third of the total appropriations for the fiscal year immediately preceding. I therefore recommend the passage of the accompanying order appropriating the sum of $9,107,132.35 in addition to the sum appropriated "on account" by the School Committee at the meeting of April 29, viz., $6,539,000.

amount raised by taxation for the year 1939 as compared with the year 1938.

COST OF ANNUAL INCREMENTS AND OTHER INFORMATION

The cost of annual increments for the year 1940 for teachers and other employees on sliding scales will approximate $172,000. This cost is computed on the following basis. With few exceptions men teachers receive an annual increment of $144 and women teachers receive an annual increment of $96:

(a) All teachers who reached the maximum of their respective ranks during the period February 1 through December 1 of the fiscal year preceding create an additional cost in the current fiscal year, for example: A teacher who reached the maximum February 1 of the fiscal year immediately preceding would cost in the current fiscal year 1-12 of the annual increment allowed his rank. A teacher who reached the maximum March 1 of the fiscal year immediately preceding would cost in the current fiscal year 2-12 of the annual increment allowed his rank. A teacher who reached the maximum September 1 of the fiscal year immediately preceding would cost in the current fiscal year 8-12 of the annual increment allowed his rank.

(b) Teachers who did not reach the maximum of their respective ranks during the fiscal year immediately preceding, and whether or not they reach such maximum during the current fiscal year, would cost each a full annual increment.

(c) Teachers newly appointed during the fiscal year immediately preceding will cost each during the current fiscal year an annual increment or fraction thereof, dependent on the dates on which they received permanent appointment.

In considering the cost of annual increments the length of schedules must be taken into consideration—for example, teachers of the elementary grades require eleven years to reach the maximum of their ranks; teachers of the Junior High grades require eleven years to reach the maximum of their ranks; men teachers in high schools require thirteen years to reach the maximum of the rank of Junior Master; women teachers in high schools require fourteen years to reach the maximum of the rank of Assistant; Sub-masters in elementary and junior high schools require thirteen years to reach the maximum; Master's Assistants in elementary and intermediate schools (women) require fourteen years to reach the maximum; Assistants, kindergartens, one session, require seven years to reach the maximum; Assistants, kindergartens, two sessions, require eight years to reach the maximum; Shop instructors require eleven years to reach the maximum; Shop foremen require eleven years to reach the maximum.

In a school system as large as Boston's there is usually a number of vacancies existing due to various causes at the time the basic pay roll requirements are estimated. These vacancies are usually covered by temporary teachers. Vacancies are also created when certain promotions are made.

items, such as fuel and light and supplies, equipment and incidentals. The increase in fuel and light has been brought about by increased prices to be paid for fuel (coal and oil). The reason for the increase in supplies, equipment and incidentals may easily be determined by comparing the various sub-items for 1940 with the 1939 expenditures for such sub-items.

The amount to be raised by taxation in 1940 for maintenance and for land and buildings for schools will be approximately $105,631.10 more than the amount raised by taxation for the same purposes in 1939. This is due mainly to reduced credits; for example: the unexpended balance in appropriations under control of the School Committee at the end of the year 1938 was $227,938.61; the unexpended balance at the end of the year 1939 was $107,373.89; the excess of income for the year 1938 over the amount estimated was $49,248.67; the excess of income for the year 1939 over the amount estimated was $7,873.51. The unexpended balance in the Department of School Buildings appropriation at the end of the year 1938 was $62,233.29; the unexpended balance at the end of the year 1939 was $46,991.45. While the increase in the amount to be raised by taxation for the year 1940 over the year 1939 is $105,631.10, there was a decrease of $392,609.85 in the Savings will be made during the year due to several causes. It is expected that approximately $40,000 will be saved due to the fact that the amounts deducted from the salaries of teachers on leaves of absence are more than ample to pay the cost of substitute teachers. Under existing conditions many positions will not be filled for the reason that there has been a substantial decrease in school membership, especially in the elementary schools, and also, as previously noted, the teaching load in high schools has been increased. Substantial savings in salaries will be brought about as follows: a. The non-replacement of teachers who resign, retire or die during the budgetary period. b. Replacement of teachers when necessary by the appointment of teachers on lower salaries—in most instances the minimum salaries of the various ranks. c. The making of temporary appointments instead of replacements for the whole or part of the fiscal year. In anticipation of these substantial savings a deduction of $294,413.95 has been made from the estimated total of the item "Salaries of Principals, Teachers, Members of the Supervising Staff and Others." This deduction of $294,413.95 takes into consideration the various factors heretofore referred to that bring about savings on salaries during the fiscal year. (Deductions for leaves of absence, $40,000 plus savings for other causes, $254,413.95.) The basic pay roll requirements October 31, 1939, as compared with October 31, 1938, show a drop of 64 persons (teachers and others). Approximately 150 resignations, deaths and retirements should occur during the year and of this number probably not more than 66 will be replaced with the consequence that the basic pay roll requirements October 31, 1940, should show a drop of 143 persons as compared with October 31, 1939.

RATIO (SALARIES, PENSIONS, FUEL AND LIGHT AND SUPPLIES)

Of the total amount appropriated in the budget, viz., $15,646,132.35, the division between salaries, pensions, fuel and light, supplies, equipment (commercial machines, typewriters, duplicating machines, etc.) and incidentals is as follows:

(a) Salaries of all permanent and temporary personnel	$14,341,179.55
(b) Pensions—tax levy only (paid under the provisions of non-contributory pension law in operation prior to the establishment of the contributory Boston Retirement System)	39,947.00
(c) Fuel and light, including electric current for power (including extended use of schools)	479,958.00
(d) Supplies, equipment (commercial machines, typewriters, duplicating machines, etc.) and incidentals for all purposes....	785,047.80

Total, exclusive of "Alterations, Repairs, Furniture and Fixtures" and "Lands, Plans and Construction of School Buildings" for which separate budgets are made for all items of repairs, construction, etc., including personnel employed by the Department of School Buildings ...$15,646,132.35

The above figures show that 91.7 per cent of this budget is for salaries of all permanent and temporary personnel; 0.2 per cent for pensions; 3.1 per cent for fuel and light, including electric current for power; and 5 per cent for supplies, portable educational equipment (commercial machines, typewriters, duplicating machines, hand tools, etc.) and incidental expenses.

Respectfully submitted,

Alexander M. Sullivan
Business Manager.

Following the reading of the communication from the Business Manager, Mr. Lee made the following argument in behalf of a reduction of the budget:

It was my hope that we were going to pull this budget down so as to put no greater load on the tax rate than last year.

I do not think the case is hopeless and I think the matter may be very broadly viewed.

This is a very serious matter. We are engaged in man's most important practical task: dividing up the world's output; to be sure only $15,000,000 of it, but nevertheless $15,000,000. The livelihood of many persons depends on it.

The old way of dividing property was to conquer and kill and seize. Then came a great reform. Instead of killing the man whose property he took, the conquerer made him his slave. That was a great advance, he did not kill him.

The second great advance came when men began paying the slave. Instead of having him as a worker without pay they began to pay him.

That advance put the worker in the position of the master. Being in receipt of wages for his work, the worker could go out and command the services of others. In order to make this system what it purported to be, no class was given force and dominion over any other class, but each person was free to spend and command the services of others as he wished. In this freedom to spend he was subject only to other buyers whose similar freedom might outbid him in a purchase. In his freedom to be paid what others were spending, he was subject only to other earners who might either underbid him or, by finding a bigger buyer, earn more than he. That became the system we know today, the modern system of a republic, and there is no restriction put on how a man may spend his money.

In fixing salaries here I do not think we try to make this competitive system work. I think our salaries in the school system are not following that idea of a market between free buyers and free sellers, and I think we can do much tonight to bring it within better bounds. To do otherwise is to take a step away from an interchangeable market like this, and go in the direction of a caste system which will do away with voluntary work and free opportunity, something with closed doors and restrictions between buyer and seller.

I am not at all impressed by hearing the Superintendent, and I think yourself, say that labor is not a commodity. By labor's becoming a commodity, it freed itself from slavery, from being a chattel. I say to you that labor is not only a commodity, but a commodity is labor. No one buying a slice of cheese inserts his quarter in the remainder of the loaf of cheese. He puts it into the human hand that sold him the cheese or that made the cheese. No one buying a yard of sand from a gravel bank buries his dollar bill in the bank. He gives it to the man who digs the sand or acquired title to the sand bank.

It is immaterial whether there is a physical product to show for labor and service. You are always dealing with human beings. When you purchase a commodity you are paying for the labor behind the commodity. It may be a commodity, it may be clothes, a doctor's services or a school teacher's profession. In any case it is labor.

If you take away the aspect of labor which makes it subject to market value, you take away the one thing which made labor free from the conditions of slavery.

Let us look at how the salary schedule stands now. We pay $4 a day to some cafeteria managers, and $6 a day to others. I have not found any logical reason why and I do not know that anybody knows.

We pay $5.50 a night for the extraordinarily difficult task of manager of a school center, while other managers of school centers are paid much higher. Why?

We pay $4.50 a day for school matrons.

We pay only $7 a day for payroll clerks, voucher clerks and requisition clerks in the Business Manager's department when they certify $15,000,000 worth of expenditures a year and are the phalanx of the integrity on which the School Department runs and avoids millions in waste.

We pay one set of permanent teachers in our schools $5 a day and another set more than $21 a day. Why do we pay the higher paid group $1.50 a day more than the Board of Apportionment and the Superintendent recommended for them when their salaries were fixed, after careful study, in 1925? I do not know the answer to that.

We say that we are not giving raises. As a matter of fact, the wave of high school men who came into the service up to the last five years, when the high school population was increasing—working up to the high increment placed on the high school men in 1929—means that all that wave of younger men coming up are going to achieve a higher compensation never reached before.

The Business Manager will tell you that it is that increment cost that is causing us our present difficulty. Yet we pay them salaries much above $5 a day and even above what the Board of Apportionment recommended for that class. The reason for that is something that has not been logically revealed. Furthermore, prices have gone down, so that in effect they have had a raise on top of that.

In the conference of the School Committee on February 7 of this year, one member of the Board of Apportionment, Mr. Downey, said: "If I had to start a system, I would give a single salary schedule to people with the same qualifications, the same experience and the same training."

Another member of the Board of Apportionment, Miss Mellyn, said: "There is much to be said about Mr. Downey's single-salary schedule, similarity of preparation and similarity of training to receive the same salary, whether a teacher is a first grade teacher or a high school teacher. That is something that we are thinking towards."

"The teacher of the first grade should have the salary of a master's assistant, because the teacher who starts the child's education is the teacher who lays the foundation of his entire success. I think it takes a genius to teach Grade I. I think anyone who can take a text book in his hand, under good leadership, can be taught, but the great place for teaching mastery and master teaching is Grade I, where you teach a child to read. A teacher who can do that successfully is worth anything we can pay."

She mentions $3,072 as the maximum for that work, and says:

"I would make the first grade a promotion to which teachers would be appointed through ratings and in which we would give value to experience, and then I would pay those master teachers who had been selected from the group because of their decided ability for working with the little children, the same pay that we give to a woman assistant in high school."

Mr. Downey again stated, referring to himself in the third person:

"Mr. Downey stated that if we were building a school system entirely fresh, without any consideration for tradition or for the established policy, he would favor a single-salary schedule, that the people who had the same experience, the same training or education, and the same qualifications, should receive the same salary."

And Mr. Muldoon said: "I agree with Mr. Downey, conditionally." Dr. Gillis was not there at that time.

It became clear to me that the Board of Superintendents does think we might well revise salary schedules, or that such revisions are a praiseworthy thing. And yet they do not recommend it. I recommend not an abrupt adjustment but a gradual approach toward it.

If we do not make this adjustment, we will find that we are taking money out of the taxpayers' pockets and paying a lot of it to a few teachers, thus failing to employ many more teachers whom we should have employed had we not given so large a share of our salaries to a few. Furthermore, we leave the taxpayer without the money in his pocket to employ in other services and other trades those unable to find employment in teaching positions. So that we are making a very sticky situation out of the market, which affects all parties concerned. I think we should know that our business is to get as much teaching service as we can for the children at as low a cost as we can and still attract the sort of teachers that we need.

American business has been built up by business men trying to get the best product and sell it to the consumer at the cheapest cost—trying to, or, by competition being compelled to. That has built up our present civilization. I think it is a good way to do.

I know that we have plenty of trouble in the present situation of the market. We are undergoing a depression and it is not as it should be. We are trying to overcome that by courses in economics, by which the next generation may be able to handle its credit structure and its banking structure in a better manner. We are beginning a job survey to try to find out what the opportunities are. We are trying to shape our education so that we can take advantage of the market and not fight it. In apportioning our own money we are ignoring the market.

It seems to me that this much must be said: If we pay one group of teachers $5 a day and one group more than $21 a day one of two things must be true. Either we are grossly exploiting those to whom we pay $5 a day, or we are greatly overpaying those who get $21 a day. I do not see how you can put those two salaries side by side and claim there is anything in market availability which would warrant such a difference between the maximum paid to our elementary teachers and the maximum paid to our high school teachers. New York pays very high salaries to teachers, but nevertheless does not allow as great a spread between the high school maximum and the elementary school maximum as we allow here.

In some cities, a flat maximum is paid in the elementary, intermediate and high school.

I think we have a situation so much at variance with the market system that we might well revise our ideas with the good sense of the market in mind, which is a system devised to avoid violence in dividing up the earth's property.

I cannot but come to the conclusion that this School Committee is not trying to make work the competitive market system on which this country is founded. If a market system is no good, let us give up the market system and start socialism. If it is good, let us carry it out.

As we go over these items I would ask the Committee to note that in a very minor way I have made suggestions which would tend to approximate market values a little more, and incidentally make a more equitable arrangement of salaries. A few of the items do not touch on this salary question, but the bulkier ones do.

I make an appeal to the Committee to proceed according to the market system so long as that remains the best kind of society to have, and try to make it work.

In order to reduce expenditures we have cut out some of our summer playground program; we have cut down on our children's home gardening program, our school center program, and our trade courses. We should have three or four trade schools to meet the modern demands. We are buying less service for the student. We are taking the taxpayers' money and not using it to the best advantage. We are paying part of that money for salaries where we could get the services of teachers for less and we could use the money for improved or extended instruction. We are paying more than we have to pay for certain kinds of services and at the same time are being unduly short on other kinds of school service and on other school salaries.

I would ask the Committee to let us get our tax load down to what it was last year, by reductions in some salaries and by the elimination of one item that I have noted here and the transfer of another. Different points will come up as we go over the different items.

The Secretary read the estimated cost of maintenance, by items, as submitted by the Business Manager, as follows:

Mr. Lee moved that the item—Salaries of administrative officers, clerks, stenographers, and other employees, $349,697.15—be reduced by $11,231, said reduction to be effected by a small percentage reduction in the salaries of those persons receiving higher than $4,000, provided that said reduction shall not bring the salaries lower than $4,000. Mr. Lee would leave it to the discretion of the Board of Apportionment to take care of that.

The motion failed to pass by the following vote:

YEAS—Mr. Lee—1.

NAYS—Messrs. McDevitt, Norton, Sullivan and White—4.

Mr. Lee moved that the item—Salaries of principals, teachers, members of the supervising staff and others, $12,273,077.34—be reduced by $20,000, said saving to be accomplished by postponing the opening of the evening schools, with the exception of the trade schools—for approximately one month.

The motion failed to pass by the following vote:

YEAS—Mr. Lee—1.

NAYS—Messrs. McDevitt, Norton, Sullivan, and White—4.

Mr. Lee moved that the same item—Salaries of principals, teachers, etc.—be reduced by the sum of $60,000, to be effected by a reduction in the salaries of high school men teachers who are on or near the maximum salary, with corresponding reduction for teachers of the same ranks in technical schools.

Mr. Lee stated that he would not be opposed to making a contract which would permit a higher salary after Jan. 1, 1941. He stated that if the Committee wishes to agree to to modify that reduction after January 1 of the ensuing year, that would meet with his approval.

The motion failed to pass by the following vote:

YEAS—Mr. Lee—1.

Mr. Lee moved that the same item—Salaries of principals, teachers, etc.—be increased in the sum of $5,000 to provide for an increase in the salaries of kindergarten teachers.

NAYS—Messrs. McDevitt, Norton, Sullivan, and White—4.

Mr. Lee moved that the item—Salaries of school physicians, salaries of school nurses and care of teeth, $221,325—be reduced by $2400, this saving to be effected by the discontinuance of the services of three supervising school physicians for the remainder of the current school year.

SUMMARY OF FINAL APPROPRIATIONS

Appropriations "on account" on April 29, 1940	$6,539,000.00
Final appropriations	9,107,132.35
Total appropriations for maintenance, exclusive of "Alterations, Repairs, Furniture and Fixtures"	$15,646,132.35

The Chairman stated the question, i.e., the acceptance of the budget with detailed estimates, and the passage of the order making appropriation in the sum of $9,107,132.35, which, added to the appropriation on account—namely, $6,539,000 made at the meeting of Apr. 29, 1940—makes the total appropriation for the current financial year $15,646,132.35.

The preliminary estimates were accepted by the following vote:

YEAS—Messrs. McDevitt, Norton, Sullivan and White—4.

NAYS—Mr. Lee—1.

Mr. Lee stated that he did not wish to vote in favor of the budget if unamended.

The annual appropriation order in the sum of $9,107,132.35, which is in addition to the sum appropriated on account on Apr. 29, 1940, $6,539,000, was passed by the following vote:

YEAS—Messrs. McDevitt, Norton, Sullivan and White—4.

NAYS—Mr. Lee—1.

Chairman: In connection with the budget, I wish to make the following statement for the Committee:

The total appropriations for the current year are $81,495 less than the total appropriations for the year 1939. Notwithstanding the cumulative cost of annual increments, the total of the salaries of principals, teachers, members of the supervising staff and others is $100,000 less than the expenditures for last year and approximately $211,000 less than the expenditures for the year 1938.

These reductions are due mainly to a decline in the school population, with the result that many teachers who have resigned, retired or died have not been replaced. Many other economies have also been effected. Supervisory positions have not been filled in certain departments; the teaching load in the high schools has been increased and the kindergartens have been reorganized by advancing the entering age limit. All economies consistent with efficiency have been made in the appropriations for books, portable equipment and supplies. The fuel and light appropriation has been substantially increased and this is brought about by higher prices to be paid for coal and fuel oil this year.

In anticipation of savings to be made during the year the sum of $294,414 has been deducted from the estimated total of the salaries of principals, teachers and members of the supervising staff as it stood at the beginning of the year. The pay roll requirements for teachers and others at the end of this year will show a drop of 148 persons as compared with the pay roll requirements of two years ago.

The amount to be raised by taxation in 1940 for maintenance and for land and buildings for schools will be approximately $105,631.10 more than the amount raised by taxation for the same purposes in 1939. This is due mainly to reduced credits; for example: the unexpended balance in appropriations under control of the School Committee at the end of the year 1938 was $227,938.61; the unexpended balance at the end of the year 1939 was $107,373.89; the excess of income for the year 1933 over the amount estimated was $49,248.67; the excess of income for the year 1939 over the amount estimated was $7,873.51. The unexpended balance in the Department of School Buildings appropriation at the end of the year 1938 was $62,233.29; the unexpended balance at the end of the year 1939 was $46,991.45. While the increase in the amount to be raised by taxation for the year 1940 over the year 1939 is $105,631.10, there was a decrease of $392,609.85 in the amount raised by taxation for the year 1939 as compared with the year 1938.

Mr. Norton: As I understand, this is the final budget action. As a member of the Committee I want to say to you publicly, Mr. Chairman, that I appreciate the manner in which you have conducted the hearings on this important matter. I appreciate the fair manner in which you have given an opportunity to everybody to be heard. For the first time in the history of the Boston School System representatives of teachers, parents, taxpayers and all other interests were given a chance to be present at the budget conferences and listened in with us.

I want to thank the Business Manager, the Superintendent the Secretary, Miss Cronin, the Board of Apportionment, and all concerned with the preparation of this budget. I think it has been one of the most businesslike Committee affairs that I have ever attended. I think each member of the Committee is to be congratulated for the businesslike methods that have been pursued here in the work on this budget.

I also want to congratulate Joe Lee. Everything that he suggests has been thought-provoking and he has always shown himself a gentleman.

The Committee adjourned.

Attest:

ELLEN M. CRONIN,
Secretary.

BOSTON AS A TOWN.

From its foundation until 1755, or a period of 125 years, Boston was not only the most outstanding but the most populous town in the American colonies. In 1760, Philadelphia's population was ahead, viz., 18,756, Boston's then being 15,631 and New York's about 14,000. In the last year of town government, viz., 1821, Boston's population was about 45,000 and its public debt $100,000, all incurred for new county buildings.

The history of Boston as a town during a period of nearly two centuries surpasses in civic interest that of Boston as a city because of the untiring zeal and successful efforts of its townsmen to realize more of true democracy than had ever been attained before. Their obligations were held as sacred as their liberties.

Boston's observance of the 157th annual municipal observance of the birthday of our nation, July Fourth, was observed this year with special significance because of the conditions of the world and the relations of our country to those conditions.

Following these ceremonies there was a short parade to Boston Common to the flagpole where patriotic services were held and the flag raised. One of the special features for this year, especially planned by Mayor Tobin, was a halt at the Granary Burying Ground in honor of the signers of the Declaration of Independence who are buried there. These were John Hancock, Samuel Adams and Robert Treat Paine. During the remainder of the day the program arranged by the Public Celebrations Department was carried out according to plans, including the reading of the Declaration of Independence from the balcony of the Old State House, by James J. DEPARTMENT OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

BOSTON, June 6, 1940.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

MY DEAR MR. MAYOR,—I respectfully request the approval of your Honor to the awarding of a contract for boiler insurance to John C. Paige & Co., 40 Broad street, Boston, in the sum of $8,835.55. After taking advantage of the returned premium on the old policy, amounting to $1,499.53, the net cost of the new policy for the three-year period from December 31, 1939, up to and including December 31, 1942, is, as stated above, $8,835.55.

No advantage to the city will be obtained by publicly advertising this contract, as the rates on insurance of this type are standard in all companies authorized to insure and inspect boilers in the State of Massachusetts.

The last contract expired on May 18, 1940, and the rewriting of this policy as of December 31, 1939, is due to the fact that on January 1, 1940, percentage allowances for suspension periods were reduced so that by rewriting, approximately $300 has been saved for the city.

Another advantage in rewriting this contract is that it permits the city to make additions and cancellations for the next three years to the extent of 2½ per cent saving on any single transaction. In the future the new policy will run

TRANSFERS IN APPROPRIATIONS.

City Auditor Charles J. Fox announces the following transfers in appropriations in departments of the City of Boston and County of Suffolk approved by his Honor the Mayor:

BOARD OF APPEAL.

BOSTON, June 11, 1940.

FRANCIS X. LANG,

Budget Commissioner.

DEAR SIR,—For the reasons as below explained, will you kindly approve and forward to the Mayor the following request for transfer not within the appropriations of the Board of Appeal:

From the appropriation for From Other Available Sources, Reserve Fund, $50, to the appropriation for D-1, Office Supplies, $50.

At present we have unencumbered under D-1, Office Supplies, $130, and we are in urgent need of 1,000 No. 8 envelopes and within a month we will be in need of 1,000 No. 13 envelopes (with city seal) from the Printing Department. The amount of this bill we estimate to be approximately $56. We estimated our 1940 needs as $275, but we were allowed under D-1 only $150. We did our best to cooperate with you to keep within said allowance, but have found it impossible and we request that we be permitted an additional appropriation of $75.

May we order the postage item immediately, as we are in urgent need of same. This amount of postage is necessitated, as a legislative act demands that we notify the public of our hearings and also notify said public of our decisions of said cases heard by the Board. Such acts compel an increase in departmental expenditures over which we have no control.

Respectfully,

WILLIAM H. ELLIS,
Chairman.

The above transfer was made by the City Auditor with the approval of the Mayor July 1, 1940.

INSTITUTIONS DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, June 24, 1940.

FRANCIS X. LANG,

Budget Commissioner.

DEAR SIR,—For the reasons as below explained, will you kindly approve and forward to the Mayor the following request for transfer within the appropriations of the Institutions Department:

From the appropriation for Long Island Hospital, B-39, General Repairs, $90, to the appropriation for Steamer "Stephen J. O'Meara," C-13, Tools and Instruments, $90.

From B-39, General Repairs, $200, to E-10, Electrical, $200.

C-13 has been overdrawn due to necessity of purchase of fire hose in emergency, at a cost of $90. None had been purchased since 1937.

E-10 allotment of $200 was approved January 31 to purchase materials for lighting system as required by Federal authority, but funds were not provided in the budget.

Respectfully,

HUGH J. CAMPBELL,
Commissioner.

The above transfers were made by the City Auditor with the approval of the Mayor July 1, 1940.

BOSTON, June 24, 1940.

FRANCIS X. LANG,

Budget Commissioner.

DEAR SIR,—For the reasons as below explained, will you kindly approve and forward to the Mayor the following request for transfer within the appropriations of the Institutions Department:

From the appropriation for Long Island Hospital, A-1, Permanent Employees, $3,850, to the appropriation for Central Office, B-4, Transportation of Persons, $3,850.

Appropriation for transportation, which was lowest in many years, has proved insufficient, and bills are being held up by City Auditor.

Respectfully,

HUGH J. CAMPBELL,
Commissioner.

The above transfer was made by the City Auditor with the approval of the Mayor July 1, 1940.

BOSTON, June 24, 1940.

FRANCIS X. LANG,

Budget Commissioner.

DEAR SIR,—For the reasons as below explained, will you kindly approve and forward to the Mayor the following request for transfer within the appropriations of the Institutions Department:

From the appropriation for Long Island Hospital, B-39, General Repairs, $200, to the appropriation for Steamer "Stephen J. O'Meara," E-1, Building, $200.

Of the $200 requested, $157 is to cover cost of steam jet nozzles and strainers on requisition No. 32, order No. 13561, which is being held by the City Auditor on account of lack of funds. It is impossible to anticipate just what parts will be needed for repairs to steamer and our appropriation proved insufficient.

For explanation of the urgent need of these parts, see letter from Chief Engineer, copy of which is attached.

Respectfully,

HUGH J. CAMPBELL,
Commissioner.

The above transfer was made by the City Auditor with the approval of the Mayor July 1, 1940.

REPORT OF HELEN F. McCAFFREY, SUPERVISING NURSE, DEPARTMENT OF SCHOOL HYGIENE, ON ATTENDANCE AT BIENNIAL CONVENTION OF THREE NATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS FOR NURSING, AT PHILADELPHIA, MAY 13 TO 16.

The following is the report of Helen F. McCaffrey Supervising Nurse, Department of School Hygiene, on attendance at National Biennial Nursing Convention at Philadelphia.

The National Biennial Nursing Convention was held in Philadelphia, Penn., May 13 to 17, 1940. The meetings were attended by more than 7,500 registered nurses from the United States. The organizations participating were: (1) The American Nurses' Association; (2) The National League of Nursing Education; and (3) The National Organization for Public Health Nursing. The principal meetings were held at Convention Hall and group meetings were at the various downtown hotels.

The formal opening was held on Monday, May 13, at Convention Hall. The invocation, greetings from public officials and addresses by the presidents of the three organizations saw the convention under way. The theme of the convention was "Nursing in a Democracy." The principal address of this meeting was delivered by Mildred Fairchild, Ph. D., Director of Social Economy and Social Research, Bryn Mawr College. Her subject was "The Contribution of the Professions to a Democracy." In part, she stated that "it is the duty of the professions in a democracy to apply their special training and knowledge to the solution of the major problems of the people." Using the health problem of the country in illustration, Doctor Fairchild described the obligation of the professional worker:

"As government provides increasing stimulus and support for new health programs, new knowledge and new duties are required of us. If our political leaders are uninformed about health matters the fault rests squarely at the door of the professional experts in their communities. We in the professional fields must concern ourselves with the technic of government administration. Where knowledge is found, there must reside responsibility for its application."

The speakers were unanimous in emphasizing the need of more effective liaison between school and community, more parent-teacher organizations with school physicians and nurses as members, more supervised recreational facilities, particularly for girls, and a promotion of a more adequate housing situation that would make for better home life.

I attended all conferences pertaining to school nursing under the guidance of the National Organization for Public Health Nursing. These conferences related to "Nursing in Elementary and Secondary Schools." A high point of the meetings was a panel on "How Can School and Community Join Forces to Serve the School Child?" Informative discussion showed that the public health administration of our Federal Government and the health departments of our states, cities and towns, were alive to the necessity of building up—through education and clinical facilities—"sound minds and sound bodies" in our men and women of tomorrow. They recognized the school nurse as the most important educational factor in the health lives of school children because of her daily contact in school through classroom inspections and health talks, and also because of the very important and very effective method of health education, namely, visitations to the homes of the children to procure the correction of remedial physical defects and for the prevention of communicable diseases. The discussion also recognized the necessity of the school nurse keeping abreast of the times in modern methods of preventive medicine as outlined in the Federal Government's program, namely, the ultimate elimination of tuberculosis, diphtheria and other communicable diseases of childhood. Proper supervision of the school nurse was stressed to develop in her health program a positive health consciousness in school personnel and to stimulate interest and promote active participation in health activities. A resolution was passed that the National Organization for Public Health Nursing include in its promotional work the stimulation of interest of educational authorities in having health records routinely transferred when pupils go from one school to another. This matter is to be taken up with the American Association of School Administrators. (This method is practiced in Boston and in many other cities and towns in Massachusetts.)

The chairman of the Joint Committee on Community Nursing Service summarized the objectives of organized nursing in this project as an attempt to formulate and carry out a plan by which well-prepared nurses may provide their services to all patients who need them under conditions which will allow for satisfaction in workmanship to the nurse.

The principal speaker at the session on "Newer Knowledge in Nutrition," stated that the purpose of nutrition education is to add life to our years not years to our life. The adequacy of diets parallels income. One study revealed that two thirds of the diets analyzed were deficient in vitamin A; one half were deficient in calcium, iron, vitamins B and C; and fewer were low in protein, phosphorus and vitamin G. Foods to be stressed in the average diet include milk, green leafy vegetables, potatoes, legumes and whole grain cereals.

Another speaker, in discussing the "Preparation of the Nurse for Leadership in a Democracy," stressed the need for nurses to make themselves familiar with democratic processes by learning such technics as parliamentary procedure and by accepting jury service, by reading to become informed, by attending professional meetings, and by entering into the daily life of the community.

At the closing meeting of the convention—the stirring Red Cross nursing program—the scarlet-lined capes of Red Cross nurses in uniform threw a vivid splash of color across the huge auditorium of Convention Hall, draped with the flags of our Country and the Red Cross. Mrs. August Belmont, well known for her long service for the Red Cross in cooperation with nurses and lay people, reminded nurses again of their pledge to carry aid to the stricken. Her plea for unity of purpose and unselfish sharing with those who are in terrible need was reiterated by other speakers.

Respectfully submitted,

HELEN F. McCAFFREY,
Supervising Nurse.

MASSACHUSETTS BAY COLONY.

The first chartered colony in New England, charter granted by Charles I on March 4, 1629. About a year before, a patent had been granted to six prominent men of Dorchester, west of England, among whom was Capt. John Endicott. He sailed in June, 1628, with a party of fifty or sixty persons, arriving in September and settling at Naumkeag, afterward named Salem. In the spring of 1629, the Bay Company fitted out three ships conveying about four hundred persons and arriving at Salem in June. Endicott sent a small party to effect a settlement on the Bay in Mishawum, afterward named by the settlers Charlestown, the first town in New England to assume the town polity, Plymouth and Salem being governed by a governor and council. Endicott was appointed in London as the first resident governor on April 30, 1629. The Massachusetts Bay Company was reorganized in London on October 20, 1629, when John Winthrop was chosen as governor. He arrived at Salem on June 12, 1630, soon proceeded to Charlestown with a large following and finding that place unsuitable, finally settled in Boston. Winthrop served thirteen years as governor in four different periods ending in 1649 and Endicott fifteen years at various times ending in 1665. Other governors were Thomas Dudley, Richard Bellingham, John Haynes, Henry Vane, John Leverett and Simon Bradstreet, the latter serving twelve years until 1692 when the Bay Colony and the Plymouth Colony were merged, becoming the Royal Province of Massachusetts Bay, which existed eighty-two years to 1774, the governors being appointed by the King.

The name, Massachusetts, is Indian and signifies "near the big hills."

NAMING OF JAMES McHUGH SQUARE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, June 18, 1940.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I am returning herewith without my signature the order of your Honorable Body naming the square formed by the intersection of Bournedale road, Bourne street and Northbourne road the James McHugh square.

It is my opinion that the traditional method of naming squares for those who died in the service of our country or from injuries received from such service should be followed. Any other course would, in the long run, promote confusion in the naming of squares.

I therefore veto the inclosed order passed by your Honorable Body on June 3, 1940.

Respectfully,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

CHANGING NAME OF WESTBOURNE ROAD.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, June 21, 1940.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication of Board of Street Commissioner's Chairman relative to your order of June 3, 1940, concerning the advisability of changing the name of Westbourne road, from Florence Street East to Southbourne road, to Westbourne Circle.

Respectfully,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Street Laying-Out Department,
June 11, 1940.

To His Honor the Mayor.

From John A. Donoghue, Chairman, Board of Street Commissioners.

Subject: Request of City Council to change name of Westbourne road, from Florence Street East, to Southbourne road.

In the matter of the attached request I would say that the Board of Street Commissioners has no jurisdiction over changing the names of private ways. As Westbourne road, from Florence Street East to Southbourne road, is a private way any change in name would have to be made by the abutting owners.

Respectfully,

JOHN A. DONOGHUE, Chairman.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, June 21, 1940.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Boston City Hospital Superintendent relative to your order of May 20, 1940, concerning the giving the same consideration to employees of the City Hospital as given to employees of other departments in the matter of being allowed time off, with pay, on Saturday, or on warm days when a skeleton force is authorized.

Respectfully,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Hospital Department, June 14, 1940.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,

Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—At a meeting of the Board of Trustees held today, the following order of the City Council was presented:

"Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston City Hospital be instructed by his Honor the Mayor to immediately enforce a recent order of the Boston City Council whereby consideration should be given to employees of the City Hospital just the same as it is to employees of other departments of the city in the matter of being allowed time off, with pay, on Saturdays, or on warm days when a skeleton force is authorized."

The trustees voted to grant Saturdays off to those employees who can be spared during the summer months, without curtailment of service to our patients.

Yours very truly,

JAMES W. MANARY, M. D.,

STREETS IN WHITE CITY SECTION, WARD 19.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, June 24, 1940.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Public Works Commissioner relative to your order of June 10, 1940, concerning the making of a survey of the White City section of Ward 19 for the purpose of determining the condition of the streets in said section with a view to resurfacing as many of them as possible.

Respectfully,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department,

June 21, 1940.

To William T. Doyle, Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.
From George G. Hyland, Commissioner, Public Works Department.

Subject: Streets in White City Section.

I return herewith order in City Council that the Public Works Commissioner make a survey of the White City section of Ward 19 for the purpose of determining the condition of the streets in said section with a view to resurfacing as many of them as possible.

Upon investigation I find that the following-named streets are private ways and this department has no jurisdiction therein. The matter of acceptance should be taken up with the Board of Street Commissioners, 401 City Hall Annex, Boston.

Northbourne road, Hyde Park avenue to Bourne street. Southbourne road, Hyde Park avenue to Eastland road. Westbourne road, Southbourne road to Florence Street East. Herbert road, Eldridge to Northbourne roads. Woodbourne road, Eastland to Eastland roads. Florence Street East, Wachusett street to Southbourne road. Bourne road, Eastland to Eastland roads.

The following-named streets are public and come within the jurisdiction of this department, but the condition of same is good and no work is needed on them:

Bournedale road, Wachusett street to Northbourne road. Wachusett street, Eldridge to Southbourne roads. Eldridge road, Hyde Park avenue to Patten street. Bourne street, Walk Hill to Catherine streets.

Eastland road, Bourne to Bourne roads, has been accepted by the Board of Street Commissioners and will be constructed this year.

Commissioner of Public Works.

SURVEY OF STIMSON, GROVE AND CENTRE STREETS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, June 21, 1940.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Public Works Commissioner relative to your order of June 10, 1940, concerning the making of a survey of the area bounded by Stimson, Grove and Centre streets, Ward 20, with a view to installing water and sewer pipes and also constructing roadways and sidewalks.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department,
June 21, 1940.

William T. Doyle,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Mr. Doyle,—This is in reference to the following order that was passed in the City Council on June 10:

"Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make a survey of the area bounded by Stimson, Grove and Centre streets, Ward 20, with a view to installing water and sewer pipes and also constructing roadways and sidewalks."

All of the residences in the area referred to in the above-mentioned order are furnished at the present time with water. None of them, however, have sewerage facilities other than cesspools, nor are there any public streets in the area. Over a long period of time various residents in the area have advocated and petitioned for the installation of sewers and the laying out and construction of the streets as public highways.

This department has no authority to construct the streets until they have been ordered to be laid out and constructed by the Board of Street Commissioners. It is my understanding that the Street Commissioners will not accept the streets in the area as public highways, as most of them are only 15 feet wide and, to the best of my knowledge, none of them are wider than 20 feet.

Regarding the installation of sewers in the streets, I am inclosing a copy of a communication of March 30, 1939, that I sent to the Corporation Counsel, requesting an opinion relative to that matter, and also a copy of a communication of April 3, 1939, that I received from the Corporation Counsel in answer to my previous communication.

Under the circumstances, there is absolutely nothing that can be done at the present time to install sewer pipes or to construct roadways and sidewalks.

Respectfully yours,
GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department,
March 30, 1939.

Henry Parkman, Jr., Esq.,
Corporation Counsel.

Dear Mr. Parkman,—Due to public necessity, I am desirous of constructing sewers in private streets in the Germantown section of West Roxbury. The locations, directions, widths, and grades of these streets have never been approved by the Board of Street Commissioners, either under the provisions of section 10, chapter 393, of the Acts of 1906, or chapter 323 of the Acts of 1891.

The sewage from the residences in this section is discharged into cesspools, resulting in unsanitary conditions that are a menace to the health of the residents, along with the nuisance created by such a method of sewage disposal.

I feel that the question of the protection of the health of the residents is paramount to any statutory law and that a start should be immediately made for the installation of sewers in this section. I presume that the Health Commissioner has the authority to condemn these cesspools, thereby allowing for the construction of sewerage works, but I would rather not resort to condemnation proceedings in view of the fact that a large number of residents would be affected and I am not prepared at this time, due to the cost involved, to construct sewerage works throughout the entire district.

I respectfully request your opinion as to whether or not I have the authority to construct sewerage works (not trunk sewers) in the streets of the Germantown section of West Roxbury, as public necessity so requires, even though the streets are private and the locations, directions, widths and grades of them have never been approved by the Board of Street Commissioners, under the provisions of section 10, chapter 393, of the Acts of 1906.

If your opinion is in the affirmative, it is expressly understood that assessments will be levied, in accordance with section 10 of chapter 27 of the Revised Ordinances of 1925, against properties from which it is desired to connect the house connection to the sewer, and that all releases and easement rights will be secured from the abutters before the start of construction work in the streets.

Yours very truly,
GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

City of Boston,
Law Department, April 3, 1939.

George G. Hyland, Esq.,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Dear Mr. Hyland,—Your letter of March 30, 1939, wherein you state, "I respectfully request your opinion as to whether or not I have the authority to construct sewerage works (not trunk sewers) in the streets of the Germantown section of West Roxbury, as public necessity so requires, even though the streets are private and the locations, directions, widths and grades of them have never been approved by the Board of Street Commissioners, under the provisions of section 10, chapter 393, of the Acts of 1906," has been received and considered by me.

Chapter 393 of the Acts of 1906 was an act relative to highways, public alleys, sewers and sidewalks in the City of Boston. Section 10 of said Act is as follows:

"Section 10.—After the passage of this act (i. e., May 16, 1906) no person or corporation shall prepare or open for public travel in the City of Boston any way, unless its location, direction, widths and grades are satisfactory to and have been approved in writing by said board of street commissioners, but all highways in the territory shown on any plan heretofore made by the board of survey or by said street commissioners under the authority of chapter three hundred and twenty-three of the acts of the year eighteen hundred and ninety-one shall be in accordance with the location, direction, width and grades shown thereon; and no public sewer, drain, water pipe, or lamps shall be placed in, or public work of any kind done on, any way in any such territory other than in the ways shown on the plan or plans of such territory; provided, however, that this provision shall not prevent the laying of a trunk sewer or a water or gas main as engineering demands shall require."

I am informed by the office of the Chief Engineer of the Street Laying-Out Department of the City of Boston that the private streets of the Germantown section of West Roxbury were not laid out in accordance with the locations, directions widths and grades as shown on the plans made by the Board of Street Commissioners of the City of Boston and for this reason the locations, directions, widths and grades of these streets have never been approved by the said Board of Street Commissioners.

Therefore, by the express terms of section 10 of chapter 393 of the Acts of 1906 you are prohibited from constructing sewerage works other than trunk sewers in the private streets in the Germantown section of West Roxbury.

You further state in your letter that "The sewage from the residences in this section is discharged into cesspools, resulting in unsanitary conditions that are a menace to the health of the residents, along with the nuisance created by such a method of sewage disposal. . . . I presume that the Health Commissioner has the authority to condemn these cesspools, thereby allowing for the construction of sewerage works . . ."

Chapter 111 of the General Laws (Ter. Ed.) relates to public health and sections 122 to 142, inclusive, of this chapter are relative to nuisances. Section 122 of said chapter 111 is as follows:

"Section 122.—The board of health shall examine into all nuisances, sources of filth and causes of sickness within its town, or on board of vessels within the harbor of such town, which may, in its opinion, be injurious to the public health, shall destroy, remove or prevent the same as the case may require, . . ."

"Section 127.—The board of health of a city, and the board of health of a town, if authorized by the town, may make and enforce regulations for the public health and safety relative to house drainage and connection with common sewers, if such a sewer abuts the estate to be drained."

"Section 132.—Land which is wet, rotten or spongy, or covered with stagnant water, so as to be offensive to residents in its vicinity or injurious to health, shall be deemed a nuisance, which the board of health of the town where it lies, upon petition and hearing, may abate in the manner provided in the seven following sections; . . ."

Sections 133 to 139, inclusive, refer to the form of application for abatement of the alleged nuisance; proceedings on application; form and service of notice; damages; appeal from adjudication of nuisance and appeal from assessment therefor.

Admitting, for the purposes of argument only, that the present cesspools in this particular section are a nuisance, the power to abate this nuisance by action of the Board of Health does not put upon your department the obligation to go forward with the construction of sewerage works in the private ways of this section, for it is to be noted that the use of proper cesspools is expressly provided for in section 115 of chapter 550 of the Acts of 1907, which chapter and section relates to the construction, alteration and maintenance of buildings in the City of Boston, and reads as follows:

"Section 115.—The plumbing of every building shall be separately and independently connected outside the building with the public sewer, if such sewer is provided, or with a proper and sufficient drain or sewer laid outside of the building, and if a sewer is not accessible, with a proper cesspool."

Therefore, a proper cesspool in this particular section of West Roxbury does not constitute a nuisance, but is to be regarded as constituting a proper means of disposal of sewage under the present existing conditions. If the cesspools in use in fact do constitute a nuisance, the Board of Health has power to prohibit their use, or require their alteration and improvement to satisfy health requirements.

Very truly yours,
HENRY PARKMAN, JR.,
Corporation Counsel.

No permits have been issued by this department during the past three years for the mooring of boats at the Meridian Street Bridge. I see no particular objection, however, to allowing boats to moor at this bridge, as long as they do not obstruct the passage of marine traffic.

The accident record at this intersection shows that there was one accident in 1936, one in 1937, one in 1938, two in 1939, and up to date in 1940, one accident. All of these accidents were Auto vs. Auto and were caused by the high speed of vehicles through the intersection. Persons traveling through this intersection are familiar with conditions and it is our belief that the erection of "Stop" signs would not control the type of persons who speed through an intersection of this sort.

BUREAU OF AMERICANIZATION.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, June 15, 1940.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—For the purpose of being of some assistance to persons who are aliens, but eligible for citizenship, and for the purpose of making savings in relief expenditures of close to half a million dollars yearly, I have decided to establish a Bureau of Americanization, to work under my direction.

The efforts of this Bureau will be to provide information and assistance to all persons who are eligible for citizenship, but more especially the Bureau will attempt to have naturalized all aliens now receiving dependent aid from the city. At the present time there are 1,985 such aliens over the age of sixty-five. If naturalized, these aliens become eligible for Old Age Assistance with the consequence that, instead of the city government bearing the full relief cost of these individuals, it will be required to furnish only one sixth of the amount granted them under Old Age Assistance requirements. The saving to the city would be approximately $470,000 annually if all of these aliens were naturalized.

In my opinion, it is imperative that a separate Bureau be set up at this crucial hour in international affairs which will not only give assistance to established naturalization agencies, but which will also enable our city to effect substantial savings in relief costs. I believe this Bureau will, many times over, offset its cost to the city.

I respectfully recommend passage of the accompanying order for a transfer of $7,500 from the Contingent Fund to the Bureau of Americanization.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of $7,500 be, and hereby is, transferred from the Contingent Fund to the appropriation for Bureau of Americanization, to be expended by said Bureau, under the direction of his Honor the Mayor, in the prosecution of its duties.

Office of the Mayor, June 19, 1940.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I am in receipt of your order of June 10, 1940, requesting that under the provisions of section 7 of the amended City Charter of 1909, either I or the Health Commissioner attend the next meeting of the City Council and answer questions set forth in the order.

It is hardly open to dissent that the purpose of the section was to cover a situation which might possibly arise where a Mayor and City Council were antagonistic rather than harmonious, and the Mayor was withholding from the Council information to which they were entitled in order to perform their duties as the legislative branch of the city government.

It follows that the invocation of such a power by the Council is a serious and grave proceeding and is hardly warranted except in a situation such as I have indicated.

Since I have been Mayor many hundreds of orders have been passed by the City Council requesting information on departmental matters and so far as I can ascertain from the records no such order has gone unanswered, although in many instances the objection could be made that the passage of such orders was in violation of section 8 of the Charter which prohibits the City Council from taking part directly or indirectly in the conduct of the executive or administrative business of the city or county, or in the employment of labor.

I am not in sympathy with any rigid enforcement of this section, as I believe it for the best interests of the public for the Mayor and City Council to work together rather than to deal at arm's length.

The order before me, of June 10, is entirely different in character from the usual order.

The Health Commissioner has issued a certain circular instructing his employees as to their proper conduct under certain circumstances, and has also granted a license for the killing of fowls at 11 Lewis street.

His action was taken in the discharge of his administrative and executive duties, as Health Commissioner and in the exercise of his judgment.

Your order requests that either the Mayor or the Health Commissioner present himself before the City Council and subject himself to an inquisition as to the reasons why such action was taken.

It is difficult to conceive of a more direct and flagrant violation of section 8 of the City Charter.

Aside from that aspect of the subject the City Council has presumably lost sight of the fact that the right to resort to the procedure provided in section 7 of the Charter is restricted to matters within their jurisdiction and neither of the matters set forth in the order came within that restriction.

In connection with these matters it also appears from the verbatim report of the proceedings that various charges and insinuations have been made on the floor of the Council reflecting on the executive branch of the city government. If the Council considers these allegations to have any reasonable basis in fact they should not be permitted to remain on their records unchallenged. While the Council itself has not the power to investigate them, they should at least call them to the attention of the proper investigating body, the Finance Commission.

For these several reasons I am impelled to decline to appear before the City Council, or to direct the Health Commissioner to so appear, in answer to this particular order.

This communication is written in no spirit of contention, and the Council may be assured that I have every intention to continue, as I have for over two years, to consult with them, either formally or informally, individually or as a body, at all times when such consultation may appear to be in the public interest.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Placed on file.

Coun. COFFEY.—Mr. President, may I ask unanimous consent to make a statement?

Chairman WARD.—Mr. Coffey asks unanimous consent to make a statement. Any objection? The Chair hears none.

Coun. COFFEY.—Mr. President, I think it was a month ago today when I first came in here and filed an order asking that the Bar Association make an investigation of certain attorneys who handled this permit that was granted at 11 Lewis street in East Boston. My charges at the time were the same as my charges are today, and I claim that $2,000 in graft was paid for that permit. At the time I brought Doctor Mallowney's name into it. Doctor Mallowney, who I told you at that time I had a conversation with, said that in the final analysis Doctor Watts signed the permit. I put in an order asking investigation by the Bar Association. I also filed an order asking for an investigation to be conducted by the Finance Commission. Two weeks ago in Executive at the request of the other members of the Council, and especially the chairman of Executive, I was asked to file this order requesting the Mayor to come down here, and in the event that the Mayor wouldn't come down and answer these charges that the Board of Health Commissioner, Doctor Watts, should come down. Now, the answer we got back from the Mayor was that we have no authority whatsoever to summons in any of the department heads. In fact, I think there was another order submitted here by the councilor from Ward 14, asking the Public Works Commissioner to come down and give us a list of the trucks and the owners of the trucks, and also a list of those who had received any work during the last snow investigation. Well, of course, we have not even received an answer on that up to today. Now, I say that something should be done about this. I openly named three attorneys whom I claim received $2,000 in graft. I was told by the man who received this permit for the slaughter house that I was supposed to have been taken care of by the Mayor's office, that I was supposed to have my "cut" down there. Of course, that is really one reason why I asked for this investigation. Another is, why didn't Doctor Watts give a permit to a man named Matthew Rachier who had been in East Boston for over twenty-five years? Instead, he grants it to this firm who comes in from Canton, and we know that firm's permit was revoked by this Doctor Watts when he was operating a slaughter house down in Commercial street in the North End of Boston, and that permit was only taken away from him last September, which shows the man was unfit and that he was running an unsanitary place at the time, and still they see fit to give the man a permit to go into my ward and open up a slaughter house in that district. I think it is not fair and I am going to introduce today another order asking for investigation by the Finance Commission. I think in view of the fact that this statement was sent down from the Mayor's office the members should come along and allow the Finance Commission to investigate this permit.

PARTIAL REPORT OF BOSTON FINANCE COMMISSION RE POLICE DEPARTMENT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Finance Commission, June 19, 1940.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,

Mayor of Boston.

Honorable Sir,—The police cost in Boston has been a topic of controversy for many years. Some people, individuals and organizations, impressed by Boston's eminence in national comparison of police costs, frequently demand reduction. Police administrators, on the other hand, periodically call for more men. More men obviously mean greater cost.

The proponents of reduction argue that the automobile, the radio and many other conveniences produced by modern science make possible more police work with less men and less cost. They point out, however, that police costs have increased rather than been reduced, and claim that there have been no changes in area or population to warrant it. On the other hand, the proponents of expansion argue that the automobile, the radio and the many other modern conveniences, plus the depression, have greatly increased the police work. They also point to 200 unfilled positions in the roster of the department, the accumulation of vacancies caused by death or retirement.

Since the Police Department pay roll requires approximately $5,000,000 annual appropriation, and is exceeded only by the School Department pay roll, a substantial reduction would mean much in tax rate computations; but if 200 men, the number asked for by the Police Commissioner, were added to the number in the Police Department on January 1, the pay roll rate increase would be $320,000 in the first year of appointment, and, as the 200 reach seniority, the increased rate would be approximately $400,000.

The commission has noted that you have already acceded to the Police Commissioner's request to the extent of 30 men, with a promise of 60 more to come, and that there has been some adverse criticism of this concession. The pay roll rate has, therefore, already been increased $48,000. Eventually this will become $60,000. If the promised 60 appointments are added later, it will mean a further initial rate increase of $96,000 with a maximum to be reached later of $120,000, making a grand total rate increase of $180,000 to which the plan to add 90 men in 1940 commits the city. This increased rate will presumably more firmly entrench Boston near the top of the comparisons of police cost in the large cities of the country.

The Finance Commission has attempted to find the reason for Boston's lofty position in the national comparison of police costs; and to find out if Boston needs any more men in the Police Department.

The question as to whether or not this position is justifiable, or, in simpler language, whether or not Boston has too few or too many policemen, cannot be so easily approached as can the question of whether or not the city has too many or too few clerks or laborers or artisans. Most other municipal services can be expanded or contracted as the public pocketbook requires. The compelling reason for the creation of many of them was to provide a service which added to the comfort and convenience of the people. Many of them can be eliminated or curtailed arbitrarily without great public suffering. The police services, however, must continue and must be adequate for the protection of the people and their property.

IMPORTANCE OF POLICE FORCE IN ORDINARY LIFE OF CITY.

In the beginning, therefore, it is well to consider the importance of a police force to any community. The maintenance of public order is vitally necessary to the common well-being. To guarantee to the individual the exercise of whatever rights a sovereign government bestows upon its people, the first agency set up by that government must be a body or a group whose duty it is to enforce the mandates of the government—and to protect it—and to preserve order. A nation usually has its army for that purpose; a province, colony, or state, has its constabulary; a municipality has its own local police force.

To the city or township, which has been set apart for the administration of the governmental functions, police protection is an elementary public service. Orderly development and use of all other public services are dependent upon it. The safeguarding of individual life, the guarantee of personal liberty, the opportunity to seek and obtain rightful happiness depend on the functioning of an authoritative force which can and must maintain orderly relations among the inhabitants. The peaceful exercise of the daily practices of commerce and industry depend upon police protection.

The responsibility of the ordinary policeman cannot be overestimated. It is greater than that of the ordinary member of an army, or of a constabulary, or indeed of almost any other public employee. Though the policeman must enforce laws which others have made, he exercises his own judgment and discretion at all times in such enforcement. He must decide for himself his course of action in the majority of the incidents of his work.

The policeman has greater contact with the people than have any other of the paid servants of the public. His work requires him to be where the people are most numerous, where property is most valuable, and where the dangers and hazards in ordinary business and social intercourse are greatest. It is his duty not only to watch the people themselves carefully, but to watch their property and their possessions. He is expected to suspect the dangerous and criminally-minded, and to protect the innocent and law-abiding. And yet all his responsibility does not relate exclusively to law enforcement. The preservation of the public safety in every way is in many respects his responsibility. It can be said that there is no other branch of the public service so necessary to peaceful, orderly existence as the police service.

A policeman must be ready to serve the people, as occasion demands, for long or short periods of sunshine, or rain, cold or heat or hunger. He must be impervious to shock and strain; must be courageous and cool in the face of danger; must have considerable knowledge of laws and ordinances; must be able to apply first aid treatment to persons injured in accidents or other violent actions, or incapacitated by sudden collapse; must have knowledge of court procedure, particularly as to the strict requirements in the matter of presenting evidence in the courts; and must be calm, tactful, and discreet at all times in the performance of his duty. Often the life, liberty or the happiness of an individual or of groups of individuals depend upon the word or act of an ordinary policeman.

DIFFICULTY IN DETERMINING WHAT CONSTITUTES PROPER POLICE COST.

There is no yardstick by which the proper size and cost of a police service can be determined. A high official of the Federal Bureau of Investigation which, presumably, has more knowledge and information on crime conditions generally in the country than any other agency, and comes in contact with police service everywhere, made the statement to representatives of the Finance Commission at the beginning of this study that "it is distinctly the local conditions which determine the proper size and cost"; that "what might be proper for one city might be totally inadequate for another"; and that "the results, obtained in crime prevention must be considered in any appraisal of the size and cost."

Scope of Investigation.

In the absence, therefore, of any tried and reliable method of determining what the cost should be in Boston, the commission has first analyzed the situation in these two ways:

First, taking the size and cost in 1912 as a basis, the commission has compared the relative cost of police, school and all other municipal services from 1912 periodically to the present time.

Next, the commission has analyzed the national comparisons which are so freely quoted to prove Boston police costs are too great.

Extent of First Report.

This report will deal only with the relative cost of police service in Boston and the comparison of police cost with police costs in other large cities.

Basis of Comparison.

The commission has taken as its starting point the year 1912. Any comparative figures prior to that time would have had to have been adjusted on account of a difference in area, the last addition to the city having occurred in that year when Hyde Park was annexed.

Factors Compared.

The size of a city, its population, and the wealth or value of the property which the police must protect are generally conceded to be the three most important factors upon which comparative police costs should be considered.

AREA OF BOSTON.

The area of the city has remained unchanged since Hyde Park was annexed in 1912. After that annexation the area was computed officially to be 27,612 acres of land, 1,546 acres of flats, and 1,137 acres of water, making a total of 30,295 acres. In square mileage this amounted to 43.1 square miles of land, 2.4 square miles of flats and 1.8 square miles of water. In the most recently published Municipal Register the area of the city is given as 30,598 acres of land, flats and water. It may be accepted, despite this discrepancy in the official figures, that the area of Boston today is the same as it was in 1912. Usually, in the comparison of Boston statistics with those of other cities, the area of the city is given as approximately 48 square miles.

POPULATION OF BOSTON.

In the meantime there has been substantial growth in population. The estimated population in 1912, compiled officially, was 711,128. The estimated population compiled officially in 1939 was 811,816. There has been, therefore, an increase of 14 per cent in the population of the city since 1912.

WEALTH OF BOSTON.

The value of taxable property in Boston, real and personal, as fixed for municipal purposes in 1912, was $1,489,608,820. In 1939 the value of taxable property was $1,524,806,000, an increase of 2.3 per cent.

SECTION I.—THE RELATION OF THE TOTAL POLICE COST TO THE COST OF OTHER SERVICES.

The following comparisons of police costs by year, periodically, and the relation of the police cost to the costs of the other major municipal services are offered:

Payments from Regular Department Appropriations.*

YEAR.	Police.	Schools.	All Others.	Total.
1912.....	$2,341,678	$5,119,857	$12,081,887	$19,543,422
1915.....	2,685,432	6,065,656	13,093,345	21,844,433
1920.....	3,702,037	9,897,928	19,178,423	32,778,388
1926.....	5,166,086	15,118,502	25,156,939	45,441,527
1930.....	6,111,278	17,008,712	30,487,600	53,607,590
1935.....	5,771,456	17,027,510	37,268,577	60,067,543
1939.....	5,881,872	16,432,115	36,308,269	58,622,256

* Figures from all years except 1939 taken from table marked "Payments from Regular Department Appropriations," in the City Auditor's annual reports of the years cited. 1939 figures obtained from auditor's office.

The above table reveals that during this period payments for the services compared increased as follows:

	Police.	Schools.	All Others.	Total.
Total increase.....	$3,540,194	$11,312,258	$24,226,382	$39,078,834
Percentage.....	151.1%	220.9%	200.5%	199.9%

It is not within the purpose of this report to analyze and explain the reasons for the increase in school cost, or in the cost of other services. The above summation is offered simply to show what the police cost increase has actually been in comparison with the whole cost of municipal maintenance, with school cost, and with the cost of services other than police and school, at various times in the twenty-eight years under consideration.

The proportion of the police cost to the other costs mentioned has decreased substantially in the period compared. Yet the advance in police cost has far outstripped the growth in population and valuation, and, as stated above, the area has remained unchanged.

The following percentage table shows at seven periods in the last twenty-eight years the proportion which each of the particular services under consideration bore to the whole cost of regular service in those years.

YEAR.	Police.	Schools.	All Others.
1912.....	11.98%	26.19%	61.83%
1915.....	12.29	27.77	59.94
1920.....	11.29	30.20	58.51
1926.....	11.36	33.27	55.37
1930.....	11.40	31.72	56.88
1935.....	9.60	28.35	62.05
1939.....	10.03	28.03	61.94

The proportion of the police cost to the whole has become gradually less and is finally approximately two per cent less in 1939 than it was in 1912. On the other hand, the school cost in 1939 absorbed approximately two per cent more of the whole. The cost of all other services after a long period of decline has come back during the depression era to the 1912 level.

The Boston Police Department was generally believed to be well and economically administered in 1912, but it would appear from the above analysis that at the present time the cost of policing the city is relatively less than it was in 1912.

THE RELATION OF THE POLICE PAY ROLL TO THE PAY ROLLS FOR THE OTHER MUNICIPAL SERVICES.

The issue which has been raised in regard to the police situation relates specifically to the pay roll cost of the Police Department. It is of interest, therefore, to show how the pay roll cost of the Police Department has changed in comparison with the pay roll cost of other services.

Pay Roll Cost.

YEAR.	Police.*	Schools.*	All Others.*	Total.
1912.....	$2,022,942	$4,176,697	$6,503,863	$12,703,502
1915.....	2,324,107	4,941,903	6,998,750	14,264,760
1920.....	3,054,127	7,729,458	10,572,970	21,356,555
1926.....	4,383,012	12,086,332	14,784,303	31,253,647
1930.....	5,266,039	13,961,939	16,938,393	36,166,371
1935.....	4,899,192	14,623,175	16,369,162	35,891,529
1939.....	5,031,346	14,602,665	15,876,338	35,510,349

* Figures taken from annual reports of City Auditor.

It develops from the foregoing table that the police pay roll in 1912 was 15.9 per cent of the pay roll for all regular municipal service, but in 1939 the police pay roll had become only 14.1 per cent of the entire pay roll for regular municipal service; and it may be seen by deduction from the immediately foregoing table and the table of total costs of services given earlier that the police pay roll in 1912 was 86.3 per cent of the total police cost, but in 1939 the police pay roll was only 85.5 per cent of the total police cost.

In the period compared, the amount of the increase in pay roll cost in dollars and in percentage is as follows:

1912-1939.	Police.	Schools.	All Others.	Total.
Increase in pay roll expenditures.....	$3,008,404	$10,425,968	$9,372,475	$22,806,847
Percentage of increase.....	148.7%	249.6%	144.1%	179.5%

Comparing the increase in the pay roll cost of each of these services with the increase in the whole cost of them produces the following results:

1912-1939.	Police.	Schools.	All Others.	Total.
Pay roll increase.....	148.7%	249.6%	144.1%	179.5%
Whole increase.....	151.1	220.9	200.5	199.9

It is apparent from the foregoing analyses that the increased police cost has been due to the increase in pay roll, but the proportion which the police pay roll bore to the whole pay roll of city service in 1939 has become less than it was in 1912.

THE RELATION OF THE NUMBER OF EMPLOYEES IN THE POLICE DEPARTMENT TO THE NUMBER IN OTHER SERVICES.

Number of Employees (as of June 1).*

YEAR.	Police.	Schools.	All Others.	Total.
1912.....	1,615	3,802	8,248	13,665
1915.....	1,729	4,186	8,397	14,312
1920.....	1,920	4,665	8,426	15,011
1926.....	2,202	5,960	9,643	17,805
1930.....	2,459	6,748	10,360	19,567
1935.....	2,333	6,644	11,283	20,260
1939.....	2,380	6,242	10,458	19,080

INSTRUCTIONS TO DEPARTMENT HEADS RE PER DIEM EMPLOYEES.

Coun. CAREY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to instruct department heads not to require per diem employees in their respective departments to work seven days a week without being paid for the extra day.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, there is a practice in certain departments that requires per diem employees to work seven days a week. The only satisfaction allowed these workers is time off at the convenience of the department heads. I don't think any department head should be allowed to require a worker to labor on his "off" days without paying him for same. It might sound all right to tell that per diem worker that he should be glad to have a job and should be agreeable to accept any conditions prescribed by the department head, but we are not in red Russia, we are still in civilized Boston, and I don't think that the Mayor, the members of this Body or anyone else feels that a club should be held over the heads of the workers simply because they have a job. If the complaint is that there is not sufficient help available, then I say let us have sufficient help appointed immediately. It is no comfort to these workers even to tell them that they will be given time off later on. No employee should have to subject himself to the convenience of the department head, who, if he himself desires, can take time off and go to Florida or some other resort at his own will. I think there has been altogether too much of this practice in certain departments. If a man is hired on a per diem basis to work five or five and a half days a week, I think that is all that should be required of him. If he has to work an extra day or a day and a half they should pay him as he works and not build up some extra time that he might have to take off in the cold winter months when there is no place for him to go and nothing to go with. I certainly hope that this order will be passed and that the situation will be rectified by the Mayor and the department heads.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

LEGISLATION RE RACE TRACKS IN THE CITY OF BOSTON.

Coun. SCANNELL offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to apply for legislation which will provide that operators of race tracks in the City of Boston contribute ten cents cut of every admission fee to the Welfare Department of the city in order to relieve this ever-increasing burden on the city.

Coun. SCANNELL—Mr. President, why I am presenting this order today is because I was told in different parts of the country where there are race tracks that they contribute 10 cents out of every admission fee to the Welfare Department of that certain city. Now, I know in Florida the Hialeah Race Track and the Tropical Race Track give to the people of that city ten cents out of every admission fee. I hope this order will pass because if it does the Welfare Department will benefit by it and the city itself will benefit by it.

Coun. COFFEY—I thought I would save time instead of asking for unanimous consent. At the race track only recently, in fact, last Thursday, they gave out information sheets they are called more than anything else, to find out where the workers at the track came from, and, of course, it is the result of the order that I introduced here a few weeks ago. On this sheet the first question is: "Are you a citizen of Massachusetts? If so, how long? What is your residence in Massachusetts, and what is your residence since May 1, 1938, your place of birth and your date of birth, and your residence since January 1, 1940?" Now, Mark Mahoney arrived at the race track when Belmont closed, and with him, of course, he brought all those so-called ski men, and as the result of him bringing those ski men with him the Massachusetts men are now staggered to two days' work. The reason I am mentioning this at this time is because of the fact that two weeks ago today I put an order in that was passed here, this order asking the Mayor to request the Racing Commission to force the employees at Suffolk Downs to show a voting certificate, and I notice in the Mayor's communication that nothing has come back here regarding that order. I also had another order passed here unanimously, asking that the Racing Commission make public the list of those who are employed at Suffolk Downs, and as I said here two weeks ago nothing will be done about it. Neither the Mayor nor the Governor has stepped in and tried to help out the unemployed of Massachusetts by forcing the Racing Commission to show that 75 per cent of those employed at Suffolk Downs live in Massachusetts, and I say now, without fear of contradiction, that at least 60 per cent of those employed at Suffolk Downs are outside of our state.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

ERECTION OF FENCE AROUND PLAYGROUND, WARD 3.

Coun. RUSSO offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to erect a fence around the playground on Prince street, Ward 3, for the purpose of allowing the youths of that district to play softball on the playground.

Coun. RUSSO—Mr. President, I have been informed that this year the youth of my district has been prohibited from playing softball on the Prince Street Playground for the simple reason that a few windows have been broken in the past. I had a long conversation with the Commissioner of Parks, Mr. Long, and he has agreed that a fence should be erected there, and his only reason for not erecting the fence has been because he has no money to erect it with. Now, Mr. President, I have been stormed in the last ten days by letters and interviews of boys in my district who are very much interested in playing softball. As I understand it, there is only one individual who has made complaint about it and on inquiring through the district and the adjoining buildings the people there have stated to me that they would love to see softball playing there because they enjoy it themselves. And, as Mr. Long put it, on several occasions he has been down there when softball has been allowed to be played when we have had an attendance there of approximately a thousand people. I say, Mr. President, that the necessary steps should be taken now to have a fence erected there so these boys may be able to play softball on the playground. I hope this order will pass.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

PARTIAL REPORT OF BOSTON FINANCE COMMISSION RE POLICE DEPARTMENT.

The increase in number of employees and in percentage of employees in the period compared is as follows:

	Police.	Schools.	All Others.	Total.
Number.....	765	2,440	2,210	5,415
Per cent.....	47.3%	64.1%	26.7%	39.6%

The relation of the percentage of increase in pay roll cost to the percentage of increase in number of employees is:

	Police.	Schools.	All Others.
Per cent increase in total pay.....	148.7%	249.6%	144.1%
Per cent increase in numbers.....	47.3	64.1	26.7

The average pay of the employees of the services compared and the percentage of increase since 1912 is here shown:

1912.....	$1,252	$1,098	$788	$929
1939.....	2,114	2,339	1,518	1,861

The conclusions to be drawn from these figures are substantially as follows:

The total of regular department appropriations almost exactly tripled in the twenty-eight years under review, the appropriation for the schools more than tripled, while that for the police went up only two and a half times. The total number of employees in all regular departments increased about 40 per cent, and their average pay has doubled. The total number of employees in the School Department increased a little less than two thirds and their average rate of pay more than doubled. The total number of employees in the Police Department increased a little less than half and the average pay increased about 70 per cent. The total number of employees in all other departments increased by somewhat more than a fourth and the average pay increased 92.6 per cent.

NO COMPARISON ON BASIS OF TAXABLE VALUATION.

In this section of the report the commission is making no appraisal of the costs of the Police Department on the basis of the value of property protected. There is no question but that the value of property subject to police jurisdiction is an important factor in determining the reasonableness of the cost of a police department, but certain elements of conjecture as to the increase in the actual wealth of the City of Boston between 1912 and 1939 are of importance sufficient that the commission believes comparisons based on the relative taxable valuations in these years would not be free of doubt or criticism.

As has previously been stated, the actual increase in valuation of taxable property in the city in twenty-eight years was only 2.3 per cent. But it should be remembered that in 1930 the taxable property was valued at almost two billion dollars—almost 500 million dollars more than at present—and that there has been a sharp reduction in assessment since that time without any substantial demolition to correspond. Furthermore, there has been an increase of 200 million dollars in non-taxable property, and, as a counterbalancing factor, the elimination from the tax rolls of the intangibles which were carried thereon in 1912—prior to the enactment of the income tax law. Finally, there is a question as to the relative variation between the assessed values and the actual values of property in the years 1912 and 1939.

In view of these factors the commission is not satisfied to rely on the figure of 2.3 per cent as accurately reflecting the actual increase in its wealth protected by the Boston Police Department, and is therefore unwilling to base comparisons of relative police cost in the years in question upon any such percentage of increase as 2.3 per cent.

In the second section of its report, however, where comparison is made with other cities, many of the conjectural factors are common to all, and although they mitigate against the value of the conclusions finally arrived at, cannot be said to distort them unduly.

SUMMARY OF ANALYSES OF COMPARISONS OF POLICE COST WITH COST OF OTHER SERVICES.

In the foregoing comparisons, the situation in regard to police cost has been tested in various ways. All the tests have been solely for the purpose of showing the relation of the advance in police cost to the advance in cost of other municipal services. The most important conclusion that may be drawn from these comparisons is that, whether or not the increase in police cost in the period compared can be entirely justified, the amount of the increase, in proportion to the whole cost of the regular municipal services, has not been so great in the Police Department as it has been outside the Police Department. The advance in police cost since 1912 has been traced, by these comparisons, to the pay roll, and the pay roll analysis brings out the fact that while the number of employees has been increasing 47.3 per cent, the average pay has been increased 68.8 per cent.

Therefore, in addition to the showing that the Police Department costs have not advanced in the same proportion as have the costs in the other regular municipal services (taken as a whole, except for school service which was shown separately) this analysis shows that while the size of the force has been increased to a certain extent, the rate of pay has been increased to a greater extent. It is due, therefore, slightly more to higher pay than to more men that the pay roll cost has been increased 148.7 per cent.

SECTION II.—COMPARISON OF BOSTON POLICE COST WITH POLICE COST IN MAJOR CITIES OF COUNTRY.

Criticism of the police cost in Boston has been frequent and persistent for several years. The basis of this criticism has been a comparison of police costs in Boston with the police costs in the other leading cities of the country. In all of these comparisons, it has been claimed that the cities compared were, in respect to police costs, on a common basis, and that, therefore, the comparison furnished a proper ground on which to predicate criticism and recommendations.

In this second analysis, the Finance Commission has assembled the figures of the police cost of the nine leading cities and has made comparison along the lines suggested by the critics for the purpose of determining what merit there is in them.

The Source of the Figures Used.

The commission has tried to obtain reliable figures pertaining to the other municipalities without having visited the majority of those other cities. Many different agencies produce municipal statistics. Unfortunately it rarely happens that any two of them use the same basis. Sometimes the reason for this is that there are different interpretations of actual costs; and at other times data is taken before final figures are available. Often it happens that the legends describing tables of figures are worded so as to permit the readers to assume different meanings. Here in Boston figures of expenditure by a particular department furnished by that department vary from those relating to the same department but obtained from another recording department.

The division of the United States Census Bureau which issues "Financial Statistics of Cities," makes an effort to obtain uniformity in returns from the different cities. In this work, however, at times it is necessary to decide arbitrarily which is the correct figure.

In the following tables the Finance Commission shows the comparison in cost for 1912 and 1939, and the advance in cost since 1912. The figures used for 1912 have been taken from the United States Census Bureau reports, but Census Bureau figures for 1939 have not yet been issued. Therefore, the commission has obtained certain figures for 1939 from the mayors of the cities compared, and other figures from other responsible agencies. The commission has used every effort to obtain the most reliable figures.

As in the case of the tables heretofore given, the succeeding tables are developed in terms of areas of the municipalities, population, and, finally, value of the property which the police guard.

The Relative Areas of the Nine Large Cities.

The commission offers first (in the order of their size in 1939) the 1912 and 1939 areas and the percentage of change.

1912 figures obtained from Statistics of Cities.
1939 figures obtained from reliable semi-official sources.

This comparison reveals that in 1912 Boston ranked fifth in area among the nine cities compared. In 1939 Boston has dropped to last place. It should be noted that many of the other cities have greatly expanded their areas by annexations within the period under review. Therefore, it may be assumed that as these other cities expanded in the past thirty years, the annexations contained for the most part suburban residential sections. Public service costs are less in such sections than are the costs of public services in the business centers.

The Relative Population of the Nine Large Cities.

In the previous analysis the commission used the official estimate of the population of Boston in 1939 prepared by the Health Department. This estimate is more conservative than are all the other estimates made by various agencies. It gives a total population for Boston which is less than was shown in the state census of 1935, but there is evidence of migration from Boston since that year which justifies this lower estimate.

In figuring per capita cost, the use of the smaller estimate is less advantageous to Boston in the comparisons than would be the use of the 1935 census figure. However, for fairness and accuracy, the commission believes the Health Department estimate should be used.

With this explanation, the commission offers the following comparison of population between the leading cities of the country, and the growth in each since 1912.

1912 figures obtained from Statistics of Cities.
1939 figures obtained from mayors of cities.

In population, Boston ranked fifth in 1912. In 1939 Boston ranked eight. In actual numbers of population and in percentage Boston has increased in this period less than any other city.

It usually follows that larger areas contain a larger number of people. The combination of larger areas and larger numbers of people requires a larger number of policemen. When it comes to spreading a given sum over a larger area, the per square mile cost is reduced as the area becomes larger. Likewise, when a given sum is spread over a larger number of people, the per capita cost is also reduced as the number increases.

In one of the foregoing comparisons, Boston is shown to have grown less in area than have six of the other eight cities. In another, Boston, has grown in population least of all. It naturally follows, therefore, that in comparison with other

REQUEST OF COUNCILOR RUSSO TO HAVE A CERTAIN PORTION OF THE RECORD STRICKEN OUT.

Coun. RUSSO—May I ask unanimous consent to make a statement? [No objection.] I wish to have changed in the record, on page 246, in reference to the order I submitted at the last meeting of this Council, the date from May 31 to June 3.

Chairman WARD—If there is no objections the correction will be made.

DISINFECTION OF PUBLIC BATHS, ETC.

Coun. GOODE offered the following:
Ordered, That the Park Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to place one per cent solution of hyposulphide of soda in the various public baths, pools, shower baths and golf courses and playground clubhouses throughout the city, to curtail and prevent the spread of the extremely contagious and annoying disease—athlete's foot; and be it further Ordered, That such methods and practices as are commonly recognized be also adopted to control this disease.

Coun. GOODE—Mr. President, it has been brought to my attention by several of the members of the baseball team that is part of the Park Department League that no precautionary measures are taken in the various shower baths to prevent the contracting of the annoying and contagious disease known as athlete's foot. I have contacted the Boston City Hospital and they have informed me that several thousand cases of this disease are treated in the course of a year, and I feel in introducing this order the expense entailed will be taken care of by the fact that less cases will probably be handled by the Boston City Hospital. I certainly hope the order will pass.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

ACTION ON FINANCIAL ORDERS.

Chairman WARD—The Chair now calls up Nos. 2, 3 and 4 of the calendar, and if there is no objection there will be one roll call for the three orders. The question comes on the passage of the three orders and the clerk will call the roll.

Nos. 2, 3 and 4 were as follows:

2. Ordered, That the right to borrow money for Bridges, Reconstruction and Repair of, under authority of chapter 366 of 1933, as amended, approved by the Mayor on September 29, 1938, be limited to $145,000, and that the authorization to borrow in excess of said amount for said purposes be, and the same hereby is, rescinded.

On June 3, 1940, the foregoing order was read once and passed, yeas 22.

3. Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be, and hereby is, authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for Public Works Department, Bridge Service, Relief Projects, $12,000, to the appropriation for Boston Traffic Commission, H. Relief Projects, $12,000.

On June 3, 1940, the foregoing order was read once and passed, yeas 21, nays 0.

4. Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be, and hereby is, authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for Registry Department, H. Relief Projects, $400, to the appropriation for Assessing Department, H. Relief Projects, $400.

On June 3, 1940, the foregoing order was read once and passed, yeas 21, nays 0.

The orders were read a second time and again passed, yeas 17, nays 0.

SIDEWALKS, BISHOP STREET, WARD 19.

Coun. LANGAN offered the following:
Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to construct tar sidewalks on Bishop street, Jamaica Plain, Ward 19, under the W. P. A. type of construction.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

TRANSFER OF TELEPHONES, CITY HOSPITAL.

Coun. HUTCHINSON offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to confer with officials of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company with a view to having the telephones at the City Hospital transferred to the Highlands or Garrison exchange so that persons in local districts can call the hospital without extra charge.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

RECESS.

On motion of Coun. HUTCHINSON the Council voted at 3.15 p. m. to take a recess subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled and were called to order by Coun. WARD at 3.45 p. m.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. LANGAN, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following report:

Later in the session this vote was reconsidered by the following action:

Coun. HURLEY—I now move for reconsideration of the vote on the $7,500 item for Americanization.

The motion was carried.

Chairman WARD—The question now comes on the passage of the order.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, I move that the order be laid on the table until the next meeting and that at that meeting the person employed on that work be called by the Executive Committee to tell what they have done and what they expect they can accomplish if the appropriation is granted.

The motion was carried.

5. Report on the order (referred June 10) that the Finance Commission be requested to investigate issuance of permit for a slaughter house at 11 Lewis street—recommending that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed.

cities, there has been less apparent reason for increase in the number of policemen in Boston than in any other of the largest cities based on area or population changes.

The Relative Taxable Wealth of the Nine Leading Cities.

Comparison of taxable wealth among the cities is hazardous because it is particularly difficult to reach a common basis for comparison. Some cities tax real estate, tangible personal property and intangible personal property. Others, like cities in Massachusetts, do not tax intangible personal property.

In some cities it is a practice to assess property to its full value. In other cities it is not, and in these cities the degree of under-assessment varies substantially. In some cities the legal basis of assessment is stiff and unyielding. In others substantial discretion is lodged with the taxing authorities. In Boston the fair cash value is supposedly the basis of assessment. Yet there is no unanimity of opinion as to how this requirement is met. Frequently it is claimed that downtown property is over-assessed, and that portions of the outlying sections are under-assessed, and there is ample evidence at hand to support both claims.

What is true of Boston in this respect is undoubtedly true of other municipalities. Hence figures of taxable wealth in comparisons between cities are likely to be misleading.

However, figures of valuation as worked out in each municipality are often used as a basis of comparison of costs—police costs as well as costs of other services.

For 1912 the commission has used the figures of valuation compiled by the United States Census Bureau. For 1939 the commission has used figures compiled by the Detroit Bureau of Municipal Research for its annual publication, "The Comparative Tax Rates of Cities."

With this explanation, the following comparison of valuations and the percentage of growth is submitted.

Assessed Valuation.

CITY.	1912.	1939.	Increase.	Per Cent Increase.
New York.....	$9,177,495,629	$16,640,632,939	$7,463,137,310	81.3%
Philadelphia.....	1,556,323,614	2,528,453,723	972,130,109	62.4
Detroit.....	452,255,100	2,471,597,680	2,019,342,580	446.5
Chicago.....	940,450,171	1,948,179,881	1,007,729,710	107.1
Boston.....	1,489,608,820	1,524,806,000	35,197,180	2.3
Baltimore.....	723,800,340	1,227,851,458	504,051,118	69.6
Cleveland.....	756,831,185	1,218,775,831	461,944,646	61.0
Pittsburgh.....	749,583,440	1,098,771,890	349,188,450	46.5
St. Louis.....	652,261,285	1,055,515,347	403,254,062	61.8

These figures, such as they are, show that Boston has dropped from third in 1912 to fifth in 1939, and that its percentage of increase in that period is completely out of line with valuation increases in all the other compared cities. It should be recalled that the Boston valuation included intangible wealth in 1912 and excluded it in 1939.

It is obvious that the police cost is not relieved to any extent by the elimination of intangible wealth from the taxable valuation. Presumably, intangibles are physically where they always were whether taxed by the municipality as personal property or by the state through the income tax law. It is clear, however, that the elimination of intangible wealth from municipal valuation counts heavily in arriving at costs per $1,000 of valuation—a basis of comparison frequently used.

Summary of Area, Population and Valuation Comparisons.

Boston has changed less in area, population and valuation than any other of the large cities of the country. Hence the advance in the police cost, whatever it be, is due less in Boston to more territory to patrol, to more people to watch, or to more value to guard than it is in any of the nine cities compared.

Increase in Police Costs.

The following table gives the increase in total police costs in the nine cities compared:

The figures of police cost in this table vary slightly from the figures used in the first section of this report. Previously, since it was a comparison between services in Boston, the figures used were those compiled by the City Auditor of Boston in the annual reports for the years compared. For the purposes of this comparison, since it is a comparison between cities, the commission has taken the figures for 1912 from the United States Census Bureau report and for 1939 from the publication of the International City Managers Association known as "The Municipal Year Book." Both of these agencies make special effort to reach a common basis for comparison, and while neither claims to be 100 per cent accurate, their figures are the best obtainable for the purpose.

The above table finds Boston in fourth place in police cost in 1912 and fifth in 1939. In percentage of increase in the period compared, it is seventh.

The percentage of increase in area, population and valuation and the percentage of increase in police cost are given in the following table:

It is difficult to extract any definite conclusion from this table. Boston had less change in area, population and valuation taken together — than any other city; yet, its police cost advanced slightly more than Pittsburgh and Chicago which had experienced many times the expansion of Boston under all three headings. No two cities showed any constant relationship between the increase in their police costs and the increase in their area, population and taxable wealth. About all that can be said is that although in rate of increase in two out of three of these elements,

Boston footed the list and was close to the foot in the other, nevertheless its rate of increase was not substantially different from the rate of increase in the cities in which large increases in all these three elements occurred.

Relation of Police Cost to Area, Population and Valuation.

The commission next examines the relation of the police cost in the nine cities to the size of the area policed, to the number of people, and to the value of the property in the area.

Police Cost Per Square Mile.
The following table reveals the changes which have taken place between 1912 and 1939:
Increase in Police Costs Per Square Mile from 1912 to 1939 in Various Large Cities.

CITY.	Cost Per Square Mile, 1912.	Cost Per Square Mile, 1939.	Per Cent of Increase.

Boston.....	47,912	123,026	156.7

Baltimore.....	39,759	61,065	53.5
Pittsburgh.....	27,355	50,709	85.3

In 1912 in police cost per square mile Boston ranked second. In 1939 Boston still ranked second. In the intervening period five cities increased their police costs per square mile by a greater percentage than did Boston, and three did not. Of the latter three, Chicago had very substantial increases in area, population and valuation, and the percentage of increase per square mile nearly matched the percentage of increase in dollars and cents of police cost. On the other hand, Baltimore — which more than doubled in size — increased 52 per cent in population, 69 per cent in valuation, and advanced in percentage of police cost 283 per cent, nevertheless increased its cost per square mile only 53.5 per cent. In other words, while Boston was almost stationary in area, population and valuation, Baltimore advanced 149 per cent in area, 52 per cent in population and 69 per cent in valuation; yet, the police cost per square mile in Baltimore advanced at only one third the rate of advance in Boston.

Yet it is difficult to draw any definite conclusions from the whole table. No uniformity of increase in police cost depends on any one factor, or on all together. New York, the largest city in area — and consequently with the greatest area over which to spread the cost — has the greatest cost per square mile; but Boston, the smallest of the cities compared, does not have the smallest cost. Cleveland and Baltimore are of nearly the same size; yet, in Baltimore, the larger of the two, the cost per square mile is less than it is in Cleveland; and St. Louis, 28 per cent smaller than Baltimore, has a per square mile cost which is 33 per cent higher than Baltimore. Boston and Pittsburgh are nearly alike in size, yet police cost in Boston is almost two and a half times what it is in Pittsburgh. Philadelphia and Detroit, nearly the same size, are also very close in police cost per square mile; yet Chicago, which is 50 per cent larger than Detroit, has a smaller police cost per square mile.

It is apparent, therefore, that there is no great merit in evaluating a police department on the basis of the police cost per square mile. In the city with the greatest area over which to spread the cost, the police cost is the greatest per square mile. In the city with the least area, the police cost is the next greatest.

Police Cost Per Capita.
In per capita cost, again there is a similar lack of uniformity in the results as may be seen in the following table:

Increase in Police Costs Per Capita From 1912 to 1939 in Various Large Cities.

CITY.	Per Capita, 1912.	Per Capita, 1939.	Increase.	Per Cent of Increase.
New York.....	$2 97	$8 82	$5 85	196.9%
Boston.....	3 19	7 25	4 06	127.2
Detroit.....	2 01	7 14	5 13	255.2

Chicago.....	2 92	4 65	1 73	59.2
Pittsburgh.....	2 07	3 95	1 88	90.8

In 1912 Boston had the highest per capita police cost. In 1939 it had given way only to New York. New York and Detroit had increased in area to a greater extent than had the other cities, New York had increased in population more than any other, and Detroit's increase in population had been exceeded also by that of Chicago; yet the increase in the percentage of the police cost per capita in Detroit was the largest of the nine cities, and the New York increase was exceeded by Detroit and Cleveland. Chicago, with a fairly small increase in area, the second greatest increase in population and the third greatest increase in valuation, experienced the smallest advance in police cost per capita and was well below the top figure in cost per square mile. Apparently, in these nine cities no uniform relationship can be detected between the actual dollar increase in their police costs and their per capita increase.

Police Cost Per $1,000 of Valuation.

APPOINTMENT OF ADDITIONAL POLICE OFFICERS.

Coun. KELLY and FISH offered the following: Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to immediately appoint sixty additional police officers to the Police Force of the City of Boston.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, the reason I introduce this order along with my colleague from Dorchester is because I realize the Boston Finance Commission has sent us in a report that is not completed about the conditions in reference to the Police Department, and in return they have also asked the Civil Service Commissioner to extend the present list which is going to run out on June 29 before we meet again. I realize also the Police Commissioner in the City of Boston asked for 200 additional men some time ago and that his Honor the Mayor appointed 30 this year and he promised the Police Commissioner that he would appoint 60 more men before the present list runs out. In fairness to these men whose names have been on the list for the past two years and who did not take the last examination, figuring they were soon to be appointed, I think his Honor the Mayor should appoint 60 additional men before this list runs out on June 29.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

SIDEWALKS, HEATH STREET, WARD 10.

Coun. CAREY offered the following: Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install sidewalks on the uncompleted portions of Heath street and South Huntington avenue, Ward 10, as a W. P. A. project.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

TRAFFIC OFFICERS AT DUDLEY AND WASHINGTON STREETS, WARD 9.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN offered the following: Ordered, That the Police Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to have traffic officers on duty all day Saturdays and days before holidays at Dudley and Washington streets, Warren and Washington streets, and Washington and Roxbury streets, Ward 9.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

PARTIAL REPORT OF BOSTON FINANCE COMMISSION RE POLICE DEPARTMENT.

In police cost per $1,000 of valuation, the cost in the nine cities has increased generally without having changed materially the order of the cities in this respect. Boston in 1912 was tied with Pittsburgh for second last position. In 1939 Boston is alone in second last position. Cleveland has gone ahead of Boston by a slight margin, and Pittsburgh has dropped behind by a substantial margin.

The amount and percentage of the changes vary greatly. In no instance does the percentage of this increase match closely the percentage of increase shown in the preceding tables.

The Detroit increase in dollars and cents is slightly in excess of the Boston increase, yet in percentage the Boston increase is approximately 50 per cent greater than the Detroit increase.

In Cleveland the area, the population and the valuation have increased fairly evenly. Yet in police cost per $1,000 of valuation, Cleveland had the greatest increase, and this increase is completely out of line with increases in area, population and valuation.

Where Boston stands in the various comparisons is shown in this composite picture:

Boston was fifth in area and population and third in valuation in 1923 when its police cost per capita was highest among the cities, when its cost per square mile was second highest, and when its cost in dollars was fourth highest.

In 1939 when its area is smallest of the cities, its population second lowest, and its valuation had dropped to fifth place, the police cost per square mile and per capita remained near the top, actually second highest, and its cost in dollars dropped from fourth place to fifth place. Yet though fifth highest in valuation, Boston is eighth, or second lowest in police cost per $1,000 of valuation.

New York is uniformly highest in every comparison, except per $1,000 of valuation, and Pittsburgh is uniformly low in every comparison, being lowest in five of the seven comparisons and next to lowest in the other two. It should be noted, however, that Pittsburgh's police force has been found to be inadequate by a reputable organization which surveyed the police department in 1937. In a report made under the auspices of the Institute of Public Administration, Luther Gulick, Director (page 123, Survey of 1937), it is stated:

"When compared with the forces of other cities, the Bureau of Police is relatively larger than it appears, because certain functions customarily performed by a police department are delegated in Pittsburgh to other divisions of the Department of Public Safety."

This Pittsburgh report points out (page 124) that when the number of men available for foot patrol is divided into three shifts, there remains for 11 precincts covering 55 square miles a total of "81 foot patrolmen available per tour to cover and protect the lives and property of the residents."

CONCLUSIONS.

In making the foregoing study the commission has had two purposes in mind, first, to find out whether or not Boston needs more policemen; and, secondly, to establish definitely the extent to which that question can be determined by the use of the statistics relating to other services in the city or statistics relating to police costs in other cities.

The commission has come to the conclusion that the first question cannot be answered with any degree of assurance by the use of such comparative statistics as have been frequently the basis of recommendations to the Mayor in the past. At best, they can be relied upon only as indications, at worst they are frankly confusing. The commission believes that the foregoing analysis is useful, if not necessary, in order to establish once and for all the actual values of such comparative statistics.

They indicate that the cost of the Police Force in Boston compared with that in other cities is on the whole high. But they cannot be relied on to establish that such cost is too high, and they do not answer the question as to whether Boston needs more policemen. The commission believes that this question can be better answered through an examination of the assignments in the Police Department itself with a view of ascertaining whether or not a different disposition will not result in a substantial increase of efficiency and of available policemen hours. This examination, which will also include an examination of other factors in connection with the department, the commission is now undertaking.

The statistics and tables previously presented require certain additional comment. In preparing both series of comparisons the commission was faced with the necessity of finding a starting point where police expense in Boston was presumably proper and police protection presumably satisfactory.

It happens that there was a period in which the situation was very close to this ideal. Few will dispute the claim that in the late Stephen O'Meara the City of Boston had an able Police Commissioner, or that in his term of office the Police Department was capably administered. The middle years of his administration were just prior to the outbreak of the first World War and for that reason were free of many of the complications which occurred in it and afterwards. Of those years, the commission has chosen the year 1912, because prior thereto the figures in regard to Boston would not be readily comparable with figures of subsequent years owing to the annexation of Hyde Park as of January 1, 1912.

Commencing with that year the commission has shown in Section I the relative increases in costs of the Police Department, the School Department and the other municipal services.

These various tables reveal that, as might be expected, the police cost has become very much greater in 1939 than it was in 1912; but that in relation to the costs of other services the police cost has become proportionately less. Obviously, this disclosure is not conclusive evidence that police cost today is down to or below the proper level.

In the second comparative analysis, using the same year (1912) as a starting point, the commission attempted to compare the cost of police service in Boston with the cost of police service in other large American cities. The commission followed the methods of comparison most frequently used by others. This comparison produced many vagaries, the most significant of which is easily discernible in the relative position of Boston in per square mile cost, per capita cost and per $1,000 of valuation cost. Boston position in all three has changed only slightly between 1912 and 1939. It was second in per square mile cost and first in per capita cost in 1912, while in 1939 it was second in per square mile cost and second in per capita cost. On these two bases of comparison Boston ranked high throughout the period.

However, on the basis of cost per $1,000 of valuation, Boston's position throughout the period has been relatively quite different. It was eighth in 1912 and it was still eighth in 1939.

Another vagary of slightly less degree is that while Boston dropped from fourth place in total cost of police service in 1912 to fifth place in 1939, in percentage of increase in the intervening period it was seventh.

The wide discrepancy in the results derived through the application of these methods of comparison serve to cast doubt on the reliability of one or all.

Examination of the methods of comparison themselves shows that there is substantial reason for such doubt. Although both the area and the population of a city have a bearing in determining the propriety of police cost, neither alone is a reliable basis of evaluation. The area may be small, as is the case with Boston, and excessive population and great wealth may be packed into it, in which situation it would be necessary to maintain a substantial police force. If the same wealth and the same population were located in a city of greater area, the same police cost would be less per square mile than would be the case in the smaller city.

Neither do population figures alone constitute a proper basis of evaluation. They are subject to substantial correction due to peculiar characteristics or special circumstances present in each particular city. For instance, in a city which has absorbed substantially all its suburban area a high proportion of those at any time in the city itself reside within its limits, and are included in any computation based on population. However, in those cities where the suburban and residential area is largely without the city limits, a large proportion of those subject to police oversight and supervision reside outside of the city and are, therefore, excluded in a per capita computation. Boston is a striking example of a city in the latter class and must necessarily and unfairly suffer in per capita computation with cities in the former class.

In this connection, in the "Survey of Crime and Criminal Justice in Boston," conducted by the Harvard Law School, it is stated:

"Boston pays a greater amount per capita for police service and has more policemen in proportion to population than any other large city in the United States. But her situation is peculiar in that the city is merely the heart of a closely knit metropolitan district. Naturally, the cost of policing a high-valued district and traffic-congested center of crooked streets is proportionately much greater than it would be if the cost in the less congested surrounding area were combined with it and proportioned to the total population and assessed valuation. (Vol. III., pages 18 and 19.)

In a later report the Finance Commission will discuss this phase of the Boston situation.

Similarly, elements of unreliability are observable in the third method of comparison—per each $1,000 of valuation. Definitely, it cannot be considered reliable when standing alone. The location of the great portion of the wealth of a community, whether it be centralized in one or more adjacent areas or widely and more or less uniformly scattered over the whole area of a city, makes a great difference in police service requirements.

Other important variations which affect the figures relating to police costs per $1,000 of valuation in each of the large cities herebefore considered arise from differences in their respective laws and policies. For instance, the proportion of the total wealth of a city included in the taxable valuation is affected by the laws relating to taxation in force in each city, and varies widely. And an equal variation occurs in the policies which determine at what percentage of its full value the taxable wealth in a city is to be actually assessed.

The result of the application of the three bases to police costs, so far as they relate to the nine cities under consideration, is brought out in the following table which shows the actual dollar increase in police costs between the years 1912 and 1939 and the effect which these increases have upon the per capita cost, the cost per $1,000 of valuation and the cost per square mile.

Effects of Police Cost Increase.

CITY.	Increase.	Per Capita.	Per $1,000 Valuation.	Per Square Mile.
New York.....	$52,118,229	$6 85	$3 13	$159,382
Chicago.....	10,560,526	2 85	5 42	49,626
Philadelphia.....	7,119,597	3 45	2 82	54,977
Cleveland.....	3,834,104	4 11	3 15	52,214
St. Louis.....	3,598,258	4 28	3 41	58,699
Boston.....	3,615,641	4 45	2 37	75,625
Baltimore.....	3,550,649	4 09	2 89	45,104
Pittsburgh.....	1,625,694	2 32	1 48	29,829
Detroit.....	10,413,423	6 51	4 21	75,519

This table shows that Chicago increased its police cost in dollars approximately three times as much as Boston, yet that increase when translated into per capita figures is $1.60 less than Boston's increase per capita. It also shows that the cost per square mile and the cost per capita increased in Chicago about two thirds what it did in Boston; but, on the $1,000 of valuation basis, the increase in Chicago is more than twice that of Boston.

The New York increase in dollars is the greatest among the nine cities; yet that great increase affected the cost per $1,000 of valuation much less than the dollar increases in four other cities affected the cost per $1,000 of valuation in those cities. Yet the New York increase in dollars caused the greatest increase in per capita cost and in per square mile cost among all the nine cities.

This variation in results shows the limited value that can be placed upon comparisons between cities by per capita, by $1,000 of valuation and by square mile costs. Nevertheless, the Finance Commission is of opinion that although these comparisons do not furnish a proper basis for deciding whether or not the Boston police cost is actually too great or too little, they do show that there is sufficient warrant for the conclusion that the police expense of Boston is high in comparison with the other cities under consideration.

No increase, therefore, in the police expense is recommended without a detailed examination of the administration of the Police Department. The commission has been unable at this writing, with the staff of employees available, to complete such a detailed examination, but proposes to carry on the study and see whether or not there is proper justification for an increase. For the time being, therefore, the commission believes decision upon the Police Commissioner's request for more men should be deferred, at least until the investigation has been completed.

By refusing to yield to the Police Commissioner's request for two hundred additional men last year, there has been saved the taxpayers somewhere between $100,000 and $160,000. No great harm has come from that decision. The Police Commissioner has already been given thirty additional men in 1940. It would seem to be the part of wisdom to defer further appointments until good reason has been shown. It does not appear to the Finance Commission that every effort has yet been made to avoid the necessity of increasing the present size of the Police Force.

Respectfully submitted,
CHARLES M. STOREY, Chairman,
DAVID LASKER,
JAMES H. FLANAGAN,
ELIAS F. SHAMON,
The Finance Commission.

Commissioner James E. Maguire dissents from the report as follows:

"The administrative responsibility for the management of the Police Department is vested in a commissioner appointed by the Governor with the approval of the Executive Council. When he asks for additional men it must be assumed that he is acting in the exercise of his best discretion, and entirely in the public interest. His requests cannot be denied except upon substantial grounds. None has been submitted.

"Comparisons with other cities are interesting, but no two cities have the same conditions. Each must solve its problems in its own way. Likewise, it is of little value to take the year 1912 as a constant from which to figure the city's police costs. There was discontent in the department at the time, which later had to be met in the following manner: By an increase in pay for patrolmen from $1,400 to $2,100. By a sharp curtailment in working hours. By an improvement in housing quarters.

"An adequate police force is a necessity. It is expensive, of course, but it is an expense that must be met. It is idle, therefore, to talk about valuations of this and other cities. As values come down the police costs appear in the statistics to go up. The petitioners for lower tax valuations should remember that public services are based on public income.

"On all the facts available I believe the request of the Police Commissioner for an increase in the Police Force should not be deferred until a further consideration by the commission."

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to the Dies Congressional Committee.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, some time ago it was called to my attention that Mr. Donovan, State Director of the N. Y. A., uncovered the fact that Mrs. Manuel Blank, wife of a very prominent Communist official in Massachusetts, was employed in the N. Y. A. under the name of Marion K. Rantz. She apparently, Mr. President, did not see fit to register under her real name. Apparently she was either ashamed of the fact that she was a Communist or else she was endeavoring to fool the proper law officials in order to make it more easy to jam the rolls with Communists. This lady held a very important position. As I understand it she was in charge of certification on the N. Y. A. Quite possibly if the Dies Congressional Committee saw fit to investigate this lady's activities they would uncover the most astonishing evidence of subversive activities which have been going on in this state now for some few years. As I understand it, it has been estimated that there are in the vicinity of 35,000 Communists employed on the W. P. A. throughout this nation, and I for one, Mr. President, cannot conceive of any Communist being given an opportunity by this Government to work and be paid with Federal funds when we have so many law-abiding, honest-to-God American citizens who are unable to get on the W. P. A., and I know that each and every member of this Council during the past few months has been honestly endeavoring to help their constituents, good American citizens, get on W. P. A., and in many instances they are unable to because of the lack of money, yet we have in this nation 35,000 Communists on the pay roll, on the Federal pay roll, and I think that something should be done about it. I am very much in accord with Congressional action which has made it possible to purge the W. P. A. rolls of all these subversive agents. Mr. President, I know that down in Newspaper Row today I was pleased to read that the Supreme Court of the United States has upheld the decision of the lower court and Earl Browder, that loud-mouthed gentleman who represents the Communist Party of the United States, that gentleman who had the audacity to put his name on a nation-wide poll and run for President of the United States, is going to serve four years in jail for violating the Federal law. I think, Mr. President, if the proper law enforcement agencies throughout the United States put just a little more pep and vigor in checking on these subversive agencies and in prosecuting them to the fullest extent of the law, we would have less subversive activity in this country. I think that up until a few months ago our Government has been either too tolerant or it has been too lazy to check on these subversive agencies, and I think that the events that have taken place during the past few months have conclusively proven that the Dies Congressional Committee, which has been subject to considerable and unwarranted criticism throughout this nation, has proven itself to the American people that it has been serving them in an honest-to-God capacity as a real American committee. I trust, Mr. President, that his Body will see fit to pass this order.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, I concur with the Republican spokesman in believing that the democratic gentleman is doing an outstanding job. I feel that possibly no Federal appointee in the State of Massachusetts has done more to aid the cause of government than John L. Donovan, Jr. He is doing an outstanding job, and I concur heartily with the gentleman from Ward 4 in commending his activity. Denouncing the communistic activities in the state organization of the N. Y. A., John L. Donovan once again proved himself not only an outstanding executive but an outstanding American. I think the problem that confronts different Federal agencies today as the result of the introduction of subversive methods and elements into them is really creating a dangerous situation, but I know that with such men as Donovan at the head of them there will be no threat, and I know he is entitled to the respect and consideration and commendation of every thinking American and every public body of this type. His services as head of the N. Y. A. in Massachusetts are worthy of widespread public comment and approval.

The resolution was referred to the Committee on Rules.

LICENSING OF AUTOMOBILE DRIVING SCHOOLS.

Coun. RUSSO offered the following:

Ordered, That the Police Commissioner, in cooperation with the Registrar of Motor Vehicles, be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to establish proper regulations and require a license for the operation of automobile driving schools.

Coun. RUSSO—Mr. President, since the streets of Boston are used for this purpose and each and every case of instruction is a potential hazard and road menace, and as numerous accidents injuring innocent pedestrians and damaging property are caused by so-called "student drivers," it is our intention that we should have some say as to who shall conduct and operate this kind of business. Insurance rates have increased because the number of accidents have increased, and have lowered when the opposite is true. Everyone is concerned with the reduction of rates and anything which will show a desire of public officials to cut down the number of accidents and remove all possibilities of having them should have the support of the municipal government and the taxpayers. A license is needed to conduct pool-rooms, to operate junk shops and to run pawn shops. Police reports are required before the license is granted. The morals and well-being of the city are involved. Then why not license driving schools? Aside from the much-needed revenue which would be brought in, they involve the safety and lives of persons. It is important, then, that persons operating such places have a clean and spotless record at the Registry of Motor Vehicles, and this would also apply to the instructors as well. Owners under a license would be very careful how they function and who they allow to teach for fear of not having their licenses renewed. No harm in any form can result, while considerable good can come of it. It would show the insurance companies that the City of Boston wants all possible obstacles, large and small, removed from the path that leads toward lower rates. It would make the roads safer and be a progressive step. Eventually, it may be adopted by all communities and perhaps become a state law. It would do away with newspaper headlines so often seen,—"Student Driver Strikes Child," "Collision Caused by Student Driver." Finally, it would give the city authorities a chance to coordinate with Registry officials in checking the equipment more often in student cars so that no improper or faulty equipment would be used for fear of losing their license to operate a driving school. This plan does provide a protection for everyone. Mr. President, I am informed that we have in our streets over a thousand students a day who want to have licenses for driving and therefore I ask in the name of safety that this order be passed.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

CHANGE OF NAME OF BLUE HILL AVENUE.

Coun. GOTTLIEB, GOODE, TAYLOR, M. H. SULLIVAN and HUTCHINSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to take action on changing the name of Blue Hill avenue to Louis D. Brandeis Boulevard.

Coun. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, I listened to that order being introduced today and I could not help but feel that this is the one nation where it might be introduced. Certainly it wouldn't be introduced in Germany or Italy or any other Continental nation. I think it is a splendid thing when any legislative group of this type can introduce an order to take action to honor the group and creed that has been constantly militated against on the other Continent. I want to go along with that order and I believe through the unanimous approval of the members of this Council we will show that the City of Boston is still tolerant toward all members of its fellow citizens whatever their racial extraction or religious group.

Coun. GOTTLIEB—Mr. President, I feel that the main purpose of this order is not to show the dictators in other countries that there is a great democracy here. I feel that a great American and a great Jew, one who so strongly represents the finest of his type as a Jew and as an American, should be honored in some such manner by the City of Boston. I do not think it is necessary to go into his many virtues which are well known to every citizen in the United States. The name, Blue Hill avenue, does not denote any particular thing of importance. It has no great significance. The Blue Hills are some distance away from the greater part of Blue Hill avenue. Actually Blue Hill avenue is one of our main arteries, of course, leading as a gateway into the Blue Hills. I feel, Mr. President, that the change from Blue Hill avenue to Louis D. Brandeis Boulevard would be to pay a fitting tribute to a fine and great person, and I feel that this order ought to pass.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

SITE FOR FEDERAL HOUSING PROJECT, WARD 8.

Coun. HURLEY offered the following:
Ordered, That the Boston Housing Authority be requested to consider as a second site for a Federal Housing Project that area of Roxbury known as the Orchard Park section of Ward 8.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

ASSIGNMENT OF OFFICERS FOR TRAFFIC DUTY ON ALBANY STREET.

Coun. HURLEY offered the following:
Ordered, That the Police Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to assign officers to traffic duty on Albany street, at the Accident entrance of the Boston City Hospital, during the hours of heavy traffic from 4 to 6 p. m., to relieve traffic congestion, so that hospital ambulances may enter and leave the hospital premises without the present delay.

Coun. HURLEY—Mr. President, I introduced an order in the Council about three weeks ago asking that a traffic light be erected at the Ambulance entrance to the Boston City Hospital. I have since learned that the Traffic Commission has not the available funds to erect a traffic signal at that point. At the hours between 4 and 6 o'clock in the afternoon and the early morning hours from 8 to 10 o'clock the traffic at that point is very congested and there have been numerous occasions of ambulances being tied up for three or four minutes and many a time it has cost the life of a patient being taken to the Boston City Hospital. I think that this money that has been appropriated by the Council for the extra policemen here in Boston should result in their being appointed. They are needed very badly and this is one of the points that would bring out the advisability of Police Commissioner Timilty appointing more policemen to the force.

Coun. HUTCHINSON—I would like to ask for an amendment to that, that we have the police clear the ambulance lane. There is an ambulance lane there and there are also traffic lights on Albany street at the corner of Massachusetts avenue, so that if that ambulance lane was cleared they would get right into the hospital.

Chairman WARD—The Chair would rule that the order is broad enough to include the proposed amendment.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

APPOINTMENT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN offered the following:
Ordered, That the President of the Boston City Council be requested to appoint a special committee of five members of the Council to cooperate with other branches of the city government in providing every possible facility and courtesy for the proper entertainment of the legionnaires who will visit Boston during the National Convention to be held in September.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

FLAGPOLE, ARTHUR MCKINNEY PLAYGROUND, WARD 22.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN offered the following:
Ordered, That the Park Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to erect a flagpole in the Arthur McKinney Playground on Faneuil street, Brighton, Ward 22, prior to the date of the dedication.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

Adjourned at 4.15 p. m. on motion of Coun. WICKES, to meet on Monday, July 1, 1940, at 2 p. m.

AMERICAN DEMOCRACY CHALLENGED — JOHN P. SULLIVAN, PH. D., OF BOSTON PUBLIC SCHOOLS, DELIVERS FOURTH OF JULY ORATION AT FANEUIL HALL — WARNS THAT FREEDOM IN AMERICA IS THREATENED BY WEAKNESS FROM WITHIN MORE THAN BY LUST OF FOREIGN CONQUERORS FROM WITHOUT — ALSO TELLS AUDIENCE THAT DEMOCRACY DOES NOT COME FREE OF CHARGE BUT ENTAILS RESPONSIBILITIES, AND WE, AS A PEOPLE, MUST SPIRITUALLY AWAKEN — SAYS PHILOSOPHY OF GETTING SOMETHING FOR NOTHING MUST BE BANISHED AND REALIZE NEED FOR GIRDING TO SACRIFICE OF GIVING MORE — LOST PRIDE FOR TOIL ALSO MUST BE REGAINED.

"American Democracy Challenged" was the subject of the Fourth of July Oration, delivered by John P. Sullivan, Ph. D., Boston Public Schools, at Faneuil Hall, July 4, during the delivery of which he spoke as follows:

Mr. Mayor and Fellow Americans.

There are few honors that may come to any American greater than to be invited to deliver in Faneuil Hall the 4th of July Oration in anniversary of the Declaration of Independence. This event, now in its 169th year, is the second oldest public institution in Boston, being preceded only by the famed Boston Latin School.

It is a happy coincidence that the first Boston Oration was given in 1771 by James Lovell, the renowned teacher hero of Boston Latin School. It is interesting to note that the first thirteen Orations were given in Anniversary of the Boston Massacre. In this historic Hall in 1783, the citizens of Boston voted to substitute the Celebration of the Declaration of Independence. The speaker was instructed "to consider the principles which led to this great national event, as well as the important effects, whether general or domestic, which have already, and will forever continue to flow from this auspicious epoch."

Here in Faneuil Hall, the great problems leading to the day we celebrate were discussed and acted upon; here some of the great heroes first showed their leadership. Faneuil Hall has remained the most sacred civic shrine of the people of Boston. Here the citizens of Boston have returned instinctively through the years, in days of special crisis or of rejoicing.

Today we are celebrating the Natal Day of these United States of America — the only country with a known birthday. At the outset she drew her nourishment from whatever there was of good in the systems of former centuries; the wrecks of the past were her warnings.

Here As Americans.

We gather here today as Americans. There are no racial, social or religious differences. There is no "Republican," no "Democrat"; on the Fourth of July all are Americans. All feel that their country is greater than party.

This day we celebrate marks the very apex that representative constitutional democracy has ever reached in all the history of mankind. It marks the final triumph of human struggle for the precious right of every individual, however humble his origin or status, to think independently and to act without undue restraint of kings, tyrants, or dictators.

Let no one today underestimate the bitterness of the struggles and the extremity of the sacrifices of the founding fathers who built this nation. Autocracy was strongly entrenched throughout the world. Tyranny was in the saddle. There was a time of rule by might and power by an aristocratic group dominating all economic and political enterprise and suppressing every vital right of common man.

Our Independence and Freedom were won the hard way. They were achieved only by the willing sacrifice of a united people.

Let us recall the trying formative years of this great nation — an era which truly tried men's souls — an era of petty fears and state jealousies which almost ended in disaster. Yet through a united sacrifice and by a willingness to forego many selfish rights for the good of the whole, overcoming state and even local jealousies, there was born — of Compromise — the Great Constitution of these United States — a document which has no precedent in history. What a strange contrast with the present world trend of ruling by sheer force of brute power.

The glorious tradition that is ours was earned even though there were many heartaches, even though some traitors were found under the guise of friendly enemies.

Oh, that we might again rehear those voices which were heard in this building, known as the Cradle of our Liberties. Oh, that we might absorb those heartfelt lessons taught us by the self-sacrificing patriot speakers and learn to beware of the selfish mouthings of veneered patriots. We could profit in this hour of world trouble to know our sincere friends and to distinguish our friendly enemies.

First Orator A Patriot.

James Lovell, the first Boston Orator, was a true patriot to the cause of liberty. The self-sacrifice of this forgotten hero is evidenced by his public life in that he served longer in the Continental Congress than any other member, remaining at his post for the full five years, 1777 to 1782. He was also the first political prisoner of the American Revolutionary War.

That was a critical day, in 1771, when James Lovell, against the advice of his father, faced the audience of Boston citizens to deliver the first Boston Oration. This Oration would make appropriate reading for today. I should like to give one excerpt — which stresses the theme presented by James Lovell.

"Who are a free people? Not those who do not suffer actual oppression, but those who have a constitutional check upon the power to oppress."

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"
From Boston Centennial Poem by
NATHAN HASKEL DOLE.

IN RESPECT FOR HIGHER LAW, AMERICAN DEMOCRACY WILL FIND ITS WAY TO EVERY PRACTICAL HUMAN ACHIEVEMENT THE CHANGES OF OUR TIME MAY REQUIRE, MAYOR TOBIN TELLS AUDIENCE, IN ADDRESS ON INDEPENDENCE DAY — OUR UNION OF STATES WILL BE STRONGER THAN EVER AND THE STAR-SPANGLED BANNER WILL WAVE TRIUMPHANT AGAINST EVERY POWER OF DARKNESS — POINTS, BY COMPARISON, TO FALLACIES OF DOCTRINES PUT INTO EFFECT BY DICTATOR COUNTRIES.

The following is the address of Mayor Tobin on Independence Day:

On this Independence Day — this 164th anniversary of America's Freedom — we may as well make one admission quite frankly. Many among us have acquired a doubt of the value of freedom.

Confronting grave problems both at home and abroad, we have been wondering whether the ideal of Liberty has not lived out its day and become largely useless. We are wondering whether liberty is now a strength or a weakness.

This doubt has come over us, as we have seen the people of Germany set aside all regard for individual differences of thought or opinion, and unite themselves in one mighty surge of national effort at the command of a single dictator. In this complete submission they have accomplished huge conquests by the force of arms—conquests unequalled since the time of the Caesars.

WILL DEFEND OURSELVES.

We are determined to defend ourselves against such conquest here. We are mapping out a vast program of material armament for that purpose, and at the same time we are wondering whether America's moral armament will be sufficient to withstand any threat which may be hurled against our nation.

Will the principle of liberty be indeed an adequate shield and buckler or must we discard it as a broken reed?

Well, let me point out one fact which seems very clear. Chancellor Hitler and his Nazi followers have not discarded the idea of liberty. On the contrary, they make much of it.

The state, they say, shall have liberty—absolute liberty. The state shall recognize no principle of restraint whatsoever. The state shall advance where it pleases—conquer and seize whatever it pleases. The Nazi State shall do these things at any cost to the liberty of other states, and at any cost to the lives, the property, the rights, and the happiness of other peoples.

Surely, this use of liberty by one state at the expense of all other states is somehow wrong. It is an exaggerated use.

Think what such use of absolute liberty would mean in the life of a single individual. Suppose, for example, that a locomotive engineer had just been given a great new Diesel engine to operate. Suppose that as he drove his wonderful new machine on through the night, he became so confident and exultant in its power that he acted as though he and his engine were all powerful. Suppose that he should disregard every safety signal along the way, and cast aside all restraint.

That engineer, we know, would be headed for a terrible smash-up.

DISREGARDS HIGHER POWER.

In his sense of absolute liberty, he would be casting aside not only his company's rules, but also a higher rule—the rule of reasoning.

So the idea that any one state can employ all liberty to work its will upon other states, disregards a higher rule.

It forgets the spiritual rules and signposts set upon this earth by the hand of God.

That is not the American idea of liberty. Certainly, it is not our National ideal, I mean to say. If some individuals among us happen to think that they can use their personal liberty without restraint by any higher rule, without respect for God, so much the worse for them.

Certainly, the American ideal of liberty is not absolute, or in itself all-sufficient. What America has always proclaimed and followed is the way of freedom for every individual to worship God, not to deny God.

In this reverence, in this respect for a higher law, the American democracy will find its way to every practical human achievement which the changed conditions of our time may require.

In this universal acceptance of a higher control, we shall establish Union stronger than ever.

FOURTH OF JULY ORATION IN FANEUIL HALL.

These were the sober words of a statesman. Almost prophetic of the future troublesome events of Revolutionary days he realized that the constitutional order must be maintained if liberty was to be worthwhile. Recalling that the very authors of the Boston Massacre were defended by Whig lawyers, John Adams and Josiah Quincy, Jr., and acquitted by a Boston jury, he counseled patience, fortitude, strict adherence to the laws.

The schoolmaster's theme visualized the future goal of his harassed fellow citizens. Their homes might be burned, their property confiscated, their lives placed in jeopardy, but no external power of an unwelcome army sent by British government thousands of miles away could expect to conquer the holy and sacred citadel of our American free mind.

As patriotic as were the outspoken views of James Lovell in the cause of American liberty, more remarkable was the man in view of the rapid Tory leanings of his father, John Lovell.

BRAVE MEN FRAMED CONSTITUTION.

Deliberation and adoption of the Declaration of Independence by members of the Continental Congress was a very perilous matter to all of them. We of a latter date should be ever mindful of the bravery of these men. Their act meant that if the cause of the new nation should fail, every one of the signers could be convicted of high treason and put to death. As Franklin aptly put it, "We must all hang together or we will all hang separately." Another signer, Charles Carroll of Maryland, was told that there were so many Carrolls in his state that the king's troops would not know which one to arrest. "Yes, they will," he replied, and at once wrote, "Charles Carroll of Carrollton."

The Declaration of Independence is a single sheet of parchment, close-written in an antique script, and boldly scrawled upon at the bottom, where fifty-six men set down their names on that far-off troubled summer day.

That Declaration was once a document of flaming personal concern to every man, woman and child in the country, and its closing words may well be taken today as expression of our people's most urgent need.

Everybody knows how the Declaration begins: "When in the Course of human events . . ."

But few people remember how it ends. And the end is the most significant part of all:

"And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes and our sacred Honor."

When the Boston Oration was transferred to the Fourth of July, 1783, Dr. John Warren, sensing some of the conflicting opinions of those days, said prophetically, "When virtue fails—when luxury and corruption shall undermine the pillars of the state, and threaten a total loss of liberty and patriotism—then solemnly repair to those sacred repositories of the dead, and if you can, return and sport away your rights."

The trying period during the formulation of our Constitution is little known in our history. After weeks of deliberation and the Convention reached a crisis, national unity or disunity, Dr. Benjamin Franklin, the wise sage, offered a resolution at the conclusion of which he suggested, "That there be nominated and appointed a chaplain to this Convention, whose duty it shall be to assemble with us, and introduce the business of each day by an address to the creator of the universe, and the Governor of all nations, beseeching Him to reside in our council and enlighten our minds with a portion of heavenly wisdom, influence our hearts with a line of truth and justice, and crown our labors with a complete and abundant success. I have lived a long time Franklin said and the longer I live, the more convincing proofs I see of this truth: That God governs in the affairs of men."

At one of the many critical periods of the war between the states, a delegation of well-meaning clergymen called upon the harassed Lincoln to offer him the benefit of their advice. The President received them with the courtesy which always characterized his relations with the clergy, but some of their plans and many of their questions must have tried his patience. To the question, whether he was quite sure the Lord was on his side, Lincoln answered that he was not worrying about that proposition. What he was always trying to do was to get himself on the Lord's side.

That bit of wisdom will serve us well. Today as ever, the arms of the Spirit of God must prevail over the arms of wickedness. May His Spirit spread throughout a stricken world and heal it.

INVENTORY OF PATRIOTISM.

The foreground are little known incidents, closely connected with the building of our nation. They point to the human frailties and to strength of character in our early history. Yet with Divine Guidance the Cause of Freedom, of Justice, and of Loyalty prevailed.

Let us as Americans on this memorable day take an inventory of our patriotism. Do we in our smug and complacent manner take our God-given rights for granted? Are we willing to make every sacrifice to continue the American way of life? Are we willing to steel ourselves for any emergency by recognizing our civic duties and responsibilities?

For the last two decades we have been preparing ourselves for peace, with full confidence that the world would subscribe to our national philosophy.

We have been recently more brutally interrupted in our thoughts of peace than have England and France. Fortunately, to date we have been a spectator—but now we are wondering how far to go. We abhor Nazism, Communism, Fascism, and the present practice by which powerful nations absorb smaller states.

With this background of force of might over right the average American is asking, "What's the position of his country in the international picture?"

Should he sacrifice his life for a nation or for those nations to which he has contributed much in the past and earned only generous debts for himself in the form of taxes?

Twenty-six years have taught us that we Americans cannot keep the peace of Europe, because the peoples of Europe have inherited throughout generations all of the racial hatreds which motivated their fathers and forefathers. We Americans are lovers of peace; we hate war.

Our problems of today are proportionately no worse than problems of other days. We are a great nation with greater potentialities than any other nation in the world. Our need is for unity and calm deliberate action. Utilizing the words of George Washington, "The whole world is in an uproar, and our task is to steer safely between Scylla and Charybdis."

Americans should take careful heed of what has happened. In twenty years a people stripped of their wealth and manpower by war and inflation, have built for themselves one of the most powerful positions in the long history of Europe. They made every sacrifice to do it, including that of freedom, a mistake which may ultimately spell their undoing. After the same interval their neighbor, victorious only twenty years ago, lies prostrate.

In this period, democracy had not been functioning efficiently in France. Marshal Petain blamed defeat on the lush years since the World War victory when he stated "our sense of enjoyment predominated over our sense of sacrifices."

AMERICAN DEMOCRACY AT CROSSROADS.

The economic life of France was stifled by incompetency in government. Social unrest grew as a result. Before the present war started national unity had reached a low ebb. It took war and invasion to wake up French democracy. It was too late.

Democracy in America, also, is at the crossroads. Our economic structure has been creaking. We, as a people, have been living beyond our means. For ten years many of our industries have been in a state of economic depression. Ten million persons have been unemployed. Our Government has poured out the people's resources in every kind of aid.

Consider further the recent trends creating discord between man and God; the return to self-centered individualism by many; the adoration of education and science in and of themselves, which led to their evolution into a Frankenstein threatening to destroy its maker; and a return to the spiritual inertia that preceded the war of 1914-18.

Freedom in America, as it was in France, is threatened more by weakness from within than by the lust of foreign conquerors from without. This is the great lesson France teaches. Freedom and Democracy do not come free of charge. They entail responsibilities. We as a people must spiritually awaken. We must throw out the window this enervating philosophy of getting "something for nothing" and gird ourselves to the sacrifice of giving more. We must recover our lost pride for toil. We must coordinate the policies and directions of our economy as never before, that it may catch up with our scientific progress. We must bring competency to our Government.

A living, throbbing democracy in America is the best defence against a new and powerful Pan-Europe. It is the best and only defence against decay from within.

Let us take the defeat of France not in the spirit of despair, not as an irreparable loss, but as a lesson of warning for us to begin now before it is too late to lay the foundation for a new and greater day. If we fail to do so our hour of trial will come.

PATRIOTIC VOWS.

In our enthusiasm for flag-waving and in our exacting respect for the symbol, let us not forget the realities which it represents. It is easy enough to stand at attention when the flag goes by, but not always easy to be true to the duties of citizenship which must be performed if the good government which the flag merely symbolizes is to be preserved.

However, the flat refusal of those who demand and receive the protection of the constitution and laws of this country and enjoy the common benefits of social life under the free institutions that they guarantee, to share with their fellow citizens the incidental risks and common burdens, is indefensible, in principle and intolerable in its consequences. Society could not exist if those who enjoy the rights it confers were free at will to evade the duties it imposes.

Had the counsels of malcontents prevailed in earlier days, Bunker Hill would not have been fought, the Declaration of Independence would never have been written, Valley Forge would not have been endured, the day of triumph for independence would not have dawned over Yorktown, and the annals of America would have been shorn of much of their glowing and inspiring tradition.

Genuine patriotism, which means sincere love of country, pride in its traditions and devotion to its ideals, is in certain quarters coming into disrepute. It is time to restore the Spirit of 1776.

CATASTROPHE IMPENDS.

No man can confidently predict the extent to which America may be engulfed in the frightful catastrophe which has overwhelmed Europe. It is seriously threatening at this fatal hour when world conditions have imposed upon America the necessity of immediately evolving and promptly carrying out a tremendous program of full preparedness. And preparing for-preparedness is serious business.

PREPARE CALMLY.

Our future security, it seems agreed by isolationists and co-optationists alike, demands that America prepare with utmost speed.

There ought to be a register of the Nation's manpower, industrial power and wealth for call into an orderly system of training to the extent that events may require defensive preparation.

It is irrelevant and misleading to divert the attention of the American people at this most vital period in their history, by political outcries about "going to war." The question is not whether we shall "go to war." The question is whether we shall act now so that this nation can in fact be defended. The issue is a defence, not offence.

The lesson to be learned from the European disaster is that defence begins internally. It begins with unity. But unity must be mobilized around something concrete. It cannot be created by sermonizing about its virtues. People unite for a common purpose and for a common activity. As soon as it is clear that our task is at home and not in Europe it will also be noticed that our national unity will be greatly increased.

When the totalitarian leaders cut loose their blitzkrieg in Europe they would seem to have blitted the intelligence of some Americans.

Can we not this time stow the hysteria and look at our preparedness problem sensibly? It would be wise, because it is a fact that hysterical nations, like hysterical people, have extra-hard going in perilous times.

FIGHT PROPAGANDA.

One phase of totalitarian aggression against which every one can join is the propaganda phase. This propaganda aims at the demoralization of actual or potential enemies. It seeks to bring this about by arousing disunity, apathy, fear or panic.

Americans can help themselves by refusing to accept the propaganda of totalitarian invincibility. In fact, it would be the better part of wisdom to refuse to accept the propaganda of all warring nations.

However, if national defence is an affair of mechanization, we have no concern that the United States need bow to any nation in the use of machines.

In the heat of our exertions, let us not forget the essence of what we are defending, individual freedom, political freedom, and religious freedom. Let us pray that we may become effective as a free people even in a world of force.

At this time we need not only military force but a power that lies deep in the souls of men. Our first line of defence is moral. The call of the hour is not to ease but to duty. The summons is to men and women and youth to keep faith with goodness, truth, and justice. The time for selfish greed and smart flippancy has passed. Soberly, even contritely, each of us must find the place of his responsibility and all of us together work as one for the preservation of the liberty and the glory of our country.

We shall succeed if we retain unimpaired the most precious heritage which those who preceded us bequeathed us—an unshakable faith in the everlasting worth of freedom and honor, of truth and justice, of intellectual and spiritual integrity; and an immutable determination to give our all, if need be, for the preservation of our American way of life.

As I ponder over the need for national unity, this poem of Edgar Guest, poet of the people, seems to sum up the ideal of spiritual, physical and material unity.

A CREED.

"In all we are, in all we do
Unto our Flag we would be true;
For God and Country let us stand
Unstained of soul and clean of hand.
Teach us to serve and guard and love
The Starry Flag which flies above."

RESTORATION OF SALARIES.

The Portland City Council has granted full restoration of salaries to all city employees, at an estimated cost (for the remaining six months of the year) of $162,430. This will put the city in the red at the end of the year unless additional revenue is obtained. Increases and adjustments of salaries for individuals will be considered as soon as finances permit.

THE NOISE NUISANCE.

That city officials are serious about eliminating noise is noted from studies of new anti-noise ordinances enacted by a growing number of municipalities listed in the "United States Municipal News," bulletin of the American Municipal Association and the United States Conference of Mayors. Among the more important of these cities are Philadelphia, Gary, Ind., Louisville, New York and Boston.

BOSTON AS A TOWN.

From its foundation until 1755, or a period of 125 years, Boston was not only the most outstanding but the most populous town in the American colonies. In 1760, Philadelphia's population was ahead, viz., 18,756, Boston's then being 15,631 and New York's about 14,000. In the last year of town government, viz., 1821, Boston's population was about 45,000 and its public debt $100,000, all incurred for new county buildings.

The history of Boston as a town during a period of nearly two centuries surpasses in civic interest that of Boston as a city because of the untiring zeal and successful efforts of its townsmen to realize more of true democracy than had ever been attained before. Their obligations were held as sacred as their liberties.

A communication was received from the Board of Apportionment, under date of June 18, 1940, reporting that at the meeting of Feb. 19, 1940 (see p. 28), the unexpended balance at the end of the year 1939 available for appropriation in 1940 for repairs and alterations of school buildings was noted as $51,687.15. Included in this balance was the sum of $4,695.70, being the balance unexpended at the end of the year 1939 for tools, materials and trucking in connection with the W. P. A. program (Item D).

This unexpended balance of $4,695.70 may not be used to reduce the amount to be raised by taxation for repairs and alterations of schools in 1940 and is available only for tools, materials and trucking in connection with the W. P. A. program for 1940.

The appropriation item (Item D) for tools, materials and trucking in connection with the W. P. A. program for 1939 was made a bond issue and any balance remaining unexpended at the end of the year 1939 must be used in reducing the appropriation for the W. P. A. program in 1940.

The Board of Apportionment respectfully reports correction of the explanatory statement which follows the order making a total appropriation for alterations and repairs of school buildings to read as follows:

The above total of $760,333.00 appropriated for "alteration and repair of school buildings," etc., is obtained as follows:

STATEMENT OF BUSINESS MANAGER—THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE AND ITS ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICIALS

The following statement, prepared by the Business Manager, was read:

At the meeting of June 3 in connection with a discussion of the Budget, Mr. Joseph Lee, in comparing salaries paid to division heads in the office of the Business Manager with other positions in the administrative service, stated that such division heads are the phalanx of the integrity on which the school department runs. This statement is absolutely true with respect to the particular responsibilities and duties of these division heads in the office of the Business Manager. They have certainly lived up in full measure to the trust placed in them by the School Committee and by the Business Manager.

The School Committee, however, aside from its own important functions, has divided its administrative responsibilities between the Superintendent of Schools, the Board of Superintendents, the Board of Apportionment, the Secretary of the School Committee, the Schoolhouse Custodian and the Business Manager. The phalanx of the integrity on which the school system runs obviously depends on the School Committee as the elective representatives of the citizens and on these individuals and boards given great responsibilities under the rules and regulations of the committee, and in the case of the Superintendent of Schools and the Business Manager, statutory responsibilities in addition to their duties under the rules and regulations.

The financial transactions of the School Committee, through the office of the Business Manager, have been handled for many years without destructive criticism or scandal of any kind. Naturally, we in the office of the Business Manager are proud of that public record. We appreciate the compliment paid us by Mr. Lee. On the other hand, let us look at the educational side of the system—teachers in Boston are chosen from their respective lists without regard to their religious affiliation, political, social or fraternal connections, receiving their appointments in the order of their standing on printed and published eligible lists open to the citizens for inspection. There is only one exception—we are not appointing non-residents for the past few years, and we have been forced into that procedure. Under present conditions a capable, thoroughly-prepared Boston teacher has little if any chance of securing a position in another city or town if a resident of that city or town is considered capable of filling the position by the local school committee.

Rated lists for promotion to higher positions, such as head masters, principals of schools and other ranks are also published. The candidates are placed thereon in the order of their standing and promotions made on that basis.

It was the civic-minded school committee of 1916 and 1918 that made such a situation possible in the Boston school system. The committee of 1916 demanded that appointments be made from the eligible lists of teachers in the order of the standing of the candidates on such lists. Regulations were amended and a principal of a school, beginning with 1916, was required to take number one on the list at the time he was requesting the appointment of a teacher, unless he could prove that such an appointment was not in the best interests of the public schools. It was the civic-minded School Committee of 1918 that demanded rated lists for promotion to a higher rank. Members of this committee contended that they were opposed to the then arbitrary plan of making promotions to the higher positions on the recommendation of a single individual. In other words, they were pioneers for a merit system of promotion in the Boston public schools.

The Board of Superintendents of these years recognized the fairness and importance of these recommendations of the School Committee members and inaugurated rated lists of candidates eligible for promotion within the service. At that time the present Superintendent of Schools, Mr. Arthur L. Gould, was a member of the Board of Superintendents and to him was delegated the work and responsibility for formulating rated lists for promotion to higher ranks.

The appointment and promotions of teachers since 1916 and 1918 have been carried on down to the present day on the basis of merit by all succeeding School Committees. The present School Committee and its predecessors have given the educational authorities the power to give all examinations and make all rated lists for promotion to higher ranks. The Boston system of examinations and rated lists for promotion to higher positions operated by the Board of Superintendents and the Board of Examiners has been copied in many places throughout the country.

In conclusion, therefore, may I reiterate that the phalanx of integrity on which the school department runs and has run depends on the School Committee and all of those in the service who have been given responsibilities and power to conduct the school system with one end in view, viz., that at all times the best interests of the children in the public schools will be served.

The statement was accepted and placed on file.

CITY RECORD

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

VOL. 32.

SATURDAY, JULY 20, 1940.

NO. 29

POPULATION OF BOSTON FOUND TO BE APPROACHING POINT OF STABILITY, ACCORDING TO STATISTICS COMPILED AND MADE PUBLIC BY THE CITY OF BOSTON PLANNING BOARD—NO FURTHER NET INCREASE IS PREDICTION BASED ON FINDINGS, WITH CITY OF FEWER CHILDREN, LARGER GROUPS OF ELDERLY PERSONS, SMALLER FAMILIES AND A DECLINE IN SCHOOL COSTS IS ENVISIONED IN ANALYSIS OF CONDITIONS AND TRENDS UNDER STUDY—FACTS DISCOVERED DURING SURVEY FOR LONG-RANGE PLANNING FOR CAPITAL BUDGET.

The population of Boston, like that of the Commonwealth and the nation, is approaching the point of stability, i. e., "when there will be no further net increase," according to statistics compiled by the Planning Board of the City of Boston, in an analysis of the city's population growth forecasting the probable increase and changes which will take place.

"What the city's population is, and will be," says the compilation by the Planning Board, "determine not only the development of municipal services and activities, but also business and industrial policies. Our social order is based on the welfare of mankind; and to plan our welfare we must envisage the character and quantity of one basic factor — people."

A city with fewer youngsters, a larger group of elderly persons, smaller families, but more of them, a static population, an evergrowing old age security bill, and a declining school cost is envisioned by the planning engineers after exhaustive scientific research into present trends.

The study was made to help the Planning Board in determining the advisability of immediate projects and in projecting a long-range program, or capital budget, several years into the future. As William Stanley Parker, chairman of the Board, explains, "It offers a valuable basis for the operation of many municipal functions." It also throws light on the future prospects for business men.

Studded with tables which classify the population of each of the 5,000 city blocks in the Hub according to age, sex and family composition, and supplemented with charts and maps giving a pictorial view of the city's population, the two-volume, $20,000 W. P. A. report draws a set of off-the-beaten-track conclusions, among which are these:

Downward Trend.

The sale of toys will decrease. Likewise, the makers of infants' clothing will find their business slackening. This is because the birth rate is rapidly declining. In 1920 it was about 22.5 a thousand; today it is around 13.5 — almost a 50 per cent reduction. This marked trend will be reflected in other commercial changes. "Children consume nearly twice as much milk as do adults," the report suggests, "and this is a contributing factor in the difficulties encountered in the dairy business in recent years."

This trend will leave thousands of school desks empty. In 1934 school enrolment reached an all-time peak of 138,000 pupils. Now it is around 125,000. The report predicts attendance will drop to 118,000 in 1950, and 108,000 in 1960. "Hence the problem of new school buildings is confined to replacements and the accommodation of changing population distribution," the Board continues.

Likewise, there will be less juvenile delinquency. Health and welfare agencies should be able to devote more time to each individual. The cost of delinquency and child welfare should go down.

There will be a rising demand for books and periodicals. Park Department officials will be scratching their heads for ways to expand and improve the adult recreation program. Clothing dealers will find more demand for clothes suited to elderly persons. In 1950 there will be 74,100 persons of more than sixty-five years as compared with only 42,600 in 1930 — an increase of 74 per cent.

Because of this, the old age security costs will "show tremendous increases," the Board warns.

More radios and refrigerators will be sold, but in the case of refrigerators, there will be a rising demand for the smaller models. That is because the size of families is steadily decreasing while the number is still increasing. As dwellings are replaced, there will be more houses, "but the houses will be smaller." Automobile dealers may find coupes and other small models more popular. The Board finds the average size of families in 1890 in Boston was five persons. In 1930 it was 4.36. This year it will be about 4.2, and in 1950 about 4.0. In 1960 it will presumably be even smaller.

Boston Won't Grow.

"During forty years (from 1890 to 1930) the total number of families doubled," the report explains, "while the population increased only 74 per cent. It is interesting to note that the number of families of one person during this period increased seven times."

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"
From Boston Centennial Poem by
NATHAN HASKEL DOLE.

POPULATION OF BOSTON.

Boston won't grow much bigger, if any, the report continues. If 1940, Federal census figures, soon to be announced, give a total population much under 800,000,—that means Boston has reached its peak and will remain stable or even lose a little population through migration. The city's population, according to the 1930 census, was 781,188. But if the census figure is above 800,000 this year, that means the population is still increasing and will creep upward another 1 per cent or so until 1950, after which it will probably decrease slightly. In either case, further growth will be negligible. The rate of increase has been gradually dropping ever since 1840, the year when a thumping 52.1 per cent population increase was chalked up for the decade just ending.

Hyde Park, Brighton and West Roxbury are still growing rapidly, the Board finds by studying the trends in each of the city's districts. Dorchester is still growing somewhat, and Roxbury shows an upturn in the last few years from a stable condition. But Boston proper, South Boston, Charlestown, and East Boston are on the down-grade. Of these, South Boston and Charlestown started declining first, having reached their population peak in 1910.

BOSTON'S FINANCIAL CONDITION RATED HIGHLY.

The following is an excerpt from Dun and Bradstreet Municipal Service Report of June 28:

The present administration, which took office in 1938, headed by Mayor Maurice J. Tobin, continues to provide the city with a capable management. There have been indications in some quarters that the reduction in costs effected in the last two years has not been up to expectations. It hardly needs to be said however, that there are many practical, legal and political obstacles to accomplishing a comprehensive economy program. A no-hiring policy has reduced municipal employment somewhat. In addition, various leaks in the revenue collection system have been plugged, with a consequent increased return from auto excise taxes, water rents and personal taxes. The Mayor has also been active and has achieved some success in the pursuance of legislation favorable to Boston and in opposition to inimical measures. In some cases administrative methods have been revised and improved, as evidenced by the changes in the financial accounting and recording system. Altogether it is considered that the city has a higher caliber type of administration than it has had in some years and that its interests, by and large, are being well served.

LAND-TAKING IN WEST ROXBURY.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land for sewerage works, to be constructed as follows:

The right and easement is taken to lay and maintain sewerage works in the following described lands, exclusive of any interest in trees, buildings or other structures standing thereon, reserving to the owners thereof the right to use the lands for any purpose except such as may injure or obstruct said works, and except for placing or maintaining any structure on said lands not authorized in writing by the Mayor of said city; trees, buildings or other structures standing upon or affixed to the land in which an easement is hereby taken are to be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said taking for the purpose of constructing said sewerage works. Said lands are in that part of Boston formerly West Roxbury, and are bounded as follows:

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Lyall street, bounded:

Southeasterly by Lasell street, forty and 2-100 feet; southwesterly by the southwesterly line of Lyall street, four hundred eight and 46-100 feet; northwesterly by land hereinafter described as taken from owners unknown (Lyall street), by two measurements, five and 25-100 feet and thirty-four and 97-100 feet; northeasterly by the northeasterly line of said Lyall street, four hundred three and 42-100 feet, containing sixteen thousand two hundred and twenty-eight square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Lyall street, bounded:

ments, thirty-four and 97-100 feet and five and 25-100 feet; southwesterly by the southwesterly line of said Lyall street, twenty and 43-100 feet; northwesterly by land hereinafter described as taken from owners unknown (Lyall street), by two measurements, eight and 16-100 feet and thirty-two and 11-100 feet; and northeasterly by the northeasterly line of said Lyall street, twenty and 7-100 feet, containing eight hundred and five square feet, more or less. This taking is made subject to the rights of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts (Metropolitan Sewer Easement).

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Lyall street, bounded:

Southeasterly by land hereinbefore described as taken from owners unknown (Lyall street), by two measurements, thirty-two and 11-100 feet and eight and 16-100 feet; southwesterly by the southwesterly line of said Lyall street, thirteen and 31-100 feet; northwesterly by Veterans of Foreign Wars Parkway, forty and 8-100 feet; and northeasterly by the northeasterly line of said Lyall street, fourteen and 99-100 feet, containing five hundred and eighty-two square feet, more or less.

The sewerage works to be constructed are as follows: Three hundred and eighty-five linear feet of 10-inch pipe sanitary sewer and four hundred and eighty-two linear feet of 12-inch and 15-inch pipe surface drain.

Betterments are to be assessed for the making of the aforesaid improvement.

Ordered, That this Board estimates that the abutting lots of land on the northeasterly and southwesterly sides of Lyall street will receive benefit or advantage, beyond the general advantage to all real estate in said city, from the improvement herein ordered; each of said lots to the amount hereinafter respectively set against it; said lots and the supposed owners thereof being shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Plan No. 1237, Sewerage Works, Lyall Street, West Roxbury, June 10, 1940, William J. CINCINNATI'S NEW SPORTS FIELD.

Cincinnati's outstanding recreational event of the past year has been the opening of its 200-acre Airport Sports Field—an instantaneous success. Although far from completion and lacking in many necessary facilities, it is already paying its own way. American City Magazine.

SQUARE DEAL IN ASSESSMENTS FOR TAXATION.

Many cities are finding it greatly to their advantage to have their tax valuations periodically overhauled. The first criterion of any assessment is equity. For every citizen who wants through "pull" or however else to get off easy, there are twenty, nay a hundred who want a fair and square deal for all.

The appraisal of city real estate is a highly technical affair.

Few things are more important than the equalization of assessments. Particularly in cities that are cramped by an inflexible debt or tax limit, an honest, full value assessment may be a great boon. Without the slightest raise in the tax rate a substantially greater tax yield may be had.

BOSTON AS A TOWN.

From its foundation until 1755, or a period of 125 years, Boston was not only the most outstanding but the most populous town in the American colonies. In 1760, Philadelphia's population was ahead, viz., 18,756, Boston's then being 15,631 and New York's about 14,000. In the last year of town government, viz., 1821, Boston's population was about 45,000 and its public debt $100,000, all incurred for new county buildings.

The history of Boston as a town during a period of nearly two centuries surpasses in civic interest that of Boston as a city because of the untiring zeal and successful efforts of its townsmen to realize more of true democracy than had ever been attained before. Their obligations were held as sacred as their liberties.

SALUTE TO FLAG AT PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, July 1, 1940.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the School Committee Secretary relative to your order of May 20, 1940, concerning the instructing of all teachers and children attending the Boston public schools to salute the Flag of our country, and to pledge allegiance to said flag at some time during school hours every school day of the year.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
School Committee, June 26, 1940.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—At a meeting of the City Council on May 20, 1940, the following order was passed:

"Ordered, That the Boston School Committee be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to instruct all teachers and children attending the Boston public schools to salute the Flag of our country, and to pledge allegiance to said flag at some time during school hours every school day of the year."

The School Committee has asked me to say that the Regulations require that in every classroom the Pledge to the Flag shall be given at least once a week, and this regulation is strictly adhered to. The superintendent reports that in many of the schools the pledge now is given daily and is given on all occasions when pupils are assembled in the auditorium. The salute to the flag and the pledge are given in connection with all patriotic exercises in the schools.

It seems to the Committee inadvisable at this time to make the daily salute and pledge compulsory.

Respectfully yours,
ELLEN M. CRONIN, Secretary.

CITY COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

3, 1940, have been selected for the operation of the pool. It has been the experience in the past that there have been but few days prior to July 4th hot enough to make the pool popular. Up to date, this has been the case this year.

Civil service has delayed so long providing this department with a list of eligibles for matrons that it has not been possible yet to select the matrons. It is hoped, however, that they may be available for duty on July 3 next,—the date when it is planned to open the pool.

Should hot weather suddenly come before that day, I hope to be able to open the pool at any time with temporary help detached from other duties.

Please be advised that this portion of Oldfields road will be submitted for approval on a W. P. A. project for construction this year.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Traffic Commissioner relative to your order of June 10, 1940, concerning the painting of a white line along the middle of Centre street, Ward 20, from Belgrade avenue to Weld street.

INSTALLATION OF "STOP" SIGN.

The following was received:

Office of the Mayor, July 1, 1940.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Traffic Commissioner relative to your order of June 10, 1940, concerning the erection of "Stop" signs at Welles avenue and Washington street, Ward 17, in both directions.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Traffic Commission, June 25, 1940.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—This is to acknowledge receipt of Council order dated June 10, 1940, which reads as follows:

"Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to erect 'Stop' signs at Welles avenue and Washington street, Ward 17, in both directions."

There have been three accidents involving personal injuries at the intersection of Washington street and Welles avenue since 1936. The accident rate at this intersection does not warrant the erection of "Stop" signs and, furthermore, the State Department of Public Works would not approve of "Stop" signs that would stop traffic in both streets.

Respectfully yours,

WILLIAM P. HICKEY, Commissioner.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith letter from the Traffic Commissioner relative to your order of June 10, 1940, concerning the installation of "Slow" signs on South street, Ward 19, from Archdale road to the junction of South and Washington streets.

City of Boston,

Dear Mr. Mayor,—This is in reply to Council order dated June 10, 1940, which reads as follows:

"Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install 'Slow' signs on South street, Ward 19, from Archdale road to the junction of South and Washington streets."

Our accident records show that there have been only three accidents involving personal injuries in South street at and between intersections from 1936 to May, 1940. It is the opinion of the engineers of this commission that the installation of "Slow" signs in South street is unnecessary.

CITY COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

City of Boston,

Traffic Commission, June 25, 1940.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—This is in reply to Council order dated June 10, 1940, which reads as follows:

"Ordered, That the Traffic Commission be requested, through His Honor the Mayor, to install automatic traffic lights at the junction of Gallivan Boulevard and Washington street, Ward 17."

When funds are made available for the installation of automatic traffic signals this intersection will be signalized.

Respectfully yours,

WILLIAM P. HICKEY, Commissioner.

Placed on file.

PRINTING OF INDEXES AT SUFFOLK REGISTRY OF PROBATE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, July 1, 1940.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the Register of Probate for the County of Suffolk in which he requests approval of the use of a certain sum of money allowed in the budget for the current year for the purpose of copying indexes or providing new indexes for the records in his custody.

There is also attached a suggested form of order for your approval.

Respectfully,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Suffolk County Probate Court,

Boston, June 18, 1940.

To Hon. Maurice J. Tobin, Mayor.
From Arthur W. Sullivan, Register of Probate.
Subject: Suffolk County Probate Court, Petition for Approval of County Commissioners to Consolidation of Indexes 1923 to 1935, inclusive.

To His Honor Mayor Maurice J. Tobin and the Honorable City Council of the City of Boston.

Gentlemen,—Under section 15 of chapter 217 of the General Laws, the Register of Probate is authorized, with the approval of the County Commissioners and at the expense of the county, to cause copies of indexes or new indexes to the records which are in his custody to be printed.

It is necessary at this time that the indexes to the records in my custody for the period from January 1, 1923, to December 31, 1935, inclusive, be consolidated and printed.

Most of the work preliminary to printing and binding is completed. It is all assembled and in order and there remains only comparing, printing and binding to be done. While your appropriation of funds in the current budget, in the sum of ninety-five hundred dollars for printing and binding and seven hundred dollars for clerical work incidental thereto, may be tantamount to approval, I believe that I should secure formal approval before the work of actual printing and binding begins.

This work must be done after regular office hours by clerks familiar with it. In accordance with the provisions of said statute, approval is hereby respectfully requested to expend for such overtime work a sum not exceeding seven hundred dollars, and for printing and binding said indexes a sum not to exceed ninety-five hundred dollars, as approved in budget for this department for 1940.

Respectfully yours,

ARTHUR W. SULLIVAN, Register.

Ordered, That the Register of Probate for the County of Suffolk be authorized to prepare and have printed, and sell, in accordance with the provisions of section 15 of chapter 217 of the General Laws, copies of the indexes of the records and papers in his custody, and to expend for that purpose for overtime work not exceeding seven hundred dollars, and for the printing of said indexes not exceeding nine thousand five hundred dollars.

LINEHAN offered the following: Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk in front of Bellflower street side of No. 769 Dorchester avenue and in front of No. 17 Bellflower street, Ward 7, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CLAIMS.

Coun. GOTTLIEB, for the Committee on Claims, submitted a report on the petition (referred June 24) of John F. Horgan to be reimbursed for amount of execution issued against him on account of his acts as operator of a motor vehicle belonging to the Fire Department—recommending the passage of the following:

Ordered, That the sum of seventy-three dollars and twenty-four cents ($73.24) be allowed and paid to John F. Horgan in reimbursement for amount of execution issued against him on account of his acts as operator of a motor vehicle belonging to the Fire Department, said sum to be charged to the Contingent Fund.

Report accepted; order passed.

ANNUITY FOR THOMAS E. GOGGIN.

Coun. WICKES, for the Committee on County Accounts, submitted the following:

The Committee on County Accounts, to whom was referred April 29, 1940, the petition of Thomas E. Goggin for further payments under the provisions of chapter 422 of the Acts of 1936, having considered the subject, respectfully report that Mr. Goggin's petition is based on the contention that the payments for his permanent incapacity from injuries received while in the employ of the county should be measured in accordance with the provisions of chapter 364 of the Acts of 1935, which was in effect at the time chapter 422 of the Acts of 1936 was accepted by the city. The committee is in sympathy with this theory and accordingly recommends the passage of the accompanying order.

Ordered, That in addition to the amount heretofore allowed and paid to Thomas E. Goggin under the authority of chapter 422 of the Acts of 1936, there be allowed and paid to said Goggin compensation of eighteen dollars a week to date from August 31, 1936, and to continue during the period of his permanent incapacity.

Report accepted; said order passed.

NOTICE TO COUNCILORS OF HEARINGS.

Coun. HURLEY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to instruct the Street Commissioners to notify promptly each councilor of any hearing for any purpose in said councilor's ward, and that said notice be mailed in sufficient time to permit members of the City Council to prepare for said hearing.

Coun. HURLEY—Mr. President and members of the Council, I am introducing this order and I think it is a very worthy order. This morning there was a hearing set for eleven o'clock, a company that no one seems to know who the company is, what their standing is, seeking a permit to store 40,000-000 gallons of oil opposite the L Street Bath at the Calf Pasture section. The councilor in this district where the permit was sought was notified Saturday morning about the hearing this morning and he was not prepared to be there, but the other councilors in Dorchester took care of it in a very able manner and had the hearing put over. My reason in asking for this order to be passed is that passing through part of my ward Saturday evening I noticed a gasoline filling station,—a very elaborate one which also carried a large billboard telling anyone with $1,000 that that was all he had to have to go into business; they would set them up, $1,000. The company that had the billboard erected there has nothing at all to do with the permit. I was never notified by the Street Commissioner of this permit and I have been informed it is only a matter of courtesy that they would notify the councilor and it is sort of a slipshod manner that these notifications are handled. On this hearing this morning the Street Commissioner lays the blame with Mr. Green and said he was notified in ample time to notify the councilor. Mr. Green denies it and says notice was given to the councilors immediately reaching his office. I think there should be some way the Mayor would notify these department heads to notify the councilor directly, not leaving it here to be handled with any two or three messengers, and giving them ample time—not an hour or a day—to go and oppose these petitions if they see fit. I think the Mayor should instruct all department heads on orders of this nature that they should contact the councilor personally, by registered mail, or in person. I know two or three occasions in my ward when these permits have been granted. Mr. Donoghue last Saturday night told me very forcibly it was only a matter of courtesy that the councilors were notified and that it was always published in the daily papers. Yes, they do. Those people who are seeking these permits, if they expect a little opposition, they do not have it in all editions of the paper. They put it in one edition that is not circulated very much and in this particular paper this petition was advertised in for the morning's hearing, it was put in one edition of the paper, the last edition. That is really a night paper. I explained to the commissioner that we had full confidence that he would notify us and probably all the councilors do not buy all the Boston papers looking for these petitions. So, I think this Council should pass the order and have the Mayor tell them they have got to do it and then we will have less trouble regarding the offending practices that are being set up by the Board and Commissions.

Coun. FISH—Just briefly, I would like to go along with the councilor from Ward 8 in his request to have the Mayor inform every department head to give the councilor sufficient notice on these orders that are of so much importance to us. It is not very nice to be sitting in your home and have somebody call you, as they called me Saturday morning, and told me of a proposed project of 40,000,000 gallons of gasoline and fuel oil storage in Dorchester Bay. Fortunately, we have got the hearing postponed until a week from tomorrow, and it is a project of such magnitude that I think everybody in Boston should be interested in it. In all sympathy with the residents of East Boston who have had to put up with oil storage over there, I do not think we want it to come into Dorchester and I do not think that the members of this City Council who are here in a twofold capacity, namely, to represent their particular district but also as members of the City Government, should allow a hearing of that nature to be heard unless everyone is represented and opposing it. Just one more thought,—not particularly on that hearing, but what the councilor from Ward 8 just mentioned, that a gas station has been erected in his district and he was not notified. True, I think they may not be required by law, but if they have fallen down on extending the courtesy to the councilor from Ward 8, I wouldn't blame him if he stood up on this floor and asked for the immediate removal of any such commissioner.

Coun. WICKES—I want to agree with the two previous speakers. I was not aware until eleven o'clock last night that this oil condition was going to exist, or that they were going to place it in Dorchester,—40,000,000 gallons of oil. Not long ago there were two lubricatoriums and gasoline stations also built in Ward 17 and I was not told of it, and I, too, am going on record here now, beginning today, and from now on, I want to know of everything that is going to happen in Ward 17, and I don't want any fooling or any bluff about it, and I hope that goes downstairs and I hope that will be remembered, too.

Coun. COFFEY—This seems like an opportune time for me to get in on this. This smacks of graft we have had since the Mayor has been Mayor of Boston for two years and five months,—no notifications. Of course you won't get any notification, not if there is a dollar in it for the Mayor or any of his henchmen. You tell him what to say; you are in with the Mayor; you have been his stooge up there tipping them off, telling them how to do it and what to do.

Chairman LANGAN—I think the personalities can be well eliminated. If you have something to say of a general nature, I think the Council will be glad to hear from you, but let us not have any personalities.

Coun. COFFEY—This smacks of graft the same as that slaughter house permit given in my town that was signed by the Mayor. That didn't go through the City Council and the law is that any permit granted in the nature of a slaughter house permit shall be first given permission by the City Council and the signature of the Mayor. The Mayor signed the permit,—$2,000 in graft paid in that and there will be plenty of graft paid on the oil storage. In our town regarding oil, we have had a man come over there and put in one 30,000-gallon tank and he uses the name of "State Fuel Company," but I know definitely the Gulf Oil Company is behind this man. Go over there and see today. You will see fifteen tanks over there,—fifteen 30,000-gallon tanks, where the man only started with one and he has paid plenty of graft right into City Hall. They don't need the councilors. They don't want the councilors. They want to get it all for themselves. They don't want the councilors to get in on it and especially if the councilor has courage enough to stand up in his shoes. Something else took place this morning. The same thing smacks of graft. The councilor isn't going to get in on it. They are going to split it up in their own seven or eight ways. Take the investigation the District Attorney is now going through on the Faneuil Hall Market.

Coun. FISH—My particular grievance when I rose to my feet this morning was mainly with the chairman of the Board of Street Commissioners. I gave no thought to the second floor of this building and I do not think this should be brought into this particular matter. I merely repeat that I think we are entitled at least to the courtesy of two weeks' notice of any hearing that is to be held by any board, and that is not the function nor the duty of the Mayor and I see no reason under the sun why any talk of graft should come into a proposition when we merely seek to get proper notice of hearings.

Coun. TAYLOR—Since the beginning of the year I have heard nothing from a certain individual, whether he is opposed to it or not, but that there is graft connected with it. It is a cry, of course, that receives publicity,—the word "graft." Never once has this gentleman ever undertaken to give any definite proof of the evidence of graft. Now, I have not always been with the Mayor of Boston. I have opposed him during my three years on things that perhaps I thought were not best, but never once have I ever pointed any finger of suspicion at that office, because no finger of suspicion should be pointed at that office, because during the time that he has been in office he has given to the City of Boston the most honest, finest and cleanest administration ever given to the City of Boston during the time since it has been given a charter.

Coun. COFFEY—All I have to say is one word,—stooges.

Chairman LANGAN—Councilor Coffey, I will appreciate it that while I am in the chair, temporarily, that you refrain from any type of personalities that would reflect upon any member of this Council. I am sure they respect your attitude if it is an honest one and I think they are entitled to the same courtesy.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—Speaking on the order, I agree heartily with the order Councilor Hurley has introduced. I have had the same experience,—the Street Commissioner on gasoline permits, not being notified of the hearing until the morning of the hearing. I also have in mind the Licensing Board. They do not notify any councilors of a transfer or reopening of any liquor establishments in the wards of the city. So I move, Mr. President, to amend it by striking out the "Board of Street Commissioners" and inserting "all commissioners or department heads to notify promptly."

Chairman LANGAN—No objection being heard, the amendment is included in the order. The Chair asks unanimous consent to make a statement. No objection being made, the Chair will make it. I have not been in this Council for a very long time, but the problem that was mentioned here today that confronts the councilors, was one of the first problems that faced me, namely, in regard to having notices of various licenses, especially of gasoline stations in my ward. I went into the history of it a little bit and I found prior to the administration of Mayor Tobin that it was not even customary to give notices out to the councilors. I was very much surprised about it. In other words, prior to the administration of Mayor Tobin, no councilor ever received any notice at any time about any gasoline permits that was given to any particular section of the city, and while I agree that perhaps the notices that are now given are not as good as they might be, at least I say that the present Mayor is not worthy or deserving of censure for at least taking a forward step—that is, a courtesy to the councilors. I feel sure that the type of notice certainly will be corrected and that notice will be given to us. I do not think the present administration should be censured for taking a forward move that is favorable to the Council but rather should be given some amount of commendation for taking a forward step.

Coun. HURLEY—In introducing this order I surely had no idea of any censure towards the Mayor. I realize that he has been all right with me and I have nothing against the Mayor. My main idea in introducing this order is from the laxness in the way the notices are given. The blame is always being put on the other fellow's shoulders. Donoghue says it is Green and Green says it is Donoghue, so to eliminate that, if all the department heads would notify the councilors personally or by registered mail—there won't be much expense—there are not many hearings that would entail expense in contacting the councilors personally, and I had no reason to censure the Mayor when I introduced the order.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—Just on a point of information. If this order should pass it is just a courtesy extended to the councilors?

Chairman LANGAN—Yes.

Coun. SULLIVAN—And if the department heads see fit they do not want to notify us, they do not have to, is that right?

Chairman LANGAN—No. There is no way of compelling them under the present set-up, but I understand it is the intention of the Mayor that the councilors be notified.

Coun. SULLIVAN—That is true, but they have been very lax. There is a good example right here, and I think it is in order now that an order be drawn up compelling them—whether a City Ordinance or the Law Department—to draw up an order to amend the City Charter that the various department heads be compelled to give the councilors notice.

Chairman LANGAN—My immediate impression, without investigation, is that that would be outside of our jurisdiction. It would be an administrative function.

Coun. LINEHAN—Having been in politics about four years, I found it hard at times to go to different meetings and get any satisfactory information, but during these four years I have had occasion to go before the Street Commissioners and from experience I want to say this—that I think they are the finest Board I have ever consulted with. They have always been fair and courteous on every occasion. In fact, almost extremely so. When I first went into public office I happened to be fortunate enough to go before the Street Commissioners, having the interest of my district in mind, wondering how I could get information about certain permits that were going to be sought. I saw the chairman of the Street Commissioners, and he told me as a result of my request he would send me notices of everything that was going to be sought in my district, and I, for one, can say that on every occasion I have received a notice of anything which was going on in my district in that particular department. I am one member, and I want to thank them for the service they have given me the last four years.

Coun. FISH—Would the councilor from Ward 7 yield?

Coun. LINEHAN—I yield.

Coun. FISH—I would like to ask the councilor, through the Chair, when he received notice of this 40,000,000-gallon gasoline and fuel oil storage.

Coun. LINEHAN—I am very glad to answer the gentleman from Ward 16. It happens that this particular site which is in question regarding the storage for 40,000,000 gallons is in Ward 13, although I will admit it is very close to my ward. Now, if I had told the Street Commissioners I also wanted notice of everything taking place in Ward 13 and Ward 16, I do not hesitate to say that I would have received a notice of the same thing, but I never requested it.

Coun. CAREY—While on the subject, if it is in order, I would like to make a motion that we change the words in Councilor Hurley's order "sufficient time" to read "at least one week's notice," because Saturday morning I received notice in the Boston American that a hearing was to be held tomorrow morning relative to the particular permit in my district that I have already successfully opposed before the Appeal Board on two occasions, and I now find the petitioners coming in for a third time. I do not think two or three days' notice is sufficient. A matter of this kind should be brought to the attention of the people in the district and I think we should have at least one week's time so we could make preparations to have our district properly represented by residents in the locality. I think the Mayor is in favor of keeping the councilors advised and notified of those hearings for whatever purpose they are going to be held. I do not think we are getting sufficient notice, and I move that the words "sufficient time" be changed to read "at least one week's notice."

Chairman LANGAN—There being no objection the order will be amended as suggested by Councilor Carey.

Order as amended passed under suspension of the rule.

RE-ESTABLISHMENT OF LOCAL FIVE-CENT FARES ON BOSTON ELEVATED.

Coun. CHASE offered the following:

Ordered, That in view of the fact that the trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway increased the local fares on four intown bus lines from five cents to ten cents, which in the opinion of the City Council is unwarranted and unfair to the citizens of Boston, that the Boston Elevated Railway Trustees be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to re-establish the five-cent local fares.

Coun. CHASE—About a month ago the Boston Elevated trustees saw fit to increase local fares on four in-town bus lines which affect my district and the districts of several other councilors. I believe, Mr. President, that I have talked on this matter several other times to this Body. As a matter of fact, last week I requested the Council to pass an order requesting the Boston Elevated manager to come up and explain his actions in increasing local fares. To date, we have received no answer. Now, Mr. President, I am particularly incensed with the actions of the trustees of the Boston Elevated in increasing these local fares. I feel that his Honor the Mayor should personally do something about re-establishing these five-cent fares. There are many workers in my district who are affected by the increase and business men are also affected by it. I cannot possibly conceive, as I have already said before, how the Boston Elevated trustees can justify their action. As the councilor from Ward 5 stated a few weeks ago, it would appear more reasonable if the Elevated trustees would adopt a zone system and compel the suburban people to pay a higher rate instead of soaking the local residents a ten-cent fare for a one mile ride on a bus. There is no reason why the Boston Elevated trustees should pick on the local Bostonian here. Why should he pick on those four in-town lines. Of all the bus lines in Boston and Metropolitan Boston, he singles out four bus lines in my district and other districts adjoining my district. Apparently the trustees of the Boston Elevated will say in defence of their action that they are faced with a deficit and they have to adopt a businesslike method to prevent any further deficit. But, Mr. President, in endeavoring to make up their deficit, instead of soaking the local residents unreasonably, which they have done, they should adopt the policy suggested in this Council of charging a larger fare to those residents in suburban Boston. Now, Mr. President, I noticed an editorial not long ago in one of the Boston leading newspapers, and it was not any too favorable toward the trustees of the Boston Elevated, and the trustees of the Boston Elevated, Mr. President, to my way of thinking, should immediately re-establish those local fares and in the event they do not re-establish them, they should justify their actions, not by any lame excuse that the Elevated is operating at a deficit, but by tangible evidence showing that those four lines should pay a ten-cent local fare in preference to charging a fifteen-cent fare to those suburban residents, or on any other line, and I think, Mr. President, that the City Council of Boston which is chargeable with the authority of granting licenses to the trustees of the Boston Elevated for permission to use the streets of Boston, should be recognized by the trustees of the Boston Elevated, and here only last week we asked the manager of the Elevated to come before this Body and offer an explanation to this law-making Boston City Council, of why they raised the fares, but no answer has come before us, and I say, Mr. President, once again, that this is a matter which the City Council is not only interested in but which his Honor the Mayor should be interested in, and I trust, Mr. President, the Council will pass the order and the Mayor will personally notify the trustees and the manager of the Elevated pertaining to this order.

Coun. KELLY—Will you kindly have the clerk read the order?

(The order is read by the clerk.)

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I have nothing against the order. The order is a good one in itself, but in regard to Councilor Chase's remarks that they ought to raise the fares of suburban Boston, I will have to disagree with him. I was glad to hear him get up on the floor today and say he was wondering why Mr. Dana didn't come down before the members of the Council. I see one good reason why if I was in Mr. Dana's position I wouldn't come down here for the mere fact it has been so easy for him in previous years, after the members of the Boston City Council went on record practically unanimously asking his Excellency the Governor not to sign the Elevated voucher for the deficit on the City of Boston and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts,—so long as it is easy for the Boston Elevated to present that Elevated deficit to his Excellency the Governor,—and I can remember two years ago when his Excellency the Governor was running for Governor, he had all over the Commonwealth signs, reading "Opportunity for the young and security for the old." He didn't think of those two statements when these vouchers for the Elevated deficit were presented to him; when he tried to put it through without bringing it before the members of the Governor's Council and even appeared personally,—the first time a governor appeared personally,—and asked that the deficit of the Boston Elevated Railroad be signed without even a hearing before the Governor's Council. So I sympathize with the Republican Councilor from the Back Bay, but I say the ten-cent fare to suburban Boston is large enough and this deficit of the Boston Elevated does not exist. But I also sympathize with him for the main reason that Mr. Dana won't appear before this Body because it is so easy for him to have the deficit signed in the State House every year.

Coun. TAYLOR—It is very apparent, Mr. President, why the Boston Elevated is increasing their fares from five to ten cents. They want to reduce the deficit and the reason why is because they know the agitation that is now being created through the City of Boston by the people of Boston. They know the stockholders of the Boston Elevated must receive their guaranteed dividends. They don't want the exposure given to it during the past few months, so as a result they must have made up their minds that they want to reduce the deficit of the City of Boston so they won't receive the criticism of the officials by the people of Boston. However, they are not going to take it away from the stockholders. The wealthy stockholders must receive their money year in and year out. So they advised this scheme instead of having the stockholders relinquish any part of their dividends, they are going to charge the poor people ten cents so that at the end of the year they may fool the people into thinking they have reduced their deficit when as a matter of fact all they are attempting to do is to tax those people who are less able to afford it for a short ride and raise it from five to ten cents. There is no doubt that is what their purpose is and in order to pay their stockholders and show the people they are reducing the deficit, they are camouflaging their actions now by attempting to foist upon the poor of Boston the extra five-cent piece. In my opinion it should be condemned.

Coun. CHASE—I would like to make myself clear. I did not advocate the raising of fares of the Boston Elevated either in Boston or suburban Boston, but it was mentioned in this Body some few weeks ago that it would appear more reasonable if the trustees of the Boston Elevated would charge the suburban man living outside of Boston a little more for his long ride of, say, ten miles, instead of raising the fare in Boston from five to ten cents on a little mile and a half ride. It was mentioned in argument a few weeks ago that a zone system would appear more reasonable for the Elevated trustees to adopt and that is what I mentioned in my talk before the Council a few moments ago that it would appear more reasonable if the trustees should do such a thing in preference to selecting the four in-town bus lines, picking on these local people in preference to people away outside of Boston. Just think, a man way out in Arlington Heights can ride in to any part of Boston for ten cents, and the man in Copley square who takes the bus to go down to Rowes Wharf, a distance of slightly over one mile, the fare is ten cents today. Where is there any rhyme or reason to that fare? Is it right and proper to the rest of the district or any adjoining district that uses that line? Why should the man away outside of Boston be given the same fare? That is my argument. The trustees of the Boston Elevated say apparently in endeavoring to justify the increase that "we are operating the Elevated at a deficit and we have to jack up the fares." I say, why pick on the local man? The ride he is having isn't worth any more than a nickel and that, I think, everyone in Boston will agree with me on and every fair-minded man throughout the state will agree with me on. When you ride on the New York, New Haven & Hartford, they do not have any crazy system like that. They charge you according to so many cents per mile. The Elevated Railroad trustees apparently see no reason why the local resident who rides for a distance of slightly over one mile should not pay ten cents. Apparently the trustees think they are justified in that action. Well I say, Mr. President, if that is the kind of management we are getting at Boston, then they ought to resign and put in efficiency management and I say, Mr. President, I am sure that everyone here will agree with me that my argument is logical. I am sure that I am not unfairly attacking these gentlemen and I am sure, Mr. President, that if the manager of the Elevated would appear before us he could not possibly justify his action in increasing the local fares in preference to taking someone way out in the Sticks, so to speak. Mr. President, on these particular four in-town bus lines, to show you how ridiculous the whole thing is; people from Arlington Heights and from other sections of the state come into the City of Boston to work, get off at Copley Square and are given a transfer, take the transfer and get into the Copley Square bus and ride to any section of Boston which happens to be near the line,—Stuart street, Rowes Wharf, Atlantic avenue,—and yet the poor local resident that lives in the immediate vicinity of Copley square, who has not had the advantage of already riding for ten miles, he steps into the bus and instead of getting a transfer he puts in a bright shiny ten-cent piece.

Where is there any rhyme or reason to such an increase? And so I say that is the reason I am on the floor of the Council arguing that the Elevated trustees are doing a very unfair thing to the citizens of Boston in selecting these four in-town bus lines for increase.

Coun. RUSSO—Mr. President, the councilor from Ward 4 and myself several weeks ago put in an order requesting the trustees of the Boston Elevated not to jack up the price on these four bus lines. I cannot deliberate further than what the councilor from Ward 4 has said. I really want to add this: That on the part of the trustees it seems they are only throwing just a smoke screen around to the people of Boston trying to make them understand, or think, they are trying to reduce their deficit. I say that is a false economy, to take it out of the people who are forced to ride perhaps for not over a mile and make them pay ten cents. Five cents is sufficient, and if it was run in a businesslike manner, the Boston Elevated should not have the tremendous deficit they have shown for so many years. In New York you and I know we can ride for five cents from one part of the city to another and I say why not here in Boston? I say that the trustees should come before this Body and give sufficient evidence that they are justified in raising the five-cent local fare to ten cents and I hope this order will pass.

Coun. KELLY—I said I agreed with Councilor Chase's order, but, of course, the trouble in Boston is not with the amount of fare the Boston Elevated Railroad Company is charging the citizens of Boston, because in my opinion we should all ride for five cents, no matter what part of Boston we live in. The trouble is that they are paying $5 a share to the stockholders. Now the average person doesn't realize what that is. A share of stock is worth $50 a share and when they are paying $5 a share, they are only paying them 10 per cent on their money,—on a road that is supposed to be losing money and the President of the same company draws a $25,000 a year salary. But this deficit will always exist. I was tickled to death when I heard the Republican member of the Council,—it was music to my ears, because this deficit will always exist while the stockholders are able to collect $5 a share on their stock, and while the Governor up in the State House will sign that warrant ordering the people of Boston and the fourteen cities and towns of the Commonwealth to pay this deficit to the Boston Elevated Railway Company, when if it was run on the level we wouldn't have any deficit.

OPENING YARD OF TIMILTY SCHOOL.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the School Committee be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to open up the school yard of the James P. Timilty School and to erect seats there for the convenience of the people of the district.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, this particular location in Eliot square takes in a section where the children in that neighborhood, in order to go to the playground area, have to cross Eliot square, or Roxbury Crossing. Prior to the school closing, children always used the school yard after the custodian left in the evening. The children used it for roller skating and it was a pleasure to see the children using the school ward and not using the streets and the sidewalks as they have to do in some sections. I have also asked in the order that benches be erected in the rear of the building as this is a site which overlooks the entire city and also overlooks the harbor. We have these sites in Parker Hill and Dorchester and I know we can have one there with the erection of benches so that parents may go there in the evening in the warm weather and enjoy the beauty of the city. I hope the School Committee allows the request in this order and that the order will be passed.

LEXINGTON STREET CAR SERVICE.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Ordered. That the trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to continue the Lexington street, Ward 1, car service after 8 p. m.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RECESS.

The Council voted at 3.40 p. m., on motion of Coun. HURLEY, to take a recess subject to the call of the Chair. The members re-assembled and were called to order by Chairman LANGAN at 4.45 p. m.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. LANGAN, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

1. Report on petition of Charles I. Hodell for children to appear at Roslindale Municipal Building on June 27, 1940,—recommending that leave be granted under usual conditions.

Report accepted; permit granted under usual conditions.

2. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred this day) authorizing certain records of Registry of Probate be consolidated—recommending that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed.

3. On the message of the Mayor and order (referred June 24) for transfer of $7,500 from the Contingent Fund to the Bureau of Americanization,—recommending passage of the order with the following amendment: "Said appropriation to cover a period of twelve months from July 1, 1940."

Report accepted. Question came on passage of the order as amended.

Coun. COFFEY—I want to go on record as opposing this for several reasons. The first reason is that I do not see why $7,500 of the city's money should be spent in a useless cause. As Mr. Flanagan read the number of aliens from each ward in the city he read off in my ward some 5,880 aliens. I have the list that was taken from the Attorney-General's office last year and there are 7,800 aliens in my ward, so I am in sympathy with helping these aliens if we can to make citizens out of them. But what assurance have we from these two men that they will get these 1,900 aliens on the welfare and make citizens out of them? There is only going to be two men. They cannot give their time to the number who may apply or cannot help them in any way and in the event these aliens on welfare do want to become citizens, where are they going to get the money to get their papers? They are now getting so little they cannot live on it, $6.63 a week for a married couple, and supposing they do want to become citizens, I say where are they going to get the money? A short time ago we had an order asking for a telephone operator for $1,500 a year and the Mayor didn't see fit to sign that order. He vetoed it, but here he is creating two jobs for two friends of his and they are not going to do anything. It is a board like at the State House. I went in and tried to save the Board at the time, but it was shown that the state never made an average of ten citizens a year. Cappucci and I went into that thoroughly and found that they were not doing a good job and as a result it was abolished and I cannot see why we are going to set up a couple of jobs for the Mayor at an expense of $7,500. I am surprised at the Back Bay councillor that he does not oppose it since he is supposed to make a study of economy here. He preaches economy. He opposed the telephone operator which we need so we can do some favors for the citizens of our ward. Another suggestion,—why not make it a W. P. A. and put twenty or thirty to work at a small salary instead of creating two jobs for friends of the Mayor?

Coun. GOODE—I feel that Mayor Tobin's effort to create a bureau for the City of Boston under his direction is timely and shows a real patriotic insight and is especially significant at this time. One of the finest documents on Americanization which I have ever read is the report of the Dies Committee as rendered recently to the Congress of the United States, a report which I heartily commend to the members of this Body to read. In this report we find conclusive evidence that there is a need for programs of Americanization in every large city of America. We find proof that subversive activities are doing much to stir up class-hatred even in our own country. Proof that hundreds of thousands of the newer races feel that they owe some kind of allegiance to some foreign power because of some past family connection or heritage. A program of Americanism can do much to win the ignorant back to an appreciation of that which is theirs because they are privileged to be Americans in a city which has often set the pattern for other cities to follow because of its commanding position in the cultural life of America. By appreciating that which is Americanism we are preserving here in Boston, through example, the hope of peace among people of all racial strains and all religious concepts. An Americanization program can be used to educate and combat the propaganda of those who want us again by force of arms to take our political thoughts and philosophies to the old world. Recent events have proved beyond a doubt that those who believe that this country is invincible are this country's worst enemies. Mayor Tobin is to be congratulated in inaugurating this program for Boston, for surely there is need for such a bureau to teach us that "eternal vigilance is the price of liberty." I understand also included in this program is an effort to interest those young people who are on the verge of becoming voters, to get them interested enough in their country to go down and register and I feel no better choice could be made than the men appointed to carry on this work. I know the head of the department. I have known him for many years and he is a very high type of man. I feel he is financially independent and I think that he is the finest choice that can be made to carry on this work.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—I think this is a very effective appeal for this type of Americanization in Boston. Every December several members of the Boston City Council through their own efforts made an effort to assist in the naturalization of every alien-born Bostonian. In Ward 22 I was instrumental in visiting about 250 different families and hundreds of non-citizens in my district and I know at the time Councilor Galvin of Charlestown put about a thousand on the list who were not citizens. The records today reveal about 800 in my ward and 750 in Councilor Galvin's ward, so we were in some instances effective in causing people of the city who are of foreign birth to avail themselves of the possibilities of naturalization. You yourself, Mr. President, engaged in this effort, as did Councilor Lyons and Councilor Hutchinson. We did it at our own expense and I think we have done something to effect an economy in the city in the management of the Welfare Department of Boston. During the past week there was a newly created Bureau of Americanization. An old lady sixty-seven years of age said she couldn't stand in line at the Federal Building and wait for papers down there, was brought into the newly created Bureau by me. She received assistance from the two gentlemen engaged in this work. As a result of the fact,—her husband was already a citizen,—in three months she will be ready to avail herself of the advantages of American citizenship. This old lady was a non-citizen and accordingly not qualified to receive old age pension. In addition to this, the city was bearing a total cost of sustaining this woman who is now on welfare, and I think in view of the fact that family is getting $4.96 from the Welfare Department, a small saving will be effected for the city. The Federal Government will take over two thirds of the cost of their maintenance. Surely, there must be several hundred citizens throughout Boston and I believe this is a real economy and so far as the expenditure of $7,500 over one year is concerned, that would amount to .45 of one cent on each $1,000 valuation on the tax bill, and that small amount of .45 of one cent on a tax rate of $40 does not add anything to the tax rate and may result in savings in the years to come. The two gentlemen appointed are of the highest possible caliber. They have been doing this work for years to help people along and Mayor Tobin is to be congratulated upon this effort of his which is far-reaching in effect and worthwhile. I vote for it as an economy move.

Coun. COFFEY—I am sick and tired of listening to the members of the Council raise the flag. We had an order brought in here to make us swear allegiance to the flag. Of course, we are in favor of it and would do everything we could to protect our flag, but when you get up here and bring the flag and Mayor Tobin in it and say he is a great fellow because he is creating two jobs for two friends of his, then it is a horse of another color. If he wants to spend $7,500, why doesn't he open up the East Boston Relief Station? They can run that on a twenty-four basis for $7,500. Of course, he made a mistake in closing it and he feels if he now opens it he is going to lose certain friends. Just because a couple of those men came in here and gave some of the statements we heard today, because one was read and included the Mayor, and surely if it was written by one of them it would include the Mayor and say he is a great fellow. Of course he is. I would say so too if I was getting things for my district. The only thing I am hollering for is because I am not getting them. I can be shut up provided I get some of the things that the district deserves. Another thing: No notice has ever been given on oil permits. Under Mansfield, Nichols and Curley, we got notices here on every gas and sidewalk opening that was ever to be given in East Boston—every member of the Legislature and the heads of the Ward Committees. This is nothing new since the Mayor came in, and I cannot see where two men are going to help out these 1,900 aliens. One of them was speechless and the other admitted he didn't know anything about it because he had only been at the job a week, and how are they going to help? Are they going to pay for the papers and going to assure them they are going to get old age assistance? The old age is a different set-up from the welfare. So far as the councillor from Ward 22 is concerned, he is a bosom friend of the Mayor, but try and defend him a year from next September or November. The same thing year in and year out. I know. So long as you are in you take care of them and you defend them, but when you are out, like some one starting a filibuster today, you will get up and holler too.

Coun. WICKES—I remember when we requested an appropriation be made for the telephone operator, I was very much interested in having an operator in the Council Chamber, because during all my years of experience I have never yet seen any council chamber so neglected in my life and we certainly did and we do now need a telephone operator, but at that time when we passed upon it, although I had no one particularly in mind for the job, I received as many as 300 letters from my constituents in Ward 17, telling me they were surprised that I had voted for an appropriation of money at this time and so I feel in due respect to the men who are mentioned for the positions that if I voted again in favor of this, I am going to receive a thousand letters from friends and constituents in Ward 17. I am also surprised at the Back Bay councillor who at that time said that this was no time to bring more added expense upon the city. I think possibly that the welfare with their people could adequately handle this Americanization Board. I also feel that possibly the W. P. A. could do likewise and because of these facts which I present here and because I am thinking of the people from Ward 17 and not No. 1 or 2 man, I cannot vote for this Board.

Coun. GOTTLIEB—Mr. President, this is a non-partisan body and as a non-partisan body I feel each councillor should be treated as an individual and not as a member of any particular political party. The councillor from the Back Bay who has been referred to was in favor of cutting down this appropriation as the members of the Council who went to Executive know; not only in favor of cutting down the appropriation, but it was also his amendment that came back from executive session which specified that the money used in setting up this Bureau of Naturalization, be expended over a period of twelve months, whereas in the original request or order of the Mayor this money, the entire $7,500, might have been easily expended in two, three or five months. I feel the councillor from the Back Bay has had due regard to the expenditure of this money.

Coun. TAYLOR—it appears to me that this has developed into a personal contest between certain members of the Council. They evidently do not go into the merit of the situation. They perhaps do not go into the facts deep enough to understand whether or not this is beneficial to the people at large. The mere fact that we are spending $7,500 is of small consequence. I can very well understand the reason why many members of this Council voted against appropriating $1,500 for a telephone operator. They felt perhaps it was not so necessary that we ought to burden the taxpayers with that much more money. However, emergencies arise on different occasions which necessitates the spending of money. The American people, or a great number of the industrialists and those who have money, were yelling at our President because he was spending too much money; he was incurring upon the people of this country a great debt, but when the President of the United States suggested to Congress an appropriation be made of billions for defense, those very people who were against spending money before were willing to spend this money because they know that their own property and their own country is at stake and so I say this is nothing more than an added factor to that which the President is trying to do,—educate the aliens of this country to become citizens. It is part of our job. It strikes at a lot of Fifth Column activities and I say the City of Boston spending $7,500 is not doing more than its proper share. I also say a study of the figures will show the City of Boston will save more than $7,500 a year if this program is carried out properly, and we have no reason to think otherwise. So I say the City of Boston in the end will not be adding to the burden of the taxpayers because we will be relieving them in the savings of money. They will get off the welfare rolls of the City of Boston and the money will be paid out chiefly by the Federal Government in old-age assistance and aid to dependent children. This is not a personal fight of the Mayor. The Mayor isn't trying to put two friends of his to work. He can raise thousands of dollars if that was his motive. He selected two men. Just because that displeased certain individuals is no reason we should overlook the real merit of the thing advanced to us.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—I merely wish to say that I do not want to rise and debate with the councilor from Ward 1. He referred to the East Boston Relief Station and any time he introduces an order to reopen it I will be happy to vote for it. I never voted against the poor and needy of his district and I am happy to vote for anything that is a good thing. I am flattered by the characterization of being a friend of Mayor Tobin's. I believe he is honorable to the nth degree and so far as his administration is concerned, and so long as he remains the type of man he is I am happy to go along with him and be called a friend of the Mayor's.

Coun. WICKES—This is not a personal issue with me and I wish to reiterate that when that job for the telephone operator was mentioned that was to be created, everyone in Ward 17 was so against it I was almost scalped for having voted for it, not because of any particular individual but because this was no time to spend that amount of money, and I wish to say I have no personal grievance against the Mayor or the men who are mentioned for the job. I say it is not a time to spend money and I hope the councilors will remember our constituents outside are against spending money for jobs now as they were three months ago.

Coun. GOODE—I would like to say I have never had an opportunity to vote on the question of the East Boston Relief Station and this is not a personal question with me. I feel if a little flag waving should be done, this is the time and I resent the inference as the councilor from East Boston stated that probably this was a manufactured statement of mine and probably not my own thought. So far as the Mayor's office is concerned, I have not been down there for three or four weeks and I feel the people in my district would want me to stand up and support any department such as this which will assist me in making citizens and voters of the 2,100 aliens in my district.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—I am in accord with this order and am going to vote for it. So long as I have been in office and before taking office I have assisted people in becoming citizens. The people look today to the men that they elect to public office, whether it is for Welfare, W. P. A., or any other troubles that they have, they look toward the men who are elected by them. This order is a wonderful break. The Mayor should be commended for instituting such a department which will relieve a lot of work from the men who are holding public office. May I say here that any man who is changing his mind because he may have received letters pertaining to the telephone, let me say this: The job of the telephone operator and the salary, that was not the objection.

Coun. CAREY—As one who was a member of the Council at the time we were faced with the closing of the East Boston Relief Station, I voted against Mayor Tobin because I felt that the people in that section of the city, so far removed from the City Hospital, should not be denied that emergency treatment, especially that they were fairly entitled to it. I was one of those who voted and spoke against the creation of the job of telephone operator here because I felt then and feel now that although we do need some kind of telephone service there is plenty of help attached to the City Council and there is no necessity for adding to the burden of the taxpayers. In regard to the creation of this Bureau, I think it is going to serve a twofold purpose and I think we should be glad to do anything we can to aid people in becoming citizens of this great country of ours. I am constantly being besieged by people who want to become citizens, but as a councilor serving a busy district, I haven't the time to spend, practically four or five or six hours a day, helping these people who are anxious to become citizens, and I think the Mayor ought to be commended for setting up this Bureau. Far more important from the financial standpoint is, I am fairly convinced, the city is going to save over $7,500 through the creation of this Bureau in removing people who are long recipients of welfare and place them in a position where they can get old age assistance. I will be with Mayor Tobin when I think he is right and when I think he is endeavoring to do a good job. I intend to be against him when I think otherwise.

Coun. KELLY—Last year I was one of the councilors who voted against closing the East Boston Relief Station. I was also one of the three who had the courage to vote against selling any of the ferries from East Boston; but I feel the creation of this Americanization Bureau is a good thing for the City of Boston. In my ward there are only 845 aliens, but I notice in all the other Dorchester Wards,—in Ward 13, there are 1,370; Ward 14, 5,721; Ward 15, 845; Ward 16, 835; and Ward 17 there are 1,213 aliens, and I feel as though the creation of this Bureau will be a very good thing for the City of Boston. Although I am in one of the lower wards of Boston, only having 845 aliens, I am going along and voting for the creation of this Bureau because I know it will be a good thing for every ward in the City of Boston.

Coun. CHASE—I have given considerable thought to the creation of this Bureau and while I am very much in favor of doing everything within our power to enable the worthy aliens,—those who are worthy of becoming American citizens,—yet there is some question of doubt in my mind as to whether or not the Federal Government and the State Government facilities provided in those agencies are not sufficient to properly educate these aliens. I feel that in order to discuss it further and in order to prevent any undue criticism, that we should lay this matter on the table today and go further into the possibilities of other agencies, namely, the State Department of Americanization and the Federal Department of Americanization,—check into them through an agency such as the Boston Finance Commission, and have them file their report to us informing us as to whether or not they feel that these two governmental agencies are not properly equipped to handle the situation here in Boston. Finally, as to whether or not it is necessary that we in the City of Boston out of the taxpayers' funds should provide another Americanization body. I think if we did that we might possibly prevent any undue criticism. I personally have not been able to get enough information and I shall vote against this without prejudice. I want to be fair to his Honor the Mayor and want to be fair to the very great body of people, namely, the taxpayers, and so I shall vote No against this, without any prejudice, hoping that we can lay the matter on the table and further study the matter.

Coun. FISH—I do not see there is anything gained by laying this on the table. I think as it was mentioned by the councilor from Ward 1, the State Board is practically abolished and this whole movement appears to me to be like a sales promotion move. We are spending about $400,000 on 1,900 cases and if we can incite them in some way to become citizens by the mere expenditure of $7,500, I do not think that we are stepping beyond what any private business corporation would do and after all we are a business concern and to spend $7,500 to try to eliminate a good percentage of the $400,000 which we are now spending, I think is mighty good sound business.

Coun. LINEHAN—Listening to this I have a few ideas. I would like to refer to a letter written by Eric A. Nelson who had the pleasure or displeasure of serving in the Legislature. He says: "It might not be too far amiss to suggest that the advisability of returning some of these outsiders to their native land be considered." I suppose it is the 1,958 we speak of, but he does not know there are about 43,000 others who are probably paying plenty of taxes in the city. If we are going to get rid of 1,900 as he suggested are eligible for old age, what about the other 43,000 paying pretty good taxes today? Personally, I was for this order last week, and for some reason it was put off for another week. Now, I do not think there is anything different in regard to this matter today than there was last week. I think most of us thought it was a good thing last week, and I think we still think so. I am sick and tired of having things put on the table. One thing on the table I am still sick and tired of seeing and this is just another thing to put on the table. I hope in fairness not only to the councilors but to the citizens of Boston that we increase the number of citizens by starting this so-called Bureau which I believe at the end of the year will prove of much benefit to the city and if at the end of the year they come in and say they have only done so much and not enough to warrant the $7,500, then I say after a fair trial we kick it out and I certainly fear none of our constituents or none of my constituents in my ward and it also applies to any other councilor in here. I do not think we will have to fear any voters or citizens for having voted for such a thing as Americanization. I hope the order is passed.

Coun. RUSSO—I am not interested in who is going to get the job. I am not interested in how much it is going to cost to maintain that department. I feel it is my duty, the same as yours, to naturalize every alien that is here in the City of Boston. I have been doing that for twenty-five years, since the first day I landed in this country, and I can demonstrate here on citizenship papers hundreds of names that I have personally taken there myself and I have been doing that since I became of age, twenty-one years. I am proud to be a citizen and I maintain that all the time and it has been my job the same as it is our job. The job of every citizen here in America is to see that every alien becomes naturalized and now that we are setting up this Board I feel the City of Boston is doing the proper thing, especially at this time. I feel it is our duty to help those who need help to become citizens of the United States and I hope that this order will pass.

Coun. LYONS—Last week when this order came in before the Council few people understood it and it was tabled for a week, and I think it has been gone over thoroughly today. We had Mr. Flanagan and Mr. Walsh down here and the department itself is in its infancy so far as City Hall is concerned. It the state had a department of naturalization it should function to naturalize people throughout the state, but this pertains to Boston alone, and our Welfare Department. There is one factor that is overlooked and that is the fact of the 45,000 aliens here in Boston,—I don't know the figure off hand,—but those people cannot get on the W. P. A. It has deprived them of that line. Even if they took twenty men and naturalized them here in Boston, it would bring about $7,000, and would reduce that expenditure to the city which could be paid out for their weekly salaries. I think it is a mighty fine idea and the Mayor saw fit to appoint these two men to head the department like this, and I think everybody now understands the situation and I hope the clerk will go ahead and call the roll.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, as I said before, I intend to vote No on this, but without prejudice. I don't care to be recorded as engaging in any personalities with anyone. I feel that I am justified in saying what I have said in view of the fact that there has not been sufficient evidence presented to me to show any real reason why the State Board of Americanization cannot cope with this problem here in Boston. As I understand it there are forty-three employees in that Americanization Board in the State House. That is what Mr. Flanagan stated before us in Executive Committee. That is rather a large office and the State House is located in the center of Boston and I see no reason why the aliens in Boston who reside here cannot take the trouble to go to the State House and use those facilities as well as coming up to City Hall where there will be only two or three men. Of course, it is quite possible that the state department never functioned properly, but that is what I would like to find out before I cast my vote. I would also like to find out what is wrong with the Federal Government. We have a Federal Building near here and one of the agencies down there is Americanization and Naturalization. If they are not functioning properly, then Congress ought to do something about it. If they are not trying to function courteously in giving proper attention, as some people contend, then Congress ought to do something about it. We are spending enough money now for Federal taxes. I understand cigarettes are going to be taxed more today and the people are going to be tax conscious more than in the past because it is beginning to hit the poor. I say, why can't the board at the State House cope with this problem? We have another Board down in the Federal Building. What is wrong with them? Because of that reason, because I cannot conceive, because I have not been given evidence to show these agencies are not capable of handling the local problem, as I said before, without prejudice, I am going to vote No. I would like to state that we have hundreds of welfare investigators and if they are among aliens on the welfare rolls, there is no reason why these investigators and others could not undertake the work of educating these people. We have quite a number of these investigators and you can create a special department down in that Welfare Department to undertake this alien program. Bear in mind, Mr. President,

I am very much in favor of the Americanization of aliens. I am very much in favor of the Government rendering as much aid as possible, but in view of the fact we have one agency in the State House and another in the Federal Building, I cannot vote for this and conscientiously go back to the citizens of my district and say I did everything to keep down the taxes. I cannot do it, Mr. President, so I am going to vote No.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—I will be brief. I agree with the gentleman there is a department at the State House and in the Federal Building. Those two departments cannot take care of the non-citizens of Boston. All the talk here has been of naturalization of non-citizens. What is going to be done with those non-citizens who do not want to become citizens, but who are on the welfare rolls? I should think this Board should be given more power and I hope those people who are on the welfare and do not intend to become citizens of this country be deported and reported to the proper authorities at the Immigration Department.

Coun. GALVIN—Mr. President, I have been listening to the debate relative to citizenship. If you will observe these figures of the aliens in the various wards in the city, Charlestown was the second lowest district in the city relative to the number of aliens that exist in that area. For the past year and a half I have been working directly upon citizenship and I found many occasions where public necessity required that we have a Department of Americanization in the City of Boston. Down at the Federal Building they naturalize you there and ask the aliens questions, whether or not they are familiar with the law of our country. At the State House they assist you in filling out a blank in order to make it possible to have some sort of an application or memorandum down in the case, whether or not you are eligible to become a citizen. But under their laws they do not assist you, say, in a case such as a child who might come in here with foster parents in this country and he has no knowledge of what boat or train they may have come into this country on. They are not equipped to chase down that information. I have had many aliens in my district who in recent years have managed to come off a boat down along our waterfront and not be familiar with the immigration laws and did not realize until a few years afterwards they were in the country illegally. They have grown-up families. We have aliens in our district who formerly were Red Cross nurses of the British Government and also served with Canadian armies and they have grown families here and they have tried to find means and ways of becoming citizens without interference from these various countries. Along that line, I say the State Department of Americanization and the Federal Government are willing to assist those aliens. I found many people in my district who were on the W. P. A. believing they were citizens and were thrown off due to the fact they had married a man who afterwards they found out came from a foreign country. I believe the expenditure of $7,500 in finding out just how these people could become American citizens will be well-spent money by the city and will pay a dividend one hundredfold.

Coun. COFFEY—All I want to say is, though I am opposed to the creation of these two jobs, I am going to vote Yes, because I am going to be on the winning side for once.

The order was passed, yeas 18, nays 2:

Yeas—Coun. Carey, Coffey, Englert, Fish, Galvin, Goode, Gottlieb, Hurley, Hutchinson, Kelly, Langan, Linehan, Lyons, Russo, Shattuck, D. F. Sullivan, M. H. Sullivan, Taylor—18.
Nays—Coun. Chase, Wickes—2.

OPINION REQUESTED OF CORPORATION COUNSEL.

Coun. RUSSO offered the following:

Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to advise the City Council of the possibility of the Department of Naturalization of the City of Boston being authorized to pay for the expense in connection with the naturalization of aliens who are on the relief rolls of the city, but who are without funds to pay for the cost of naturalization even though they have all intentions and desires to be naturalized as citizens of the United States.

Coun. RUSSO—Before I go ahead on this order, I wish to commend the Council for passing the previous order, which is, to my mind, a wonderful thing to inspire the people of Boston that the City of Boston is trying to do everything within its power to make them realize that they owe their allegiance to our flag of America. My reason for introducing this order is because, as I stated before, I have done this work of naturalization for the past twenty-five-odd years. It has come to my attention very recently, where two of my constituents did not have the money to go to pass the examination for naturalization and I referred them to the Welfare Department and they were turned down, so I had to give them my own money in order to see that these aliens became American citizens. Therefore, there is no question that these poor individuals, through no fault of their own, are on the city welfare roll. Although they have all the intentions of becoming American citizens they have no funds in order to do it. They are only receiving $4 or $5 a week and those who have families receive a little bit more. So, therefore, I say that if the City of Boston can help these poor unfortunates who have all the desires to be naturalized and have no means to do it with, that we should pay this $5 so that they will swear their allegiance to our flag and so will become American citizens.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, before I get through talking, I would like to amend that. We have enough to have some of these aliens in the country twenty-five and thirty years making no effort on their own part, and I say that without fear of contradiction, because there are more aliens in my ward than in any other in the city, and I do not see why the City of Boston should not only keep them on the welfare pay roll, but spend money for their citizenship papers. I would like to amend that so it would read—

Chairman LANGAN—The clerk will read the order.

[The order was read by the clerk.]

Coun. COFFEY—That is the same thing I was talking on. I don't see why they should be given a week's pay from week to week and year in and year out and I know because I was a visitor for the Welfare for a couple of years and now turn around and pay for their citizenship papers. If they haven't made any effort themselves, I don't see why the City of Boston should make any effort for them. Particularly, I cannot see why the City of Boston should pay for their papers. Still I would like to amend that to read in the event it passes here, I would like to have it read, "for those who are aliens in this country for five years or less."

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—I am against the city paying any money towards naturalizing anyone. People who have been in this country anywhere from five to forty years. I have had them in here, and have one in particular in mind, who has come to me and because, through some fault of his own, he was removed from the welfare rolls for five weeks, a non-citizen, come right out and tell me he has no intention of becoming a citizen and has the nerve to go to a lawyer and try and collect $20 or $24 he claims is due him by the City of Boston. That is why I say in the previous order this Board should have the power to deport all these non-citizens who do not become citizens and these non-citizens have been in this country long enough. They couldn't come in unless they had some means of support or someone to account for their doings while they were here and if they did not in good times think enough of this country to become citizens, I don't see now why the City of Boston should pay the cost of having them become naturalized. They have friends and have relatives. Let them borrow the money from them.

Chairman LANGAN—This is merely a request to look into the possibility whether or not it could be done as a legal matter. The question now comes on the passage of the order.

Order passed under suspension of the rule.

LAY OUT AND ACCEPT DIXWELL STREET.

Coun. ENGLERT offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to lay out and accept Dixwell street, Ward 11, as a public way.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

INFORMATION REQUESTED OF TRAFFIC COMMISSIONER.

Coun. HURLEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to report to the City Council the cost of erecting lights on Albany street at the entrance to the Ambulance Station of the City Hospital.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

OPPOSITION TO PERMIT OF OCEAN TERMINAL COMPANY.

Coun. HUTCHINSON offered the following: Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be notified, through his Honor the Mayor, that the City Council is unanimously opposed to the granting of a permit to the Ocean Terminal Company for the storage of fuel oils, motor oil, petroleum products, etc., at 429 Mt. Vernon street, Ward 13.

Coun. HUTCHINSON—I want to record my protest to any granting of a permit to any oil company for an oil farm down there on Mt. Vernon street. It will be a tremendous fire hazard to the people of Dorchester. It will reduce property valuation throughout the area. It will pollute the waters in the nearby bay and ruin the beaches of Savin Hill, Malibu and Carson. I protest the fact I was not notified by the Board of Street Commissioners that this application had been made. I was informed by the Street Commissioner it was not necessary for him to inform us. We had some discussion on it, and he said, "Well, it was procedure, but it was all right if they didn't do it," and I want the Mayor to order the department heads to notify us when anything that is going to affect our district is coming up before any board. I also say the Street Commissioner did inform me he would continue the hearing if the people didn't have the opportunity to protest it today, and as I was unable to get down there myself he gave a continuance of a week from tomorrow so we can have a mass meeting to protest this permit.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN, HURLEY and GOODE offered the following:

Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston City Hospital be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to give employees who receive meals as part payment of salary, additional compensation during their two weeks' vacation period.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

FILLING OF VACANCIES IN FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Fire Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to consider the advisability of filling vacancies in the department for which the money is already allotted.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

Coun. FISH—I ask unanimous consent to make a brief statement.

Chairman LANGAN—No objection being heard by the Chair, you may speak.

Coun. FISH—Rather than present this in the form of a motion, I feel that it is more of a personal matter with me and the other members of the Council are not too familiar with the particular district where this subject matter is located; but it has been recently brought to my attention that a parcel of land at the corner of Victory road and Adams street in my district was advertised to be auctioned. I want to register my public protest against the sale of this property which is owned by the Department of School Buildings. I base my protest on the fact that I have other plans for that particular parcel which will be beneficial to the people of my district. Among the projects is one, which I have high hopes of having meet with the approval of the Mayor, to have a small health unit, or baby clinic on that particular parcel, and if, as I say, it is sold, then all hopes of that will vanish. I understand the auction sale was held; that there was a tentative agreement, no definite agreement, and I firmly believe that tentative agreement can be broken and it is my sincere hope that when the Mayor of Boston takes time out to read the minutes of this meeting, which I hope he does, that he pay particular attention to that part of the minutes that Councilor Fish asks unanimous consent to make, this statement calling upon him to refuse to put his signature to the sale of that property.

SALARY FOR INTERNES AT CITY HOSPITALS.

Coun. GALVIN, HURLEY and GOODE offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to allow the internes of the Boston City and Long Island Hospitals a salary of two hundred dollars per year.

Coun. GALVIN—I introduced that order with Councilors Hurley and Goode for the purpose of trying to bring about some ways and means whereby the internes at our various hospitals and institutions will be allowed some money where they may be able to pay their carriages back and forth to their homes, or be able to buy a package of cigarettes, or be able to go to a ball game after spending ten or twelve hours a day at our City Hospital serving their internship and giving a service to the people of Boston. I understand that three or four years back the same type of order was introduced after three doctors had been sent to a tuberculosis camp for donating their blood for a price paid them. It has come to the point where these people who are giving their best to the people in the city are unable to go back and forth to their homes. Now I don't know whether or not it is permissible on the city's part to give them $200 a year salary, but I believe some arrangement should be made, through his Honor the Mayor, the Community Service, or some other organization, that such a fund could be set up in the Boston City Hospital in order that they may draw from it and have them complete their service, which they will be kind enough to donate back to it so it will be an everlasting thing.

Coun. HURLEY—I heartily agree and on my visits to the hospital I have seen the condition the internes are working under,—some twenty-two hours a day without any sleep; three doctors living in a room with two beds, taking a chance when they walk into a room they will find an empty cot so they can lie down; no picture show, or cigarettes, not even the smallest luxury is accorded them and I agree they should be given some assistance while interning.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—I had in mind introducing an order similar to this. The councilor should be commended for introducing this order. Three internes have left because of tuberculosis. I was at the hospital just last Thursday evening and just the internes from one service alone and two from another I know of, had to cut their internship short because of the long hours and the only means they have of making a dollar is through a donation of blood and I understand at the hospital the trustees have abolished this due to the fact there has been such a rise in the number of internes who have had to cut their course short over a period of years. In the last six months we have lost twenty or twenty-five internes due to overwork and I hope the Mayor will approve this and some means will be reached so those internes who are working hard will have some means or a little money to buy cigarettes or the price of a ball game.

Coun. GOODE—In my travels throughout the Boston Sanatorium situated in my ward, I have had occasion to talk to many of these young men who have completed their course of study and I know they have gone to considerable expense and over a long number of years to complete their studies and the internship in the hospital is the completion of their efforts to pass the State Medical Board. So I feel this is a very worthy order,—to contribute to their current expenses while the internship lasts.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RECONSIDERATION REQUESTED.

Coun. CHASE—I am going to move for reconsideration of that naturalization order that we passed, and before doing so I would like to inform the councilors that if you vote favorably on my motion to reconsider I shall introduce an order which the City Clerk has asking the department heads of the Federal Bureau of Naturalization and Americanization and the city department heads, to be invited to appear before us at the next meeting for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not their departments have the proper facilities to take care of Boston aliens who desire to become American citizens.

Question came on reconsideration of the vote regarding $7,500 appropriation for the Americanization Bureau.

The motion was declared lost.

Coun. CHASE doubted the vote and asked for a roll call.

Yeas—Coun. Chase—1, nays 17, and the motion was lost.

Coun. CHASE—I now offer the order the City Clerk has.

Ordered, That the department heads of the local federal and state offices of Naturalization and Americanization be invited, through his Honor the Mayor, to appear before the next meeting for the purpose of ascertaining whether their departments have the facilities to give adequate attention to Boston aliens who desire to become citizens.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, notwithstanding the fact the Council has seen fit to grant sufficient funds for the purpose of aiding the Boston Bureau of Naturalization, I still would like that information from the department heads, and I feel that it is something which this Council as a whole should know, because in the event they are unable to cope with the situation of properly giving attention to aliens of Boston who desire to become American citizens, then the Commonwealth should take action and the Federal Government should take action and I say this especially in view of the fact it has been contended that these two Bureaus are unable to give proper attention to the naturalization of American citizens, and that was the main argument offered to us in passing this order to create a Boston Bureau of Naturalization and I say, Mr. President, we should have that information and I see no reason why the department heads from the Federal Bureau and the State Bureau would not be glad to come down and answer any questions, or to fully explain their position in the matter concerned.

Chairman LANGAN—The Chair rules this order out of order in its present form. We have no jurisdiction over Federal and State offices.

Coun. CHASE—I am not requesting they be requested to come down. I am requesting we offer them an invitation to appear. We have on other occasions passed similar orders.

Chairman LANGAN—After reading the order I do not find the words "requesting the Mayor" in this order.

Coun. CHASE—Then I move that it be amended requesting his Honor the Mayor to invite those department heads down.

Chairman LANGAN—The question now comes on the amendment as suggested by Councilor Chase that the order be to request his Honor the Mayor to contact the department heads of the Federal and State Bureaus.

The amendment was adopted.

Coun. HUTCHINSON—Mr. President, many of the councilors in the City of Boston thought that the Federal Government was not doing all that could be done in citizenship, and we felt it was a good thing to make a campaign for citizenship and invited all the aliens in our wards. Now, the fact that we are appropriating money for the city to do the same thing and save ourselves expense and at the same time save the city expense in doing it, has no reflection on the Federal Government or the State Government in their matters of citizenship. It is something we feel is for the benefit of the city.

Referred to Executive Committee.

ADJOURNMENT.

Coun. GALVIN—When we adjourn, I move that we meet in three weeks. This week we have the Fourth of July and many councilors are quite active in their districts. Certainly, within a few weeks we have the National Convention in Chicago and some of our members are delegates to go to the convention and if Congress saw fit to adjourn for three weeks, I believe it is fitting and proper that this Council adjourn for three weeks in order that the members have an opportunity to go to Chicago to the convention.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, we might as well adjourn for three years. We are nothing but a debating society, and I am laughing at the ridiculousness of the order of the councilor from Ward 4, although it was in all sincerity on his part, asking to have someone from the Federal Building come down here when we cannot get the department heads to come down here. So I am opposed to any postponement of any meeting. We postponed it on the 17th of June, which was not a legal holiday. The Fourth of July is over on Thursday, and even though there are one or two members who are delegates to the convention, we can get along without those one or two. There are always one or two members absent anyway. I say we are pretty lucky, considering the members of the Legislature without salary this year, and when they meet they meet for five days and not one day and I am opposed to it.

Coun. Galvin's motion was carried to adjourn for three weeks. The vote was doubted by Coun. COFFEY and a roll call was had, with the following result:

Yeas—Coun. Englert, Fish, Galvin, Goode, Hurley, Hutchinson, Langan, D. F. Sullivan, M. H. Sullivan, Taylor—10.

Nays—Coun. Carey, Chase, Coffey, Kelly, Linehan, Russo—6.

The motion to adjourn for three weeks was carried.

Adjourned, on motion of Coun. TAYLOR, at 6.10 p. m., to meet on Monday, July 22, 1940, at 2 p. m.

LAND-TAKING IN DORCHESTER.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land for a public improvement, consisting of the laying out and construction of Cedar Grove street, Dorchester district, as a highway, from Whitridge street to Hallet-Davis street, bounded and described as follows:

A highway named Cedar Grove street is hereby laid out from Whitridge street to Hill Top street, and ordered constructed.

Said highway and the land, exclusive of trees or structures standing upon or affixed thereto, in which an easement for street purposes is hereby taken, is bounded and described as follows:

According to the figures submitted by Commissioner Bush, the amount dispensed as relief during the month of June, 1939, amounted to $51,533.01 and for the month of June, 1940, the amount was $52,065.95.

In June, 1939, there were 1,416 cases being aided, divided between the veterans of the Civil, Indian, Spanish, Mexican Border and the World Wars. The increase in expenditures amounted to $532.94 with an increased case load of 17.
